Madonna Spilled the Beans about Her Getting Married

Madonna has always been a global icon in the pop music industry. Recently the artist talked about her personal life and current obsessions in front of everyone.

Madonna, the 'Queen of Pop' has said that she regrets both of her marriages and considers it is her rash decision. The artist has also added that she has found comfort with the obsession with s*x.

recently in an interview, she said that it 'wasn't the best idea... getting married. Both times!' She has been married twice; in 1985 she was married to Sean Penn. lived with him for four years and got divorced after that. Later on, she married Guy Ritchie in 2000 and separated in 2008.

While living with Ritchie, she also gave birth to her son Rocco. Apart from that, she also has a daughter Lourdes with Carlos Leon and she has also adopted Mercy, David, and the twin children Estere and Steele. She has a total of six children.

The artist has always been very much vocal about her personal life and publically talked about it. she has admitted that she has a lot of desires and it can be said that s*x is her guilty pleasure. It is also an 'obsession' in her life.

In another question, she subtly answered that if she wasn't a singer then she would have become a teacher, which surprised all of her admirers. Madonna has shocked her audiences in every possible way.

Recently she posted a video on her Instagram from her 64th birthday bash. In the video, the artist was seen making out with various Italian women and captioned the video as 'Birthday kisses with my side bs'. She posts various photos and videos on her social media account.

She has also posted a photo, where she has been seen in a black corset, fishnet stockings, and black stilettos. In this attire, she shared a mirror photo and wrote 'Finally Enough Love: 50 Number Ones'.

Currently, it is coming to know that she is working on all of her best creations and collaborating with the best hip-hop artists. She is coming up with her globally hit song 'material girl' and renaming it as 'Material Gworrrlllllllll!'.

Madonna has always been the most iconic and profound singer of all time and lived up to everyone's expectations. Still now, the artist is entertaining worldwide listeners.

Lily Meola Takes Over the Internet after She Performed an Original Number 'Butterfly' on America's Got Talent

This Tuesday, America's Got Talent contestant Lily Meola performed an original song called 'Butterfly', earning a well-deserved standing ovation from Judge Heidi Klum.

During the semifinal round of America's Got Talent the Hawaii native contestant Lily Meola performed an original number 'Butterfly' this Tuesday. The song was accompanied by a piano and string quartet, yet everything was overshadowed by her performance. While performing this love ballad with heart-melting lines like, "Fly/ I know we'll meet between heaven and the sky/ I, I'll try/ I'm gonna try to find the good after goodbye/ Butterfly."

This song is meant for lost loved ones yet she seemed to cope with the overflowing emotions that she had while performing the number.

And the chills and the vibes were flawlessly generated by the audience as well. The dark-shade stage was gleaming with the dots of lights, making a glittery butterfly as she stood in her white-laced suit.

As this emotional performance was on the verge of conclusion Judge Heidi Klum stood up and gave her the much-deserved standing ovation. She also has been giving flying kisses during the performance.

Klum said, "I'm so, so, so, so proud of you," in time for her critique. "You are so beautiful; you have the most beautiful voice. It's soaring through the room. I think you are incredible and I wish you the best of luck. And I hope I see you at the finale!"

She added more. Klum always stood by her from the beginning of this season, since Meola performed an original 'Daydream', in her audition round.

She is now competing up against the dancing magician Jannick Holste, another fellow singer Lee Collinson, U.K. "professional idiots" The Lazy Generation, opera singer-turned-vocal impressionist Merissa Beddows, Bayley Graham, kids group Acapop! and many more.

The Launch of K-Pop ETF Brings in Korean Entertainment Giants that Include BTS, BLACKPINK, and 'Parasite' Producer

Overseas investors now have a chance to invest in the billion-dollar South Korean entertainment industry. The global expansion of K-Pop has been creating news and trends for a few years now but there was no way for foreign investors to invest in the industry which is now changing with this news.

On September 1, a K-Pop and Korean Entertainment ETF which is listed under the name of KPOP was launched by South Korean IP investment company Contents Technologies, on NYSE Arca Exchange.

The ETF KPOP is the first initiative where investors from Europe and the U.S can directly access the companies that are connected with the expansion of the K-Pop music industry.

The ETF also got an impressive board filled with top pop culture players.

The KPOP ETF includes music agencies like HYBE, JYP Entertainment, SM Entertainment, and YG entertainment. Needless to say, HYBE is the agency that handles the dominating Korean boyband in the world, BTS, and other popular K-Pop groups like Tomorrow X Together, and SEVENTEEN. This agency has a total of seven labels that manage other artists. JYP Entertainment on the other hand is home to TWICE, ITZY, and Stray Kids. YG Entertainment is the successful agency that manages worldwide famous groups like BLACKPINK along with BIGBANG and SM Entertainment is the music agency behind famous groups NCT and aespa.

The ETF also includes CJ ENM which is considered the Korean-entertainment giant which operates in the Television and Commerce area of the South Korean Industry. It also produced and distributed the Oscar-winning, worldwide famous film 'Parasite'. In the list, the next addition is Studio Dragon which is the subsidiary of CJ ENM that distributes Korean drama programming along with Naver which is Korea's top search engine that also produces K-Pop content, and Kakao Corp which is the country's largest mobile messenger and oversees labels.

Billboard states that the companies which are eligible for KPOP need a market capitalization that exceeds 100 billion KRW or $73.7 million.

The most interesting thing about this EFT is that it includes entertainment companies that have wider scopes whose primary focus is not music but can heavily influence the music industry with the help of their content opportunities and the continuous streaming of K-Pop.

According to experts, the global expansion of K-Pop is still at the beginning stage where this EFT will bring in more opportunities for investors.

UK Rapper Mr Streetz Is Offering Lyrical Therapy Through His banger 'Hood Therapy'

Only a few rappers are capable of showing the other side of the story and Mr Streetz is one of them. The rapper has recently dropped an all-new banger titled 'Hood Therapy'. Just like the title suggests, the track offers a therapeutic essence through its lyricism that can captivate not just hip-hop enthusiasts but all kinds of music lovers. The rapper has done a remarkable job in creating this banger that shows the ups and downs of a relationship. However, being a male rapper didn't make the artist limited to one side only. The rapper has masterfully portrayed the perspective of both sides through the flawless deliverance and caliber of witty wordplay. The banger is more a therapeutic session of a couple and both characters are played by Streetz himself. His unwavering aura and humble personality have put out some logical explanations of both sides which makes it highly relatable for every listener. Currently, it is buzzing through the playlists of global listeners.

