LEVINE'S BAND, MAROON FIVE

Every year Google presents the list of most searched topics on the search engine throughout the entire year. This list is published under Google's special edition, #YearInSearch which tells the world what intrigued and inspired them the most. Well, like every other year, this year's list is also out and the one who topped the list of most searched musicians of 2022, is none other than Adam Levine. This result shows that Adam was the musician that people were most interested in and talked about in the year 2022. Because Levine's band, Maroon Five did not release any music or album in the year 2022, as their last album 'Jordi' was out last year, what made him so popular and the talk of the town this year? People have speculated that this spike in the search was because of the recent controversy that the singer was in.

Taylor Swift Finally Shakes Off Her 'Shake It Off' Copyright Lawsuit Trails

Seam Hall and Nathan Butler have accused Taylor Swift of lifting lines from their song 'Playas Gon' Play' released in 2001. The trials of the lawsuit are set to start next month in January. The legal case has been swirling up since 2017 and there have been various twists and turns about this one release.

They accused Taylor Swift of coining certain lines about "Haters" and "Players" from their track "Playas Gon' Play". But it is still unclear whether Sean Hall and Nathan Butler the writers of "Playas Gon' Play" will be credited on "Shake It Off" or not. Both sides have been questioned several times but they kept their mum on this topic.

First, they filed the case, and then they jointly decided to drop the claims and move ahead afresh. On the 12th of December the lawyers of the writers of 3LW's song "Playas Gon' Play" revived the case after it was dropped permanently. The legal battle started in 2017 and in 2018 when both the parties jointly decided to U.S. District Judge Michael Fitzgerald dismissed the case with prejudice, which means they will not be allowed to bring up this case in the future as well. This decision might clear up the ways of the release of "1989 (Taylor's Version)".

At one point Swift filed a legal declaration stating the origins of her song "Shake It Off", denying every copyright allegation against her. Swift wrote, "In writing the lyrics, I drew partly on experiences in my life and, in particular, unrelenting public scrutiny of my personal life, 'clickbait' reporting, public manipulation, and other forms of negative personal criticism which I learned I just needed to shake off and focus on my music."

She claimed that she was improvising the lyrics and by then she haven't listened to the 3LW's song "players gonna play".

She wrote, "Prior to writing 'Shake it Off,' I had heard the phrases 'players gonna play' and 'haters gonna hate' uttered countless times to express the idea that one should shrug off negativity." The hearing is scheduled on 17th January 2023, and hopefully this long and oscillating legal tale will come to an end, after all these time.

AMERICAN CLASSIC POP STAR BEYONCÉ PRESENTS A SENSATIONAL EVENT OF TWO DAYS

To celebrate her six months ago published album ‘Renaissance’; singer and producer Beyoncé declares a musical event for two days in Los Angeles for her fans.

Prolific yet all-time favorite popstar for her melodious voice Beyoncé recently released an announcement of holding a two-day event on 17th and 18th December to celebrate her six months ago released album ‘Renaissance’. This event is going to be a joint venture of Amazon Music and her production Parkwood Entertainment. In the event poster, Bey’s company publishes, “... invites you to experience ‘Renaissance’ in spatial audio”. To create a craze about the music event, the venue is still not revealed but it is going to take place somewhere at an undisclosed location in Los Angeles.

According to Amazon Music, the venue will be informed to the confirmed audiences after finalizing the tickets which will be non-transferable. Further, it is clarified that only one pass will be for one person at a time. For the exact clarification, a post regarding this event is shared on the Twitter account on December 16th that this occasion will be strictly for (21+). The time is also declared for the information. Doors will open at 8.15 pm and the event will start at 9 p.m.

‘Renaissance’ or ‘Act I: Renaissance’ is her seventh studio album with sixteen tracks which was released on July 29, 2022. At the time of release, an event regarding this was also organized. She recorded this album at the time of Covid 19 Pandemic to seek joy and give hope to her fans. This album was praised worldwide for its eclectic style with the blending of DJ along with 70s house and black dance music. Later on, ‘Renaissance’ was nominated for Grammy and won American Music Awards.

Tickets for Club Renaissance which were made free for the fans on Thursday on the website ‘clubrenaissance.com’ for this event are now sold out. Previously an event was organized after the release of ‘Renaissance’ in New York, at Times Square Edition hotel. The VIP guests list included Kendrick Lamar, Donald Glover, and Chloe Bailey. It is reported that Beyoncé is going to hold a tour for charity purposes in 2023. It is unclear whether she will attend this time or not but previously she attended the events which were held in New York and Paris.

Club Renaissance events also took place in Berlin, Amsterdam, and the Belgian city of Ghent. NME describes that this album is a celebration of black joy.

Abu Dhabi Is Set To Organize Ultra Abu Dhabi For The First Time

For the first time in 23 years, the celebration of the UMF heading towards a Middle Eastern country has piqued the interest of music fans all over the world.

ULTRA Worldwide, which is the most international music festival brand is coming to make its debut for the first time in Abu Dhabi, the capital of the United Arab Emirates. The festival is about to be staged on Saturday, March 4th, and Sunday, March 5th. The program which was to happen in 2020, was postponed due to the worldwide Covid 19 pandemic. Officially it is declared on their website that the event will take place at Etihad Park on Yas Island which is an open-air place. It's the fastest-growing tourist destination that also organizes Formula One Abu Dhabi Grand Prix.

The music festival will be hosted on two different stages, the main stage will be chiefly compacted with bass-boosted sound and stadium-smashing music. On the other hand, Ultra Worldwide's techno house brand RESISTANCE is going to host some boosted musical acts. Ultra Abu Dhabi was first announced in 2019 when it was informed that eminent artists like Afrojack, Eric Prydz, Major Lazer, and Dj Snake will appear for their performance. But later on, the whole program was canceled for the coronavirus pandemic. This time, to fulfill music lovers' thirst from all continents, EDM and herky-jerky tracks will be presented for lifetime experiences.

Ultra Music Festival was inaugurated by Russell Faibaisch and Alex Omes for the first time on March 13th, 1999. The first festival was a one-day event that was held in Miami Beach. Throughout the years, this music festival garnered a huge amount of audience and for that, later on, the festival was shifted to Bayfront Park in Downtown Miami. For some reason in 2018, UMF was shifted to the Barrier Island of Virginia Key but later on, it was proposed that the 2019 edition would be held in Bayfront Park. Throughout time distinctive artists like David Guetta, Dubfire, Steve Aoki, and The Chainsmokers ruled the stage.

Ultra Abu Dhabi is offering two different kinds of tickets, General Admission (GA) and Premium General Admission (PGA). PGA allows access holders to different offerings.

These are Entrance Gates, Washroom, Food and Beverages, and own lounge area where viewers can experience an amazing time. Abu Dhabi is uprising like a phoenix and on the way to portraying itself as one of the best cultural and leisure centers in the world. Tickets are on sale now. For better assistance, check out the website of Ultra Abu Dhabi.

Love Jimo Urges Listeners To Keep Striving Towards Their Dreams In His Latest Song 'Dreamer'

Get ready to be swept away in a groovy wave of melody as Love Jimo, in collaboration with Akeem da Beat, brings a volley of musical dexterity in the form of 'Dreamer'. The song is an ode to all those who dare to dream and work hard towards fulfilling them. Dreams are what make people unique and give them hope to live by. This sublime musical piece aims to inspire unwavering courage and optimism in the souls of listeners and compels them to follow their hearts' desires.

Based in Oslo, Norway, Vocalist, Songwriter, and Producer Love Jimo (originally Love Ezekiel Jimo) was born in Ibadan, Nigeria in 1987. It was while attending the church that his interest in music was piqued and by the time he was in his late teens he began creating his own beats, writing songs, and learning music production techniques. His first step to fame came in 2017 when the single "Tinini" became a massive hit, and he has never looked back ever since. He strongly believes that natural ability can only take talented artists so far; they need to hone their skills with a strong will, discipline, and determination to truly reach the top.

Music has always occupied a pre-eminent position in the artist's life. His music is a mellifluous blend of traditional African elements and mainstream pop sound, which lends an intriguing and infectious quality to his music. After his first regional hit 'Tinini' in 2017, in 2018, he collaborated with Wrecobah from Timaya's 'Dem Mama Records', 'Sweet Like Sugar'. His romantic hit released in 2020 'High On Kasia' was listed by Spotify in the "New Music Friday Norway" playlist.

Through his music, the singer expresses his feelings, his passion, and his gratitude toward the musical world that has enthralled him for good. Having generated almost three million streams on Spotify and almost two million views on YouTube, the artist has clarified that there are greater songs to be anticipated from him.

