'I LIKE YOU'

What if Post Malone was in the era of the artistic revolution with Doja Cat being his muse for painting?Well, it sums up in the music video of the track 'I Like You (A Happier Song)' from his latest album 'TwelveCarat Toothache'. This third single from the album was released in the middle of this year and took 3rdplace in the Billboard Hot 100 while gaining over 54 million streams. However, it is not just about this cutecollaboration between Post and Doja but the underlying message that the artists wanted to share. If there is any song that can explain the word 'Wholesome'; this song would be the one.The song starts with a french voice-over that states "My dear friends, come join me in the wonderful worldof love," and at the climax, another voiceover could be heard that says "Let's move forward with passion, with desire and love." The inner message is evidently expressed through the whole musical arrangement aswell as the vibrant and colorful music video.

Taylor Swift Makes a Big Score at the 2022 MTV Europe Music Awards

MTV Europe Music Awards offered a wonderful evening at the PSD Bank Dome on November 13, 2022; a platform in Duesseldorf, Germany. What was even more interesting and another proud moment for the Swifties was that Taylor Swift was the top trophy winner at the event.

She won a total of four awards for Best Artist, Best Pop, and both Best Video and Best Longform Video. She earned all the credits for "All Too Well (10 Minute Version) (Taylor's Version)," which is perhaps a milestone of her career. During her acceptance speech for the Best Artist, the singer said, "I wanted to say to the fans, I had an album come out recently called Midnights, and I'm so blown away, you have no idea how much it means to me to even get to do this as a career."

She further added, "So I just wanted to say personally from me to you, the fact that you have done what you've done, supporting that album, being excited about that album, and loving it and there's not a single moment I take that for granted. I love you so much,

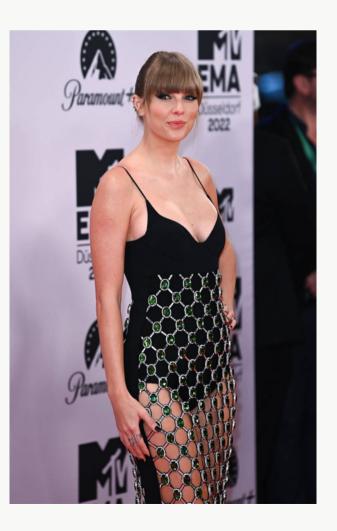

I can't believe I get to do this as a job. It's all because of you. Thank you so, so much."

Not only Taylor Swift but Nicky Minaj is also one of the notable winners who the award for Best Hip Hop. She also won the award for Best Song for "Super Freaky Girl." On the other hand, Harry Styles won the award for Best Live. Some notable mentions from K-pop artists are Lisa for the Best K-Pop, BTS for Biggest Fans, Blackpink for Best Metaverse Performance, and Seventeen for Best New and Best Push.

Not to forget, the MTV EMA Generation Change award was dedicated to Anna Kutova, Anfisa Yankovina, and Lina Deshvar; the brave Ukrainians who fought for the rights of those impacted by the humanitarian crisis in the country.

MTV Entertainment Group has joined forces with Choose Love to honor the recipients; a humanitarian nonprofit that provides aid to, and advocacy for, refugees around the world. The star-studded event offered performances from Gorillaz and Thundercat, Muse, David Guetta, Bebe Rexha, One Republic, and Ukrainian Band Kalush Orchestra, along with many other artists.

The who was hosted by Rita Ora and Taika Waititi, offering the audience a beautiful musical night.

Megan Thee Stallion Has Filed a Restraining Order against Her Recording Label and Distributor

Renowned music icon Megan Thee Stallion is suing her recording label 1501 Entertainment. According to her allegation, they have been sabotaging the rollout of her upcoming album, 'Traumazine'. Prior to this in February 2020 she wrote in a deleted Instagram post about not receiving the payment from 1501 "In Her Life".

For years she has been expressing her interest to leave this independent Houston label led by ex-baseball player Carl Crawford. Along with several payment issues now she has alleged that her recording label, 1501 Entertainment, and distributor, 300 Entertainment, are trying to interfere in her American Music Awards nominations, which is not at all acceptable.

This hottie singer claimed that 1501 has made 'threatening and retaliatory' moves that blocked her from using her music in connection with the AMA, and this is the prime reason for filing this restraining order. This Sunday she took the step after facing a lot of issues with her recording label.

This year she was nominated for the most Favorite Female Hip-Hop Artist. She shared her nomination with other hip-hop stars like Cardi B, GloRilla, Latto, and Nicki Minaj. Though she didn't specify she has taken this step for both her recording label and music distributor. She also stated that they have stopped her music from being used in this show.

The judge didn't grant this restraining order but he has blocked both of them from interfering with her music being used on the show. Both of them, the distributor and the recording label have to obey this otherwise more actions will be taken against them in the future.

The court has scheduled a hearing for the recording label to air their side of the story next Tuesday. After the AMA'sair on Sunday in Los Angeles, the hearing will be held.

The voting for the Favorite Female Hip-Hop Artist category ends on Monday evening. "Because there was not enough time to give notice to Defendants, hold a hearing, and issue a restraining order before the irreparable injury, loss, or damage would occur."

The order also stated that Megan "will suffer irreparable harm if her music cannot be used in conjunction with her promotion for the AMAs," if the recording label and distribution are not being prevented.

Join the Musical Journey of Dina Lambarki As She Released the Official Music Video of 'Hetal Imeta'

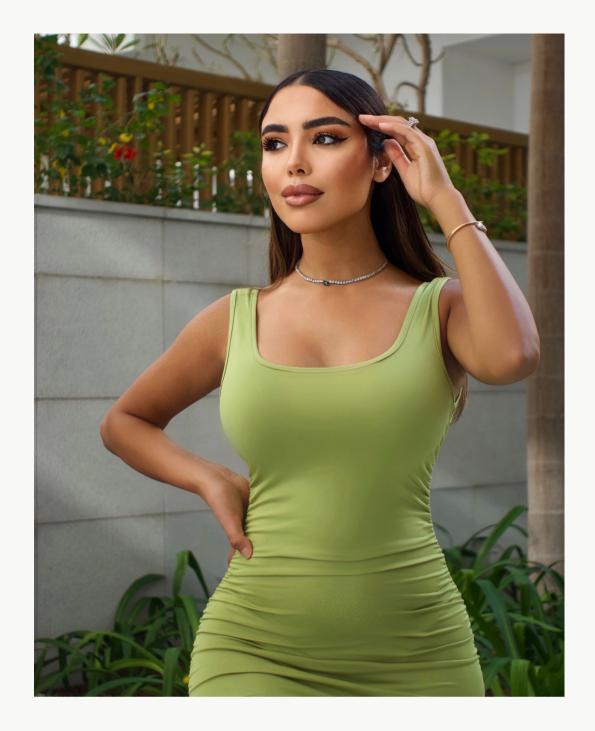

Arabic music has a unique charm that fascinates a lot of music lovers in the world. In an attempt to make this more mainstream the auspicious talent Dina Lambarki is showcasing her caliber and has already huge popularity over the internet. If you are looking for a musical track that will give you the vibes of self-confidence and at the same time will make you come to the dance floor, then her latest track, 'Hetal Imeta' is the one for you. She has recently released the music video of the track which was originally released back in 2021.

About:

The young talent was born on August 21, 1997, in Morocco and has loved music since her childhood. This singer-songwriter has found her passion in singing and songwriting since she was a mere child. Seeing her talent and interest in music, her father began tutoring from a young age, who was himself a Moroccan folkloric singer. As Dina was growing up she started gaining popularity first in the Moroccan music industry and later in the world music industry. Now, her producing back-to-back hits on digital streaming platforms is making her extend her reach.

Music Career:

Although music has always been her passion, Dina Lambarki officially started as a part of a group named 'Somadina'. Being born in an artistic family with a singer and music teacher as a father, Dina soon rose to fame due to coming from such a respectable family. In 2019, she started her solo music career. Her first viral hit song was 'Ronaldo' which became a smash hit instantly in Arabic countries, especially Morocco gaining over 39 million views on YouTube and thousands of streams on Spotify. Then she went on to release more hits like 'Ibiza', 'Cinema', and 'Hola' with her ex-group members. After starting her solo career, she released 'Solitude ' with over 2 million views on YouTube. The recent smash hit of Dina was 'Hetal-Imeta' which was released in 2021.

Latest Release:

After releasing the track in 2021, she released the official music video recently which started to gain popularity instantly. The stunning visuals were shot in Uae Dubai where the singer is looking alluring in her colorful pieces of clothing. The song is quickly becoming the anthem of self-confidence and power. The artist has also shown emotions and at the same time kept a confident attitude that goes extremely well with the theme of the track. You can watch it on youtube along with her other tracks like, 'Henina Salina', 'El Ghadhi', 'Solitude ', etc. For more details, follow her on Instagram, Facebook, and Spotify.