The track 'Hood Therapy' has also premiered with a lyrical music video that helps to show the poetic side of those hard-hitting bars. It is truly mesmerizing how this rapper has the intellect to justify both sides of a relationship while showing the cracks within. What is even more intriguing is that the rapper did not show the perspective of the man and of the woman but also the point of view of the therapist. Being a dynamic personality, Streetz has played all of those three characters and meandered through the whole track. He has even subtly shifted the verses and his vocal tone to make the audience realize three different characters. It is well written and the bars are quite hard-hitting. Spitting fire and love; there is chaos as well as comfort in the track which makes it one of the best tracks by the rapper.

Mr Streetz has previously come up with many singles that helped him to pave his way through the hip-hop music industry such as, 'Bad Day', 'For My Daughter', '80's Kid', 'Eyes on the Prize', etc to name some. Each of the musical contributions is proof of his sheer talent, skills, and consistency in his craft. Hailing from London, this rapper is spreading his musical superiority through each successful musical representation. Groove with The Gliding Vibes of BEEN BALLIN's Recent Release 'UHH HUH' Ft. Deemenace'

This Ipswich rapper has always been delivering crisped songs along with some dancing vibes. Having his roots in Africa, BEEN BALLIN is based out of Brisbane Queensland Australia. And his music always has a source of grooving for hip-hop lovers.

For 'UHH HUH', he has collaborated with Deemenace, another extremely fisting music artist of this age. And their packed performance in this song is widely enjoyable and offers some supreme vibes. From gripping verses to exciting tunes, this track is already spreading amongst youngsters for its addictive nature.

BALLIN was born in Africa and spent a small time of his childhood in Africa later on moved to Brisbane Queensland Australia. Since his childhood, he has been a keen admirer of music, especially hip-hop rap music. And no sooner he became one of the rapping icons of his neighborhood.

With passing time his craft matured and evolved exponentially, he already was gifted and he discovered a way to sharpen his music even further. His growing-up days were hard but he managed to channel his struggle to make something extremely relevant and pleasing for everyone, along with irresistible music he now owns a record label called BALLIN Enterprise.

In 2017, he served some cold-punched lines as a series of raps that became widely popular locally. Soon after that, BEEN BALLIN featured in a Swish Music Album; this has offered him the exposure that his talents deserved. And the journey from there was also hard but he always had the power to turn his pain into poetry and offer some widely relatable tracks.

And just a few months back he released his first music video, which gathered some intense appreciation from hip-hop rap enthusiasts from around the world. Some of his edgy and intense numbers are 'Stripes', 'Veteran', 'Red Dot', 'Youngest in Charge', 'Trust Nobody', 'Colossal', which can make everyone fall for his craft.

From the luxury yacht and white extravagant mansion to the dynamic stage, this video will make you groove with its 3 minutes of running time. This swanky video has everything that most hip-hop tracks have, like stacks of money and explicit words.

These flavors add up to be one of the most enjoyable tracks of this year. 'UHH HUH', is a song that deals with some honest lines along with the hardship that BALLIN has seen in his growing days. And the collaboration with Deemenace has elevated the entire experience of this song. For more follow him on YouTube, Spotify, Instagram, and Facebook.

room with energy and can light up the moods of the listeners. The latest EP, 'Besame' is a fine example of that.

Music Career:

The artist first released music in 2015 which was a single entitled 'Drnk Textin' that won over the hearts of music lovers with its first appearance. The release of his musical expressions continued and the next release is his most acclaimed and commercially successful single 'Butter' in 2015. This followed a remix of the same single in the next year and a music video of 'butter'. The video has gained over a million views on Youtube and people have been keeping the song on their repeat list. The video shows the artist and his love interest with fiery chemistry between the protagonists. In 2017 NAYAN released another impressive single 'All Night' which was later followed by the fresh EP 'Besame'.

Latest Release:

The EP has a total of four tracks including the title track by the same name, 'Phone', 'Closer', and 'Sex Fiend'. The word 'Besame' translates to 'Kiss Me' in English and expressive love is the main theme of the entire EP. The composition of the tracks will make you captivated, and the lyrics are simply mesmerizing and contain the right amount of amorousness. On top of that, the vocals of the artist take the tracks to a whole new level.

You can see the videos on Youtube and listen to the EP along with other tracks on Spotify.

TikTok Is Helping Artists to Grow In the Music Industry

TikTok is growing in a lot more large way in promoting music. Zoi Larma from Los Angeles made a TikTok dance video, which she choreographed by herself on the song 'Supalonely' by Benee. The video has garnered more than 45 million views on the platform. Not only that, but for this single dance video, the music video has also gotten millions of views.

After getting so much recognition from the viral video, this artist has also performed two sold-out shows in New York. The soundtrack has also been nominated for the People's Choice Award and has gotten platinum. 1 million copies have been sold and 2.1 billion streams have been garnered from all the music streaming platforms.

Zoi Larma has also gotten immense fame after the video and currently living a life of being a content creator. The creator has said 'When it started trending on TikTok and picking up on TikTok, I would hear it on the radio or, you know, hear it in stores... I would hear it everywhere.'

TikTok has changed the whole scenario in the music industry. Now, this has become the ideal platform for promoting new music and reaching out to a global audience. That is why, every recording label, artist, and creator is trying to find a way to make a profit from this platform.

In this matter Tatiana Cirisano, the music industry analyst and researcher has said that 'If a song is going viral on TikTok, and the artist is unsigned, and as a result, it's getting a million streams on Spotify, the labels are scrambling to sign that song or that artist'. She has also added 'They're obsessed with expanding their market share and making sure they don't lose any market share to independent artists'. After so much growth on TikTok, the artists get a lot of exposure on different music streaming platforms too. On Spotify, Benee has gotten a lot of stream on this platform too. The current influence of TikTok in the music industry has pushed a large number of listeners on Spotify and Apple Music.