The latest track from the musical virtuoso 'Dreamer' is a soulful tribute to all those dreamers across the globe who keep their passion alive. The artist claims that dreams are what define individuals and distinguish one from the other. It aims to inspire all those who believe in themselves and their dreams.

The verses of the song assure them that their visions are valid and everything in this world is possible if one is willing to work hard for it. The key is to stay focused and never give up in the face of adversity. He encourages listeners to visualize their success because the "sky's the limit". The song is a fusion of different genres of music such as Amapiano, Afropop, and Afrobeat. It is inspired by African elements such as instruments, tempo, and levels with shades of both cold and warm emotions.

The collaboration with Akeem da Beat makes the track sensational and a one-time listen is never enough.

To listen to more such amazing songs, check him out on Spotify and Apple Music.

American Pop Singer TACEY Brings the Perfect Dance Number this Christmas with 'Dime Que Sí'

Proving once again that magic happens when passion comes together with pure talent, TACEY has dished out her new song 'Dime Que Sí'. It is the third song by the rising Latin pop singer, dancer, and performer and her first Christmas song. The danceable beats and the joyful rhythm rejuvenate listeners and fill them with energy. With her exceptional musical skills, this promising artist is already taking the music industry by storm.

About:

It was her passion for dance and exploring different genres of music that ignited this bilingual Latin pop singer's love for creating her music which she expresses with the skillful mixing of dancehall and pop fusion. She has also released the official music videos of her songs, charming audiences with her brilliant screen presence; not to mention her adept dancing skills. You can stream her tracks like 'Conmigo' and 'Otra Notificación' on SoundCloud and Spotify. Get hooked on the talented artist's musical prowess and dance skills by subscribing to her YouTube Channel.

Style:

The American Pop singer ensures that her music reflects her passion for dancing and this energetic take on music becomes her trademark. With her music, she aims to make people feel great and confident about themselves as they dance to her beats unhinged. Her music is a brilliant juxtaposition of sweet vocals saturated with power, swagger, and sensuousness. An open-minded and creative artist, she is a determined performer and is constantly looking for opportunities to learn from others and polish her skills even further.

Latest Release:

'Dime Que Sí' is the quintessential example of TACEY's musical dexterity. In the song, she deftly introduces elements of Mambo, mixed with pop. She brews a perfect blend of enthralling musical design that syncs perfectly with her dreamy vocals. The two-minute and fifty-three seconds track is saturated with the spirit of Christmas cheer and is a hypnotic soundscape of bass, rhythms, and groovy instrumental elements. The music elevates and uplifts listeners' moods and has a dreamy Disney-Christmas-music vibe. Log in to SoundCloud to listen to this colorful track by the artist to sprinkle yourself with a dash of Christmas cheer.

Promising Artist Kris Heaton Band is Singing About United Love and Harmony in His Latest Track 'ONE WORLD'

Versatility is one of the most important virtues that musicians require to achieve great success and reach the heights of their careers. However, in today's musical scene, you will not find artists who have the versatility or make music that has elements of different styles and genres.

In this scenario, you would be surprised to listen to an artist who blends genres in their music like a maestro and Kris Heaton Band is one of those artists who is versatile and makes music that is no less than a treat to the ears.

He has recently released a soundscape named 'ONE WORLD' which is creating a buzz in the industry with its upbeat music and peaceful vibe.

About:

The artist has been in the industry for 30 years and in his successful career, he has recorded numerous songs. From childhood, he has been dreaming of having a music career and traveling all around the world. Combining both, he has created his recent musical piece and its video which is now making quite a noise in the industry.

He first started gaining popularity locally which later led to the musician having fans nationwide. Now with back-to-back quality music releases, his fanbase went international and it seems with his latest release he has extended his reach even wider.

Music Career:

It has been 30 years since the artist was in the music industry where he first started from being a local boy. With every release he extended his reach in the industry and especially in the world of his fans which is why his fanbase has now become international.

With quality music and records, he has charted 5 times on the national radio charts. In his long music career, Kris Heaton Band has a total of 11 albums.

His previous hit from his 10th studio album was 'MY CITY OF GOLD' which featured talented newcomer Howard Hamilton on Harmonica.

Latest Release:

His latest released music video of the track under the label Wood Entertainment Group, 'ONE WORLD' is from his 11th studio album by the same name and the video displays the intent of the song beautifully.

The song is about world peace and humanity and how being united can solve ongoing problems which is reflected through the magical shots of nature in the video. The artist's calm and stunning vocal tones also helped create a magical and peaceful environment for the listeners.

You can listen to this track on Jango Music, Apple Music, Spotify, iTunes, and Google Music and watch the video on YouTube.

Rihanna Uploads A Video Of Her Adorable Baby Boy On TikTok, Revealing Her Son's Face For the First Time

Rihanna was in the news for her glorious maternity photo shoots and now her baby is also breaking the internet with his cute smile and heart-melting expressions. On TikTok, she has dropped a short video of her son. While taking a drive she made this video of her baby boy, revealing his face.

Rihanna and her boyfriend A$AP Rocky welcomed their baby boy on 13th May 2022 in Los Angeles. From some exceptional maternity clothes to some extremely enchanting ways of gracefully flaunting her baby bump in the public domain. She was a goddess, and now the adorable video of her son is melting hearts. From his gibberish words to his expressions everything about that video was exceptionally enjoyable.

While recording the video her son tried to take the phone from her hand and she said, “You are trying get Mommy’s phone?” in the most lovable way. During the video, he yawned, looked outside of the car window, and made some gestures that may be normal for every baby but always melts hearts.

Once the video was dropped it quickly became viral and her fans were already excited to see his face and now as the face has been revealed they are just extremely overwhelmed. Many have gushed once they saw the video, and retweets after retweets have been flooding since then. Along with a deluge of heart reactions, a fan wrote “He’s so adorable, I can’t. Another person added to the video, “Cute!” Another fan wrote in the comments section, “He’s so adorable; he has all of her features.”

A fan page has managed to take picture of the whole family at a beach in Malibu. In those photos, she and her boyfriend Rocky twinned in black, and even the baby was also in black bathing shorts.

Rocky was seen holding the child and posing for the camera. And the motherly glow of Rihanna has made her look even more enchanting than ever.

A fan wrote, “Baby is so cute! Have they said his name?” The comments section was packed with comments like “A beautiful family.” “He is adorable and love this family”, and “Where are you getting these pictures from?”

USA ROCK STAR GWEN STEFANI DENIES PESSIMISTIC VIEWS ON REUNION

American singer, songwriter, fashion designer, actress, and co-founder of GXVE beauty brand; 53 years old still scintillating Gwen Stefani recently released her announcement on interest in reuniting with her old band 'No Doubt'. Stefani was once the primary songwriter and the lead vocalist of 'No Doubt'.

In order to clarify the information, she was asked by the 'Wall Street Journal', "What are the odds of the No Doubt reunion?" She responded boldly, "What are the odds of anything?" She further replied by giving reference to the reunion of Blink 182 tour which is on the way going to happen between March 2023 to February 2024.

Stefani has always been very charming and positive about her attitude toward songs and her life.

The hybridization of consistency and experiments made her songs powerful. In an interview about attending 'The Drew Barrymore Show', which is continuous since 2020 she said, 'Recently I was on The Drew Barrymore Show.'

She was one of my favourite celebrities when I was a little girl, and now I was just on the show with her. So, anything can happen.' She further informed that she has no idea about the tour and no discussion regarding that had happened. But her reference to Blink 182 tour is making her quite optimistic. 'No Doubt' is an American rock band formed in the year 1986 with Gwen Stefani, Tom Dumont (Guitarist), Tony Kanal (Bassist), and drummer Adrian Young. Sometimes they were supported by Gabriel McNair and Stephen Bradley (Trombonist and Keyboardist) in case of live performances. In 1992, they released their fourteen tracks album 'No Doubt' but failed to make an immense impact.

Facing a lot of ups and downs for a long time and a hiatus too, with 'Rock Steady' and 'Push and Shove' they made their position. Their collaborated tour with Blink 182 gifted 33 songs altogether which mesmerized audiences for a long time.

Gwen Stefani met her husband Blake Shelton for the first time in the year 2014 while coaching in 'The Voice'. After becoming on a journey of meeting and knowing each other for several years they knotted on July 2021. Blake Shelton is a country-style American singer and Gwen is a rock artist. Both of them had previous marriage experiences. Stefani recently opened up about her new life and says, "Blake likes to make something new traditions every year." She is now happy with her children and new life.

