ABOUT US

Dark Capricorn Rising is a WORLD CLASS BAND out of Canton, Michigan.

We create very heavy rock! We formed in 2018. There are 3 of us : Rocky Di Iacovo on drums with his thunderous and flawless technique. Rick Young with his blistering guitar and bass work and absolutely phenomenal producing.

Justin Williams on Lead Vocals - he can do it all - caress you with gentle tones or blow the audience out of their seats with his power.

Our new song "LONG TIME GONE" expresses the rage and frustration of living an empty life - one without reward or fulfillment.

U.S K-Pop Festival KAMP LA 2022 Is Featuring Monsta X, Kai, and Many Others

Monsta X, Jeon Somi, Kai, and many other musical artists and band will be performing in the coming U.S K-Pop festival known as KAMP LA 2022, held at Rose Bowl Stadium.

The music festival season is going at full throttle and now it is time for an unforgettable K-pop musical experience. KAMP LA 2022 is one of the biggest music festivals in the USA which is taking place in Los Angeles at the Rose Bowl Stadium.

This music festival is exclusively based on the Korean entertainment musical culture as the demand and the number of fans is increasing rapidly within the past few years. Considering the growing U.S audience and K-pop fanatics, this festival is featured by some of the top music artists from South Korea.

While the full line-up is not announced yet, KAMP LA assured us that famous K-pop boy bands like Super Junior, Monsta X, and iKON will be there. As well as girl groups like Lapillus will be there too which will mark their first appearance on the US stage. Not only bands and groups but solo stars like Jeon Somi, Kai, and BamBam will be present along with R&B artist Zion.T. Although the headliners and other artist names are still a mystery; the K-pop fanatics are going crazy over the show already.

This latest event is the result of a joint venture between KAMP Global and the partnership brand Eventim Live Asia. Their primary goal is to offer more global limelight to Korean artists while creating a huge buzz in the market. Filled with an ample dose of aesthetics and entertainment, this two-day event will also feature Korean art, gaming sections, and food as well. Along with brand collaborations and sponsorships, it is the biggest cultural event that connects everyone through music and entertainment. Korean music artist Kai said “It’s exciting to take part in the KAMP LA lineup,” and further added, “This may legitimately be the biggest K-pop event in U.S. history.” Truly, this statement is agreeable and many other artists have appreciated it. KAMP Global CEO Tim Kim said, “There’s a deep connection between Korean culture and L.A.” The last time when Rose Stadium featured K-pop artists, BTS’s only two shows earned more than $16.6 million which is the single highest-grossing engagement that even Taylor Swift and U2 could not reach. On the other hand, Eventim Live Asia CEO Jason Miller said, “KAMP LA is a meaningful first step in that direction (global vision for K-pop). There are many more to come.” Stay tuned to know more about the KAMP LA 2022.

Each day from 15.15 the program will start and will end by 2 am in the morning. The tickets to the show are almost sold out. If you still haven't booked yours then you must look if the last few tickets are still available.

MTV VIDEO MUSIC AWARDS 2022 IS GIVING SPOTLIGHTS TO POP SINGERS

The MTV VMA 2022 has become one of the greatest award shows. Taylor Swift's announcement and other enigmatic performances of various artists have stunned all.

MTV Video Music Awards have always been one of the prestigious awards in the pop music industry. This year they have taken the award show to another level with all the excellent award winners. Not only with the broadcast of the winners but with the enigmatic performances too. The show took place in Newark's Prudential Center. And the biggest attraction of it was the award for the Video of the Year, which has been won by the global pop artist Taylor Swift for the short film 'All Too Well'.

She has also announced her upcoming album, which is going to release on 21st of October this year. The news of the release of the album has created a buzz among all her admirers. While taking the award, she said 'You guys, I'm just so proud of what we made, and I now that every second of this moment that we wouldn't have been able to make this short film if it weren't for you, the fans'. Along with this, other bonafide musicians have also amazed the global audiences.

The profound artists who have stolen the spotlight were Lizzo, Lil Nas X, Snoop Dogg, Eminem, Nicki Minaj, and BLACKPINK. Their brilliant performances have stunned everyone. The opening performance of Harlow's First-Class surprised everyone. He hasn't performed live in years, but in the VMA as he appeared in the first performances of the night has astonished all. After that, he and Fergie came together and gave an outstanding performance in front of everyone.

This year Nicki Minaj set the stage on fire as the rapper gave a raging performance. Her 'All Things Go', 'Roman's Revenge', and 'Super Freaky Girl' has grabbed everyone's attention. She has not only amazed everyone with her songs but her dance performances also were definitely worth watching.

Alongside these, many artists couldn't attend the show. For example, Harry Styles couldn't come for the award as the singer was performing a show in Madison Square, New York. But he made a virtual appearance for giving his acceptance speech for his album of the year award for 'Harry's House'.

At one side there were all the established singer-performer but on the other side, there were new artists like Måneskin too. Their brilliant performances have added a different spark to the award show. They tried some legendary creations by Bowie, Madonna, and David Lee Roth.

This year the show has been memorable in a lot of aspects. As in Taylor Swift has shown her support for all her fellow musicians like a close friend. Her cheerful act depicted the fact that how she supports every creator of the industry.

From 2021, the global icon award was included in the show and this year the award has been achieved by the Los Angeles-based rock band Red Hot Chili Peppers. The artist of the band has dedicated the award to the late Foo Fighters drummer Taylor Hawkins.

This year, everyone got to see a very new thing in the history of VMA's. Bad Bunny, the Puerto Rican singer has won the award for artist of the year. He is the first ever non-English language singer to win this award.

He couldn't attend the show but MTV made their first remote broadcast where the artist got to deliver his song 'Tití Me Preguntó' live from Yankee Stadium.

With all the excellent performances, audiences got the opportunity to experience such a large-scale award show.

JUSTIN BIEBER IS BOUNCING BACK ON STAGE AFTER HIS FACIAL PARALYSIS

Justin Bieber had to postpone his shows of 'Justice Tour' in the North American leg due to his Ramsay Hunt syndrome. He is coming back after the recovery.

The pop icon Justin Bieber has come again back on stage after surviving the Ramsay Hunt syndrome. The artist was forced to take a break from his tour because the right side of his face was paralyzed due to the disease.

He had to take some time off in this period for the diagnosis. He was being cured from mid-June, and he canceled all the shows at this time.

After such a hard time, he came back with his enthralling performance on the stage of the Lucca Summer Festival in Italy. The show took place last Sunday, on 31st July. As of now, the artist is looking good and quite healthy.

In the show, he performed from all his albums. And everyone from the audience thoroughly enjoyed his performance.

The artist himself has shared some photos of the show and captioned it by saying 'Luv u guys and I missed you.'

About the Ramsay Hunt syndrome, Mayo Clinic has said that it 'occurs when a shingles outbreak affects the facial nerve near one of your ears'. In the video that he posted of his sickness, was visible that the artist was struggling to smile, blink, and move his nostril.

After a few days of treatment, Justin himself posted that 'each day has gotten better' and his faith in god has helped him to deal with the whole situation.

In an interview, Usher has also said that he is recovering and 'doing great'.

His 'Justice Tour' has been postponed for the North American leg and they are going to announce the new dates very soon. Currently, he has gone for his shows in Europe. Next, he is going to perform in Denmark on 3rd August.