From a report is getting to know that, Spotify has given $7 billion dollars to the recording labels and artists after receiving a huge number of listeners.

Ponniyin Selvan's Music Album Is Out Now, Showing AR Rahman's Musical Magic

Mani Ratnam's upcoming masterpiece creation, 'Ponniyin Selvan' is all set to release on September 30 and everybody is looking forward to it. The entire star cast has been revealed through the breathtaking trailer of the movie.

What is even more exciting is that the music album for the movie is already out. The trailer and audio launch program took place at Nehru Indoor Stadium in Chennai and every star was available there to appreciate it. Starting from Kamal Haasan to Rajinikanth, everyone lauded composer AR Rahman made the whole soundtrack with his magical skills.

Other than the chief guests, stars from the film like Aishwarya Rai Bachchan, Chiyaan Vikram, and Director Mani Ratnam were part of the event as well. The event started off with his songs being played on the stage.

Kamal Haasan as the chief guest of the event was quite moved by Rahman's creations. He said, "Every song of ARR from Ponniyin Selvan has increased my heartbeat. Unique music. The audience has already decided that the music is a hit." so took this opportunity to praise the composer and he said, "What vibrant music, Rahman! He took us to Ponniyin Selvan universe with his songs." He further added, "These songs from Mani and ARR are my inspiration. I am waiting to watch the film. Ponni Nadhi song is so mesmerising. It even makes us sing chorus unconsciously.

The director also appreciated Mani Ratnam and expressed his gratitude for the work of art. He said, "Pan-India is a term that's become common. Mani Ratnam is the first pan-India director.

His films reached all over India because of his style, work ethic and work. That's the patch he laid for us. He directed Geethanjali in Telugu and the picturisation is larger than life. And then comes Thalapathy. "

He also added, "Brilliant casting and technical crew. This piques everyone's curiosity. With everyone's effort, I think Ponniyin Selvan will be a milestone in the history of Tamil cinema."

'Ponniyin Selvan' is based on an old period taken from a popular Tamil literary namesake novel. The novel is written by Kalki Krishnamurthy and it is being released in two parts. The first part will be released on September 30; however, the official confirmation for the second part is yet to come.

Universal Music Group Is Launching Virgin Music Group to Broaden Their Reach

On the 13th of September, Universal Music group commonly known as UMG officially announced the launch of Virgin Music Group, a new global division.

UMG Chairman and CEO Sir Lucian Grainge and UMG's EVP, CFO, and President of Operations Boyd Muir have joined their forces with mtheory co-founders JT Myers and Nat Pastor.

After the newly assigned roles of Pastor and Myers, they will now be leading this company to further expansion and development of this company. This new division will include, the 2021 launched services of Virgin Music Label & Artist Services.

Along with that 2019 inclusion of UMG Ingrooves Music Group and mtheory Artist, Partnerships will also be a part of this new venture.

After the initiation, UMG Chairman and CEO Sir Lucian Grainge said, "In order to remain the best home for artists and entrepreneurs we must drive innovation in our own businesses—offering new and high-quality resources for artists from all corners of the world while continuing to lead the industry's transformation."

He added, "Nat and JT's track record for creating forward-thinking partnerships with artists that are built on a foundation of trust, creativity, and business acumen is exactly the kind of leadership we want for the new Virgin Music Group division. Together with our frontline labels and global footprint, Virgin Music Group offers artists unmatched creative and commercial support."

Myers told, "mtheory was founded on the idea that we could transform the music industry by offering better, more aligned partnerships with artists. By bringing these incredible global teams and resources together, we have the opportunity to turbo-charge that vision, and deliver even more value to artists, labels, and music entrepreneurs."

Pastor started by thanking Sir Lucian and Boyd for having trust in their potential, he added, "iconic Virgin Music brand, one of the most successful independent labels in the industry's history, as well as Ingrooves, arguably the most sophisticated music technology platform in the world."

JT and I have worked together for over 20 years, and we're thrilled to continue our journey to transform the music industry together, along with the Ingrooves, mtheory, and Virgin teams."

Previously, Pastor and Myers co-founded mtheory in 2010; they held a senior strategy along with corporate development roles at Warner Music Group.

Trig The Optimus Is Gaining Attention With His Album 'Right Now'

Join the musical ballad with talented artist Trig The Optimus. He has showcased his talent by delivering his debut album, named 'Right Now'. It has gained a lot of attention in this brief span of time. With this piece of work, the artist has gotten the opportunity to create a buzz among all music enthusiasts. Recently we got the opportunity to have a chat with him and this is how it went –

DMR: Hello Trig The Optimus, it is nice to finally talk to you. First of all, congratulations on your big success for 'Right Now'. How are feeling after achieving such a massive response from the audience?

Trig The Optimus: Honestly, It's exciting but also very humbling. When you invest in yourself, and you finally see the results.

DMR: How did you come up with the concept of making this album?

Trig The Optimus: The concept of the album came from the need to neutralize the chaos by being a Spark Of Light.

DMR: What has inspired you to make this album?

Trig The Optimus: I wanted to show the world that you can still achieve your aspirations while remaining authentic.

DMR: What has encouraged you to become a musician?

Trig The Optimus: I always had a passion for music. Music has guided me through many facets of my life. I have always had a competitive spirit.

This is the ultimate level of competition. The industry is one of the toughest in the world. There is no question, this is where I am supposed to be.

DMR: Would you like to try any other genre of music in the future?

Trig The Optimus: Actually, I take a firm stance on not being pigeonholed into one specific genre and will continue to show that through my work.

DMR: You work as an independent artist, how do you manage everything on your own?

Trig The Optimus: What I'm trying to do doesn't happen alone. I have a team.

The structure of my business is as intentional and authentic as my music. You must build the foundation of your business according to your mission and your vision.

DMR: Are you working on a new project right now?

Trig The Optimus: Yes. I am working on another project. I am always creating. It's in my blood. I am very proud of Right Now but excited to share my new work.