Bizarro Blamed Azealia Banks 'Disgraceful' For Her Inappropriate Behavior

Recently Azealia Banks's Australian tour promoter has shown their disgusted experience by saying that working with her is one of the most 'disgraceful' clients. In the Australia and New Zealand tour Bizarro was the authority to arrange everything for the shows. They have arranged the shows with the agency named Point Blank Group.

The whole problem has occurred due to last-minute cancellations, which has made a negative impact on the audiences too. On social media, everyone is sharing a post saying that Banks's should never come to their country for any kind of performance. Bizarro has also stated that she has made them physically and emotionally drained. For the last-minute cancellation, they had to manage various things, which they weren't responsible to do.

Bizarro has said that 'The lack of care she shows to her team, the people she works with and her fans was truly disappointing to see'. They have also said 'She was not present for any press opportunities, she failed to arrive at any event in a timely manner, she willingly posted inaccurate, disrespectful and slanderous content online, and her lack of care and appreciation for her fans, who make such an event possible, was disgraceful'.

In that response Banks's posted on Instagram that 'trying to cite all these stupid things as reasons not to pay me a dime and all the way across the world to go home empty handed'. The artist hasn't stopped here but continued by stating 'In all this attempt to assassinate my character there's no mention of my mother fg money, where is the money bh, where the cash at?... you're trying to use a character assassination as a means to not pay someone for work that they did, just say you're broke and fg go.'.

On this thing Bizarro responds by saying 'Whilst we have paid our fees to Azealia's touring agent, we have also been led to believe that the majority of her tour has been paid to her personally in full, despite her willingness to burn down every show of the run'. They have also said that till now they haven't gotten their ten thousand dollars just because of the sudden show cancellation.

Just for this action, everything has become so much more complicated and the event management company is facing all the problems.

MEGAN THEE STALLION IS THE VICTIM OF INJUSTICE AND MALE DOMINANCE

Megan Thee Stallion is one of the most acclaimed rappers in the music industry. However, when it comes to justice; even acclaimed female rappers do not receive it. Megan Pete, better known as Megan Thee Stallion is being harshly judged after she opened up about the history of abuse done to her by Tory Lanez.

Currently, Tory is facing trial in Los Angeles for shooting fellow rapper Megan on both of her feet two years back. However, in the court of public opinion; Megan was the person who was really being scrutinized. Even 50 Cent has mocked her by posting a meme that suggested that Megan was guilty of the incident instead of Tory.

Although, 50 apologized for the incident; his recent posts refer that the shooting on Megan is still funny. It is quite astonishing to see this coming from a person who has been shot multiple times.

Even Drake used this incident in his track 'Circo Loco', saying "this bitch lie 'bout gettin' shots, but she still a stallion." On the other hand, Tory should be facing more than 20 years in prison if convicted but has pleaded not guilty. The trial consists of a lot of salacious drama which made people reminded of Depp – Heard Case. Megan's bodyguard Justin Edison did not arrive to testify but her former friend Kelsey Harris gave testimony that Tory shot Megan. Later on, Harris said that she was not sure but a text message that showed that Harris wrote "Help. Tory shot Meg. 911."

As Megan is an empowered woman who talks openly about her sexual freedom in her raps, it was implied that she was simply a bad friend and promiscuous. However, it is just the perception of the people who are bothered by this woman's unapologetic confidence, unwavering personality, and highly successful rap career. It is very unfortunate to witness how a successful black female rapper is being mistreated by her own community for raising her voice for the unveiled truth. It is one of those awful circumstances that lie between racial solidarity and defending themselves.

Even though the incident took place in July 2020, Megan did not speak up to the police and said the injury occurred as she stepped on broken glass. Later on, in October she said, "My initial silence about what happened was out of fear for myself and my friends." It is taking a mental toll on Megan as she said, "I wish he would have just shot and killed me if I knew I would have to go through this torture." Now all that remains is to witness whether this successful black female rapper gets justice against her own community of rappers or not.

Chinese Singer Jane Zhāng Faces Criticism for Infecting Herself Deliberately

Right now, people all over the world are trembling due to the outbreak of the COVID-19 virus and BF.7 variant of Omicron. Amid this, China is facing a chaotic situation everywhere.

From hospitals to crematoriums, every place is overcrowded with millions of people. In between this, a famous Chinese pop singer from Beijing Jane Zhāng Liàngyǐng made a public outcry that she deliberately infected herself with the virus to avoid her New Year's evening concert.

She further declared that she wanted to avoid the risk of getting affected, so she took this decision. According to 'South China Morning Post' she had visited 'Sheeps'-(a term that is used for virus carriers in Mainland China).

Zhāng wrote on Friday on a social media platform for her 43 million followers, "I've been prepared for being 'infected. I began to catch a fever, my whole body began to ache... before I finally fell asleep. After sleeping for a day and a night, all my symptoms disappeared. I just drank a lot of water and took vitamin C, without taking any medicine before I got well." When she posted these details on Weibo, her fans were overwhelmed with anger and started criticizing her.

In response, she replied last Friday, "I am not sure if it's appropriate to ask, but does my case with symptoms lasting for only one day count as a positive case?" 38 years old Zhāng Liàngyǐng is popular among her fans as Jane Zhāng. She was born in Chengdu, Sichuan in 1984 on October 11th.

Zhāng was deeply influenced by the writings of Jane Austen and to pay homage to 'Jane Eyre', she added the name 'Jane' in front of her own. In 2006 on January 9th her first debut EP 'Jane, Love' was released which has sold more than 5000000 copies all over China.

She is a technology and social media enthusiast.

Jane attended the 67th Cannes Film Festival in France and also sang the theme song of the 2014 Youth Olympic Games which was "Light Up The Future". As a versatile artist, she appeared in different sectors such as Philanthropy and Political appearances.

Ever since her post on social media went viral, her fans strictly criticized her for this irresponsible behaviour, especially when the world is under threat. After facing a bunch of criticizing comments on Douyin which is China's TikTok, such as, "As a public figure, how could she say this? She is encouraging people to get infected, which is not OK,".

She was forced to take down the post along with her explanation. She finally wrote, "I didn't consider things carefully before making my previous posts. I apologize to the public."

Oscar 2023 Presents a Star-Studded Shortlist in the Best Original Song Awards Category

As the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences has revealed the shortlists of the 2023 Academy Awards for a few categories, the Best Original Song Awards has piqued the interest of listeners with its unique blend of indie artists and pop singers. A total of 81 songs were considered eligible for this Oscar Category, of which 15 have been shortlisted.

Drake could be on his way towards his first Oscar nomination for 'Time', which he co-wrote for Amsterdam by 20th Century Studios. 7 years ago, The Weeknd was nominated for co-writing the Fifty Shades of Grey song 'Earned It'. With 'Nothing Is Lost (You Give Me Strength)' from Avatar: The Way of Water, he might be headed for his second Oscar nomination. Performed by Gregory Mann, Guillermo del Toro and Alexandre Desplat's 'Ciao Papa' from Netflix's Guillermo del Toro's Pinocchio has also entered the race.

Rihanna, Lady Gaga, and Taylor Swift have been selected for 'Lift Me Up' from Marvel's Black Panther: Wakanda Forever, 'Hold My Hand' from Top Gun: Maverick by Paramount Pictures, and 'Carolina' from Where the Crawdads Sing by Sony Pictures respectively.

If nominated, it would be the debut nominations for Rihanna and Swift, in contrast to Lady Gaga's fourth, who had been previously nominated for "Shallow" from A Star Is Born in 2018 and 'Til It Happens to You' from The Hunting Ground in 2015 before that.

If any of the three shortlisted songs, namely, 'Nothing is Lost', 'My Mind & Me' from Selena Gomez, and 'Good Afternoon' from Spirited, with at least five credited songwriters, wins, they will have to share one statuette. Daine Warren, who was shortlisted for Tell It Like a Woman's 'Applause', would bear the record of being the first songwriter or part of the songwriting team to have a nomination streak of six years since the 1968-73 streak of Marilyn and Alan Bergman. It would also be Warren's 14th nomination in this category.

For co-writing "Stand Up" from Till with Jazmine Sullivan, Dernst "D'Mile" Emile II was shortlisted, and upon winning, he will be the first Black songwriter to win the award two times in this category.

The other shortlisted songs in the list include 'This Is a Life' from Everything Everywhere All, 'Til You're Home' from A Man Called Otto, 'Naatu Naatu' from RRR, 'Dust & Ash' from The Voice of Dust and Ash and 'New Body Rhumba' from Netflix's White Noise.

The nominations for the 95th Academy Awards will be announced on 24 January 2023.