He will perform in South Africa, the Middle East, Asia, Australia, New Zealand, and the UK. Audiences can pre-book the tickets from now.

Demi Lovato and Jimmy Fallon's Dance on Katrina Kaif's "Kala Chashma" Has Become the Topic of the Moment

Demi Lovato shared a video on Instagram of The Tonight Show with Jimmy Fallon, where they can be seen grooving to the tunes of Katrina Kaif's "Kala Chashma" song. When Sidharth Malhotra discussed Katrina Kaif's trick of swallowing ice cubes to look attractive during the shoot, it brought up thoughts of "Kala Chashma" from the most recent episode of Koffee with Karan Season 7. And now a popular BTS clip from The Tonight Show, in which Jimmy Fallon and Demi Lovato can be seen dancing to the same Badshah song, has fans perplexed.

The talk show presenter is seen walking before stumbling down in the video shared by Jimmy Fallon's show and Demi Lovato's Instagram page. Jimmy performs his dance skills on the floor as "Kala Chashma" plays in the background, as Demi watches him with anxiety as the female musicians begin playing their guitars around him.

Fans were enthralled by Demi and Jimmy's funny interaction, but they were also attentive to the music. A fan commented, "Hindi song (Kala Chashma) at the background makes is special!!." Another fan said, "Not Demi using audio from an Indian song queen." Others even made fun of the well-known broadcaster for claiming that the video is about "Jimmy Fallen" in their jokes.

On The Tonight Show, Demi Lovato promoted her most recent album, Holy Fvck. This weekend, the singer-actor celebrated her 30th birthday and was spotted doing so. Both the host and the visitor were observed laughing and even participating in some enjoyable games. The show was quite cheerful throughout its entirety as the audience seemed to enjoy it.

Returning back to the Baar Baar Dekho song, during their talk on Season 7 of Koffee with Karan, host Karan Johar and Sidharth Malhotra were candid about the same. The Shershaah actor disclosed Katrina Kaif's secret to maintaining her fitness throughout the song shoot as he and Vicky Kaushal talked about fitness. He revealed, "Woh barf kha rahi thi yaar (She was eating ice cubes) during Kala Chashma shoot. She was only eating ice to keep hydrated and lean, but she looked so good."

Vicky, the husband of Katrina, was shocked by Sidharth's disclosure, and KJo laughed to say that she still had a beautiful appearance in the song.

3 Wholesome and Impressive Habits of Ariana Grande That You Can Steal To Have A Better Life

Ariana Grande-Butera, 29 years old pop star and vocal queen of this generation has these habits that she swears by have helped her maintain a healthy and successful lifestyle.

The artist made a name for herself as a child actress and artist when she first worked in a musical in 2008. Later on, she got into the public eye by playing the worldwide famous and beloved character Cat Valentine in hit Nickelodeon sitcoms; Victorious (2010) and Sam & Cat (2013). It was only the start of her career because later on she went ahead and became this generation's most known and popular pop star who sold numerous records at this early age.

Besides her heavenly vocals and trendy fashion style along with her famous ponytail, there are some habits that the pop icon swears by and maintains that have helped in her career.

These 3 habits are perfect to steal and follow that will elevate your lifestyle and behavior too!

Ariana prioritizes her mental health

Her hit single 'thank u, next' is the perfect anthem of protecting yourself and doing what is best for your good. The song mainly illustrates her feelings toward dating, where she is quick to move on from a place that does not respect her mental peace anymore.

But this is not only applicable for her dating life but also to her daily life and work situation as well. She advises her millions of Instagram followers to do everything in their powers to protect their mental peace and energy as it is the foundation of leading a happy life.

So, take up this habit of putting your mental health above everything if you want to stay content and feel happy.

Keeping her ego in check!

As a world-famous singer, she has popularity and fame that is on another level. In addition to that, a net worth of hundreds of millions and people going crazy over just one appearance of the singer can lead to having an egocentric nature. But Ariana is the best at checking herself in every situation and keeping her ego aside.

While she is confident, she is also constantly trying to be on her best behavior by being empathic which humbles her.

This can help you too. You just need to constantly ask yourself before acting a certain type of way, is this you, or you are giving yourself to the ego?

Standing her ground

At the start of her career, the Pop star often faced an unwelcoming attitude. As a woman of the height of 160 cm, she was not taken seriously. In an interview with Billboard, she explained how she has walked out of interviews before when she felt disrespected.

As a feminist herself, Ariana always stands her ground when being disrespected and this is a lesson that every person should take from her.

Everyone is equal in this world and deserves equal respect. So remember to stand up for yourself and take authority!

Beyoncé Is Creating A Buzz With the Teaser of 'I'M THAT GIRL'

Beyoncé came back with her new creation as she dropped the teaser video of her latest craft 'I'M THAT GIRL'. This video has generated a sensation among all.

The pop musician Beyoncé has finally given the teaser of the track 'I'M THAT GIRL'. After watching the video, a lot of people are assuming that the video can be getting along with the album or only for the music video. Apart from that, some people are also guessing maybe the video of 'Renaissance' is called 'I'm That Girl?'

No one is sure about what the actual thing is. The artist has stunned everyone with the teaser. In the video, she has been seen in a beautiful metallic dress and cracking an egg. From the video, no one can assume much. Somewhere she was posing in a closet or somewhere sitting on a bed. It is very different from any other creations of her.

In this video, people could see various looks at her, which just flashed in it. Some of her looks were with bangs, a green hair look, a bob look, and a face drenched in silver. All these amazed all the viewers instantly. She has also been seen singing the song. To say it in a more precise way, listeners will get to see a lot of things in the video after it releases.

The colorful and glam looks in the video has created a buzz among all of her admirers. After watching the teaser, only one thing can be said 'be limitless in their expansive listening journey'.

The producer of the album Kelman Duran said about the first track of the album that 'I was just tripping out that it was her voice, so I couldn't really listen to the song'

He also shared about the experience by saying 'I was just like, 'How did this happen?'

The producer added more 'I guess it meant something to Dominicans...I think it was just really exciting for a lot of people'.

With every creation, Beyoncé is taking her level of music to a new height. For example, her last album 'Renaissance' was a massive hit that has turned the whole internet upside down.

Some songs from the album were 'Thique', 'Break My Soul', 'Move', and 'Alien Superstar'. It was an enigmatic creation that has left a mark in the music industry.

Rihanna Has Set an Example with Her Baby Bump Pictures

3 times Rihanna surprised everyone with her baby bump pictures. The artist has always created a sensation with her pictures and she hasn't missed a chance even now.

The Grammy-winning artist Rihanna is setting the bar high for everyone with her pregnancy pictures as she is expecting her first baby with the rapper A$AP Rocky.

During her pregnancy period, she was photographed while walking in New York City. She has shown her baby bump in a unique way. The artist wore an oversized pink jacket, which was unbuttoned at the bottom and revealed her baby bump beautifully.

She completed her look by adding some gold pieces of jewelry with it. The pair was clicked in Harlem, A$AP Rocky's homeland where they enjoyed a snowy walk in the outdoors. Rihanna did attend the Paris Fashion Week for Dior's runway show in a black see-through dress. Barbadian pop singer created a stunning look with her lacy outfit, which also revealed her baby bump gorgeously. She is one of the most renowned international artists.

She is also the fashion icon of the music industry. This artist experimented with various kinds of looks whether it is a red carpet or any kind of public appearance.