The audience will be able to feel the vibrant essence of music, colorful lyrics, and energetic melodies that can make you dance-ready in Rosalía's newly released 'Motomami+'.

'Motomami+' is one of the most successful albums of this year, and is one of the strongest candidates for the upcoming Grammy awards. Personally, it was one of my top favorite albums of this year that is ultra refreshing, making me groove every time I listen to it. This March released album has gained millions of streams on Spotify and other digital streaming platforms and is also one of the most critically acclaimed albums of this year.

So when Rosalía announced that this is getting an extended version release along with the music lovers from all over the world I was screaming with joy and excitement.

Entitled 'Motomami+' this expanded set of music has got an addition of eight tracks, making it an album containing a total of 24 music tracks. It has got an addition of four completely new songs such as 'Aislamiento', 'La Kilié', 'LAX' and 'Chiri'. These newest additions make the album perfect and can easily be said to be the career-best performance of the artist.

The previous version of the album was the most acclaimed album of the artist's discography and these additional tracks do the perfect justice to that. These tracks are vibrant and high-spirited which perfectly matches the theme of the album.

It also has got a remix of the album cut 'Candy' that features Chencho Corleone, the member of no longer existing Puerto Rican reggaeton duo, Plan B. Along with it, there is also a live version of the Weeknd feature, 'La Fama', which was recorded at Barcelona's Palau Sant Jordi.

Rosalía's live vocals and the audience's background cheering added an extra element to the tracks, extending its magic. The album and its 24 tracks packed with thrilling energy and enchanting vibes have to be one of the most celebrated and fan favorite albums all over the world.

The production of the original album was mind-blowing, gaining praise from fans and music critics left and right and this extended cut will also take to a whole different world. The ambiance that the production of the album creates with its genre-blending ability, and Rosalía's power-packed vocals is on another level. You will be able to get the perfect mixture of Spanish flamenco, reggaetón, R&B, and vibrant Pop in the deluxe version which stands true to its name, 'Motomami+', that means an addition to its meaning 'vibe of power, the liberty of being'. You can listen to 'Motomami+' on Spotify and follow Rosalía on Facebook, Instagram, Twitter, and other social media for further updates.

The world's biggest sensation, the Korean girl group BLACKPINK is gaining huge success with their new high-octane album 'BORN PINK', a blend of pop, rock, and hip-hop.

What comes when you mix unwavering uberly talented women with a potential blend of glamour, energy, and music essence? Yes, that's right! You get BLACKPINK. This heartthrob South Korean girl group has come with its highly-anticipated album 'BORN PINK'. The album consists of a total of 8 singles and each of them is a musical chart-buster. Rosé, Lisa, Jennie, and Jisoo have done a wonderful job and become a global pop sensation with their united effort. This album came after the 2020 debut music project, 'The Album'. The latest album is a power-packed creation that offers 8 super energetic and highly addictive pop tracks like 'Pink Venom', 'Shut Down' and many others which are currently buzzing through the global music industry.

The love-sick girls offered an epic rock star-like performance that they have been willing to the from the beginning. The title of the album is well justified as they have proved what they are born to do. The charismatic glow of all four of them overflows through each of the singles. BLACKPINK's motto of the art of being the girl who gets what she wants is well embraced through this musical project and that reflects through high-octane and powerful music videos as well. The latest album 'BORN PINK' is quite shinier and a well-polished musical project that shows the personal growth of each of the members as they have gone through several musical projects. Their striking personalities along with catchy lyricism with a switch between English and Korean are truly engaging for not only their fans but all kinds of music lovers.

Offering an essence of classic glam-metal bands, BLACKPINK is churning out more 'Pink' in the music industry. As Rosé proclaims, "I'm so rock & roll!" the fans would also agree that the rock flavors are evident among other members as well. The single 'Shut Down' is one of the greatest examples of their optimistic and confident foundation just like rock stars. The lyrics go by, "Praying for my downfall? Many have tried, baby" and then the girls chant in the end "Keep watching me shut it down!" The ferocity and energy of rock n roll anthems are noticeable in the track "Yeah Yeah Yeah" as well. The is well built with lush layers of synth-disco grooves.

The track 'Tally' will definitely catch the attention of the audience with its shard and shrewd nature along with punk guitar elements and a menacing lyrical approach. The song starts with "I say 'fk it' when I feel it." But if anyone has a problem with this attitude, BLACKPINK simply does not care as the girls sing "While you're talking all that st, I'll be getting mine!" This album offers a highly energetic musical journey for everyone however it also features a single titled, 'The Happiest Girl' which offers ample melancholy. It is a completely English sad song that features soft pop musical arrangement. This track is making an exception in the entire album.

BLACKPINK is born to make music and that is being established again through this latest album 'BORN PINK'. Starting from utilizing 'La Campanella' by Italian classical composer Niccolò Paganini into a trap beat .

Who did not love Pokemon in their childhoods? But not everyone gets to live their dreams. World famous singer and songwriter Ed Sheeran seem to have done the impossible as he is officially a part of the Pokemon universe. He has recently dropped a collaboration with the franchise on a song titled 'Celestial'.

The track was released on September 29, Thursday along with a video that features all sorts of pokemon. What's more interesting than the video itself? The news is that the song will be featured in "Pokémon Scarlet and Pokémon Violet!", as officially stated by the Pokémon Company.

The song is a typical Ed Sheeran song, filled with catchy tunes and dynamized rhythmic flow that keeps the audience hooked throughout. Worldwide known for his art of lyricism, 'Celestial' also showcases the artist's intense gift as a songwriter and most importantly a beautiful storyteller.

The track fully captivates you, transporting you to the world of the singer's imagination. Ed Sheeran does what he does the best, consuming you with each beautifully written line.

Especially verses like "We are designed to love and break And to rinse and repeat it all again", the singer creates a magic that will give you a spellbound experience.

Apart from the prepossessing lyrics, what allured me the most toward the track is the heavenly voice of the singer. This Grammy-winning artist has presented a soothing yet energetic vocal tune and singing ability in the track, 'Celestial' that speaks life into the lyrics.