In this era when music has mostly become Tik-Tok or Reels-centric, artists have at times compromised quality for views. Bringing in a revolution in this trend is the Canadian music artist CJ Stain. In his attempt to turn over a fresh page in the predetermined trends that have infected the music industry for the longest time, Stain has already brought forth splendid musical creations. An advocate of women and of the LGBTO+ community, Stain's music is aimed at changing the unfair way the music industry has portrayed them, and taking him one step further in this direction is his latest track 'True Love (Radio Edit)'.

About:

The talented Canadian singer was truly disappointed and outraged at the way music videos have represented women, exploiting stereotypes and setting but unrealistic and somewhat disrespectful bars for women, be it the lyrics or the images. It was then that he aimed at creating music that would do away with this off-putting way of female representation and using his music to challenge and expand the society's set paradigms of gender structures. His goal is to target through his music the social stigma and gender inequality that women have been victims of.

Music Career:

This EDM singer/activist specializes in remaking songs and injecting them with a much needed positive outlook.

Artist Spotlight

He came into prominence with his remake of Sage the Gemini's popular song "Good Thing" that featured Nick Jonas.

The classic hip-hop swing had gained the attention of audiences worldwide. He then went on to produce exceptional tracks like 'Set Me Free' that showed the artist's sublime creative expertise and set the bars high for the next releases to come. The songs that he creates are aimed at empowering women from all walks of life.

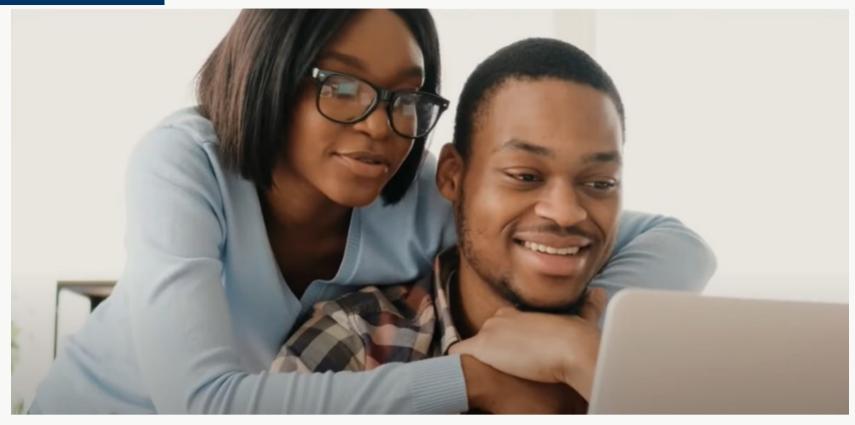

Stain's music has a poetic ingenuity that exhibits his use of all three forms of odes: Pindaric, Horatian and even Irregular. The lyrics have an alliterative quality that provides his music with a rhythm that is catchy and becomes a pleasant brainworm.

Latest Release:

CJ Stain's latest release 'True Love (Radio Edit)' that hit the internet in the August of 2022, has smashed the airwaves globally and has been extremely well-received.

The song, with its catchy lyrics, hypnotizing vocals and groovy dance music, is rife with all the qualities that makes a song an international hit. It captures the essence of Stain's music - "doing something special" for the ladies.

It is a song about true love and acceptance that leads to selfconfidence. With fresh new tracks like these, keep your eyes open for the next big thing in the music industry.

Cardi B Stole the Show After She Performed Alongside Rapper GloRilla At 2022 AMAs, of 'Tomorrow 2'

During the performance of GloRilla, Cardi B joined her to perform her portion of 'Tomorrow 2'. And her appearance at the AMAs was extremely charming to witness. The song was a hit already and everyone in the audience was waiting for this 30-year-old rapper to join. And when she did the entire theater felt that instant boost of energy.

The events took place in the Microsoft Theater in Los Angeles on Sunday. This was her first performance after Takeoff died. He was a part of the Migos along with Cardi B's husband Offset, and Quavo.

The 23-year-old rapper GloRilla was performing on stage in her yellow bralette and matching pair of high-waisted pants and long gloves. The first of the song she performed alongside a dancer. The dancers were wearing the white version of that same outfit. Cardi B appeared in a purple sports car with open doors. She was also wearing a similar costume in the color baby blue and started with her portion of that number.

They performed their choreography along with the dancers. While GloRilla was completely cheerful during the entire performance, Cardi B has an appealing smile on her face throughout the performance. Notably, each time she hit the mark she was sticking her tongue out.

This has been the week for Cardi B making surprise pop-ups. Prior to this, she popped up at Lizzo's Special Tour stop at the Kia Forum in Inglewood, California on Friday. Lizzo has been her friend and they both performed 'Rumors'. In that show, Elliott appeared as well.

After that, she twitted, "Lizzo show was amazing !It was very pretty, very positive and I saw Missy Elliott." Lizzo wrote on Twitter, "I am a Fan of Cardi B!" she continued, "I been following her since before love & hiphop... But as much as I fan over her as an artist, who she is as a PERSON is UNMATCHED. @iamcardib thank U for always coming thru for me, for standing up for us when you don't have to. U the peoples champ! I LOVE U."

While she has started with small appearances, her fans are waiting for her solo endeavors and magical rapping nights.

Ticket Price Of Arijit Singh's Concert Reaches Its Highest Peak!! Leaves Netizens In Shock

Ever since the heartthrob of the Indian music industry, Arijit Singh announced that he is doing a concert in Kolkata the next year, people cannot keep calm. On 2023's February 18th a concert will be happening in Kolkata's New Town of which the ticket prices are now revealed. 'One Night Only', a live musical concert with Arijit Singh will take place at New Town's Eco Park and fans could not be more thrilled. However, sky-high ticket prices are becoming a thing of real concern.

The prices of the tickets are already revealed which is leaving the netizens in shock and they are taking to social media to lament. The ticket prices for the concert is starting from Rs. 2,500 onwards. It will be held in Major Arterial Road which is in the South-East of Biswa Bangla Sarani, AA II, Newtown. The ticket prices are categorized according to the arena and placement of the ground section. The lowest is Rs. 2,500 for bronze tickets. The next step up is for the silver tickets which are going to be for Rs. 4,000. For the gold zone, the ticket price is Rs. 8,000 which levels up with the platinum zone where the tickets are starting from Rs. 10, 500. Now the price for the diamond lounge has been revealed which is Rs. 75,000. The bronze section of the venue will be the farthest from where Arijit Singh will be performing. On the other hand, the diamond lounge will be the closest, just right beside the singer will be standing on stage.

The singer will be on a 10-city musical tour across the country with a stop in the City of Joy. The tour will include cities like Jaipur, Gurgaon, Chandigarh, Pune, Mumbai, Hyderabad, etc. However, the netizens and fans of the versatile singer are surprised now that the tickets are being sold online. The maximum price was first at 50,000 which rose to 75,000 and critics are thinking this is because of the huge demand.

This is surely exciting for the fans of the singer but the sky-high price made them approach the singer on social media.

Several fans took to Twitter to urge the singer to reduce the prices as the middle class or students who are big fans of Arijit Singh will not be able to afford it. But these ticket prices tend to rise even higher due to the venues filling out and extreme demand.

CANADIAN ROCK BAND NICKELBACK RETURNS WITH THEIR NEWEST ALBUM "GET Rollin", set to be released on 18th November, 2022.

Nickelback's success includes worldwide sales of more than 50 million units, solidifying its status as one of the top-selling acts of all time.

The four-piece band Nickelback is all set to release their newest album 'Get Rollin' on Nov 18, 2022, after five years. It is the band's tenth studio album, and the two songs released from the album 'Those Days' and 'San Quentin' have already caused a massive stir among audiences.

According to reports, "San Quentin", which was released in September, came as a surprise and fans have regarded this song as being something that they have never heard before from the band.

The band's Guitarist Ryan Peake, is pleased that the fans have found a newness in their music, while guitarist/vocalist Chad Kroeger shared how the song was inspired when he met the warden of San Quentin prison. The song showcases the heavy, rock side of the band with its heavy riffs and fierce vocals. According to a release, the band has stated that they had missed their fans and were truly excited to bring to them new songs.

The video was reportedly shot in the Simon Fraser University Convocation Mall in British Columbia on August 30, and tells the story of a prison-break from this notorious high-security prison in California.

Now the band has also released the official video for their second song 'Those Days' from the album and fans have given it a really positive verdict. Some of the comments included those like:

"It's nice to see these guys back with new tracks. They got hated for no reason and still stayed true to themself, not many musicians can say that. And this song? Pure nostalgia and I love it." "Nickelback is the only band that can release a pop song about heavy metal upbringing and still be authentic. Great song guys!"