She has stated 'I'm trying to enjoy it as much as I could, and fashion is one of my favorite things. We're defying what it even means to be pregnant and maternal'. She also added 'It can get uncomfortable at times, and so you can dress the part and pretend'.

All her looks are extremely attractive, but one more time the artist has made her pregnancy look beyond beautiful. At the Off-White Fall 2022 fashion show, she appeared with a body-hugging peach dress and completed the outfit with a cozy jacket along with strappy sandals. This artist used a variant kind of necklace and completed the look with hoop earrings.

Rihanna has always been one of the most attractive singers of all time. Her way of creating a look with perfect accessories has always mesmerized people.

In every public appearance with her boyfriend A$AP Rocky, this couple has shown their romance. On this matter, the rapper Rocky has also said that being in a relationship with her is 'So much better.

So much better when you got 'the One.' She amounts to probably, like, a million of the other ones. I think when you know, you know. She's the One'.

Nicki Minaj Tops Billboard Hot 100 Once Again with New Track 'Super Freaky Girl'

Nicki Minaj still continues to spread her musical greatness across the world more than a decade later into her career. Her latest single, 'Super Freaky Girl' has debuted at #1 on the Billboard Hot 100, making it her third time to top the chart and her first time debuting at number one unaccompanied. Earlier she appeared at the number 1 position alongside Doja Cat on 'Say So' and 6ix9ine on 'Trollz'.

As per the reports of Billboard, the song, 'Super Freaky Girl' is Minaj's first solo hit to debut at the number 1 position on the chart and the first-ever single by a female rapper to top the chart since Lauren Hill in 1998. With the track, Nicki Minaj has also become the first female lead musician to peak at the number one position on the chart this year.

Republic Records has also released a press release stating that Minaj has become the first female rapper in two years to peak at the number one position on the chart without a music video. The press releases also inform that she is the first emcee with multiple number one debuts on the chart with her other songs.

A sample of Rick James' 'Super Freak' is featured in Nicki's latest track, 'Super Freaky Girl'. The song has gained a massive response and love from the audience. In just the first week, it has had 89,000 downloads, 21.1 million streams, and 4.6 million radio airplay audience impressions.

Music lovers from all over the world have given the song massive positive reviews. The song is the 'Super Bass' singer's 21st single to appear in the Top 10 of the Billboard Hot 100 chart. This is her second single this year to achieve so after her collaboration with Lil Baby for the track, 'Do We Have A Problem'.

'Super Freaky Girl' is topping the Digital Song Sales charts and streaming platforms as well.

She posted on her social media, 'You did it barbz. You did it' celebrating her success. She also thanked her fans, 'I love you so much. like so so SO much. Thank you.'

With Minaj topping the Hot 100 chart right after Beyoncé with 'Break My Soul' and Lizzo with 'About Damn Time', it is the first time in the century that three solo Black female singers have dominated the Billboard Hot 100 chart.

Katy Perry's Crazy Fashion Sense And Red Aura Tantalize Her Fans

American singer-songwriter Katy Perry has a crazy sense of fashion that reflects through every outfit she wears for the shows. Let's take look at the stunning pieces.

Katheryn Elizabeth Hudson, better known as Katy Perry is truly one of the top pop singers in America. Other than her music what stole the hearts of her fans are her amazing and crazy outfits.

The time when the 'Roar' singer performed in that attractive latex bodysuit with details cut out, the audience could not help but appreciate her presence. Katy offered an unwavering performance while her show-stopper dress and tassel which was hanging from her hips to the floor. Soon it became a favorite of Miranda and Carrie's and they wore it on the red carpet for performance.

This singer's 95-minute performance is something very delightful for the audience as it contains all her famous tracks from the last decade along with seven times of costume changes, rainbows, confetti, etc. Huge stage props like a mushroom, a huge rocking horse, paper toilet paper, etc are also a part of it.

Fans could not forget about her metallic mini dress which was complimented by crushed beer cans. There were two particular cans on her bosom from which she poured herself some beer amidst the performance. As quirkier as it gets, ZalDY made the design of the costume who is well known for designing for Katy.

ZalDY has also designed a stunning pink mod mini dress with white knee-high boots. Later on, Katy appeared white dress and turban which were designed by Heather Picchiottino. She appeared from a bathroom covered with toilet paper. At the climax of the show, she wore a pink velvet gown along with a neckline that stood out. Such a stage presence of the singer truly tantalizes the hearts of her fans.

Katy Perry's avant-garde choices kept changing like seasons however, she never failed to come up with something new, unique, and crazily satisfying. Her iconic Chandelier Dress by Moschino is one of them that she wore on the 2019 Met Gala red carpet. The fans were craving a burger when the singer appeared in a cheeseburger costume for the promo for her single "Bon Appétit" in 2017.

The crazy ideas kept on rolling as she appeared in an iconic popcorn dress in the 2012 LA premiere of "Katy Perry: Part of Me?". Her top hat was crafted like a film reel while corn kernels were hanging.

The American Idol Judge once stole the show in 2019 when she appeared as Ursula on Disney Night. It is safe to say, the quirky ideas along with a potent dose of creativity reflect in Katy Perry's wardrobe.

BLACKPINK'S 'Pink Venom'

IS SPREADING RAPIDLY THROUGH THE GLOBAL MUSIC CHARTS

South Korean girl group BLACKPINK is setting new records with the latest single 'Pink Venom'. This single is appearing in the forthcoming album, named 'Born Pink'.

K-pop girl group BLACKPINK continues to climb new heights of success with the release of their latest single 'Pink Venom'. Currently, this single is on a winning streak of making multiple records within a short duration. This incident is marking the group's epic comeback after 22 long months of hiatus.

This latest single is appearing in the upcoming album of the band titled, "Born Pink". This is the second full-length album by the band which is scheduled to be released on September 16 of this year. The last full-length album released by the whole band was in October 2020. It was the first album by the quartet titled, 'The Album'.

'Pink Venom' is one of the most exciting hip-hop representations by this group which has topped on the largest music streaming platform, Spotify. The track landed on the Daily Top Songs chart this Saturday. This is the first record achieved by this unwavering k-pop girl group. The song has also gained the No. 1 spot on Spotify's Global Top 50 chart this Sunday.

Not only Spotify but the track is currently gaining massive global attention through the iTunes Top Song charts in more than 69 countries across the globe. As a result, the buzz is quite high in the regions like South America, North America, Oceania, Europe, and Asia.

The track has also made some significant progress on China's biggest music platform QQ music and other Domestic music platforms like Vibe, Bugs, Melon, and Genie. Setting up multiple records, this song is truly making a difference in the industry.

The official music video has broken the record of 70 million within 15 hours of premiering on YouTube. It took only 30 hours to reach 100 million views for the track is the fastest record for any Korean Music Group. Not only in Korea but this fastest 100 million record is never hit by any female music artist before.

Yuanta Securities Korea has made a forecast on this girl group's record-breaking activities and epic comeback in the music scene. Analyst Lee Hye-in said, "Blackpink was able to establish a career-high, although viewership on YouTube has been reduced in general, compared to the time when the COVID-19 pandemic was at high risk."

The experts are also suggesting that BLACKPINK's index is quite due to its global loyal fanbase just like BTS, Taylor Swift, Ariana Grande, and many others. And the best part is that the fanbase is growing bigger every day.