The emotions and excitement of his voice will most definitely get to you and is the soul of the track. The voice complemented the lyrics so well that at one point the audience will feel the chills and shivers in their skin.

The composition of the track also needs special mention here as the talented artist is known for producing and composing most of his songs. The credit for creating a theme so enchanting goes directly to the composition and mixing of the track.

On top of that, the video of 'Celestial' follows an interesting theme, showing the singer living in a world of Pokemons, where Snorlax saves Sheeran from a car accident and a Lapras that takes him across a river. The artistically pleasing sketches were done by Yu Nagaba, who created the images based on the doodles of Sheeran in his childhood.

The song came out ahead of the launching of new games, Pokémon Scarlet and Pokémon Violet launching on Nintendo Switch on November 18.

Everything You Need To Know About Life Is Beautiful 2022

Find out the exciting things from 'Life Is Beautiful' this year In Las Vegas. It will continue through 16th-18th September, turning colorful and music-filled.

The streets of downtown Las Vegas turn colorful and filled with music during this time of every year as the festival, 'Life Is Beautiful' takes place. This year the festival started on 16th September and carried on till September 18th. This year's lineup was as impressive as every year's, where the major acts included T-Pain, Cage The Elephant, Arctic Monkeys, Gorillaz, Kygo, Calvin Harris, Lorde, and many more!

This year's festival was marked as the ninth edition of the tradition which is a three-day festival filled with food, music, art, and comedy set amid the 'lights of 18 electric blocks'. Every year, this festival always brings out surprises in terms of both attendees and performers and 2022 was no exception. The first day was empowering, including stand-out sets from Charli XCX, Alison Wonderland, and Blu DeTiger.

Dominated by mainly women, the first day's lineup was a successful start to this year's 3 days long festival of art.

Las Vegas is said to be the entertainment capital of the World. During this festival the streets of Downtown Vegas turn into open art museums, featuring some prominent and famous local, along with national and global artists.

Not just the art installments, impressive in one word, but the food experience of this festival is also unparalleled where the local vendors were the true stars of this year.

Some of the major highlights of this year's festival were-

Rising Stars Stage
Market in the Alley
Fergusons Downtown
The Pizzeria
Life Is Beautiful Letters
Kicker Comedy and more!

The festival is also home to discovering emerging talents with the highest potential and lining up for 'Life Is Beautiful' is considered to be among the top-rated recognitions of the artists.

The promising talent, Blu DeTiger performed a total of three times on the first day of the festival which helped the audience discover this young artist. On the second day, the artists of the line-up, 'Gorillaz, Lorde, Coi Leray, Bob Moses, and Orange County comedy bros Chad and JT' delivered electrifying and enjoyable performances which was the perfect and ultimate fan interaction.

Many artists took their magical performances to the crowd to connect better which created a completely unique experience. The entire festival matched the electric cityscape with its dynamic performances.

CONCERT REVIEW: BONNIE RAITT AND MAVIS STAPLES SETTING THE STAGE ON FIRE WITH THEIR DAZZLING PERFORMANCES

Bonnie Raitt along with her special guest Mavis Staples left the audience short of words after their powerful performance in the L.A.'s Greek Theater. The show was called “a two-sided portrait of what heart, soul and understated heroism look like in music.” Raitt arrived at the Greek Theater, LA for her show, and later on her special guest, Mavis Staples accompanied her for the historical performance of the decade.

The show was seamlessly conveying a story of a man who is associated with the civil rights movement and Staples was brilliant in every way possible. And Raitt was a warrior, portraying the early days of women fighting for their due in rock.

The highlights of the show included her signature interpretation of John Prine’s “Angel from Montgomery,” she said that earlier she was unsure whether she can pull off the act but she did a commendable job.

She also has included the fixtures of “Nick Of Time” and “I Can’t Make You Love Me,” covers of John Hiatt’s “No Business,” INXS’ “Need You Tonight,” and Paul Brady’s “Not The Only One,” before a closing “Longing In Their Hearts.”

Chris Willman wrote in his review about this performance, the musical is “a two-sided portrait of what heart, soul and understated heroism look like in music...it was a show where you could think about what Staples meant during the civil rights movement, and since, or about Raitt’s role as a warrior without uniform in the early days of women fighting to get their due in rock.”

being mesmerized by the performance he wrote, “Or you could just enjoy the chops and grease that feed into the respective performances of historically significant figures who wear their mantles as lightly as anything else they’d need to peel off upon stepping into a humid roadhouse.”

Raitt and Staples have another show together after the spellbinding performance people are looking for it more, the performance will take place on the 27th at the Rady Shell at Jacobs Park in San Diego. Right after that Raitt will continue the tour with her next special guest Marc Cohn on Friday in Tempe, Arizona on the 19th of November 2022.

Everything You Need To Know About 2022 Made In America Festival

Find out which artist performed at Jay Z's Made In America festival this year. The headliners were Latin star Bad Bunny and hip-hop artists like Tyler, the Creator.

On the annual Labor Day weekend, Jay Z's Made In America festival took place where the main attraction was Latin pop star Bad Bunny. Last Thursday, rapper Jay Z was called out on social media apparently for being a 'capitalist' and making money through several ventures that included this festival. But is making money, bringing together huge crowds of hip-hop lovers, and chart-topping headliners wrong?

This two-day festival partnered with Live Nation and was hosted at Philadelphia's Art Museum area. It gave fresh energy and reinvention which was complemented by huge international artists of the hip-hop genre and their power-packed performances.

Here are some of the notable performances - Bad Bunny Wearing all red shorts, a vest, and a similar sunglass, Bad Bunny delivered an energy-packed performance that managed to groove the entire crowd of thousands of people. The reggaeton vibes of 'Moscow Mule' paired with the Latin superstar bouncing off on his heels surely created an ecstatic experience for the audience. The whole crowd went through a roller coaster of melodies with Bad Bunny's set which included 'Un Coco', 'Party', 'Yo Perreo Sola', etc. Surely the headliner showed why he was given the responsibility and why he deserves the fame and appreciation he gets from his fans.