Akshay Kumar's Crazy Christmas Celebration: Twinkle Khanna is 'Glad' She Didn't Witness It

Christmas is here and so are our favorite celebrities and their festive moods. Bollywood star Akshay Kumar joined the Christmas celebrations in Goa and took his Instagram account to share a glimpse with his fans. In a post on Instagram, that the actor posted on Sunday, pretended to play guitar. He also lip-synced and danced to a Christmas song. In the video, Akshay wore a black vest, paired with blue trousers and dark sunglasses.

The video was well received by the fans and they found typical Akshay Kumar humor in the clip. He was seen standing on a deck near a swimming pool with a musical instrument. The actor grooved to the world-famous track 'I Wanna Wish You A Merry Christmas' by Jose Feliciano and the video was recorded from inside the pool. The actor put up a caption on the post, "POV: Christmas vibes in Goa. Where nothing stays still - neither me, nor the camera (smiling Christmas tree, and Santa Claus emojis)." along with the caption, he posted some hashtags as well, Christmas 2022, family and holidays.

Along with the reactions of thousands of his fans and followers on social media, his wife reacted in her usual humorous way. Twinkle Khanna, the actor-turned-author commented "I am so glad I was in the room and did not witness this (laughing emoji)" on the post.

Not just his wife, the post gathered comments from other celebrities as well. Actress Diana Penty commented, "Merry Christmas Sir" with the addition of raised hand emojis and laughing emojis. Other fans and followers also dropped hundreds of comments under the post. One fan expressed his joy by commenting "The best Christmas gift from Mr. K to fans".

This is not the first time the fans get to witness the sweet yet humorous relationship between Mr. Kumar and Mrs. Khanna. They tied the knot in 2001 and now are proud parents of two children - daughter Nitara and son Aarav Kumar.

Their relationship is filled with jokes and roasting each other, even in front of the whole world is what kept them in the position of an ideal couple throughout the years. This new comment by Twinkle on Akshay's post is surely hilarious but also shows how comfortable they are around each other.

Lizzo Breaks Down In Tears After Receiving A Personalized Christmas Wish From Flutist James Galway

Everyone has people they idolize and being acknowledged by them is a proud and emotional moment. Recently, the pop music main girl Lizzo got emotional after she received a very special holiday message from the legendary flutist Sir James Galway.

On Sunday, the singer posted a video on her Instagram story that James had sent to her. In the video it can be seen that James is playing "We Wish You a Merry Christmas" and the flutist is in front of a fully decorated Christmas tree.

The video not only contains the beautiful flute played by the senior and legendary flutist, but it also ends with a very personal note to Lizzo. James Galway wished Merry Christmas to the pop star by saying "Merry Christmas Lizzo, from your number one fan,". Then the popstar posted that on her Instagram story with the caption, "YALL — SIR James Galway wished ME a Merry Christmas".

She also posted another story of her reaction to this personal greeting and this is where the singer was seen to be emotional over the greeting. This second video that the singer posted on her clearly shows how affected she was by the message. The "About Damn Time" singer could be seen crying and wiping away her tears in the video titled "MY REACTION" while saying "Is that fking James? Is that fking James Galway?".

The "Tempo" singer is also a trained flutist herself and before gaining worldwide fame with her music expressions, the singer used to play flute for several years. In 2019, the singer shared with "CBS Sunday Morning" that her passion for playing flute started at an early age. Her passion grew when she thought it would be a difficult instrument to play and started playing as a challenge. She further said, "So, I remember in the fifth grade, I just wanted to be really good. I was, like, 'I want to be really good at the flute.

Everybody else is so bad.' And it was so hard to be good at it. It's a very difficult instrument. I became, like, obsessed with being good". It was during this era when she was obsessed with Galway's "The Man with the Golden Flute".

This Grammy-winning artist also made history when she played a 200-year-old flute that once belonged to the former U.S. President James Madison, in September.

The singer had a busy 2022 with her album release and "Special Tour" and has great things stored for 2023.

See Who Are the Most Searched MUSIC PERSONALITIES

On Google in 2022

It is almost time to sing happy new Year for 2023. Before this year ends, the results of the most searched musicians are here. Read along to know who topped the list.

Every year Google presents the list of most searched topics on the search engine throughout the entire year. This list is published under Google's special edition, #YearInSearch which tells the world what intrigued and inspired them the most. Well, like every other year, this year's list is also out and the one who topped the list of most searched musicians of 2022, is none other than Adam Levine. This result shows that Adam was the musician that people were most interested in and talked about in the year 2022.

Because Levine's band, Maroon Five did not release any music or album in the year 2022, as their last album 'Jordi' was out last year, what made him so popular and the talk of the town this year? People have speculated that this spike in the search was because of the recent controversy that the singer was in. The controversy was created surrounding his alleged cheating scandal and affair with Instagram model Sumner Stroh. The search results show that his name was searched along with topics like 'Cheating in a relationship', 'Affair', 'Private message', 'adam levine dms', 'adam levine cheated', etc. The search spiked in September of 2022 when the scandal broke out.

While the Payphone singer topped the list, the second position was reserved for Mary J Blige. The third and fourth spot was taken by Lil Tjay and Kendrick Lamar. The fifth position was reserved for the rap trio Migos considering a lot has happened surrounding them this year. The trio was disbanded and the duo Offset and Takeoff released their solo album this year followed by Takeoff's death in an unfortunate incident this year. This justifies their ranking on the search list.

Back to the Animals singer Adam Levine, the ranking was not unexpected as after the model came forward with the allegations, it was all everyone could talk about on the internet. In a viral TikTok video, the model claimed that Adam and she had a year-long relationship during which Adam manipulated her and cheated on his wife.

One day after the video was posted, Levine denied cheating on his pregnant wife, "I did not have an affair, nevertheless, I crossed the line during a regrettable period of my life. In certain instances it became inappropriate".

Bad Bunny and Ñengo Flow have dropped their latest soundtrack named 'Gato de Noche'. This duo has garnered listeners from all around the world in a brief time.

Recently Bad Bunny shared a teaser of his latest soundtrack 'Gato de Noche' collaborating with Ñengo Flow. Within two days he suddenly dropped the song and captivated the hearts of all the listeners. Before releasing the song he posted on TikTok by saying 'This is to close the year'.

In this short time span, the song reached out to a large number of audiences. Ñengo Flow has showcased his skill in this song. They have taken reggaeton to another level with this track. This duo has chosen a very different perspective for the song which is 'chico malo' means bad boy.

When Bad Bunny sang 'He loves you and gives you everything/ But you're the devil and you're crazy for me/ You like the bad boys and are playing fire with me [...] although you're a sin, I'm going to hell following that big a-/ I'm on my way/ Today I'm picking you up after midnight' instantly he accumulated listeners from all around the world.

The Puerto Rican singer Ñengo revealed this big secret of collaboration on his Instagram by saying

'With the real beast'.

Bad Bunny is a proficient Puerto Rican rapper and singer who have earned a significant spot in the music industry. 2022 has been a great year for this artist.

He has also gotten the No. 3 on the Hot Latin Songs chart. 'Gato de Noche' is a song that follows his previous song 'La Jumpa' which he made with the artist Arcangel.

Bad Bunny has also been in Billboard's year-end Top Artists for the very first time in his career.

His Spanish album 'Un Verano Sin Ti' also got the No. 1 spot in the Billboard 200 year-end albums chart. In every song, Bad Bunny is achieving a new milestone.

This artist is an inspiration for many artists and listeners.

His unique way of approach has helped him to garner so much attention from the worldwide audience. He is breaking all the records by showcasing his talent.

along with all he is also doing a lot of concerts and shows to reach out to more audiences and build a bond with his listeners.

Once again the world is blown by the exceptional performances of this impressive Hip hop duo Rae Sremmurd. Their New release 'Torpedo' is a blast of a musical experience.

The Ear Drummers Duo have been in news for their impressive music releases, and just before all the parties of 2023 take place they have launched their exceptionally drumming release 'Torpedo'. Since 2013 they have been making their sensational singing style a trend, a signature. And now as they are at the pinnacle of popularity their musical quality is also at its peak. Their last studio album was released in 2018, 'SR3MM'.

This extremely compelling franchise of their first album had a sectionalizing effect on the audience. They have ended this year with a bang, to ensure that the Black Beatles are still in the line of acing the race. The charming beats along with the catchy lyricism everything about this track is very compelling for any music lover.

The ear-catchy lyrics have been written by A. Brown, A. Schindler, K Brown, S. Oguz, and S. Uwaezuoke. And as always, the song is distributed by Eardruma Records, also known as Interscope Records. The production credit of this number goes to Austin Powerz, SAV, and Sonny Digital. Atlanta-based brother duo Swae Lee and Slim Jxmmi are grooving the world with their beating effects, and that's what they are best at.