Reasons Why BTS' V is Your Favorite Crush

The buoyant boy band BTS has swept the whole internet with their vibrant k-pop music for the last few years. And the band has become the most loved band in the world, with their gripping music and extremely charming aura. Yet, V has always stood out from the rest with some of his unique qualities and quirky and witty presence of mind.

Kim Tae-hyung of BTS is a kind person, who has a beautiful voice, and a smile that can give you an acute heart arrest, apart from that there are plenty of things about him that contribute to the promising factors for him having such a big fan base.

He is a very good-looking person and has a great sense of fashion, even though he often experiments with his looks and carries it with confidence and his mesmerizing swag which makes his vibes more wonderful. So here are 3 reasons why everyone loves him;

His cute and attractive personality

The way he speaks with people, and the way he indulges in a conversation, make his entire aura irresistible to his audience. Some interesting facts that everyone should know about him, His nicknames are Blank Tae and TaeTae Biting nails, saying words like 'apa!' which means 'it hurts' and 'eomma' means mommy, or leaving his mouth open; are some of the extremely attractive traits that make people fall for him.

He loves watching cartoons and anime and plays the saxophone extremely well.

His three extremely attractive moles on his face

He does not like to wear shoes, even though his fashion sense is incredible. He is scared of ghosts and likes to keep his hands away from any gross thing and he doesn't prefer to be high but roller costars can be an exception.

The most attractive part about him is that he speaks in a cute way that anything can seem seamless, especially when it's coming out of his mouth.

He is a brilliant performer

Let it be his singing or his dancing qualities he is brilliant in every way possible and now he has proved his acting ability with the youth historical drama 'Hwarang: The Beginning'. And everything adds up to his ecstatic performing list, he is a gifted artist who has aced in every performing domain with his brilliant and prolific nature. He has captured a zillion of hearts with his supreme artistic qualities and his interesting nature. This 1995-born performer is capable of doing anything and his graceful aura makes it seem perfect. He can be cute, funny, blank, angry, serious, sad, and everything will look just as brilliant as his artistry.

His love for Children

He has stated many times that he would like to be a one-woman-man and he hasn't found the love of his life yet. Even though, the statement is enough for any woman to fall for a person who has an amazing voice and can dance and can be funny and cute at the same time. He is a really warm person who loves kids and may that is the main reason he is everyone's crush and the number is growing each day. He also has shared that his dad is his inspiration and he would like to do the same with his child and be a role model for his children as well. His amicable enigma and his heart-melting warm words have done the magic. There is no end while talking about this impressive and incredible human being famously known as V. But surely these are the reasons why he is your favorite crush and will be as long as he stays as truthful and spontaneous as he is now.

BTS's V and Blackpink's Jennie Are Dating? Rumors Spark After Their 'leaked' Pictures Go Viral on Twitter

Are you also a fan of Kim Taehyung's dreamy eyes and charming smile? Then you might find this shocking to know that this perfect man has a new love interest in his life. It is none other than the famous k-pop superstar and member of one of the most iconic girl bands of today, Blackpink's Jennie.

The two have been related in the past several times as people have noticed romantic sparks and chemistry between them. However, now people, especially ARMY and BLINKS are convinced of the fact that they are in fact dating.

Two pictures of these two idols got leaked on Twitter, by an account with the username @gurumiharibo which shows the idols are hanging out. The dating rumors first swept both the idols in May when a photo taken on Jeju Island spread online. The photo closely resembles the two idols which were then addressed by YG Entertainment, the company that manages Blackpink.

However, the statement was further confusing as they said they had nothing to say in this matter. The agency, Hybe, which manages BTS has maintained a distance from these rumors and this time as well they did not make any remarks.

The two photos are now responsible for resurfacing the rumors again. The first photo that was leaked on August 23rd is supposedly at a hair salon and the two actors are seen to be hanging out together. V wore an animal print shirt and was getting his hair done, while Jennie in lavender t-shirt is taking a mirror selfie. The next photo is the real deal and fueled the rumors even more as we can see the two idols are taking a mirror selfie at V's house.

Naturally, social media is buzzing and the fans just can't keep calm. But, some of them are divided and while a group is supporting these two together, the other group is finding it hard to digest. The reason for their problem with these two dating? You may find it weird but these fans who are mostly teenage girls cannot see Taehyung dating a girl.

On top of that, the K-pop industry is known for its toxicity with overworked idols and for keeping a tag on their personal lives and choices. Even though it seems shocking as both the idols are adults and should live a normal life, it might be the price of being so popular and loved by fans.

Some fans think that these photos are fake, as many of them went on Twitter to rant about the lighting, shadows, and angles not being matched. According to this section of Twitter, both the photos are photo shopped to make it seem to like V and Jennie are together. This might be true as this has not come from legitimate sources and neither the idols nor their agencies have confirmed it yet.

But the most concerning thing in this whole fiasco is that even if the photos are real since it was not published but leaked, is it fair for these two idols?

Imagine you are at their places and someone is leaking your memories captured as photographs without your permission on social media and is forcing you to comment on that. Just the thought of this happening to you seems scary and fearful of your privacy. So it is not hard to imagine what both the idols are feeling. It is the most important thing to remember whether people are famous or not, they have the right to their privacy.

So are they really dating or someone just made their successful attempt at brilliant photoshop? Only time will tell!!!!

From Firm Lyrical Generosity to Uniquely Arranged Music, Low Aura Is Winning Hearts With His 'Arcana Current'

Low Aura is breaking the internet with his overwhelming music formation. From some compelling grooving elements and profound narration to his brilliant performance, this song 'Arcana Current' will blow your mind. So, let's find out more about this unique artist and his impressive craft. And also his future plans what he has planned for his audience in the future. We have recently got the opportunity to have a discussion with this talented star. Let's see how it all went

Q. Which name would you like to promote your work in?

A. Low Aura

Q. Describe the thematic and musical linearity of your soundscape.

A. My songs usually start out with either an off-beat sound effect, pre-recorded vocal sample or a chilling soundscape, minimal synth/piano. I then enter into an either lovable, warm storyline or just a straight to the point dark/romantic vulnerable atmosphere.

Q. What are your new releases?

A. I just finished writing/producing my third self-recorded studio album called "Swim Eternity" which I have set to release February 13th, 2023 via Spotify, iTunes etc. There will be a pre-order on iTunes Novemebr 3rd, 2022 and I'm really, truly excited about this album.

Q. Where do you hail from?

A. Santa Barbara, California

Q. Are you associated with any record label or production house?

A. I self produce/record at my home studio.

Q. How important are live gigs in the career of an artist?

A. Really important. I dream of playing great live gigs. I've just been putting in a lot of time and effort into finding my sound, comfortability with my gear (and loads of practice) first hand. I think it's important for me as a musician to have great strong songs, merch, and to have or create a memorable artist image. I've spent the last 4 years building myself, my brand, my readiness and I've never felt in a place like I do now, where I'm so ready to get out there and show people who I am, what I've got and to just follow my dream.