Lil Uzi Vert Rapper Lil Uzi Vert gave a striking performance with his pyrotechnic-filled set that includes some of his biggest emo bangers. Coming out with kingfisher's mohawk and huge red sunglasses created a special look for the rapper that matched his enlivening performance and flow.

Tyler The Creator Keeping the weirdness alive, Tyler The Creator did not disappoint with his artistry and performance. Openness in the crowd, the energy, and the hauntingly motivated screams of the audience made the performance even more special.

Don Toliver The trap R&B artist, Don Troliver has been waiting for this moment to shine and his performance speaks volumes about his talent. His set was surprisingly long on day two, which the audience enjoyed till the last minute which proves the artist's impressive performance.

The list of impressive performers and dynamic performances did not stop here, rapper GloRilla, Toro y Moi, JID, Pusha T, and Kodak Black. The MIA has truly galvanized the Americans and the rest of the world.

Bad Bunny: The Unknown Side Of the Latin Heartthrob Artist

Other than being a super-talented singer, rapper, and top-paid performer; there are a lot of facts about Bad Bunny that even the fans do not know about. Currently, this superstar is the most streamed artist on the major music streaming platforms with more than 14.8 billion plays. According to a recent report by Celebrity Net Worth, Bad Bunny is currently worth 1.8 million. His significant growth in the global music industry is surely turning him into a money bunny.

This unwavering music artist first released his musical project in 2016 and now, he is dominating the Latin-American as well as the global music industry while stealing the hearts of millions of fans. He has also become the top streamed artist on Spotify and made a record for the first-ever non-English artist to hit this milestone. Let's check some other unknown facts about this talented Bunny.

6. Bad Bunny as a WWE wrestler Bad Bunny's growing musical career is not his only talent but the singer has appeared in WWE as a wrestler on January 31 in 2021. He also played a track during the royal Royal Rumble Event. He also appeared as a wrestler on the weekly event of 'Monday Night Raw'. Along with fellow Puerto Rican wrestler, Damian Priest; Bunny won the match against Akira Tozawa and earned the title of WWE 24/7 Championship.

He made an epic comeback in the Royal Rumble on January 29 of this year and lasted until the final five. He was able to eliminate Sheamus and Dolph Ziggler however, Brock Lesner took the title in the end.

5. Bad Bunny as a Drag Queen For the music video of 'Yo Perreo Sola', Bad Bunny appeared in multiple drag looks and slayed with his performance in woman attire. However, the motive was not only aesthetic to share a strong message. The music video ended with a message "If she doesn't want to dance with you, respect her. She twerks alone".

As soon as the video surfaced, Anuel AA made a homophobic comment regarding the artist and said, "I don't want friends in the industry... you guys are weird as hell, fools & hypocrites. I cant go against my morals for business! Im tired of masks, dont get close to me in any place y'all see me". To this, Bad Bunny replied with a middle finger up sassy drag look, and saying, "Even though the world is full of hate, always try to respond with love".

4. Is Bad Bunny bisexual? What is his sexuality?

A lot of people are in doubt about Bad Bunny's sexuality but the artist has never put a label on it. In an interview with the LA Times, Bunny once said that his sexuality is fluid and he does require to define it. He further said, "It does not define me. At the end of the day, I don't know if in 20 years I will like a man. One never knows in life."

Bad Bunny advocates for the LGBTQ community and regularly calls out homophobia in the music industry. He also features queer artists in his music videos. One of his 2019 hits tracks, 'Caro' showed a man kissing Bunny which made fans believe he is gay or bisexual. But in reality, he is a flamboyant music artist with a fluid personality.

3. Is he dating Rosalía?

No, Bad Bunny is not dating Rosalía. Though they worked together for the music video of the track 'La Noche De Anoche'; they are a couple in real life. They are just good friends. On the other hand, Bunny is currently in a relationship with Gabriela Berlingeri with whom he made a red carpet debut at a recent event.

2. How much does Bad Bunny charge for a single show? Is he the richest reggaeton artist?

Currently, Bad Bunny earns more than other artists of this time. According to Pollstar, he charges around 2.7 for each show.

However, the artist himself does not take all the money since there are many others in management and production where the fee is shared. But still, Bunny would definitely make a lot.

Although he is not the richest reggaeton artist since Daddy Yankee took that spot in 2021. Considering Yankee's long music career and numerous hit projects; it is quite possible for him to do that. However, Bad Bunny might claim that title soon since he is not too far.

1. What is Bad Bunny's real name? Why he is named Bad Bunny?

The real name of this Latin superstar is Benito Antonio Martínez Ocasio. His artist name Bad Bunny was given when he wore a bunny costume at a school event in his childhood. He was looking upset and angry in the bunny suit which made him own that name. Later on, in his musical career, he utilized that name and established himself as one of the top artists. Bad Bunny is perhaps the most talented music artist persona in the industry who is winning the hearts of millions of people. Stay tuned to enjoy more Bunny magic!

LET'S LOOK BACK AT HOW J-HOPE AND BECKY G MADE HISTORY IN THE MUSIC INDUSTRY

The annual American four-day music festival, lollapalooza, just ended a few months ago which created a buzz in the music world. The famous K-Pop star and BTS member J-Hope was among the headliners this year which increased the number of attendees in an instant. However, when the Mexican-American singer and rapper Becky G joined him on stage for their 2019 hit 'Chicken Noodle Soup', the dreams of many of their fans came true. Both the stars and talented singers finally reunited after 3 long years after the song's release to entertain thousands of audiences and millions of fans watching online.

The reason why this song, 'Chicken Noodle Soup' becoming a hit is considered history in the industry is that it is rare to see a trilingual song becoming a hit. When the news of J-hope remaking the tracks with collaboration with Becky G hit the news fans went crazy with their anticipation. Upon release, the track became an instant and genuine hit, securing its position on the charts. On the ranking of Billboard's 'The Bestselling World Singles of 2019' the song was placed at position 20.

ist To Headline Lollapalooza 2022 Despite releasing without prior notice and with little to no promotion, the song secured its 1st position on 71 iTunes with its debut. It was also released as a non-commercial track and the official video passed a smashing 21.7M views in the first 24 hours which became the most viewed video of the day it was released.

