UN PREVIEW

Is Bad Bunny's newest song 'Un Preview' about rumored girlfriend and horse girl Kendall Jenner? Well, several fans think so. Anyone familiar with pop culture and is keeping up with the Kardashians knows that Kendall Jenner is rumored to be dating the Puerto Rican rapper and singer-songwriter, Bad Bunny. Now with his new song released, the fans are relating the lyrics and saying it is about his girlfriend, who is also a conveniently certified horse girl, basically cementing their romance. On Monday, the reggaeton sensation released his newest single 'Un Preview' and the internet detectives spared no time in breaking down the lyrics and finding the connection with his lady lover. Social media is blasted with the breakdown of Bad Bunny's lovestruck and sexy lyrics and fans have come up with the theory that this is an ode to Miss Jenner. According to the theories of Bad Bunny fans, this sexy romantic song is for his current partner, supermodel Kendall Jenner who first was linked with the singer in this year's February.

Ed Sheeran Crashes Las Vegas Wedding With His 'Magical' Performance

It can go down on Sheeran's resume from now on that he is a professional wedding crasher who can give that magical touch to a wedding. Recently he posted a video on Instagram where he was seen crashing a wedding just before the couple was about to say 'I Do'. The video occurred at a Las Vegas chapel where the couples exchanged their vows. The couple (revealed to be Jordan and Carter Lindenfield by a local newspaper) were holding hands and was about to say 'I Do'. This is when Ed Sheeran emerged at the wedding with his acoustic guitar and started to perform his yet-to-release track 'Magical', along with a few of his backup singers.

'Magical' is a single from his upcoming album 'Autumn Variations', set to release on the 29th of September 2023. Sheeran sings along with the chorus, "This is how it feels to be in love/ This is magical, this is magical/ Is this how it feels to be in love?/ This is magical, this is magical." The newly wedded pair was completely speechless as asked Sheeran for photos once the performance was over. He did not just crash and sing a song at their wedding, he also signed their wedding certificate as a witness.

While uploading the video on social media he captioned, "Crashed a wedding, this is Magical x".

In the comments section of his post, the newly minted Mrs. Lindenfield wrote, "THANK YOU SO MUCH for the most magical day of our lives ... we'll truly never forget this or the wedding advice you gave us." She also posted about this incident in her feed and she captioned her post, "We're still processing what an unforgettable moment this was! Thank you @teddysphotos for truly making our special day magical."

Last Saturday Ed Sheeran on 9th September Sheeran was set to perform at the Las Vegas' Allegiant Stadium. But he postponed the show and rescheduled it for 28th October. He wrote, "I can't believe I'm typing this but there's been some challenges encountered during the load in of our Vegas show," continuing further, "It's impossible to go forward with the show. I'm so sorry. I know everyone has travelled in for this and I wish I could change it. The gig will be postponed to Saturday, October 28th and all purchased tickets will be valid for that date. I'm so, so sorry x."

BTS' RM Aka Namjoon Shares A Heartfelt Letter On His Birthday And Tasks About New Music

Light some candles and sing Happy Birthday! Our Jonnie turns 29 today! The rapper-songwriter posted a big message on his social media, reflecting on his past 28 years of life. The note was posted on Weverse on September 11 (Monday) where RM talks about his emotional journey which matured over time, the relationship between him and his fans, and exciting new upcoming music.

“It’s my last birthday in my 20s,” he began. “I always feel a little embarrassed. I don’t think it’s a big day for me, but ... I’m so happy and blessed that so many people congratulated me sincerely.” “I want to be a person who can be as honest as possible, but what can the existence between the intangible and tangible of fans and singers be beyond that? Is everything acceptable under the kind ghost of love? I’m still going through the experience where revealing becomes a weakness and honesty hurts, but I’m not sure yet,” he wrote. “I said before that I was sad because it was getting harder to talk. I think that fact is still the same. But I’ve gotten a lot calmer. As I received the sincerity of thinking about receiving it once in my life like a heavy rain, I also realized that I was a temperamentally optimistic person who considered salt and emptiness as cool. Isn’t this a miracle? These days, I’m living with by ‘Why not?’ I’m living by sharing the optimism that was interpreted by the love I received” he continued. Rap Monster The Wildflower singer also shared his views on love stating “Love is something which gives a name to someone, it is something that I think from time to time. Until Kim Namjoon becomes, ‘Kim Namjoon’. He then proceeded to tell fans why he chose music as a platform along with his views on upcoming music, by saying “Yes, Could I show honesty in a better way than in music? It’s a truth everyone is aware of however I feel like it’s not enough. This is why, I sometimes wonder if I became BTS because of this.” He concluded the letter by expressing his feelings and gratitude toward the ARMY saying, “I just wanted to say that I love you with the latest and best version of myself. Although I can not hug each one of you, my feelings go beyond that. No matter which appearance I take, I would not ask for your love. However, I will do my best efforts to reflect on how much love I receive.”