Q. What is the responsibility of the audience in the expansion of music and artists around the world?

A. The main responsibility is to simply just, listen or at least to have the willingness to actually listen.

KNOW ALL ABOUT ADELE'S FAMILY BACKGROUND, HUSBAND SIMON KONECKI, SON ANGELO, AND CURRENT DATE RICH PAUL

Grammy award-winning music artist Adele has had a tough ask whenever it came to her personal life. However, the London-born singer always made the right decisions

Introduction & Family Background

Considered one of the greats in the present music industry, English singer and songwriter Adele has given music lovers many songs to cherish and enjoy. The popular music artist is known for her works in super hits like "Hello," "Someone Like You," "Best for Last," and many more. Born as Adele Laurie Blue Adkins on May 5, 1988, in Tottenham, England, Adele was raised by her English mother Penny Adkins, and a Welsh father Marc Evans. Unfortunately, her father left the family when the singer was merely a year old. Talking about the background of Adele's parents, her mother Penny Susan Adkins was born in 1968 in Islington, North London. Her mother got pregnant with Adele when she was only eighteen years old. Adele once confessed that while her mother got pregnant, she was looking for admission to a university. Coming to her father, Marc Evans abandoned the family when Adele was nine months old. A normal relationship of being friends continued between Evans and Adkins until the former got addicted to alcohol. As a mother with the responsibility of raising her child, Penny worked as a furniture maker and several other jobs to provide for herself and Adele. Marc Evans eventually died in 2021 at the age of 57 after losing his fight to bowel cancer.

Marriage & Relationships

Talking about the present situation, Adele and her former husband Simon Konecki are now officially divorced. Adele and Konecki started dating back in 2011 and eventually got married in 2018. Surprisingly enough, the couple decided to break their marriage in the same year it took place. The following year saw Adele file for a divorce and in 2021, the couple's divorce was finalized.

The Background Story

October 2011 marks the time when the CEO of a non-profit organization Simon Konecki met Adele. Previously, Konecki was married to fashion stylist Clary Fisher which lasted until 2008. The pair of Adele and Konecki also attended the 2012 Grammy Awards together. After the British songwriter started dating Simon in 2011, the couple was blessed with a child in 2012. Finally, in October 2012, the pair welcomed their child and named him Angelo. After carrying on with their parenting and relationship for six continuous years, Adele and Simon got married in 2018. Well, here comes the twist that many didn't expect, as the couple decided to get divorced later in the same year itself. Representatives of Adele confirmed that the pair were separated in April 2019. Talking about the official proceedings, Adele filed for divorce that year. After going on for almost two years, the official divorce of Simon Konecki and Adele got finalized on March 4, 2021. Being together for such a long time, the couple understood what it means to be raising their child Angelo and did the same. While they were already separated as husband and wife, the couple decided to co-parent Angelo and also remained good friends. Both of them are now happy with their personal lives and are also running on the same terms whenever it comes down to raising their child Angelo. The singer has even admitted that the latest music album titled "30" is a tribute to her relationship with Simon Konecki.

Adele & Rich Paul

Adele and Rich Paul were first spotted together publicly when the NBA Finals game between Milwaukee Bucks and Phoenix Suns took place on July 17, 2021. She was spotted donning an animal-print coat. After getting spotted multiple times at NBA games with LeBron James and his agent Rich Paul, Adele and Rich finally announced their relationship on Instagram by posting pictures where Adele was wearing a Schiaparelli dress and Paul, on the other hand, was donning a black suit. The photos were originally shot at the wedding of Anthony Davis's wedding ceremony. On October 7, in an interview with Vogue, Adele revealed that she and Paul were friends before they started dating. Their next NBA date came on October 19, 2021, when the match between Golden State Warriors and Los Angeles Lakers was scheduled to take place as the season opener. Since then, the couple has made quite a few public appearances to watch the Lakers take on other teams in NBA.

Kids

Adele is the mother of one child from her previous marriage to Simon Konecki as of August 2022. Her son's name is Angelo Adkins and is due to become 10 years old on October 19, 2022. Angelo Adkins is the sole child but he also has a half-sister from his father Simon's previous marriage to Clary Fisher. To conclude, it can be said that Adele has had both good and rough times in her life. Adele still aims to entertain music lovers with her talent for songwriting and singing.

After teasing the track several times on social media “Calm Down” by Selena Gomez and Rema is finally out and available for streaming on all major platforms.

Popular Nigerian rapper Divine Ikubor, aka Rema, has collaborated with American songwriter Selena Gomez for their brand-new song “Calm Down.” The song is as soothing as it can get with the mesmerizing voice of both the artists, with Rema giving an African touch to the latest production.

On the other hand, the second verse by Selena Gomez perfectly matches the rhythm and beats in the track. The YouTube video has been choreographed in a simple yet creative manner, highlighting the lyrics more than the visuals. The visuals in the music video feature outdoor shots which show different types of fabrics, flowers, certain interior decorating materials influenced by African culture, etc.

The track is actually a remix of the second single from Rave & Roses, Rema’s debut studio album. The initial track has also topped all the way to number 56 on the Billboard Global Excl. US and peaked at number 7 on the Billboard U.S. Afrobeats Songs.

The brilliant songwriting from the Nigerian artist

By Daily Music Roll

clubbed with the excellent part from Selena has not gone unnoticed as the song has become the topic of the hour in the international music community. The title of the song is absolutely justified, as listeners can really calm down after listening to the song.

The free-flowing progression of the track can engage the hearts of many with its crisp and calming beats. Talking about the instrumentals, the entire musical composition throughout the 4-minute track has been mixed in an ideal manner that suits the pace of the song magically.

In a world full of artists, where most artists and musicians are busy coming up with music based on hip-hop and rock, Selena Gomez and Rema have proved that a musical production, rich in lyrics, feelings, and emotions can also attract listeners.

The 22-year-old African artist has hence proved that if there is talent and a true desire to excel, there is nothing in the world that can stop it. With a total of 3 verses and 2 choruses where both artists have sung, the song looks destined to top several charts yet again.

The concept holding portrayal of love in the subject matter of the song sung by a male and female artist makes it even more interesting. Music lovers all across the world can now stream the song “Calm Down” on YouTube and other major music-streaming platforms.

AITCH'S CLOSE TO HOME: THE DEBUT ALBUM SPEAKS FOR HIS NEWFANGLED MATURITY

The 22 years old Aitch debuted with his latest album 'Close To Home' which is filled with his desire to evolve, curiosity, creativity, and burning impulse to prove himself.

Harrison Armstrong, better known as Aitch has been the poster boy of Manchester since his debut single in 2019. This rapper demolished the charts in that year with three songs in the top ten at the same time, owning almost half of the chart.

Since then the rapper has seen a revolution in his career and his newfound popularity. He has gone through the development of being in bus shelters around Britain to advertising Lynx deodorant in the country.

The 22-year-old has broken the image of this 'party-boy' and emerged into a beautiful storyteller in the album 'Close To Home'.

When I was listening to the album and its 16 songs it took me on a beautiful ride and a surprising journey. This album was in the making for two years and the songs have shown the development of the rapper's 20-cent-ish party bangers, which dominated his two previous EPs.

The whole album pays a tribute to his Mancunian roots as he has described it as "100,000% a proper Manchester album".

4.7/5

By Daily Music Roll

The opening track 'Belgrave Road' has given me a feeling of cinematic tribute to the streets the rapper grew up in.

Immediately after that, it snaps into the glamorous 'Louis Vuitton' where he raps "Make some cake / Back to the estate / Then go buy mummy her next house", which is a perfect example of a money-minded track that shows his bragging. '1989' has a sample from the nostalgic 'Fools Gold' where the artist has added his essence. Just into 3 tracks in the album I have already sensed the rapper's ability to jump from style to style.