In 2016-2017 they have conducted their last tour and hopefully, in 2023 they will announce another tour, yet no sources have confirmed this but the changes are high. As this track is the first release of their upcoming album 'Sremm4Life'.

This is going to be their 4th studio album. After taking a long time off, they are back with a storming effect with this new release.

The year 2022 was extremely scenic in terms of music releases.

There were excellent songs that have missed to make an imprinting impression on their audience. Whereas some mediocre numbers have been a blasting hit this year. And 'Torpedo' is surely a hit.

In 2016-2017 they have conducted their last tour and hopefully, in 2023 they will announce another tour, yet no sources have confirmed this but the changes are high. As this track is the first release of their upcoming album 'Sremm4Life'.

The New Year is shining bright with a new journey in everyone's life and nothing can be better than a handful of new music. Check out the list of the top 10 musical releases in 2023.

Let's welcome this New Year with a handful of brand-new musical projects. 2023 is beginning with many upcoming albums and singles and music lovers are eager about them. Here's a list of the top 10 upcoming musical projects to look forward to in 2023.

10. Sam Gendel – CookUp This LA jazz experimentalist has offered a new creative wave in the music industry and now it is time for another project. In 2022, the artist released a total of 3 albums and a live EP. His radical selection of the late 90s/early 00s R&B tracks offers rearranged interpretations of music. Starting from Beyoncé, Aaliyah, Ginuwine to SWV; everyone has become a part of their tracks.

Release Date – February 24

9. Yo La Tengo – This Stupid World The ambient instrumentals are taking a sharp turn as Yo La Tengo is offering a whole new musical experience for music lovers around the world. The previous album 'We Have Amnesia Sometimes' has been crafted during the social-distancing protocols. However, there were no obstacles in the case of 'This Stupid World' which makes this project even more special and unique. The album is called "the most live-sounding album in years" and global listeners are waiting to witness it.

Release Date – February 10

8. Paramore – This Is Why Paramore is making an epic comeback with their first album after six years. They have returned to guitars after synth-pop textures as this album follows 2017's After Laughter. This pop-punk band is definitely gaining more ground with the same band lineup as its predecessor.

Release Date – February 10

7. Young Fathers – Heavy Heavy Young Fathers' upcoming album is already revolving at the epitome of everyone's attention with its first three tracks being released. While 'Geronimo' offered a slow-building anthem-like soundscape, 'I Saw' showed an electro-glam stomp. On the other hand, 'Tell Somebody' stole the deal with some beatless electronic gusts. It is evident, that this Edinburgh trio has crafted a masterful creation after their 2018's project Cocoa Sugar. However, their approach to hip-hop remains consistently unpredictable.

Release Date – February 3

6. Raye – My 21st Century Blues Though her debut album took a twist of events, singer and songwriter Raye is ready to release it this year. Previously, she has accused her previous label Polydor of deliberately withholding the album. She parted with the label back in 2021 and has been waiting for this. Despite her skills and talent, the artist can only be noticed in other music artists' projects. Finally, this sharp-sounding music artist is releasing her debut project.

Release Date – February 3

5. Sam Smith - Gloria Perhaps this forthcoming album is the most anticipated project Sam Smith has ever released. His fourth studio album is an amalgamation of "Sex, lies, passion, self-expression and imperfection," which makes it a uniting theme for everyone. The artist has reunited with his long-time collaborator Jimmy Napes and the project is already following the route of success. 'Unholy' featuring Kim Petras has already created a huge buzz among the fans. Guess what? Gloria is consisting of a cameo from none other than, Ed Sheeran.

Release Date – January 27

4. Måneskin – Rush Whether it's the rendition of Frankie Valli's northern soul classic Beggin' or the seductive approach of 'I Wanna Be Your Slave', Måneskin has redefined new-age rock music with sheer energy and individuality. These Italian rockers have won the heart of millions with their music with a dash of glamour as well.

Just like the title suggests, their next album is surely going offer an ample amount of adrenaline rush through their music. Swedish pop lord Max Martin is producing this project.

Release Date – January 20

3. Iggy Pop – Ever Loser Iggy Pop is ready to offer that “music that will beat the shit out of you ... made the old-fashioned way”, as he talks about his latest project. The music artist has collaborated with superproducer Andrew Watt who has recently worked with many artists, starting from Miley Cyrus, Morrissey to Elton John. Chad Smith, The drummer from Red Hot Chili Peppers, and Duff McKagan from Guns N’ Roses have also contributed to this project.

Release Date – January 6

2. Billy Nomates – Cacti

Tor Marie, AKA Billy Nomates is preparing to enthrall the listeners with her upcoming music project as Billy’s debut. Following the trail of her success, the artist is offering a hefty dose of musical eclecticism and proficiency through this upcoming project. Ranging from pop-punk to electronica, her versatility expands to and fro.

Release Date – January 13

1. Låpsley – Cautionary Tales of Youth

Låpsley’s last album was perhaps not a very big hit as the album was released just three weeks before the lockdown has been announced. However, this time she has braced to embark on a new musical journey with a new taste and energy. She has been stuck in South Africa and her experience gave birth to this new musical creation. Jessy Lanza has contributed much to craft this.

Top Tracks of 2022

SPOTIFY RELEASES ITS VERDICT ON THE TOP TRACKS OF 2022

As 2022 draws closer to the end, it is time to look back at the major highlights of the year. This year has been a boon for music lovers with some of the greatest hits being produced, and some of the old ones gaining renewed attention. Spotify has now released the top tracks that adorned 2022 and had been most streamed and loved by listeners.

Below is a breakdown of some of the greatest hits of the year. Read on and see if your favorite track made it to the top 10:

10. Running Up That Hill (A Deal With God) - 2018 Remaster, Kate Bush

A song that aged like fine wine. Thanks to Stranger Things, listeners saw this brilliant song from the 80's bubble up once again, bringing about a Kate Bush renaissance. With its transcendent musical energy, the song stands at No. 10 on the list. The glorious extraterrestrial synths drew in new listeners while the old listeners of Bush once again basked in her musical excellence.

9. Ojitos Lindos, Bad Bunny and Bomba Estéreo

Bad Bunny pairs up with Bomba Estéreo to create a magical number that ranks 9th on the chart. Lilian Saumet shows off her distinctive vocals, blending seamlessly with that of Bad Bunny.

The song secured a nomination at the 23rd Annual Latin Grammy Awards for the Record of the Year.

8. Quevedo: Bzrp Music Sessions, Vol. 52, Bizarrap and Quevedo

The Argentine producer and recording artist Bizarrap collaborated with the Spanish artist Quevedo to record one of the biggest hits of the year Quevedo: Bzrp Music Sessions, Vol. 52 which had soared from 5th position to No. 1 on the Billboard Global 200 charts. This song by Bizarrap, whose real name is Gonzalo Conde, is a toast to letting loose and partying hard.

7. Enemy (With JID) from the series Arcane League of Legends, Imagine Dragons and JID

The bombastic track by Imagine Dragons was recorded to be the theme of the Netflix animated series Arcane: League of Legends and also includes a verse from the rapper JID. The signature alt-rock style of Imagine Dragons pulses emphatically in the track and is a convergence of different pop-culture streams from different genres, which makes it unique.

6. Cold Heart (PNAU Remix), Elton John, Dua Lipa, and PNAU

The iconic Elton John and Dua Lipa had created a fantastic musical hit, to which PNAU breathes a new life into the track to create a jiving dance-pop that lives in the heads of the listeners rent-free. The sublime vocals of Lipa and Elton John blend together and make for a scintillating earworm.

5. Tití Me Preguntó, Bad Bunny

The chirpy playboy-anthem by Bad Bunny is a fusion of Latin trap and dembow, and is an original, in spite of sampling a bachata song from the 1990s Anthony Santos. 'Tití Me Preguntó' builds a reputation as one of the artist's most popular songs.

4. Me Porto Bonito, Bad Bunny and Chencho Corleone

Bad Bunny proved that he definitely owns the year when it comes to hip hop, as he pairs with Chencho Corleone for one of the greatest breakouts with catchy quips and storytelling. The song has become a listeners' favorite with its pulsating beats and Corleone's addictive chorus.

3. STAY (With Justin Bieber), The Kid LAROI and Justin Bieber

In an age where songs are being produced to be viral as Tik-Tok dances, the track has achieved that spot and more. The catchy beats and appealing lyrics have kept listeners hooked since 2021 and the craze for it remains the same, leading to it securing third place on the list. The song is a magnificent example of the kind of pop-punk sound that is making a comeback in the music industry and established The Kid Laroï as a music artist who is there to stay.