The summer of 2023 will see The Nickelback embarking on a U.S. tour supporting their newest album. The upcoming album includes 10 new songs, along with the acoustic versions and deluxe editions of four of the tracks. Nickelback through the years has undergone its fair share of controversy, having polarizing effects on rock fans. But with its history of No.1 hits, managing to place itself in numerous rock and pop radio charts Nickelback has certainly made a name for itself. Since its formation, this band has reportedly ratified itself as one of the commercially successful bands of the past three decades. They also have to their credit a worldwide sales record of 50 million units that vouches for their popularity among fans of rock music.

Phoebe Bridgers Has Won the $3.8 Million Defamation Lawsuit

Phoebe Bridgers has been finally freed from the $3.8 million defamation lawsuit. It has been filed by the producer Chris Nelson. He accused Bridgers by saying that she is using her platforms and making false defamatory statements. This lawsuit decision has been dismissed by the Los Angeles Superior Court's judge Curtis A. Kin.

At the very beginning, Phoebe Bridgers filed a dismissal request regarding California's anti-SLAPP laws. This law can be only used when a person does something or talks about things publicly that they don't have the right to. Bridgers has said that she was under the First Amendment when she charged Chris. He is the owner of Sound Space studios who did an unacceptable act of Bridgers' social media post in October 2020.

Through media, it has been known from Bridgers that 'We feel vindicated that the court recognized this lawsuit as frivolous and without merit. It was not grounded in law, or facts, but was filed with the sole intention of causing harm to our client's reputation and career'. She has also added by saying 'This victory is important not just for our client but for all those she was seeking to protect by using her platform'.

In that Instagram post, Bridgers didn't have said anything to get this much offended. She has just made a statement to support Nelson's ex Emily Bannon. She said 'I witnessed and can personally verify much of the abuse (grooming, stealing, violence) perpetuated by Chris Nelson'. But all this made Nelson sue the singer. And he gave the reason that she was 'maliciously and intentionally' trying to destroy his reputation among everyone.

Nelson has also said that Bridgers and Bannon had their relationship and they are also being around each other since 2018. They also have physical encounters from that same time, which is a consensual act between the two. It is not the first time when Nelson has sued a person for defamation. In 2020 he sued his own girlfriend Bannon. He also did the same that month with the Saturday Night Live actress and musician Noël Wells for making a defamatory and misleading statement.

He sued him because Noël advised the Big Thief, an indie rock band not to work with him. but the whole case has been resumed for now.

Good News For Tesla Lovers: The Company Teases Apple Music Support In The New Exhibit

In a new post shared by Aaron Cash, the founder of ABetterTheater.com shared a picture on Twitter that created a buzz in the EV industry and among Tesla fans. The post featured a photo of the new exhibit at the famous Petersen Automotive Museum. This is situated in Los Angeles and opened on November 20, 2022. This photo was a confirmation that Apple Music was included in one of its vehicles of Tesla.

The exhibit was about Tesla's newest Model S and its setup which was completed with a steering wheel, infotainment system, and a center console. Attendees could experience the yoke steering wheel along with its fast processing for games, entertainment, and maps. The Model S vehicle was also running a developer version of Tesla's OS that has version number 2022.40.50. Needless to say, this is where the feature of Apple Music was found.

Most of the automakers are busy with phone mirroring where they are using Android Auto and Apple CarPlay to handle the media playback inside the cars. Tesla, on the other hand, is insisting on integrating music and other applications directly into its user interface. This is yet again another exceptional example of the company's innovation which is leaving the users and fans overall excited.

This is not the first time the company has created anticipation in the market by adding surprise features. For a long, Tesla has been leaving Easter eggs and other hints about the upcoming features in their software. Fans and users are thinking displaying this run developer with Apple Music was intentional. The upcoming Apple Music installation feature was first revealed when it was spotted during a zoom conference. The conference was held for showcasing the video conference running in Teslas. Now this time, the vehicle's VIN is set to be 'P3TERS3N1P000BUCK' according to the software menu in the vehicle.

Integrating the music software directly into the user interface instead of running an Apple Music app has both its positive and negative sides for Tesla.

The positive side will bring the users a consistent UI, similar to Tesla's other tempting music offerings. This is reported to support Tesla's voice command as well. On the negative side, integrating directly into the user interface will mean not all Apple Music features will be available for the users.

It is also not clear that Tesla will implement lossless audio or Spatial Audio while implementing Apple Music.

Phone Heist at DJ Snake Concert Leaves Everyone Rattled

More than 40 premium smartphones were purloined from revelers during the popular French music artist DJ Snake's performance at the Sunburn Arena concert in Bandra-Kurla-Complex. The police became alert when they received several complaints regarding phone theft during the concert that was being held on Saturday night at MMRDA (Mumbai Metropolitan Region Development Authority) which led them to probe deeper into the matter.

The police accused the culprits of taking advantage of the jam-packed venue that saw a massive inflow of crowd as the popular event took place once again after the lifting of pandemic restrictions.

According to reports, the event barred the entry of handbags, backpacks, and other baggage, and people were only allowed to enter after the verification of their Identity cards. It has also been reported that as many as six people have been taken into custody and 15 phones have been recovered since.

The police are now looking into the CCTV footage of the venue for identifying and apprehending the suspects. They have reportedly registered fourteen FIRs under section 379 of the IPC (Indian Penal Code). The police reported that as soon as the people realized that their phones were missing, they raised the alarm and many even went to the police station. People also took to Twitter, complaining about the thefts.

Dikshit Gedam, The deputy commissioner of police of zone 8, has assured that their investigation is on and they are looking further into the matter with all the technical help available.

A similar incident was reported the previous month when a suspect was arrested by the Netherlands police when he was caught with dozens of phones that were believed to have been stolen from the Amsterdam Music Festival held at the Johan Cruijff Arena on 22 October.

The concert in Mumbai was a part of the 'Taki Taki' creator's India tour. He has also performed in cities like Delhi NCR, Ahmedabad, Bengaluru, Pune, and Hyderabad. Originally named William Sami Étienne Grigahcine, the artist is also scheduled to perform at the Soundstorm Festival to be held in Riyadh, Saudi Arabia on 1 December, which would be followed by shows in Thailand and Indonesia.

Iconic Songs That Became Integral Parts Of FIFA World Cup Through the Years.

Though inaugurated in 1930, it wasn't until 1962 that the Fédération Internationale de Football Association, or FIFA, began to take up songs that would go on to become the official anthems of those particular years for the World Cup, which takes place every four years. In 1962, a Chile-based band Los Ramblers performed a song titled 'El Rock del Mundial' but it failed to inspire a global appeal. It was only with time that songs began to shift from trying to have a local appeal to going global.

Some of the soundtracks went on to be more popular than the others, giving a major turn to the careers of their artists, as evident with Ricky Martin's song 'Cup of Life' ((La Copa de la Vida) that he performed for the 1998 World Cup, France. Another FIFA World Cup Song that went on to become one of the greatest hits of all time was Shakira's 2010 anthem 'Waka Waka' which received more than 3 billion views on YouTube.

Below are some of the most iconic songs that have been accepted as the official anthems for the FIFA World Cup through the years:

1978, Argentina

Things took a turn for the best with the lyric-less musical piece 'El Mundial' was composed by the famous Italian musician Ennio Morricone, in collaboration with Buenos Aires Philharmonic for the 1978 World Cup hosted by Argentina.

1982, Spain

Spain, in 1982 followed in the footsteps of Argentina, when Plácido Domingo came up with the groovy hit Mundial '82, paying a tribute to the Spanish culture.

1994, USA

Moving straight to the 1994 World Cup held in the USA, it was time for the soulful track, elevated by a saxophone, 'Gloryland' by Daryl Hall in collaboration with Sounds of Blackness. The official song of the World Cup that year was an outright exhibition of the nationalist pride of the USA, the host country.

1998, France

For the 1998 World Cup held in France, FIFA released an official anthem titled 'La Cour des Grands' ('Do You Mind If I Play') by Youssou N'Dour and Axelle Red but it was soon lost in the sands of time. FIFA also released an official song, which went on to be one of the greatest hits of all time: Ricky Martin's 'La Copa de la Vida' (The Cup of Life'). The song that the Puerto Rican artist wrote and produced with Desmond Child and Draco Rosa was said to be created during the peak of "Latin explosion" and went on to win a Grammy for the 'Best Latin Pop Song' and was performed in both English and Spanish.

2010, South Africa

The 2010 World Cup held in South Africa was blessed with three official soundtracks:"Waka Waka (This Time For Africa)" recorded in both Spanish and English by the Colombian singer Shakira and featuring Freshlyground as the official song, the official mascot song 'Game On' performed by Pitbull, TKZee and Dario G, and the official anthem 'Sign of a Victory' by R. Kelly and featuring the Soweto Spiritual Singers. Another song that won hearts was the song "Wavin' Flag" by Somali-Canadian artist K'naan, which was chosen as Coca-Cola's promotional anthem for the World Cup that year.