The whole album showcases that Aitch never sets still or plays safely. In the track 'Money Habits' the artist sounds tougher and does wonders with the Afrobeat sound.

Ashanti and the rapper have collaborated on Baby which is a fun and quirky track and 'Fuego' has a weighty bass. Ed Sheeran's beautiful vocals perfectly matched with the well-versed rap have created magic on 'My G'.

The whole album 'Close To Home' has given me a sense of maturation and showcases deeper personal reflection.

I have thoroughly enjoyed the album and the happening life journey that it reflects. Aitch has proved with this album that he is here to gain that international success.

You can listen to the labrum on Spotify and follow the artist on social media for more updates.

Lastly, I must say this is the most joyous and beautiful ride that a rap album has presented to me in recent times and I am sure you will gain that experience too.

The Story Behind American Sensation Post Malone's Rise to Fame and Popularity

Austin Richard Post, popularly known as Post Malone is an American rapper that has been winning the hearts of the global audience for many years now. The rapper is well-renowned for his hit-making abilities. It almost seems as if every song released by the musician is going to be a super hit.

Plying his traits in the musical genres of hip-hop, pop, R&B, and trap, the artist is also a specialist in playing guitar. Having started his musical career back in 2011, Malone gathered recognition with his debut single “White Iverson” in 2015.

The song went on to claim number 14 on the US Billboard Hot 100. Since then, the artist never looked back and worked hard with real passion and dedication. The next release came in 2016, in the form of his debut music album “Stoney.” The production was pulled off by signing a recording contract with Republic Records.

Born on July 4, in Syracuse, New York, Malone was raised by his father Richard Post, and stepmother Jodie. As Richard Post was a DJ himself, he introduced Malone to the world of music, making him familiar with many musical genres such as rock, country, and hip-hop. While Malone was 9 years old, he started to play guitar and auditioned for the American band Crown The Empire in 2010. The tragic story of the audition ended as Malone was rejected as his guitar strings broke during the audition.

He dedicated his interest later to the video game Guitar Hero. The iconic rapper chose his name to be “Post Malone” when he was 15 years old. The name even went on to be rumored to be a reference to the professional basketball player Karl Malone. Well, Malone later confirmed that his original name was Post, and he used a rap name generator to add “Malone” as his last name.

Post Malone is an artist who also worked at a Chicken Express during his teenage days. After Post dropped out of Tarrant County College, he moved to Los Angeles, California with his friend Jason Probst. There, Malone formed a group named BLCKVRD and started recording music with many other producers. After moving to LA's San Fernando Valley, Malone met with record producers FKi, Sauce Lord Rich, and Rex Kudo, who helped Malone produce numerous tracks including “White Iverson.”

The lyrics of the song were dedicated to basketball player Allen Iverson. The song was initially released on SoundCloud in February 2015. Later, the artist also came up with a music video of the song on July 19, the same year. As the song crossed the 1 million mark, Malone became a popular topic among many record labels, and eventually signed with Republic Records in August 2015.

The story took the next gear as Malone went on to perform with several big names including 50 Cent, Young Thug, Kanye West, and many more. At present, Post Malone is a name that has already left its legacy in the American music industry. He has gone on to perform at multiple music concerts and has accumulated the love and support of global music admirers as well.

Currently residing in Cottonwood Heights, Utah, Malone has released a total of 4 studio albums and 24 singles as the lead artist. Post Malone has also sung in 12 singles as a featured figure. With a total of 30 awards and 152 nominations, Post Malone has proved that he is a sensational talent that embraced the music industry once in a lifetime. Without a doubt, it can be said that Post Malone is a name that is going to shine for many more years.

FIR Has Been Lodged Accusing Singer Rahul Jain of Raping a Costume Stylist, He Denied the Allegation

Rahul Jain is mostly remembered for his appearance in the 2014 show MTV Aloft Star. He has been accused of raping a costume stylist and she filed a complaint against him.

Singer and composer Rahul Jain are in another legal trouble as he has been accused of raping a costume stylist. This is not the first time he has been accused of a similar allegation; there was another case a year back when another woman accused two other of his family members of raping her.

This 30-year-old costume stylist has stated that she has been raped in his Andheri apartment on August 11. Police have registered the FIR against Rahul Jain but did not take any step or no arrest was made. The complaint was lodged at the Oshiwara police station.

According to the recorded statement made by the lady, Rahul Jain has contacted her on Instagram and appreciated her works. And afterward, he asked her to visit his flat located in a high-rise in suburban Andheri. He assured her that she will be appointed as his personal costume stylist. After she entered his apartment, he asked her to come to his bedroom. He said that he wanted to show her some of his collection with which she can work afterwards but instead, he raped her.

She stated that when Rahul Jain was assaulting her she tried to resist but didn't succeed. Later on, he tried to destroy some of the pieces of evidence as well as raping her. The complaint has been lodged under three severe penal codes of the Indian Constitution, section 376 for rape, 323 for voluntary causing hurt, and 506 for criminal intimidation.

In his defense, Rahul Jain said in his statement, "I don't know this woman. The allegations raised by her are fake and baseless. Earlier also a woman had made similar allegations against me but I got justice. This woman may be an associate of that woman".

Referring to the last complaint made by another woman a year back. But that was an even harsher scenario, accusing him of not only rape but also forcible abortions, abandonment of child, and cheating.

HANS ZIMMER AND CAMILA CABELLO COME TOGETHER TO COMPOSE A SONG FOR 'FROZEN PLANET II'

Oscar-winning composer Hans Zimmer joins forces with the singer-songwriter and popstar of this generation, Camila Cabello to write a new song for the film 'Frozen Planet II'. This David Attenborough narrated series is highly-anticipated and the new track will be featured on the debut extended trailer. 'Frozen Planet II' is a sequel to the 2011 series which shows the journey in Earth's icy regions including the North and South poles will be a total of six episodes. The series is produced by BBC Studios and is included in their Natural History Unit. The collaboration of Zimmer and Cabello, 'Take Me Back Home' is the first time any new track has been featured and composed completely to support the BBC One natural history show. The song, 'Take Me Back Home' will make its global debut on BBC 1 radio's Greg James Show on August 26. It will be before the first look trailer debut of 'Frozen Planet II' at 12.00 p.m UK BST, on the same day on both BBC Studios and BBC Earth's social media accounts.

The song will also be launched in front of Cabello's millions of fans and followers on social media. Mark Brownlow, the show's executive producer described the show as a celebration of extraordinary wildlife who overcomes difficult and extreme challenges on a daily basis to survive in the wild.

However, today a greater challenge, known as climate change, has come their way. According to him, the song created with the help of Cabello and Zimmer's original collaboration perfectly captures the fragility of these magical provinces at a time when their future is unpredictable and hangs in the middle.

Camila Cabello has also shown her excitement for this collaboration, the series, and its importance in today's world. She said this collaboration is her dream come true as she was able to combine her music with her passion for the planet we live on.

She is also grateful that she got to work with a legend like Hans Zimmer. Cabello said that this series will give viewers a new narrative that is perfectly paired with David Attenborough's narration, explaining the importance of climate change and its impact on the frozen parts of the Earth. Zimmer on the other hand was also appreciative of Cabello and the other composers for the track, 'Take Me Back Home'.

He further said Camila has a powerful voice and her other musical talent is as strong as her voice is.