Forever TMB Tay, the Rising Alternate Hip-Hop Artist Makes Brisk Moves With 'COWBOY WALK'

Introducing Forever TMB Tay, an emerging artist from North Carolina who has come up with a brand new musical composition named 'COWBOY WALK'.

Masterfully crafted, the single offers a unique experience of the lyrically woven song that provides a taste of hip-hop and rap along with some earthy country flavors. Just like the title suggests, the song offers an intriguing narrative and a metaphoric representation of life. Walking down the dirt road, cowboy TMB Tay has offered a flawless performance with his groovy deliverance. The musical arrangement in the track is quite organic and breezy which allows the subject matter to grow. Truly, Tay has created a Work of Art.

The track 'COWBOY WALK' has also been released with a music video that, the radio edit of the tracks featuring an animated video where a cowboy could be seen walking down a road. Jake Angel Beats did an amazing job as well in turning this music project into a masterpiece. Like his previous works, this song is also a reflection of his emotions. Tay has gone through a fair share of turmoil in his life. However, it could never overpower the love and passion he had for music and rap. He is greatly inspired by emo rap and alternative rap and that is noticeable in his musical arsenal as well. In 2021, he started his professional music career with the album "Forevermore" which helped him garner a lot of attention. The singles from this album like 'Rebirth', 'Contact', 'Exhale', 'Cutting Ties', etc each of songs provide a potential dose of poignancy and emotionally stricken verses that every listener can relate with. It is amazing to witness, how this young alt-rapper is setting an example in the current hip-hop scene. Tay's musical works helped him channel emotions while allowing the audience to learn to proceed in life. With changes in the family, Tay had to move to Carolina with his mother and music was the escape for him. Exploring his individuality in music and the experiences of life, he becomes Forever TMB Tay, a role model for emerging music artists. The name stands for Forever Try My Best Tay, which is the motivation for him to move forward with his 100%. Working on his second album, Tay is all set to come up with more tracks in the coming days. Follow him on YouTube, Spotify, and Apple Music to know more. The artist can be also found on Instagram for more updates.

Enjoy the Freshness and a Unique Blend of Musical Joy in Wasting May's Debut EP 'Machine'

In the world of music, the alternative music genre is one of the most popular and attractive genres. Mainly popularized by Nirvana, music listeners mainly feel more connected to alternative music as it appears to be more authentic and genuine than commercial and mainstream musical genres. Taking this genre to the next level, the extremely talented duo of singer-songwriter, Wasting May has released their debut EP on digital platforms. Upon release, the EP is gaining a lot of attention from both domestic and international fans and listeners, establishing their talent and hard work. The debut EP, 'Machine' has a total of 5 mind-blowing tracks that will make you a fan as well.

Ethan DeBoard and Evelyn May Nielsen are the two members of the band. Hailing from Orlando, Florida met in 2018 as freshmen in high school. Their common love for m usic and passion for crafting songs brought them together. Both of them grew up with music being the most personal and most intimate form of art which made them extremely passionate since their childhood. Ethan DeBoard has always been keen to learn and play instruments which helped him in the journey of self-learning guitar. Since the age of 15, guitar has been a real dedication of him which then got developed into something serious, something professional. Evelyn May Nielsen on the other hand has been into creative writing as well as music for as long as she can remember. When both of these joined their forces together, the band was born.

Wasting May aspires to create music that emphasizes intentionality and poeticism through its music. At the same time, the band also strives to make music with intimate sounds and lyrics. With a focus on being relatable to its audience yet presenting something fresh, something new every single time, the band has proved that it is here to stay for a long time with this debut album.

What once started on a park bench, soon developed into something real and both artists realized they had achieved something extraordinary with their album. The duo released their first single 'Maureen' in May 2023 and later officially released the EP, 'Machine' on September 1, 2023. The EP, consisting of 'INTRO', 'Body Running', 'Maureen', 'Far Away', and 'Machine', a total of 5 tracks is as impressive as ever. All tracks focus on the feeling of losing something or someone and really touch your soul with its deep, and thoughtful lyrics. The vocals are impeccable and match very well with the alternative compositions. The album is available on Spotify and if you want more updates, follow them on Instagram and TikTok.

Powerhouse of Talent, Getem Jesus Da Prince Treats His Fans With Stormy Soundtrack 'Why Are You On Me'

The gigantic artist from Rochester, New York has taken the internet by storm by dropping his latest fiery music track. Despite having a keen interest in music, Getem Jesus da prince never pursued his career as a musician until he discovered his passion for music. He used to write rhymes on a poetic verge while growing up. The 32-year-old musician has concreted his career in the world of Hip-Hop and R&B after showcasing his profound knowledge and skill in blending intense and uncertain music with ethereal lyricism. His magnificent creations are truly brave and allow no rough edges to go unnoticed.