2014, Brazil

The samba-inspired trilingual (Spanish, Portuguese, and English) official song for the 2014 World Cup held in Brazil 'Ole Ola (We Are One)' starring the Brazilian singer Claudia Leitte, Jennifer Lopez, and Pitbull became a global rage. The official anthem 'Dar um Jeito' ('We Will Find a Way') by Carlos Santana in collaboration with Wyclef, Avicii, and Alexandre Pires, and the official mascot song "Tatu Bom de Bola," sung by Arlindo Cruz in Portuguese also became quite popular.

2018, Russia

FIFA released only one official song 'Live It Up' by Nicky Jam that featured Will Smith and Era Istrefi for the 2018 World Cup that was performed during the closing ceremony of the tournament. The song was recorded in two languages: Spanish and English.

2022, Qatar

A product of the collaborative efforts of three creative musical geniuses Trinidad Cardona, Davido, and Aisha, 'Hayya (Better Together') has been declared the official song for the Qatar World Cup 2022. During the launch of the song, Kay Madati, the FIFA Chief Commercial Officer explained that the coming together of the voices from three different parts of the world - Africa, America, and the Middle East- the song is the symbol of the unification that can be brought about by music and football. It draws inspiration from R&B and reggae music and captures the essence of the joy and excitement that the World Cup this year is about to bring.

Multiple World Cup songs have been released by FIFA this year including 'Ahrbo' performed by Ozuna and Gims' and the all-female collaborative track by Balqees, Nora Fatehi, Rahma Riad, and Manal 'Light the Sky'.

The track "Dreamers" released by FIFA, and performed by Jung Kook of BTS on the opening day of the Qatar World Cup has received enormous love. He was joined on stage by Fahad Al Kubaisi and the power-packed performance won millions of hearts.

POST MALONE and DOJA CAT'S floral and artistic representation of

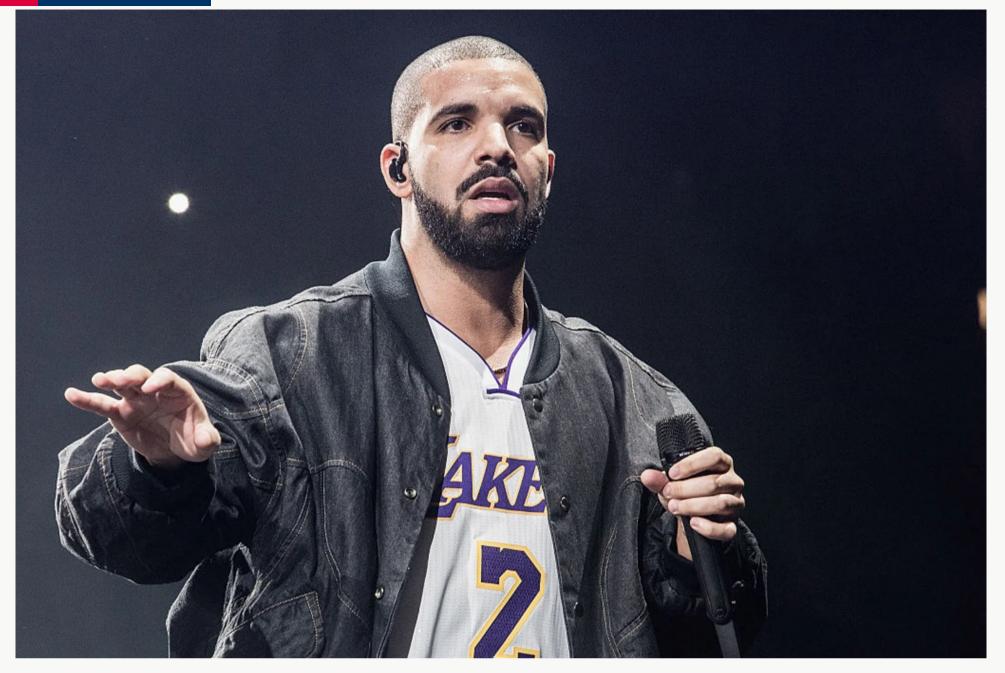

"I Like You? Is truly 'a happier song'

Post Malone is spreading an invigorating musical aura through his latest collaboration project with Doja Cat 'I Like You', appearing in the album 'Twelve Carat Toothache'.

What if Post Malone was in the era of the artistic revolution with Doja Cat being his muse for painting? Well, it sums up in the music video of the track 'I Like You (A Happier Song)' from his latest album 'Twelve Carat Toothache'. This third single from the album was released in the middle of this year and took 3rd place in the Billboard Hot 100 while gaining over 54 million streams. However, it is not just about this cute collaboration between Post and Doja but the underlying message that the artists wanted to share. If there is any song that can explain the word 'Wholesome'; this song would be the one. The song starts with a french voice-over that states "My dear friends, come join me in the wonderful world of love," and at the climax, another voice-over could be heard that says "Let's move forward with passion, with desire and love." The inner message is evidently expressed through the whole musical arrangement as well as the vibrant and colorful music video. It starts with Post painting in a studio situated on an open field with Van Gogh's Cherry Blossom on the wall. It soon takes a transition with the painting world coming to reality, like a colorful utopia where lovers have united. The song embraces the budding relationships among various kinds of couples while Post sings along and expresses his love for the woman in a painting.

Soon Doja can be seen running on flower-filled fields as if she got life out of the painting and joining Post in singing. She is the muse and her verses match the loving energy in the track. Whether it is the strategic position of the flowers on Doja or Post giving a piggyback ride to her; the track offers an aesthetic and wholesome arrangement that fills everyone's heart. Embracing nature dates through the video, fortunately, there are no bugs, or snakes or weasels that Doja has to be scared about.

Post did an amazing job in crafting the single 'I Like You' and perhaps that is the reason why this collaboration project has become so successful. Celebrating love and happiness in this chaotic Grey world, Post thrives to add more colors to every listener's life. Currently, he is preparing to join Red Hot Chill Peppers in Australia and New Zealand on their music tour.

21 Savage Does Something For Drake, New Record 'Rich Flex' Has Brought Out The True Potential Of The Rappers

If you are a fan of hip-hop and rap, then a piece of good news for you would be the release of 'Her Loss'. The collaborative album of Drake and 21 Savage, the two most talented and influential rappers of this generation has dropped and its opening track is making quite a noise in social media and the charts! Starting from the intro of the track to the two separate verses by two rappers, the song is the ultimate banger that you can blast at your party. The track, 'Rich Flex' is everything you can understand by the title and its meaning, and carries the true essence of this generation's hip-hop music genre.

The song starts with Drake asking 21 Savage to drop the 'Rich Flex' on their exes and other people who stay around them, pretending both of these rappers are some dudes that can be messed with. The beats and the flow of the track are something that really captivates the audience which changes throughout the entire track. Another interesting thing about the track is that the flow completely changes when the verses change. The beat drop in midway through the track adds an extra flavor to the track. The rap verses are extremely well-written and peak by reflecting the entire emanating of the album's name, 'Her Loss'. It indicates that the real loss is for the women who have left both rappers on a sarcastic note.

The song also brings out the confident sides of the rappers, as their vocals sound confident more than ever.

This is the opening track of the album which contains 16 fulllength tracks. Some of the other tracks of the album are, 'On BS', 'Privileged Rappers', 'Hours In Silence', 'Major Distribution', etc. You can listen to the album on all major music platforms like Spotify, YouTube, Apple Music, Amazon Music, etc.

'Bad Habits' Sets a New Milestone for Steve Lacy as It Becomes a Global Favorite

2022 has been a year of surprises for 24-years old singer and songwriter Steve Lacy with his song 'Bad Habits' breaking first place after his first album 'Apollo XXI' (2019) made him a bona fide Grammy nominee for Best Urban Contemporary Album at the 62nd Annual Grammy Awards in 2020.

The song which came out on 29 June 2022, became a mainstream breakthrough for the artist. It soon ranked #1 on the Billboard Hot 100 list and became the first song ever to top the charts of all three genres: Hot Rock & Alternative Songs, Hot R&B/Hip-Hop Songs, and Hot R&B Songs. The song first debuted at #100 and then climbed its way up to #1. It also won him nominations for two awards at the Grammys: Record of the Year and Song of the Year. The artist explains that the song speaks volumes about his journey of finding himself, and the truth of his personal life bleeds through in the lyrics. The lyrics are composed in a conversational manner, which the artist explains is how he talks to his friends when he is venting.