Not just a commercial success, this song also collected critical acclaim on its way. According to Forbes, "BTS member j-hope broke records and became the first artist to manage many different feats on charts across the world".

These charts include several genre-specific lists such as pop and rap. The track, Chicken Noodle Soup debuted at no 81 on the Hot 100 of all genres.

Acknowledging this cross-culture collaboration, the South Korean Foreign Minister, Kang Kyung-Wha said that the song is a wonderful example of how impactful and valuable culture can be when it is combined with different and diverse industries.

J-Hope, being a Korean and this being his first collaboration with a foreign artist, has faced hurdles to communicate in English. Becky G later explained they shared the language of music which developed a long-lasting friendship between them.

They also passed a message that all cultures are equal. This message was reflected in their stage performance which was joined by a diverse group of backup dancers.

FIND OUT THIRTEEN UNKNOWN THINGS ABOUT TAYLOR SWIFT'S 'MIDNIGHTS'

The global pop icon Taylor Swift surprised all her listeners at the MTV Video Music Awards with the announcement of her upcoming album 'Midnights'. The album is going to be released on the 21st of October. The artist said that 'I thought it might be a fun moment to tell you that my brand new album comes out October 21, and I will tell you more at midnight'. After some time she released photos of the album, which confirms the news. Right after the announcement, it created a buzz among everyone and all her fans are not able to wait for the album anymore. Before this album, last time she announced the news of the album and gave a timer for the album 'Reputation'. This was also almost five years ago. She is giving little hints about this new album to her fans. Among everyone, a lot of questions are being emerged regarding this album release. Here are thirteen questions that will help everyone to wait for seven weeks till the album's release-

1. What is the need of giving a timer?

Taylor is a worldwide famous singer-performer and clearly, she doesn't need to do anything special to create a buzz among her listeners. This kind of act of her leaves her listeners to anticipate the release. Maybe these kinds of excitement among everyone encourage her even more. Everyone has noticed that the artist was not appearing much in any kind of gatherings and shows. She was last seen in a public appearance in June at the Tribeca Film Festival for her short film. The film was named 'All Too Well'. On this matter, she said that 'People often greatly underestimate how much I will inconvenience myself to prove a point'. So, all these inconveniences were for this upcoming album.

2. What is the purpose of making 'Midnights'?

When the artist was asked what was the purpose or idea behind making this album, she said 'We lie awake in love and in fear, in turmoil and in tears,' she wrote. "We stare at walls and drink until they speak back. We twist in our self-made cages and pray that we aren't — right this minute — about to make some fateful life-altering mistake. This is a collection of music written in the middle of the night, a journey through terrors and sweet dreams. The floors we pace and the demons we face. For all of us who have tossed and turned and decided to keep the lanterns lit and go searching — hoping that just maybe, when the clock strikes twelve ... we'll meet ourselves.' She also added by saying 'Midnights, the stories of 13 sleepless nights scattered throughout my life, will be out Oct. 21. Meet me at midnight'.

3. What is the reason behind releasing it in October?

This album 'Midnights' is going to be released exactly right after ten years of her album 'Red'. This album of her was released on 22nd October 2012. All of her albums have been released in the same month only the album 'Reputation' was released in November 2017. So, it can be said, this album is a symbolic return.

4. What is the story behind the album cover?

In the cover, Taylor has been seen holding a lighter in front of a shower curtain. And this reference doesn't go with her in any way because she never smokes or promotes this kind of thing. That is why it is a little unpredictable to say something on this part of the album.

5. What are the other photos on this album about?

This album is going to be available in vinyl too. And for that, there are four different photos have been finalized. The pictures are being seen in Blood Moon, Jade Green, Mahogany, and Midnight Blue. The whole energy of the pictures is giving retro vibes, where not only the artist but the whole setup has an essence of the seventies. With these types of vinyl, she is trying to add the flavor of retro.

6. What about the vinyl?

Surprisingly, Taylor is releasing this album in every mode on the same day. The pieces of vinyl are also going to be released on 21st October. This is single vinyl and it is going to be 22 minutes per side. It is quite unusual for Taylor Swift because no vinyl of her is this short. Her other vinyl like 'Folklore', 'Evermore', and 'Lover' is nearly one hour long. 'Reputation' was 56 minutes long and the debut one was also 48 minutes. That means this vinyl is going to be much shorter than her other vinyl.

7. Is this album also about breakups, betrayals, and breakdowns?

On this matter regarding the album, Taylor has said at the Tribeca Film Festival that 'I've never seen an exploding helicopter. I've never seen anybody go and blow somebody's head off. So why should I make films about them? But I have seen people destroy themselves in the smallest way'. She added more by saying 'I felt that'. From this, it is being clear that the album 'Midnights' is going to be very much different from her other creations.

8. Why the album is not named 2 A.M.?

There is a special bond of 2 A.M. with Taylor Swift. In her previous work, there is a lot of reference to 2 A.M. in many songs, she said that she last time saw the face of her ex at 1.58 A.M. a phrase also known that 'Night time, Tay time'. So, by keeping all the references she could have easily named the album 2 A.M.

9. What Taylor tries to say through midnight?

Taylor Swift has a different attachment with midnight. Her creations like 'Style', 'Happiness', 'The Moment I Knew', and 'All Too Well' has a special reference to midnight. There is also a saying about '22' that 'It feels like a perfect night...to join our list!'. It can be said that with Midnights she expresses herself much deeper. That is why it becomes easier to connect with the listeners.

10. What is the connection between Taylor and Emily Dickinson?

Taylor is very much fond of 19th-century poems. A phrase she uses a lot and follows is 'Keep the lanterns lit and go searching... We'll meet ourselves.' It has been written by Dickinson in 1855. Taylor's thinking and the writing of Dickinson are quite intertwined with each other. It can be said that Taylor is obsessed with this philosophy and tries to implement it in her creation. Dickinson was also very fond of writing about Midnights and it can be said that Taylor has been inspired by this.