The looping hook of the powerhouse of talent has managed to captivate the love and appreciation of music enthusiasts across the globe. 'Why Are You On Me' has the magical trait to glue the audience throughout. The music track carries a heavy influence of Sade, Toni Braxton, Aaliyah, French Montana and Drake, delivers a smooth shoulder-swaying vibe. The ear-worm musical wisely uses the rising energy of the vocals as well as offers a soul-rock mix. The fast-paced track beautifully carries the essence of a dreamy.

The individuality and diversity have made the artist so unique. Fans enjoy his charming effort and quirky presentation of music.

Moreover, the instantly awakening track continues to impress the listener by adding a crisp and fresh essence to the traditional and monotonous genre of Hip-Hop. The refreshing sound designs and smoky vibe of the soundtrack emerge at the very right moment which makes the track increasingly likable. The energy of the soundtrack builds throughout but the vocal charm remains to be as it is. The evocative music beats have a hypnotic comfort which seems to be enjoyed by the listeners. The catchy track 'Why Are You On Me' is about two minutes and five seconds long but fans claim that the track force you to groove all along and does not allow to divert mind while listening.

Well, Getem Jesus da prince is smoothly raising his reputation of himself through his notable musical projects. There are other gritty and musically smart soundtracks such as 'Like The Connect Say', 'Illuminati preview', 'Influences', and 'Check out my baby' that have made the fans fall head over heels. The electrifying soundtracks carry a distinct sense of directness of considered words, the works are very present and ensured to be heard by the world. You can listen to all electrifying soundtracks of emerging artists on Spotify.

Learning from Kenny Petty's House Arrest Cardi B Comes to Defend Offset

On Thursday, the Raven haired bombshell Cardi B defended her husband on Twitter (X). She has shared that the social media discourse around this situation is unfair and it is painting the actions of Offset as perpetrating.

Court reporter Meghan Cuniff pointed out that the house arrest order didn't mention either the names of Offset and Cardi B. Cuniff tweeted about it a day before Petty was detained under house arrest. The tweet also mentions that the "probation officer and judge did not need an outside report/complaint to act on" the threats made by the accused.

Afterward, a blogger named Ken Barbie quote-tweeted Cuniff's post and raised an argument that said Petty is responsible for putting himself in trouble for the threats he made "on Instagram and tag[ging] every blog in it." To this post, Cardi B replied, "EXACTLY KEEP ME AND MY MANS OUT YALL FUCKIN MOUTH," in all caps.

Nicki Minaj also addressed this issue and her husband's house arrest situation on Thursday. She offered a cryptic tweet, which contains a GIF of a woman sipping a drink through a straw out of a bottle. According to some fans, this is a direct tweet to aim to address not only this issue but also her long-running rivalry with Cardi B.

In addition to this encrypted GIF, the Tukoh Taka singer also posted a video on Instagram promoting her upcoming episode of her Queen Radio Show. In this episode, she might be seen cozying up to Petty. In the caption of this post, she wrote, "#QueenRADIO in NEW YORK tmrw @ 4 pm est WHO POPPIN OUT?!?!!!!! #HeavyOnIt."

Everyone invested in this incident is eagerly waiting for this episode and is also keen to know whether she will take a direct approach to address this incident live on air. As per the court documents shared by reporter Meghan Cuniff on Twitter on Wednesday, Minaj's husband Kenneth Petty was sentenced to 120 days of house arrest for taking aim at Offset on Instagram Live.

Nicki and Kenneth moved to California in 2019 right before the couple got married, and there he was given a three-year probation and one year of house detention as he failed to register as a sex offender in July 2022. He has been crowned with this title of 'Sex offender' since 1995 after he was convicted of first-degree attempted rape of a 16-year-old girl. For this, he has served four years in prison.

Earlier this month at the MTV VMAs Nick and Cardi performed and a video went viral shortly after that. In that video, Petty is seen calling out Offset while standing on an empty street late at night in New York City. Along with him, there were a few of his crew members. The clip was allegedly shot outside of the hotel where Cardi B and Offset have been staying.

Experience A Heart-Aching Soundtrack 'Leaving Me So Lonely' by Fusion Rock Artist Kevin C. Browne

The very talented musician Kevin C. Browne is assembling all the love from his fans from all over the world for his recently released soundtrack 'Leaving Me So Lonely'. He presented a heartfelt message through the lyrics for his loved one but the music is very engaging. Fans are very happy for such a unique representation and marvelous performance. We recently chatted and this is how it went –

DMR: Hello Mr. Kevin C Browne, Congratulations on the immense success of your latest release 'Leaving Me So Lonely', and thank you for your time. How are you enjoying all the attention?