The most appealing factor about the song is the 2000s vibe that it exuberates. The music video is also extremely endearing as the artist thoroughly enjoys himself throughout the song.The second single from his album 'Gemini Rights', 'Bad Habits' is a chiming guitar ballad of the couldhaves and should-haves of the artist's reflection after he failed to pursue a relationship because he was unsure about the other person's feelings and was afraid that he might get rejected.

This self-doubt has been beautifully portrayed in the song by adding a peppy and humorous vibe to the entire track. He ensures that the song remains relatable to his audience. This brilliant number is available on YouTube, where listeners can also check out Steve Lacy's other songs like 'Dark Red' and 'Static'.

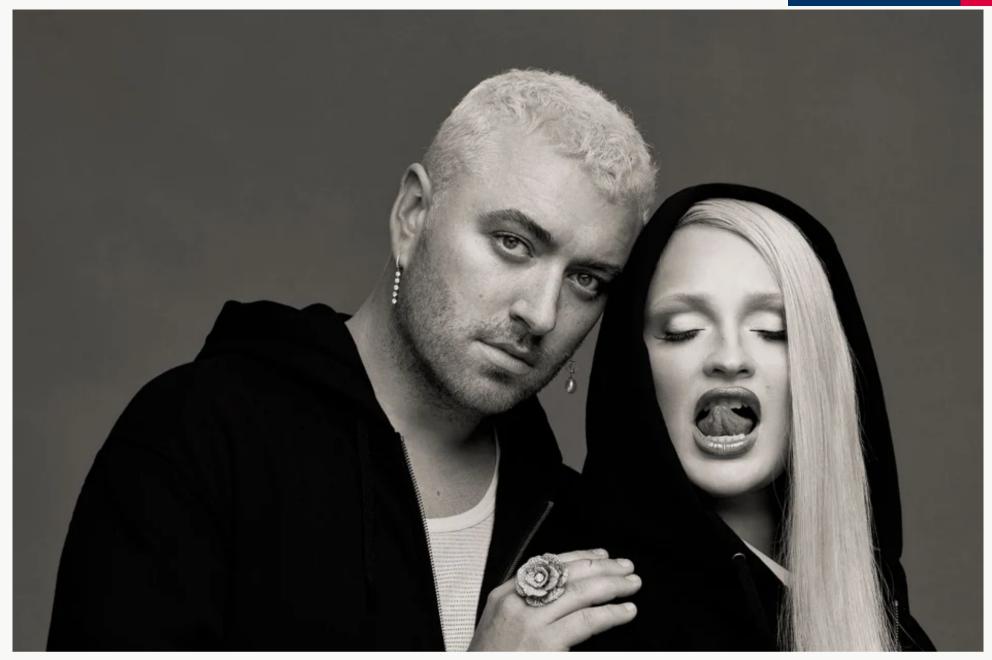

David Guetta and Bebe Rexha Got a Vast Response on TikTok for the Song 'I'm Good (Blue)'

The globally renowned artist David Guetta and Bebe Rexha is creating a sensation with their creation 'I'm Good (Blue)'. A small part of it went viral on the video-hosting platform TikTok. This song has a lot of similarities with the old song Tom Odell's 'Another Love' or the Walters' 'I Love You So'. It has gained so much recognition from all because it has the essence of the legendary songs. They have taken the initiative of making a modern version of 'Blue (Da Ba Dee)' by the Italian outfit Eiffel 65.

Rexha starts singing 'I'm good and I'm feeling alright. Baby, I'm gonna have the best fg night of my life'. Her voice over the keyboard riff has added a whole different vibe, as she continued singing 'And wherever it takes me, I'm down for the ride. Baby, don't know I'm good and I'm feeling alright'.

At first, they didn't even officially release the song on any platform. They just showed a bit of the song on TikTok and started getting a huge response from the audience. The singer Bebe Rexha said 'I have no idea how it made it to TikTok but I love it!'. She has also added 'It's nostalgic to when I was younger...Listening to Eiffel 65's original song and it was just a fun record that we put together naturally'. The EDM artist David Guetta played the song at the Miami EDM festival in 2017 and a month ago he said 'We recorded this demo with @BebeRexha few years ago'. He also said 'I played for the first time at Ultra in 2017. TikTok Magic makes it trend for few weeks now. Should we release it?'.

Sam Smith's Hottest Release Yet: 'Unholy' With Kim Petras Is Making Waves In The Industry

If you are on social media, scrolling through Instagram and Tik Tok, it is impossible to not notice reels and videos on the track 'Unholy'. This is Sam Smith and the German artist, Kim Petras' latest single which is already on social media famous and has become one of the biggest records of the second half of 2022. Before its debut, it has created enough buzz in the social media platforms when the singer first teased the track which has definitely helped the track secure a position in the charts.

Now that the track has debuted on the Hot 100 songs track list in the 3rd position, Sam Smith and Kim Petras have become the first trans and nonbinary artists to have ever topped the Billboards.

The song has already become the youth's favorite and you will not find someone who has not ever listened to at least one line of the track. Part of the reason why the track is gaining in popularity with each day going is that the track is completely unexpected from Smith. The track is sexy, sultry, and menacing, something you will never think Smith will be delivering. The video also helped the track establish itself for commercial success. On the other hand, for Kim Petras, the track is not far from her discography.The vocals in the track take it to another level and completely matches the teasing lyrics. Both artists have given exceptional performances on the track which did not go unnoticed in the music video. The upbeat music filled with dark undertones in the track complements the lyrics well.

The heavy bass, intense beats, and enchanting background vocals make the song far more captivating, and once you have listened to it., you will not be able to remove it from your consciousness anytime soon.

Listen to the track on all major music streaming platforms and watch the video on YouTube.

Why Taylor Swift's 'Anti-Hero' Is Rooting Deep Inside Every Listener's Heart

The lead single of Taylor Swift's latest album Midnights, 'Anti-Hero' is currently buzzing at the no.1 spot on the Billboard Hot100 while dominating all the other social media platforms such as Instagram and TikTok. The song has also generated more than 63 million views on YouTube and the count is increasing daily. However, it is not just about its 'record-breaking' records but the message that the songstress wanted to convey through this single.

Starting from the catchphrase of "I'm the problem, it's me" to the deep insecurities that most young people go through; the song speaks for all. All those insecurities are part of everyone's life which makes this song a common thread to connect with everyone. In a recent post on Instagram, Taylor Swift said about 'Anti-Love', "one of my favorite songs I've ever written,". She further suggestedthat the song "is a guided tour throughout all the things I tend to hate about myself."

Written by co-producer Jack Antonoff and the singer herself, the track starts with "I have this thing where I get older but just never wiser." Not only the millennial, but this feeling has struck many other audiences around the world. Not only the Swifties but all kinds of music lovers seem to get hooked with the chorus "It's me, hi/ I'm the problem it's me".

Expressing the dark side of self-hatred through the echoes of shame and selfloathing attributes, the song expresses the lonelier side of this generation or lifestyle where most people are lonely and judging themselves.

The conflict between selfacceptance and being an impostor to self is well represented through the song as well as the welldesigned music video.

Dealing with a lot of other trauma and insecurities of young people, Taylor Swift has gifted another anthem for the youth to embrace themselves; their true selves.

Padma Bhushan Udit Narayan Proves His Music Aged Like Fine Wine With His Performance In Dubai

Renowned King of melody Padma Bhushan Udit Narayan, along with his team, drops an unforgettable performance on November 2 in the Media City auditorium 'The Agenda', as crowds crammed in to see him perform. The immense crowd stood as witness to the popularity and love that he still inspires in fans. The entire show was a treat to Bollywood music lovers. A grand orchestra that suited the occasion was arranged and accompanied the singer throughout.

As Narayana took the stage, the crowd jumped and cheered him on. The musical star, whose popularity soared in the 90s, brought in a fresh wave of familiarity and nostalgia as he dropped back-to-back performances of his immortal and most revered songs. The singer was accompanied by his wife Deepa Narayan, and his son was also a part of the audience. The compère for the grand event was the RJ Abhijeet, the immensely popular RJ of Dubai Radio 89.1 FM, who shone bright with his powerful and seductive voice.

The event began with Udit taking the stage to introduce himself and his family. He spoke of the hardships that had come his way in order to reach the glory that he has achieved today, and how he began his career with nothing but his talent to support him. He expressed his gratitude to Amir Khan 'Saab', whose movies stood as the pinnacle of glory for his songs, especially the ones from 'Qayamat Se Qayamat Tak'. He also expressed his gratitude to the major music producers like A. R. Rahman for 'Lagaan', Rajesh Roshan for 'Kaho Na Pyar Hai' and also Anu Malik, and actors whose voices he backed in their films like Salman Khan and Shah Rukh Khan (his movies 'Darr' and 'Kuch Kuch Hota Hai' won his music enormous fame and glory). He then went on to talk about his association with artistic legends like Lata Mangeshkar, the duo Kalyanji-Anandji, Kishore Kumar, Rafi Saab, Bappi Lahiri, and Yash Chopra.