8 Extremely Popular Numbers of BTS Have Been Banned in South Korea, Here's the List

From 'Permission to Dance' to 'Pied Piper', BTS has faced several bans for far-fetched reasons. The most popular band to have faced some discouraging consequences. While the whole world is dancing to the beats of BTS, but South Korean Government has a very different perception of this boy band. Though there have been various k-pop bands that have faced banning for some extremely minor reasons. And the list has some shocking tracks that were extremely appreciated in every other part of the globe.

'Converse High', 'Cypher Part 3: Killer', 'Intro: Nevermind', 'Dope', 'Pied Piper', 'Boyz With Fun', 'Go Go', and 'Permission to Dance' has been banned from broadcasting in South Korea.

Each of these numbers has a huge fan base around the world but still, they have been banned by the South Korean Government for some insignificant reasons. 'Converse High' has mentioned some brand names like "Converse", "Alexandr McQueen" and "Chanel F", and for this reason, the song was barred from broadcasting on national TV. While 'Cypher Part 3: Killer' too was banned because it some indecent terms along with some brand names mentioned in the song.

'Intro: Nevermind' was also banned from broadcasting on South Korean television for using some improper expressions like "I don't give a sh*t, I don't give a f**k" in the song.

These are regular which you can hear in almost every movie. 'Dope' too was banned in South Korea for its supposedly "Vulgar Lyrics". Though, the song has done a tremendous job on a worldwide platform.

South Korean Government banned the BTS song 'Pied Piper' for mentioning the extremely popular social media platform Twitter in their song along with another application called V app. And this is not the end, in July 2022 BTS' 'Permission to Dance' was banned from Seoul gyms. And the reason behind this decision was none other than "Corona Virus".

Music that has 120 beats per minute can be dangerous for the people in the gym so they have eliminated several tracks that fall into this category.

Another BTS number 'Boyz With Fun' was banned for using the Chinese Phrase "chi fan le ma" which means "did you eat". The phrase "chi fan le ma" is quite similar to a Korean curse word, so the government banned the track. Also in the case of their 'Go Go', this number was called "too Vulgar" as a reason for banning.

Taking a Break from Her Re-Recordings, Taylor Swift Announces Brand New Album 'Midnights'

International pop star and sensation have announced her brand new album 'Midnights' that is coming out in October. The LP, which was described by Swift as "the story of 13 sleepless nights" is due October 10th.

This is going to be her fifth release in just 2 years and her 10th studio album overall.

The announcement came when Miss Swift went up to the stage of the MTV Video Music Awards to receive her Video of the Year award for the music video for 'all too well' (Taylor's Version). While showing gratitude to her ever-supporting amazing fans she said this might be the best moment to share when her brand new album is coming out. Followed by that night, the pop star made an official statement on her social media platforms giving away the title and release date of the upcoming album.

She made a social media post stating the album will feature her life journey through "terrors and sweet dreams". "The floors we pace and the demons we face" she added with a picture of herself posed at a table in dim lighting, resting her head on one hand and holding the receiver of a landline phone in another.

The album, 'Midnights' which Swift already began selling on her websites will be too late to qualify for the Grammy awards the next year but definitely holds the strongest possibility of becoming one of the biggest commercial successes of this year.

Comparatively, her rivals and competition this year have become notably low, despite having releases from heavyweight artists like BTS, Drake, Post Malone, Lizzo, Megan Thee Stallion, etc. The only album surviving on pure sales from the debut week is Beyonce's 'Renaissance' which had the biggest opening for a woman this year.

After her announcement on the stage of MTV's VMAs, it has sparked joy and excitement in her fans and followers on social media and the artist has begun trending on various platforms. Her website is now taking pre-orders of 'Midnights'.

Ustad Rahat Fateh Ali Khan's Drunken Videos Surfaced And Netizens Started Trolling the Singer

Legendary Sufi singer Rahat Fateh Ali Khan is being heavily criticized after a video surfaced on the internet where the singer could be seen drunk with his managers. Pakistani singer Rahat Fateh Ali Khan is well revered around the world for a soulful singing style that churns out the real essence of Sufi and Qawwali. Many iconic singles and albums belong to his musical arsenal and each of his musical creations never failed to win the hearts of the listeners.

However, a video on the internet has recently surfaced where the singer could be seen in a drunken state which made the netizens troll him badly.

The video is widely shared over social media considering the occasion of the 24th death anniversary of Ustad Nusrat Fateh Ali Khan.

Ustad Nusrat Fateh Ali Khan is the uncle of Rahat Fateh Ali Khan who was a legendary classical and traditional singer. He passed away on August 16, 1997, due to cardiac arrest.

Rahat Fateh Ali Khan has written down his emotions through a heartfelt note about his uncle on the occasion of the 25th death anniversary of Nusrat Fateh Ali Khan, the kind of Qawwali who will live eternally through his timeless creations. However, netizens didn't stop trolling him just because the singer could be apparently seen being drunk with his managers Haji and Iqbal Naqeeb. In the recent video that surfaced, Rahat could be seen hugging Iqbal and appreciating his presence. The singer also said, "We are one and we will always be one," perhaps one of the most wholesome declarations.

But soon after the video appeared, it garnered much criticism and negative comments from online users, even from his fans. They claimed that the singer is consuming a high amount of alcohol and the video was shared only to tarnish the respectful image of Late Nusrat Fateh Ali Khan.

However, it is still unclear whether he was being an alcoholic or just chilling with his close people in the video. Whatever the reason was, the reactions of the netizens were diverse and hard-hitting. Some said, "He is high on alcohol as usual" while one commented "Rahat Fateh Ali Khan's viral video is a perfect example of why you should avoid overdosing on 'Toot Siah'. Some of them also asked, "What is wrong with Rahat Fateh Ali Khan in this clip?"

The mixed reaction from the listeners and the fans of the singer seems like pointing out his musical career as well. However, his timeless musical creations will remain evergreen only.

It's time to talk about Lizzo's 'About Damn Time' which has hit the top spot on Billboard Hot 100. This disco-tinged track has showcased her skills in singing and rapping.

01 As It Was

HARRY STYLES

Harry Style's latest chartbuster single 'As It Was' has again made a comeback on the top of the Billboard Hot 100 songs chart. This is the 11th week and the song is still topping the charts. It has become the longest-running number-one single on Billboard after 'Bad Habits' by Ed Sheeran. Not only in the UK but the track has won the hearts of millions of listeners across the globe including Harry's fans. It has become the number one track in more than 33 countries. Starting from Instagram reels to YouTube shorts, this track is being widely used by users on social media which is enhancing its popularity even more. The official music video has been nominated for the Video of the Year category at the MTV Video Music Award.

11 Unknown Interesting Facts About the Iconic Bollywood Singer Kishore Kumar

The legendary Bollywood singer Kishore Kumar born as Abhas Kumar Ganguly was a gem of the music industry. The singer was born on the 4th of August, 1929 in Khandwa, Madhya Pradesh. Taking birth in a Bengali household, he was a promising singer. He started his career as an actor like his brother Ashok Kumar. His debut movie was Shikari in 1946, but he didn't find the spark in acting. Though, he did a few movies afterward. Later on, he made his singing debut in 1948 for the movie Ziddi. Later he pursued his career as a playback singer, lyricist, and music producer. He has recorded in various languages like Hindi, Bengali, and Tamil. Along with that, he learned many regional languages; those are Marathi, Gujarati, Assamese, Malayalam, Oriya, and Kannada. He has also sung various songs in these regional languages.