2. Heat Waves, Glass Animals

The song released in 2020 became the first by Glass Animals to crack the Billboard Hot 100 List and holds the 2nd position on Spotify's Top tracks of 2022 list. The track leans towards pop beats and synths while staying on track with the classic rock scenario. The song gained extreme popularity, with its addictive vibes and heartfelt lyrics.

1. As It Was, Harry Styles

The lead single from Styles' third album 'Harry's House' is one of the most emotive songs written by the artist. As vulnerable as the lyrics are, the music immediately sends listeners dancing. The song sounds like a confession and digs into feelings of melancholy and loneliness. The song assumes a Depeche or A-Ha Mode and rocks an 80's style pop synth. The mix of pop glam with raw emotion that somehow defines the artist appeals to listeners, and stands strong at No. 1.

A total of 50 songs have made it to the Top Tracks of 2022 List by Spotify and each one has good reason to be so. The list only builds anticipation for what the next year would bring when it comes to music.

Rosalía Unfolds New Kind Of Pop Performances With Her Kaleidoscopic Fusion

Rosalía has taken the culture of pop music to another level with her Motamami show in the O2 stadium. The brilliant performance stunned the audience.

In the previous time, everyone was making a fuss with an absurd-looking image. In the photo, Wayne Rooney was in a tight suit and captioned the photo by saying 'No one has ever looked like this before'. But in recent times this thing has repeated once again.

In one of the biggest pop event audience has witnessed a new thing. People have seen performing a singer and eight dancers zipped on stage as they screamed 'Chicken teriyaki!'.

The artist is none other than Rosalía who is currently doing her Motamami world tour. The variant color of the fusion costume has stunned all the onlookers. The 52-dated world tour is something that no one would like to miss. Her performances are taking pop culture to another level. The outstanding presentation is reaching out to all music enthusiasts. In this time period of the performances, the artist has sung 30 songs including reggaeton, which is mesmerizing to experience.

This time Rosalía came up on stage in a leather jacket with a combination of black and pink. She started the set by singing the jazz-reggaeton track Saoko. She began by singing 'Yo soymuy mía, yo me transformo / una mariposa, yo me transformo'. The versatile performance has created a buzz among everyone.

Her latest creation Motamami is something that no one has ever experienced. In her previous creation El Mal Querer, she has shown a completely different side of herself. And this time she stunned all with her mind-blowing presentation.

Rosalía has not only made soundtracks in different genres but she has showcased her caliber by making unique and intriguing music. The vast array of creations has attracted global listeners.

One of the most amazing things about this O2 concert is that none of them has ever gone backstage to change their outfit.

The brilliant transition made the whole performance even more fascinating. Rosalía even wiped off her makeup standing right on the stage. To be very honest she looked even better in that look.

The grand and magnificent performance has churned out the true flavor of pop culture. It is definitely one of the most radiating pop performances ever.

BTS' RM Joins Forces With Erykah Badu For the Latest Track 'Yun'

BTS' leader RM is spreading his solo music career even further with the album 'Indigo'. This musical project is revolving at the epitome of everyone's attention. The first single from the album 'Yun' is being a remarkable collaboration project with Erykah Badu.

'Indigo' is following the same route of success just RM's previous mixtapes RM (2015) and Mono. (2018). There are other musical contributors who have helped to develop this amazing project including Anderson .Paak, the electronic duo Honne and British singer-songwriter Mahalia.

BTS' last musical project was 'Be', the album that got released in 2020. After that, the members of the band have been following their solo musical career with new projects. In the last few years, RM has made some significant collaboration projects starting from Lil Nas X to Fall Out Boy, Wale, Honne, and many others. The list is gaining more length with Erykah Badu and many others.

Previously, during a Los Angeles concert last December, RM showed a fair share of concern for his musical career in the coming days. However, this South Korean rapper is gaining more ground with the latest album 'Indigo'. The artist is offering a heavy wordplay through this album that reflects his musical intro spective, perception, and personality.

Redefining fame and love, RM calls this album "the last archive of my twenties." This 10-track project is crafted magnificently while absorbing influences from R&B, neo-soul, rock, and electronic. RM's biases towards collaboration projects are also visible as eight tracks from the total of ten feature other music artists.

Embracing silence, maturity, and a deeper engagement towards life; the latest album 'Indigo' portrays a vivid picture of this South Korean pop star. The leading track 'Yun' is inspired by Korean painter Yun Hyong-keun.

As the track proceeds, it creates an imagery of a still picture as if a painting of 'still life' with a potential feeling of stagnation.

Digging further into the lyrics, it shows that RM is looking forward bring a change as 'Indigo' starts with "Fk the trendsetter". The other tracks like 'Closer', 'Lonely', 'Wild Flower', etc are capable of churning out different emotions starting from solitude to intimacy, happiness to sincerity. Brilliantly crafted, this album is one of the greatest musical contributions by RM which reveals his true self. Check out all the tracks of 'Indigo' on major music platforms.

Up and Coming Nigerian Star Asake Take The New York City By Storm With His 'Mr. Money With the Vibe' Tour

Know details about the rising Nigerian star Asake and his latest Tour performance in New York City to support his debut album, 'Mr. Money With the Vibe'

The Nigerian rising star, Asake performed in New York City on Friday night to support his debut album, 'Mr. Money With the Vibe'. The album has some heavy-weight features such as the afrobeat icon Burna Boy and American rapper Russ. This energetic and dynamic performance got the fans excited and was most likely projected to increase album sales by a large margin.

In 2018, Asake, originally known as Ahmed Ololade, debuted with his first single and since then he has followed a particular style that has become his signature style over the years. He is known for creating and using West African Afrobeats perfectly mixed with South Africa's Brazilian-tinged amapiano. This individual sound has been with his journey of artistic growth and helped him to create an individual name for himself.

At New York's Palladium Times Square, on Friday night, he was seen with his set that was backed by a full band that included horns. The venue was also the largest on his tour and the artist did utilize it to its fullest extent. The audience was also pleased as the singer brought out jazz-influenced sound into a live setting that was a treat to their ears. The look of the artist was iconic, the fit was all denim and he wore his trademark black sunglasses that added an extra flavor to the look. The artist performed his entire debut album in order, starting with the mid-tempo opener, 'Dull'. As the album's setlist continued, the songs became more lively along with the artist and his performance.

The performance was quite interesting to see as the performer danced on the stage by introducing some of the fan-made dance steps that his fans had previously shared on social media platforms like TikTok and Instagram reels.

The audience cheered back, thanking him for his appreciation toward his fans, and sang along with the track, 'Organise'. At times, overwhelmed by the response, the singer put down his mic and let the crowd sing the lines. The stage was equally pleasing to look at, the singer's name was displayed on the LED screen in huge letters behind the artist. As the show progressed Asake changed into a more casual outfit, a dry-fit long-sleeved shirt, and athletic shorts. In this performance, he has proved what an absolute hell of a performer he is so it will be quite exciting to see how well he performs in bigger venues, which, if going at this pace is not far away.

10 MOST SUCCESSFUL TRACKS OF HARRY STYLES THAT HAVE WOODED HIS EVERY MUSIC LOVER

In 2017 the rumors about the One Direction boys going on their separate ways and concentrating on their solo careers became true. This is the time much-crazed boy band member Harry Styles became one of the most talked about stars in the globe. He is the man behind the incredibly famous number 'As It Was', he started his career in 2010 after he became a contestant in the British music competition series The X Factor. Right after his elimination from this show, he joined the boy band 'One Direction' and his career took a swift uphill ride. In 2017 they split up and he concentrated on his solo career. Here is the list of the most successful tracks released by Harry Styles.

10. 'Golden':

This 2019 release of Styles has been one of his most anticipated releases. This was his fifth single which is to be released from the 'Fine Line' in October 2020. The video has reached 202 million views by far. The song carries a very charming video where Harry is running around the Coast in Italy looking muchly tanned and wearing several of his iconic outfits.

9. 'Adore You':

Another 2019 release 'Adore You' was dropped in December, and the video was pictured in Scotland. During the month of August 2019, Harry was spotted filming for the video. The song attained 50+ million views on YouTube and the number is increasing each day. The small village charm of the video is widely enjoyable. Later on, the 28-year-old singer dropped an extended version

7.45 minutes long. And for this song, he received a Grammy nomination as well.

8. 'Two Ghosts':

For the first, he performed the track on "The Late Late Show with James Corden", with his acoustic guitar. The reaction he received to the performance was overwhelming. Later on, he released the song officially; this was one of the brilliant tracks that he released right after he started making his career choices separately. With 54 million views, this song is a path-breaking venture of this incredible music star.