11. When Taylor's Version is going to come up next?

Everyone is assuming that Taylor is going to give another TV this year. In May she dropped 'This Love (Taylor's Version)' which is a remake from the 1989 ballad. Later on, she also gave 'The Old Taylor Collection'. Maybe she is going to release more content like these in the coming days.

12. Where are Jack Antonoff and Aaron Dessner?

The artist hasn't said anything about the producers. She has collaborated with the duo of the industry Jaaron Desstonoff. This collaboration has always been a gem. These three people have always come up with amazing things. But it cannot be surely said, she will collaborate with them one more time or not because she is quite choosy when it comes to producers. If it stays as it is then this album will be a great piece of work.¹

3. Is Taylor going back to pop look or sticking with the cottagecore?

In her last creations like Folklore and Evermore, she has been seen in cottagecore. It is still not being predictable how she is going to present the whole album. But one thing can be said that she is coming back after a few times, so whatever she will do is going to be worth watching.

These are the thirteen unknown facts about Taylor Swift's upcoming album 'Midnights'. Everyone is eagerly waiting for the album to drop. She is all ready conquering the world with this. So let's wait until it comes out.

Rememberin When Asha Bhosle Accepted Her Relationship With Legendary Composer RD Burman ended up in the parting their ways after a few years. Both of them in their respective careers have gained massive fame and respect and have collaborated on numerous occasions. Throughout their careers, Asha Bhosle and RD Burman have recorded several songs together for many decades. They also performed together in various live shows.

In that interview with Quint, Asha was asked how their relationship started to which she responded cheekily. She said that the composer was after her for many years and praised her at any opportunity he could get. Burman used to praise her voice, saying she had a very unique voice and good tune which made him smitten. He also used to send her anonymous flowers for years. Asha, not knowing who the anonymous flowers were from, used to throw them away which made Burman's face fall. Finally after years of trying she said yes to the proposal not having any other option.

Further in the interview, when asked about her sister's reaction to this relationship, Asha said that her sister did not say anything to her or Pancham. RD Burman was also known as Pancham in the industry.

In her career of eight decades, Asha Bhosle has sung countless songs in several languages which stand as proof of her immense talent. Her decades-long career has gained her various recognitions and awards which include two national awards, four BFJA Awards, eighteen Maharashtra State Film Awards, nine Filmfare Awards along with a Lifetime Achievement Award, and two Grammy nominations.

The honored and acclaimed singer once shared how her relationship with her music producer and composer husband started in the media. In an old interview in 1993, Ms. Bhosle shared that RD Burman was after her for a long time and would praise her from time to time which made her accept his proposal in the end.

In the same interview, she also recalled her sister, the vaunted singer, Lata Mangeskar's reaction to this relationship.

Needless to say, this marriage and relationship with Asha Bhosle were not the first ones for RD Burman. His first marriage was with Rita Patel in 1966 which ended up in him divorcing her in 1971. Later in 1980, the musician and composer married Asha Bhosle who also

Dua Lipa's Kind Gesture Created Much Controversy in Rio De Janeiro

Popstar Dua Lipa's Rio De Janeiro Tour was highly successful as the artist has been promoting a modified version of her "Future Nostalgia". She has been promoting her namesake album from 2020. The album features her early chart-busters like "New Rules" as well as collaboration projects like "Cold Heart" with Elton John and "One Kiss" with Calvin Harris. Other than a successful tour, the singer also seemed to enjoy her stay in Rio as the artist shared many images through her Instagram account of her visiting different places in the city. However, one of the videos has gone viral on social media that created much controversy where the artist politely refused to get

The singer was interrupted by her fans who tried to take photos with her. She kindly asked them to not take any photos since she is spending some quality time with her family.

She said, "I'm so sorry, I can't take pictures because I'm spending the day with my family. Nice to meet you."

This kind gesture created much controversy however, it is quite normal that even celebrities need their personal space to enjoy themselves with their friends and family. The artist strolled through the streets and even flew over the city to enjoy the lush view. She also shared a carousel of photos of her. One of the pictures showed her parents as well.

The event in Rio where the artist performed is known as the 'Rock in Rio' festival and this was its ninth year of it. On the seventh day of the festival, Dua Lipa performed her track 'Future Nostalgia' and created a huge buzz through her act.

The closing day was exclusively reserved for only women performers as it aimed at empowering women artists.

Sony is Selling its Business to Kiss Koala and Decides to Leave Russia as Well

Sony has been the world's largest music publisher and they have occupied a huge part of the music market in Russia as well. After they decided to leave Russia they turned to the former business director of their Russian representative office. Arina Dmitrieva's company Kiss Koala will now be monetizing the Russian artists who are signed by Sony from now on.

This indicates that various tracks of Russian artists are going to disappear from their music-streaming platforms. Sony is one of the three largest music companies in the world, alongside Universal Music and Warner Music groups. Sony added its Russian division in 1999 and since then the company has been developing and monetizing various international artists. But now, according to the experts, the Russian recording market is at 15-20%. In 2021, the revenue of Sony Music LLC amounted to 2.56 billion rubles ($42.7 million), making them a net profit of 132.9 million rubles ($2.22 million).

Russia has been offering a large pool of eclectic artists from various genres and domains, which resulted in a huge influence on the company as well. And Sony had a long list of Russian domestic artists and has been distributing their music to the world. But now Arina Dmitrieva and her company will benefit from this list of artists.

SONY MUSIC

Well, the main difference will be that Russian listeners cannot be able to listen to international artists via Yandex Music, Sound, and VK Music. Russian users of these platforms are no longer going to listen to various iconic music artists and bands like The Beatles, Pink Floyd, Elvis Presley, and many others. These aforementioned music-streaming platforms have already been notified by Sony about the withdrawal. Some Russian newspapers are referring that these artists may be available on various other music streaming websites and applications like YouTube Music and Apple Music.

The legal entity of this division has been renamed from Sony Music Entertainment LLC to Kiss Koala LLC, on the 7th of September 2022. And this newly named company was controlled by SBME Holdings B.V., a subsidiary of Sony Group Corporation. And Sony officially broke the news to the world on the 8th of September 2022, stating their leave from Russian province.