Udit began his show with the beloved songs from the movie 'Qayamat Se Qayamat Tak' and flowed into super hit tracks like 'Janam Dekh Lo' from 'Veer Zara', and other singles from films like Hum Dil De Chuke Sanam, Lagaan, Kaho Na Pyar Hai, and Darr.

He also sang a couple of duets with his wife and he sang the song 'Akele Hum Akele Tum' with his song. The show was a melodious gig of 3 hours and enthralled fans who swayed, cheered, clapped, and grooved to the well-known and admired tracks. At the end of his performance, the revered artist was seen expressing his gratitude to the fans and even knelt on the floor.

The show was organized by Signature Events, Dubai, and was supported by labels like Sonymax, 89.1 FM, and Gulf News.

BTS's Jin Joins Forces with PSY after Offering a Stellar Performance with 'The Astronaut'

Jin has been creating a huge buzz in the music industry as well as among K-pop fanatics with his first ever solo single album, 'The Astronaut' released on October 28. After the song was released, it received a massive response from listeners around the world. With his meandering vocals and charming persona, it is safe to say that the artist is capable of winning everyone's hearts with his musical aura.

This debut is the first solo project by Jin out of the band. The track is already ranking at the top of the United Kingdom's Official Charts as well as making a notable entry at No. 61 on the Official Singles Chart. The singer has also earned the second position on the Official Singles Sales and the Official Singles Downloads Charts. While he is not the only BTS number who is making huge progress in his solo career; Jin is definitely making his work more worthwhile. While the Youngest BTS member, Jungkook has already impressed the world with his song 'Left and Right', an amazing collaboration project with Charlie Puth. 'The Astronaut' is the third highest song by any Korean Artist to be featured in the list, after BLACKPINK's member Rosé's 'On The Ground taking' has possessed the second spot with the No. 43 debut.

Currently, Jin is looking forward to joining team with industry veteran artist PSY who has captivated the world with some of his peppy hits like 'Gangnam Style', 'Gentleman', 'That That', etc many others. 'That That' has been produced and featured by another BTS member SUGA.

Jin has returned from his Argentina tour where he offered a remarkable performance with Coldplay for the track 'That That That' which is co-written and composed by the band. The musical concert took place at the Music of the Spheres concert stop in Buenos Aires and the crowd seemed to be immensely happy with Jin's presence.

Even though he is doing multiple promotions right now alongwith concerts and solo projects, the artist has submitted a notice to cancel his delay of military enlistment in order to make him eligible for the draft notice.

'The Astronaut' is perhaps the most anticipated K-pop project which sold over 434,860 copies in the first week of its release. Stay tuned to know more about Jin's upcoming musical projects.

Anti-Hero Taylor Swift

Taylor Swift continues her run at being the no. 1 in Billboard' Hot 100 chart. This is the first single off her latest album 'Midnights'which was released on 21 October 2022. This is the fourth week of Anti-Hero being at the top position despite all the challenges and it seems like the run would even be the longest. This is the singer's second longest reign over the Billboard Hot 100 chart matches with her 2014 smash hit 'Shake It Off' which also charted for four weeks. The song sold 300,000 pure copies in its first week and its charting on the album was backed up by 7 remixes of the track in the previous week.

Music Review

'Black Panther: Wakanda Forever – Music From and Inspired By' is the complete soundtrack of the movie that was released a day before the movie hits the global theaters.

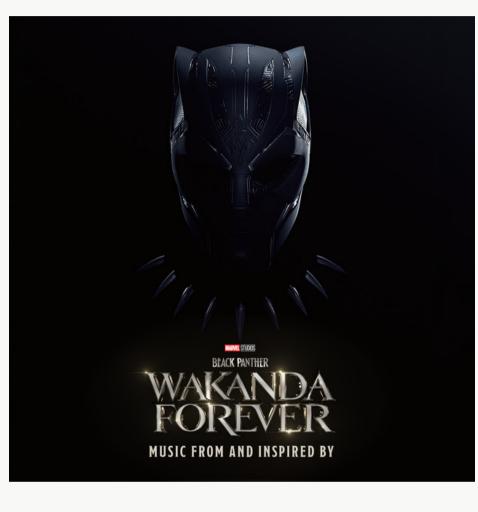

now, and is available on every major music platform. With a clock time of 1 hour and 6 minutes, this soundtrack is creating a statement in the music industry as well as in the hearts of Marvel fanatics. The album is comprised of a total of 20 tracks and each of them is a musical masterpiece.

While each song makes listeners and fans miss King T'Challa or Chadwick Boseman even more, the soundtrack also offers a fair amalgamation of cultural mix. There is emotion, there is power, there is darkness as well as a punch of optimism that channelizes through everyone.

Starting from Rihanna's epic comeback in the music industry in 2016 to Stormzy, Rema, Fireboy DML, Tobe Nwigwe, Future, E-40, Burna Boy, PinkPantheress, and many others; this album is filled with some of the best musical contributions from various artist.

Whether it is Rihanna's heart-wrenching track 'Lift Me Up' in tribute to Chadwick or Tems' latest rendition of Bob Marley's 'No Woman No Cry', the soundtrack is emotive.

'BLACK PANTHER: WAKANDA FOREVER'S COMPLETE SOUNDTRACK IS A CULTURAL MASTERPIECE

4.8/5 By Daily Music Roll ★★★★★

However, there are also uplifting and upbeat songs such as 'Love & Loyalty', 'La Vida', and many others. Dynamic, engaging, and going beyond the lingual barriers; this soundtrack is one of the best among all the movie soundtracks of Marvel and every MCU fan would agree with that.

The soundtrack is produced by Ludwig Göransson, Ryan Coogler, Archie Davis, and Dave Jordan and their united effort reflect in this project. They have spent more than 2,500 hours of recording to create this soundtrack across six studios in five countries and three continents.

Göransson said "Ryan and I talked about the importance of creating an immersive journey of sound and voice." The producer further said, "If we used a song in the film, we wanted it to be the entire song, and to be connected to the story.

Thematically, we wanted to move the audience from grief to celebration. When you listen to the soundtrack, you can close your eyes and relive the experience of the movie. That was the intention."

Quite evidently, they are successful with their goal and this cinematic musical masterpiece is currently revolving at the epitome of everyone's attention.

The album 'Black Panther: Wakanda Forever – Music From and Inspired By' is currently streaming on Spotify and Apple Music as the movie globally hits the theaters on November 11.

SWIFT SWEEPS 6 AWARDS AT AMA 2022; Others follow close behind

The winners of AMAs this year included those like Beyonce, Harry Styles, and BTS, with Taylor Swift as the biggest champion, winning all six awards she was nominated for.

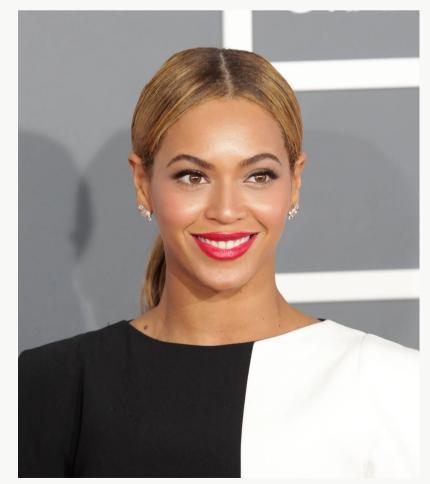

With this year's edition of the American Music Awards (AMAs) being handed out live at 8 p.m. on Sunday, 20 November, fans and music lovers around the world have dished out a clear-cut view of their preferences. The grand event, compèred by Wayne Brady, highlighted some of the biggest winners of the night like Taylor Swift, BTS, and Harry Styles.

The AMA nominees, like the Billboard Music Awards, were chosen based on fan interactions with music, such as radio airplay, record and song sales, tour grosses, and streaming performance. Fans voted for their favorite artists online. Some of the categories were announced earlier that day through Livestream on Twitter and Discord at 11 a.m. (Pacific). The highest number of nominations eight- was brought in by artist Bad Bunny, followed closely by Beyonce, and then there were Drake and Taylor Swift with 6 each. Close behind them were The Weeknd, Harry Styles, and Adele with five each.