Let's find out some interesting and unknown facts about this singer on his 93rd birthday, that are-

- 1. Kishore Kumar has sung the most number of songs for the actor Rajesh Khanna. He has given his voice to many songs, apart from Rajesh Khanna he has also sung for artists like Jeetendra, Dev Anand, Amitabh Bachchan, and many more.
- 2. It isn't unknown to everyone how versatile he was. Along with various talents, he was also capable of singing in both male and female voices. He first sang in a female voice in the song Aake Seedhi Lagi Dil Pe.
- 3. He was banned for a long period of time on national broadcasters like All India Radio and Doordarshan because he refused to sing for an Indian National Congress rally in Mumbai.

4. He was a huge fan of the Hollywood actor and singer Danny Kaye. Not only that, but he also used to hang many posters of her in his house.

5. Kishore Kumar's brother Ashok Kumar wanted to make him an actor like him but he was never interested in the fact and didn't take the matter seriously.

6. He married multiple times in his life. he married four times and his first wife was the niece of Satyajit Ray, Ruma Guha Thakurta (1950-1958), his second wife was Madhubala (1960-1969). For whom he changed his religion to Islam and named himself Karim Abdul. Then he married Yogeeta Bali (1976-1978) and finally married Leena Chandravarkar in 1980. 8. Kishore Kumar was not like any other musician; he was very different from everyone. He used to keep a sign board outside his flat written 'Beware of Kishore'. Once HS Rawail, the renowned producer-director visited his house to pay the money he owed. Instead of shaking hands, Kishore put Rawail's hand in his mouth and when he was asked what is the reason for doing such thing, he promptly answered 'Didn't you see the sign?' his way of style was very different and quirky, which he has hugely known for.

9. Another characteristic of his was, that he loved to spend alone time. That is why he never made many friends. The artist also used to talk with his trees. Once he also introduced a reporter to his trees by taking her to the garden.

10. Another very famous song of him is Paanch Rupaiyya Barah Ana. The idea of this song came from a very unique thing, which is very interesting. He had a debt of 5.75 rupees in a hostel of Indore college canteen, and that is how the concept of the song came.

11. He was very particular about his payments and he used to find out unique ways to draw attention to the matter. While working on a movie he came on set with make-up on half of his face. He did so after knowing that the producer hasn't made his full payment. So when he was asked by the director what was the reason behind doing so, he said 'Aadha paisa to aadha make-up', which means half payment so half make-up.

Tributes Pour In as Pop Singer Olivia Newton- John Who Founded Stardom with Grease Dies at 73

Olivia Newton-John, a British Australian pop singer who gained immense popularity with the cult classic, 'Grease' died at the age of 73 on Monday. She has been battling breast cancer for a long time which finally caused the star's demise.

John Easterling, her husband announced the news through a public post on his official Facebook page writing "Dame Olivia Newton-John ... passed away peacefully at her Ranch in Southern California this morning, surrounded by family and friends," and asked for further privacy during this difficult time.

She was one of the most recognizable celebrities in the 1970s and 80s. She found her early stardom in the worldwide popular classic, 'Grease'. From that film, she gained immense popularity and the image of a girl next door. She also sang various popular and hit tracks that included 'Xanadu' in 1980 and the mega-hit 'Physical' in 1981. Billboard also named the song 'Physical' the no.1 single of the decade. Her list of achievements also includes selling more than 100 million records. Her long career span of almost five decades gave her fame and immense popularity worldwide.

Born in Cambridge, England, Olivia moved with her parents to Australia at the age of 5. Her whole family was highly educated where her father was a professor and her grandfather from the mother's side won a Nobel Prize. But she was not destined to take the path of academia and instead chose to start her career in the entertainment industry. At an early age, she won the popular television show 'Sing, Sing, Sing' in Australia and later formed a duo group with her friend. Later in 1966, she started her journey as a solo pop singer which helped her achieve worldwide fame.

She has been dealing with breast cancer for nearly 30 years since she was first diagnosed with it in 1992. Since then she has been vocal about her journey and truly inspired people and other breast cancer survivors. Her journey has also helped bring awareness to the disease which made her an icon in the modern age.

Her famous 'Grease' co-star John Travolta has posted on Instagram about the singer's demise showing his love and appreciation for the late pop star.

TOP 10 RICHEST AFRICAN MUSICIANS IN 2022 YOU SHOULD KNOW ABOUT

Since the beginning of time, people have revered African music for its upbeat rhythms, potent lyrics, and vibrant dance moves. African music has significantly improved over time and is currently gaining more acceptance and recognition on a global scale. The dedication, determination, and inventiveness of African artists, who strive tirelessly to ensure that every sound from the continent is distinct and of the highest caliber, are the driving forces behind these encouraging improvements.

Several artists and musicians from the continent have produced some amazing musical works that have won the hearts of the international music community. They have not only hoisted the name of Africa on the top but have also proved their individual qualities as well. Today, let's have a look at the top 10 richest African musicians of 2022.

Panic! At The Disco Starts the New Era With the Album 'Viva Las Vengeance'

Brandon Urie and Panic! At The Disco are back with their seventh studio album named 'Viva Las Vengeance' and it is making the fans groove with magical beats.

The band Panic! At The Disco has been a fan favorite since its debut in the 2000s. A whole generation of kids grew up with the grooving tracks of the band. Now, surprising everyone the band is back with its newest album 'Viva Las Vengeance' which will be the seventh studio album of the band. The album contains a total of 12 tracks and has released an album single by the same name. To keep up with their legacy, the newest album also follows the genre of pop rock and punk music. Since their debut in 2005, the band has been consistent in giving memorable performances and refreshing songs, and this time as well, the band did not fail to deliver.

The whole album, 'Viva Las Vengeance' contains 12 tracks where each of these songs will give the audience a new perspective and experience. Every song from the album again proved why the band and its art are considered to be legendary. The songs carry the essence of true pop music mixed perfectly with the rock and punk music genres that are highly energetic and at the same time capable of engaging the listeners.

It can be said that the band has delivered tracks that show their true caliber and these prolific music tracks can make the audience stay hooked. The musically upbeat tracks carry a highly energetic background score as mentioned earlier, which is the soul of the album. The band, Panic! At The Disco, as artists have showcased their ability of sound mixing and composition as the album is filled with highly impressive tracks that have delicate and at the same time electrifying beats. The album's theme is joyous and especially the title track by the same name follows a very retro theme which is filled with inspirations drawn from the artists of the 70s era.

The vocals on the album almost sound heave nly as the lead singer Brandon Urie has previously shown his ability and mastery of being a lead vocalist of a successful band. This rock album has vocal passages that are separated from the harmonies which make the album even more interesting and refreshing. On the other hand, the lyricism in 'Viva Las Vengeance' is proof of the band's artistic growth and is rooted in modern-day songwriting which paired with the touch of retro music creates a beautiful and heavenly experience for the listeners which is the sole reason for Panic! At The Disco's popularity. Their previous masterpieces like 'A Fever You Can't Sweat Out', 'Pretty. Odd', 'Vices & Virtues', and more recent albums like 'Death of a Bachelor' and 'Pray for the Wicked' also proves the band's ability to make the listeners groove. You can follow the band's discography on major music platforms like Spotify, Apple Music, and Amazon Music and for updates, you can follow them on social media platforms; Instagram, Facebook, Twitter, etc.