7. 'Sign of the Times':

This 2017 release was the first release of his solo career, and the single has broken the internet with the supremacy of the song. The previously One Direction star performed this radiant and levitating ballad with all of his musical zest. The unique video of the song was well-appreciated by various people in the music industry. And for this song he has won a Brit and this song has the most number of views on YouTube with over a billion on his musical catalog.

6. 'Sweet Creature':

This folk-infused track is a part of his first solo album released in 2017. The brilliant pop-folk flavors of the song are extremely overwhelming. His unquestionable musicality was been the king of this song. The song has 67 million views, conveying supremely charming narrations in 3.46 of its running minutes.

5. 'Kiwi':

This was the final release of his first album, and he performed this song at the 2017 Victoria's Secret Fashion Show in Shanghai live on the runway. The rock-pop style of this song was a hit instantly. The song has 87 million views indicating the success of his experimental musical venture.

4. 'Lights Up':

'Lights Up' is the first release of his second solo album 'Fine Line'. And with this song, he charted in the 3rd position on the UK singles Chart. The topless harry surrounded by models was widely cherished by his fans. The official video of the song has 112 million views on YouTube.

3. 'Treat People with Kindness':

This retro-flavored track 'Treat People with Kindness' is a brilliantly crafted number that has been in the news for various factors of the song. First, the retro vibes of the song were widely enjoyable. Secondly, the incredible old-school dancing piece with Phoebe Waller-Bridge. This toe-tapping track reached 42 million views within a very short amount of time.

2. 'Watermelon Sugar':

His one of the most successful tracks and not only this track is extremely enticing, but the summer vibes of the track were also released in May 2020. As this is during the time the COVID pandemic was at its peak, the video starts with the note 'dedicated to touching'. The song has 317 million views by far and still counting.

1. 'As It Was':

This 2022 highly anticipated track has swept the internet with numerous reels and TikTok videos. The official video of the song has 333 million views in it, and this by far is his most successful track. His former bandmate Niall Horan said that this is his favorite number of all time. After he embarked upon an indefinite hiatus his first hit was 'Sign of the Times'. From his enigmatic musical ventures to his movie roles and his flamboyant fashion sense, he has been an eminent star who is the first man who appeared solo on the cover of Vogue. He has bagged by far a Grammy, 2 Brits, an American Music Award, and an Ivor Novello Award.

KNOW ALL ABOUT BTS MEMBERS, JUNGKOOK, AND JHOPE'S DATING LIVES AND THEIR IDEAL TYPE!

KPop band, BTS. From gaining worldwide recognition to ruling the American charts of music, the band did it all. If you look closely, you will be able to find ARMY (the fanbase name of BTS) in every little corner of the world.

But the band broke everyone's heart when in June, they announced that they are going on a hiatus. However, the leader of the group, Namjoon, also known as Rap Monster later clarified that the 7 boys are only taking a break to focus on their separate solo careers and are most definitely coming back in the future. While the group's future is up in the air, members are separately shining bright.

Making the most noise with his solo career, JHope is in the news more frequently. He has recently released his first solo album that is mounting high on Billboard charts and also attended the Lollapalooza fest. But how much do you know about his personal and dating life? Does this BTS member have a girlfriend? How many people has he dated in the past? What's his ideal type? Read along to get the answers to these questions.

KPop band, BTS. From gaining worldwide recognition to ruling the American charts of music, the band did it all. If you look closely, you will be able to find ARMY (the fanbase name of BTS) in every little corner of the world. But the band broke everyone's heart when in June, they announced that they are going on a hiatus. However, the leader of the group, Namjoon, also known as Rap Monster later clarified that the 7 boys are only taking a break to focus on their separate solo careers and are most definitely coming back in the future. While the group's future is up in the air, members are separately shining bright.

JHope and his heartbreaking past: JHope, originally known as Jung Ho-Seok, has not only dated in the past but also has a heartbreaking past dating history. The KPop star accepted this fact in one episode of Rookie King. In this episode, he said he would be performing the Dynamic Duo's track, 'Solo'. While listening to it he revealed the fact that it reminded him of his ex-girlfriend. Sharing this story, he stated that the relationship ended back when he was in high school. The end of that relationship was not at all mutual as the girlfriend left Jung Ho-Seok for another man. He further stated how the song played after his ex-girlfriend broke up with him for a different guy.

Even though the reminiscence was heartbreaking and his remembering about the incident is painful, it is quite nice for him to still sing the track. Talking about our exes can be quite aching and hurting for us, so JHope showed bravery here by talking about the incident in front of the whole world. It is also bold of him to be so open about his experience that due to toxicity or fear of losing fanbases many KPop stars do not even accept they are in relationships.

Current dating life and rumors: Apart from that one incident, JHope did not ever mention being with a girl or ever being in another relationship. While he did not confirm anything else, throughout his entire career, he has been linked to several people, both celebrities and non-celebrities. "Outro: Ego", a song by BTS and sung by JHope and after its successful launch, the singer was photographed with a girl. This convinced the ARMYs that this sweet boy has finally found a girlfriend. However, later it was revealed that the photos are not even real and it was a complete rumor.

He has also been linked with the BLACKPINK member Rose in the past. The rumors began when the duo was spotted at the same hotel. Even though they did not share any photos, from their pictures shared on social media, fans were quick to spot them staying at the same hotel. Later it turned out to be an event, a brand lunch that many KPop stars attended.

The ideal type of JHope: In interviews and vlogs, JHope has opened up about his ideal type. He described his ideal partner would be someone who loves to cook, loves to read, and takes care of others. His desirable girlfriend would be someone who loves him and him only. These are pretty normal standard qualities that our sweet, decent boy has, so get ready you might be the next lucky one! While talking about BTS, not mentioning Jungkook's name would be a mistake that someone will not come back from. So let's dive into the dating life of Jeon Jung-kook. Does he have a girlfriend? Has he dated anyone recently? What's his ideal type? Know more about Jungkook's love life by reading along.

Early days: Even though the singer has been linked with a lot of girls in the past, even women from the Korean industry. Jungkook never once confirmed any rumors but there was one time when he opened up about his dating life in the past. In BTS' early variety show called America Hustle Life in a clip of the unreleased cut of episode five, Jungkook himself revealed his past relationship which made him feel being in a relationship and not being in a relationship are the same thing. He went 200 days without meeting his girlfriend before breaking up with her.

Actress Lee Yoo Bi: Social media turned into chaos when reports surfaced that Jungkook and the Korean actress Lee Yoo Bi dating in secret since 2018. A YouTuber made a video pointing out the similarities between these two's social media posts suggesting that they are in a romantic relationship. However, before spiraling into something else, Lee Yoo Bi's label shot down these rumors and claimed the actress didn't even know the singer in real life.

Lee Mijoo: In 2019, the singer was again linked with a tattoo artist, Lee Mijoo and the rumors started when he visited a location in Geojae-do and Lee Mijoo and her other workers were also staying at the same location. After the CCTV footage surfaced on the internet it turned into a frenzy and the artist had to personally address the rumors and deny them.

Jungkook and BLACKPINK's Lisa: The recent linkup that Jungkook faced was with another girl group, BLACKPINK's member Lisa. The rumors started when these two KPop stars were spotted together a few times but it turned out it was all innocent.

The ideal type of Jungkook: Even though the singer is now single, he has also opened up about his ideal type. The singer revealed his ideal type of partner would be someone with a healthy body and would be highly intelligent. A foodie, Jungkook wants his partner to be good at cooking and singing to keep him company. He is also extremely competitive and wants his girlfriend to be competitive as well. So, there might still be hope for you! Or just like us, you can also pray that our two favorite BTS boys can find their ideal matches.

Supriya's contribution to music at such a young age is really appreciated. Thus it can be said that in the future everyone would get the chance to see more work of her on a much larger scale.

Musicians Leaving Twitter As Elon Musk Took Over the Social Media Platform

In recent times, Twitter is the most popular social media site. Now Twitter has turned into a war zone rather than a social media site. It has always been a platform where people could liberally share their opinion about any kind of thing. This fact has even increased after Elon Musk took over the application in October. After that, a lot of musicians even left Twitter.

Elon Musk has invested $44 million to buy the share of this social media site. And as soon as he bought it, he even laid off thousands of employees instantly. Along with that, he has increased the restrictions and banned the accounts of the users. He also started a new 'Twitter Blue' subscription. With this feature, a user can get their accounts verified with a blue checkmark. Users need to pay a price to get the blue mark.

These kinds of changes have made a lot of users unhappy. For that reason, Elon has also tweeted a poll by saying if he should leave the position of CEO or not.

In response, 57% of people voted yes. He tweeted 'I will resign as CEO as soon as I find someone foolish enough to take the job! After that, I will just run the software & servers teams'.