The biggest winner of the night turned out to be Taylor Swift, winning all six AMAs that she had been nominated for and was voted the 'Artist of the Year'. She won awards for being the 'Favorite Female Pop Artist ' and 'Favorite Female Country Artist'. Her previous year's re-recorded version of 'Red' won her the awards for 'Favorite Pop Album' as well as for 'Favorite Country Album'. From the same album, 'All Too Well' won her the award for 'Favorite Music Video" Among other winners of the night were Beyonce, Harry Styles, BTS and Kendrick Lamar. Styles was awarded with the 'Favorite Pop Song' for 'As It Was' and was also voted 'Favorite Male Pop Artist', while Morgan Wallen took home the award for the 'Favorite Male Country Artist' and for the 'Favorite Country Song' with 'Wasted On You'.

The other artist-led award categories included Dove Cameron as 'New Artist Of The Year', Coldplay as Favorite Touring Artist', Dan + Shay as 'Favorite Country Duo Or Group, Yahritza Y Su Esencia as Favorite Latin Duo Or Group, Marshmello as Favorite Dance/Electronic Artist and so on. Making a mark in the American Music Industry were BTS as 'Favorite Pop Duo Or Group'- their fourth consecutive win in the category. It also made them the first to achieve such a streak. They also won the first-ever award for Favorite K-Pop Artist.

In the arena of genre-centric categories with gender divisions, Lamar, Nicki Minaj, Chris Brown and Beyoncé, Bad Bunny, and Anitta's names shone through. Moreover, the 2022 AMAs featured three new awards: 'Favorite Rock Song' given to Måneskin for 'Beggin'', 'Favorite Rock Album' was given to Ghost for 'Impera', and 'Favorite Afrobeats Artist' was given to Wizkid.

Apple Music Has Revealed its Top Music and Listeners Chart in 2022

It is almost at the end of the year and Apple Music has revealed its top chart for music and listeners' choices in 2022. Justin Bieber's hit single with The Kid Laroi, 'Stay' topped Apple Music's global song chart in 2022. Based on the most listened-to tunes by the users on the platform and stream count, the chart is created to reflect the most favorite tracks by the listeners. 'Stay' which has already topped the Billboard Hot 100 for many weeks is dominating Apple Music's global chart by staying at the top for 51 days in a row. It is followed by Elton John and Dua Lipa's 'Cold Heart (PNAU Remix)' at no. 1 on the streamer's Shazam chart. On the other hand, 'We Don't Talk About Bruno' from Encanto is the song with the most-read lyrics in 2022 on Apple Music.

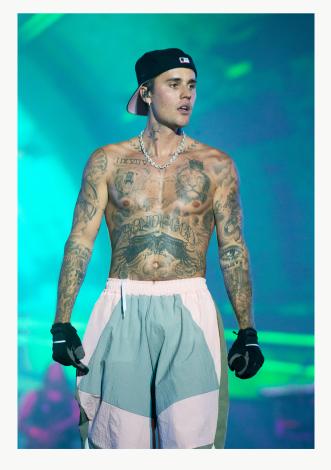

On the top 100 charts, there were other tracks like 'As It Was' by Harry Styles, Future's collaboration with Drake and Tems 'Wait For U', 'Super Gremlin' by Kodak Black, Adele's 'Easy on Me', 'Heat Wave' by Glass Animals and the list goes on. There are a total of 32 hip-hop bangers in the top 100 along with 23 pop singes and 11 R&B projects.

There is a rise in global musical influence as the listeners are quite keen on non-English-language tunes. The Shazam chart shows ample African tracks as well as Japanese tracks which are making big gains on the charts like the global daily 100 and most-read lyrics.

The global head of editorial on the platform, Rachel Newman said, "It's really the rise of what was once very niche genres creeping into the mainstream, which is an exciting new development on the platform." There are 21 non-English tracks in total on the global Top 100 which is alomost double than last year.

Around 55 Latin track racks have reached the Global Daily Top 100 in 2022 along with 6 Japanese pop tracks that reached the top 10. Considering the results of 2021, this is a huge rise for global music. Bad Bunny has become the Artist of the year with 'Un Verano Sin Ti', the most streamed Latin album on the platform in 2022.

Apple Music Replay has added a new feature that allows superfans to discover whether they are in the top 100 listeners of their favorite music artists or even genres.

Migos Member Takeoff Shot Dead Over A Dice Game At Bowling Alley

American rapper Takeoff was fatally shot to death at a bowling alley in Houston, Texas, The incident took place on Tuesday at nearly around 2:30 am. The rapper was declared dead at the scene.

Takeoff was one of the prime members of Migos, the famous American rap group that enriched the hip-hop industry. This Grammy-nominated group hails from Atlanta and has BET Awards for Best Group.

According to the report, the shootout happened after an altercation that took place over a dice game. Someone at the scene open fired at Takeoff and the police are still investigating.

However, no names of the suspects have been revealed yet. One of the eyewitnesses said that Takeoff was shot "either in the head or near his head" which made it even more critical for him to survive. The rapper was only 28 years old.

Another report stated that there were about 50 people present at the bowling alley when the shooting happened. Two of them got injured during the scene and were taken to the local hospital for treatment.

A few hours before the shooting took place, Takeoff posted a photo of himself at the Bowling Alley through Instagram Story. On the previous day, the rapper dropped the music video of his latest song 'Messy' according to the report.

Takeoff was born on June 18, 1994. He was best known for the trip hip-hop group Migos which was established along with his uncle Quavo and his first cousin Offset. Offset is the husband of rap queen Cardi B. Migos and has been reigning in the industry for quite a long time since their viral hit track 'Versace', released in 2013. The song was later remixed by Drake and got more attention from worldwide listeners.

The trio was managed by hip-hop powerhouse Coach K who is known as the most influential person for bringing contemporary Southern trap into the music industry. This popular rap sub-genre became mainstream after that.

Migos released their debut album "Yung Rich Nation" in 2015 and it was featured at the top of the Billboard top albums. Soon they dropped another album titled 'Culture' which became an instant hit.

Takeoff is no more and the fans are still trying to cope with the loss along with the hip-hop music industry. However, he will live eternally through priceless hip-hop creations.

Bad Bunny Is Declared the Artist of the Year 2022 on Apple Music

2022 is about to end soon and various music-streaming platform has been summing up all the hits that the years have witnessed on their platforms. And according to the Awards organized by Apple Music, there were three winners last year, Olivia Rodrigo, H.E.R, and The Weeknd. But the numbers are distinctively different. There is only one name as the Artist of the year, and the award went to the one and only Bad Bunny.

This gigantic music-streaming platform handed over the award for the artist of the year on Wednesday. The credit goes to his last album 'Un Verano Sin Ti', the album has become Apple Music's most streamed album of 2022. It was also the most popular Latin album of this year.

Apple's vice president of Apple Music and Beats, Oliver Schusser said in a statement, "We're thrilled to celebrate the unmatched achievements of Bad Bunny, whose influence on every corner of culture could not be ignored in 2022."

He continued, "Watching Bad

Bunny ascend from an Apple Music Up Next artist in 2018 to our Artist of the Year this year has been nothing short of extraordinary. We congratulate him on his record-breaking year and for continuing to bring Latin music to a massive global audience."

Bad Bunny has gained the crown for the collective success of 'Moscow Mule' and his album. He has logged 22 of his numbers on the global Daily top 100 list. His songs have become the biggest hit in various countries.

While showing his honor for the award Bad Bunny said, "When I started, I didn't have a global fan base," he continued, "I'm grateful for everything I've accomplished and everything I've experienced. The Latin music movement has grown so much. I would never take full credit or say, 'It's because of me.' No, it's every one of us. A whole generation. Our energy and presence are always felt." He ended by saying, "Thank you to Apple Music and to all the people who listen to my music every day. I'm super happy!"

The exhilarating music releases of Bad Bunny have taken over the prestigious La Fórmula playlist. His tracks like 'Myke Towers', 'Rauw Alejandro', 'Mora', and 'Jhayco', along with other numbers have gained him this award.

EVERYTHING THAT NEEDS TO KNOW ABOUT VIOLIN PRODIGY KAROLINA PROTSENKO

This is the girl who has taken the internet by storm with her brilliant violin skills a few years back. In the streets of Santa Monica, a girl of 11 years old is playing violin and being cheered by the entire crowd. This charming scene was the first thing people fell in love with and no sooner her violin skills started to get viral repeatedly. Not just a child prodigy soon she became a social media influencer, YouTube content creator, vlogger, performer, and entrepreneur in this industry.

Who is Karolina Protsenko?

She is a Ukrainian origin violin player, and she has been learning violin since she was really young. Since her lessons started but her zest for playing violin came to its glory in 2017, and after that she was unstoppable. Soon after that people started uploading her videos of playing the violin. And one after the other her videos were going viral, this was the time the world came to know about this child prodigy of the violin. Being young her passion for playing the violin can be seen profoundly in those videos.

Ethnicity and family:

The child prodigy was born in Kyiv, the capital of Ukraine on the 3rd of October,2008. By the time she was 6 years old, in 2015 she and her family moved to the United States. She is the eldest child of her father Nikolay Protsenko and mother Ella Protsenko. She belongs to a musical family as both of her parents, Nikolay and Ella, play guitar and piano. Apart from her, she has two younger brothers.

Location, School:

She has a lifetime ahead of her and it seems that soon her face is going to be influencing more people are continue to win the hearts of people from around the world.

TOP 8 ONLINE MUSIC STREAMING Platforms that offer high-res audio Quality

The music industry is continually growing with an increasing number of musical content and music artists. Another element that has become significantly important for both the listeners and the artist is the online music streaming platforms. While these platforms offer endless access to various kinds of music around the world in exchange for a nominal monthly fee; not every music platform works in a similar way or offers the same quality of music.

There are multiple music streaming platforms available online but not all of them offer that exceptional listening experience. Based on the clarity and quality of music, a list of the top 8 music streaming platforms is given below.

8. iHeartRadio

This Radio platform stands out among all since allows one to listen to free radio stations online. However, it does not have a wide and dynamic catalog of streamable music collections. One of the best parts of this platform is that it offers concert recordings which are very appealing to audiophiles. It offers a concert-like musical appearance through your earphones.

7. YouTube Music

Similar to Google Play Music, YouTube music also focuses on each user's activity to recommend the exact songs they would like. YouTube Music streams at 256kbps which is not very appealing and also it does not come with a hi-res option to switch. However, one this that makes this platform stand out is its intelligent algorithm that utilizes the time and location of the person and suggests exactly what they are looking for. It also lets users find songs based on the lyrics.

6. Amazon Music Unlimited

This is a new emerging music streaming platform in the market which is still catering to the attention of global listeners. Though it is not as popular as Spotify and SoundCloud, it is one of the cheapest music streaming options available on the platform. The price gets even lower for Amazon Prime Users. The platform offers an HD service with a CD quality bitrate of up to 24bit 192kHz streaming. The music catalog is still limited but it is continuously growing.

5. SoundCloud

SoundCloud has been reigning in the market for many years now and it is all because of its highly affordable plans. Emerging music artists can easily upload their music on this platform at a relatively low cost. Thus, it promotes rising talents. However, the platform's limitation is set at 256kbps AAC which is the standard level for most other music platforms. However, the quality can improve with the monthly subscription plan.

4. Spotify

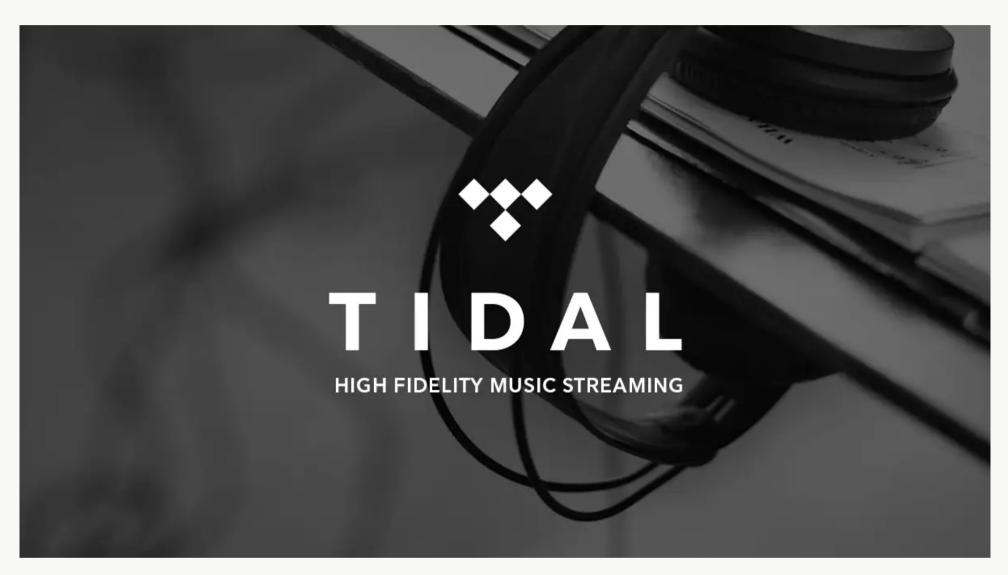

Spotify is currently the most dominant music platform across the world due to its accessibility and huge selection of songs. However, the platform streams at a maximum AAC 320 kbps even for the paid and premium packages. The sound quality on the platform is perhaps not that appealing but its curation and recommendations are definitely engaging. Tailored to each listener's individual liking, Spotify keeps suggesting songs. Spotify Hi-Fi will be coming soon to offer hi-res music for everyone.

3. Apple Music

Apple Music is the favorite streaming platform for many and mostly their iOS user. However, this dynamic music platform is compatible with all kinds of electronic devices. It also allows syncing other members such as friends and family under the same plan. As far as the audio quality is concerned, Apple Music streams music at 256 kbps which is not that bad for a regular listener. However, audiophiles might catch the difference in quality. Even though its audio quality is not remarkable, the platform excels in its interface and recommendation algorithms.

2. Deezer:

Deezer utilizes the FLAC audio codec in order to play high-fidelity sound just like professional studios. It offers a Hi-Fi membership option that allows you to play 1,411 kbs lossless audio at 16-bit, similar to original CDs. Perhaps the sound quality is not the finest but Deezer's pricing system is definitely cheaper than most other platforms. It is highly affordable for all kinds of listeners. The platform also offers a free trial service for newcomers to have a better idea of the track.

1. Tidal:

If you are looking for the best sound quality, Tidal is the best option to proceed with. Focused on its sound quality, the platform offers a lossless audio experience, unlike any other streaming platform. The platform comes with a standard option with a balance between data usage and sound fidelity. However, upgrading to the master package with a fast internet connection can provide unbroken sound quality with the highest possible streaming quality that any platform can provide. It Hi-res package offers 9216kbps at 24 bits. Tidal uses a breakthrough audio codec called Master Quality Authenticated (MQA) that offers studio-quality music right through your earphones.

Online music streaming has become an integral part of daily life where listeners can have access to a variety of music of various qualities as well. Check out the aforementioned platforms and enjoy each musical experience to opt for what suits your ear and budget.

JENIFER LOPEZ HAD A BEAUTIFUL TIME PERFORMING WITH SHAKIRA AT THE SUPER BOWL

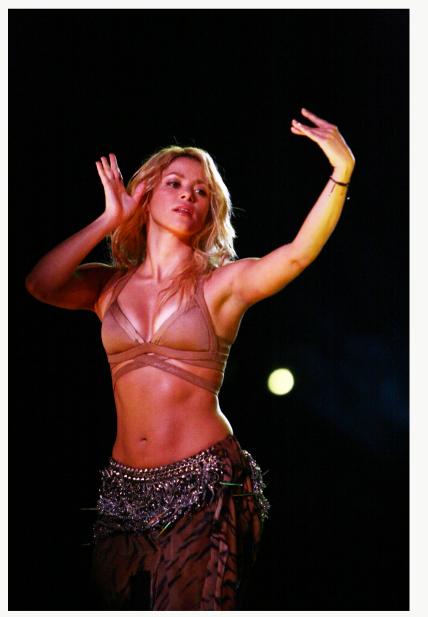

Jenifer Lopez has recently shared her experience of performing together with the popular singer Shakira at the 2020 Super Bowl. She has expressed that sharing the same stage with Shakira for such a big event is 'a beautiful thing'. There is a big reason for it that they are 'both moms and both Latinas...not exactly what you would expect at the Superbowl halftime show'.

Jenifer Lopez has done a Netflix documentary film known as 'Halftime'. And in that documentary movie, she said getting two big artists for the headline spot in a music event is one of the worst ideas. But she didn't personally address anything about Shakira. Her manager Benny Medina has precisely made that clear. Medina also said that because they both are Latinas that's why she doesn't think it's a great idea.

He has stated previously 'Typically, you have one headliner at a Super Bowl... That headliner constructs a show, and, should they choose to have other guests, that's their choice.

It was an insult to say you needed two Latinas to do the job that one artist historically has done'.

Along with that, he has also said that the organizers have given six minutes to each of them to perform. And this amount of time is very short for such a big event. It is not like every year they do the same. Previously it is seen that they have given time for the act of Lady Gaga and Gwen Stefani 13 and 14 minutes. This kind of decision is also very much upsetting.In the film, 'Halftime' Lopez said to Shakira that 'If it was going to be a double headliner, they should have given us 20 minutes'. She really wanted to have her moments while singing on such a big stage. She wanted to show everyone that 'I'm a mother and I'm sy. And I'm tough and I am vulnerable'. She went on like 'We're beautiful and strong and happy and....you know what I mean? There's nothing to be afraid of'.

But in the end, she said that it is one of the best performances of her life, which she has done with Shakira.