People use this platform to share their personal opinion and after taking over Twitter, many musicians have taken the initiative to show their disgust about the uncertain changes. Artists like blink-182's Tom DeLonge, Testament's Alex Skolnick, and Sebastian Bach have shared their thoughts. Along with them, many other artists have also joined them.

Trent Razor has said 'We don't need the arrogance of the billionaire class to feel like they can just come in and solve everything...Even without him involved, I just find that it has become such a toxic environment. For my mental health, I need to tune out. I don't feel good being there anymore'. In response, Elon has said 'crybaby' to Trent. Jack White made his statement by saying 'So you gave Trump his Twitter platform back. Absolutely disgusting, Elon. That is officially an asshole move. Why don't you be truthful? Tell it like it is...

"You intend to give platforms to known liars and wash your hands like Pontius Pilate and claim no responsibility? Trump was removed from Twitter because he incited violence multiple times, people died and were injured as a result of his lies and his ego, (let alone what his coup did to attempt to destroy democracy and our Capitol)". And along with them, Liz Phair said 'And the band played on... for not much longer. I'm feeling the deck quaking, so I will add my thanks to each and every one of you for the laughs, the learning, the love, the connection and the inspiration. A wonderful experience overall. Timing tbd'.

BLACKPINK'S LISA SETS A NEW RECORD WITH APPLE MUSIC'S MOST SHAZAMED K-POP SONGS OF 2022

Earlier this week, Apple Music revealed its Replay feature that shows the end-of-the-year charts in all sections and regions. Among the charts, it declared the top 25 most Shazamed K-pop songs of 2022 across the globe on this streaming platform.

None other than Lisa from 'BLACKPINK' topped the chart with her chart-busting solo track 'MONEY' which was released in 2021. She is the only South Korean music artist to make this achievement without even releasing a single track in 2022.

The list was soon followed by BTS with the tracks namely, 'Moon', 'Epiphany' and last but not the least, 'Dynamite'. BLACKPINK again took 5th place with their powerful banger 'Pink Venom'. BTS seems to be following soon with tracks, 'Butter' and 'Awake'.

Some of the other artists on Apple Music's most Shazamed K-pop songs of 2022 list were, TWICE, TREASURE, IVE and also Jin of BTS. Quite evidently, the K-pop artists who started their solo endeavors other than the groups are gaining some significant attention from listeners around the world including their global fans.

'Money' is the most successful and creative track from Lisa's debut album titled, 'Lalisa', her original name. The track is considered the longest-charting song by a K-pop soloist on the charts like the UK Singles Chart as well as the US Billboard Hot 100. The song has been certified gold in Portugal and Poland for its popularity among the mass. Released under the label of Interscope, this song is claiming the top position on all charts with a huge stream count and buzz among the listeners.

Digging deep into the Apple Music Top Chart Insights, it shows that The Kid LAROI and Justin Bieber took the no.1 spot with their highly popular collaboration project 'STAY'. It spent more than 51 days atop the Daily Top 100: Global and also stick to its position in 2022 as well. When it comes to the top 100 songs chart, there was a total of 32 hip-hop bangers along with 11 R&B and Soul Projects, 8 Latin tracks, and 6 J-pop tracks. There is a global musical approach in this year's list as 29 tracks from the top 100 are not in English. So, it is safe to say that global listeners are enjoying music regardless of the lingual approach.

1987's Musical Tribute Jimmy Iovine's 'A Very Special Christmas' Is a Memoir

35 years ago on October 12th, 1987 a historical event still inspires the music industry. Record executive and media proprietor Jimmy Iovine in collaboration with A&M Records released an album that is a compilation of 15 songs named 'A Very Special Christmas'. This album has a sorrowful background. In the year 1985, Iovine's father Vincent "Jimmy" Iovine died suddenly. Later, Jimmy was at his sister's house when he decided to make a soulful tribute. He says, "Still, that was the worst day of my life." After this miserable incident, Bruce Springsteen called Iovine, in which he told him, "I'm going to make a Christmas album for my dad". Iovine's initial inspiration was 'A Christmas Gift For You From Phil Spector' which was released on November 22 in 1963. This album consisted of a compilation of 13 songs where Darlene Love, The Ronettes, The Crystals, Bob B. Soxx & the Blue Jeans gave their sweet vocal. Iovine at first didn't care a lot about the profit but also he didn't want to see a dime from the album. He discussed this with his wife Vicki and asked for some help finding charity purposes. He boasted clearly, "I gotta get money out of the equation, so I can make it pure. I want this to be the purest thing I've ever done in my life."

Vicki immediately called her friend Bobby Shriver, and as a coincidence, it turned out that they met together before during a football match where Bobby was the organizer. In order to arrange the funding, the Iovine couple attended a Special Olympics wrestling event. After watching a fake Hulk Hogan, a fake Randy 'Macho Man' Jimmy asked, "Why aren't the real ones here?" Shriver explained that at that time charity wasn't considered a cool thing among celebrities. Jimmy found another reason to make this album which would have made this cool. Finally, Shriver went to A&M Records and acquired their project funding. 'A Very Special Christmas' has 15 distinctive consecutive songs and it took 1986 to 1987 in organizing, recording, re-recording, begging, and cajoling the songs. The name of the songs and singers are,

1. "Santa Clause is Coming to Town" by The Pointer Sisters
2. "Winter Wonderland" by Eurythmics
3. "Do You Hear What I Hear?" by Whitney Houston
4. "Merry Christmas Baby" by Bruce Springsteen and the E Street Band
5. "Have Yourself a Merry Little Christmas" by The Pretenders
6. "I Saw Mommy Kissing Santa Claus" by John Cougar Mellencamp
7. "Gabriel's Message" by Sting
8. "Christmas in Hollis" by Run-D.M.C.
9. "Christmas (Baby Please Come Home)" by U2
10. "Santa Baby" by Madonna
11. "The Little Drummer Boy" by Bob Seger & the Silver Bullet Band
12. "Run Rudolph Run" by Bryan Adams
13. "Back Door Santa" by Bon Jovi
14. "The Coventry Carol" by Alison Moyet
15. "Silent Night" by Stevie Nicks

The iconic album cover was crafted by Keith Haring. This cover consists of an outstanding outline of a mother embracing her child. The head of the A&M record arts department, Jeff Gold suggested it to him. That's how one of the most amazing and everlasting magical artworks of music got its cover which is a mixture of a variety of colors. 'A Very Special Christmas' raised millions of dollars for the Special Olympics after its official release. It is still the 19th best-selling Christmas/holiday album in the United States and according to SoundScan, 2,520,000 copies are sold from March 1991 to the present. Iovine in an interview said, "There's just something about those songs, man. When you sing them, you can't be the Grinch. I did something positive with it. When I see that album, I see one guy, and that's my father. That's all that mattered."

Belieb It Or Not! Justin Bieber Is Going to Close the Deal of His Music Right for Around $200 Million

In the initial days of 2023, the musical world will witness Bieber selling his musical rights to Hipgnosis. The word about this upcoming incident is spreading real quickly. The 'Sorry' singer will close the deal of handing over his publishing interests and recording revenue. The 'Baby' musical phenomenon is very close to sealing the deal to sell his music rights to Blackstone INC.-backed Hipgnosis Songs.

Sources confirmed this yet-to-close deal and the rumors that have been anticipating this occurrence. Neither Justin nor Hipgnosis has commented on this issue. They have maintained an opaque veil around this matter. Even Universal is also upholding its guards on this matter. And the news has mentioned that the deal might be north of 200 million dollars. Yet the actual number is unclear. The singer is going through a rough time, due to his medical condition.

The "Justice" tour, which was originally scheduled to launch in 2020 now has been postponed several times for various reasons. First, it got delayed due to the pandemic and now it was again postponed for his bout with Ramsay Hunt syndrome, a rare virus causing his facial paralysis.

It finally launched in March and it covered most of North America. Yet again the remaining dates of this tour were again postponed for an unspecified time. His fans hope to have the dates shared in 2023.

Amid this, the selling music catalog rights news has swelled to a great extent. The world has speculated some incredible deals of selling their musical rights are the last few years. Some seasoned catalogs, like Genesis and Phil Collins, have closed the deal for 300 million.

Earlier this year, the company closed the deal with Justin Timberlake for 100 million dollars and some younger artists as well. Apart from that, the company has the musical catalog of legendary singer-songwriter Leonard Cohen. His 50 years old classics are still relevant and extremely cherished.

There is another, more economical perspective to this upcoming incident. Back in 2020 and last year when Bob Dylan and Bruce Springsteen sold their musical rights the market peaked effectively.

No solid commitments have been made yet, more news will release as the matter develops.