Kevin: Hello. Thanks very much and thanks for your time. I am very awe struck. I am humbled because I never dreamed this would happen.

DMR: What was your inspiration for creating the masterpiece?

Kevin: This is kind of tough to put in a nutshell because it is a two factor situation in which one factor is family that I am missing so very much and in hopes they will come back in my life and a second factor which was a specific loss of a loved one more so on a romantic involvement that did return after the song was released.

DMR: Would you like to enlighten us about the making of the soundtrack?

Kevin: About 5 weeks ago I was sitting in my easy chair at home which is very near a window and my mind was in a daydream state thinking about lost loves and that empty feeling that comes with it. Just like the first line states "Today I feel so sad, I've been so all alone". Then a tune gets into my head and I start writing and went into my home studio and start putting the pieces together. I don't have an actual backing band but sometimes I have guys that I have that play and tell them what I am looking for and then I also use instruments within my PreSonus DAW to build the sounds and I also play bass guitar.

DMR: What fascinated you to become a singer?

Kevin: I grew up in a musical family and learned about singing in an early age about 6 years of age. I started singing in the church and then in High School chorus gaining lessons. I grew up listening to pop and country music on the radio. I remember watching the Beatles on Ed Sullivan with my parents in 1964 and 1965 and I was fascinated thinking I would like to do that someday. Now here I am. I know I am no Pavarotti but there are some that do enjoy my voice. I do it for the love of music.

DMR: How was your experience working on this project solo?

Kevin: It has been a process that has been taxing and rewarding. I have been working with professionals that have many years of experience on the DAW and I have only been doing it since October 2022 and it is not an easy journey but I am growing in my knowledge and going from an amateur level just getting into a semi-professional level is showing growth.

DMR: Why did you choose the Eclectic style to portray such meaningful words?

Kevin: I was asked recently about how I would categorize myself and I said let me think for a couple of moments and the answer I came back with was I am a Fusion Rock artist with an Eclectic style of writing. I recently received a comment on this song in Repost Exchange this is exact how it was written but i won't disclose who due to privacy. "Kevin I had never heard this style before. I am all about originality. This is very original even down to the instruments selection. Follow your heart". I am exactly doing that and this style has gone both ways not much in between because it is a extreme love or extreme hate because of the style. It is so new to listeners. It fits my personality and I am just looking to reach out too many and bring happiness and joy.

DMR: Fans are very curious about the lyrics of your latest soundtrack, would you like to share why you chose such lyrics?

Kevin: Straight from the heart and that is how I write most of my songs due to a life experience and these were the words that came from my heart to my head.

DMR: Are there any upcoming projects you are working on currently?

Kevin: Yes, i am. One is a new version of one of my early tunes called True Messiah and it was even when I really to coin a phrase a baby in the writing world and working by the seat of my pants. I just made it due to the inspiration that my Lord Jesus wanted me to pen and was trying to put it in the style of how King David would have done it in Psalms in the Bible. Today I am redoing this project into a more modern style. I believe this will reach out much better. It will be called True Messiah Revisit. I also have a couple more but they are just in the concept stage right now. As you can see i am not your typical artist in which I write in different styles these new concepts one is going toward the EDM style in which I haven't named exact yet and another is called I Love The Way You Dream and it will be more romantic and soulful. Also have been asked recently from other artists about doing Collaborations in the future. I am really looking forward to these as a new adventure.

DMR: When are you planning to release your next superb one?

Kevin: My goal is looking to be finalized hopefully within the next 2 weeks. Could be sooner but no guarantee yet.

DMR: If you were not a musician then what would you like to do?

Kevin: I enjoy the game of bowling and I have made many accomplishments within the game but I have my strongest love of music.

DMR: Do you have any plans for a concert tour in the future?

Kevin: That is a good question and I don't have any immediate plans because right now I have only played in small venues but I want to make sure that my music will truly be supportive enough for that. I have only hit the small Independent Billboard on Repost at number 33 with After The Ball Live Revisit. I have gotten better but looking forward to make a splash soon and then consider making bigger tour dates. Right now mostly local.

DMR: Do you have any message for your fans and well-wishers?

Kevin: I do. I am very honored that my fans, followers, listeners and well-wishers are in this together with me and I promise to them just keep hanging in their with me it will get better. If anyone has a dream please don't let it pass you by like me and coming in late but still enjoying this accomplishment. I always love going back to this quote from Casey Kasem. "Keep looking up and reaching for the stars" I grew up hearing that on his radio show American Top Forty every Saturday. That line is my inspiration to making music. Thanks for your time and love to all.

Jennifer Lopez Treats Her Fans With A Surprise Album After Almost A Decade

Jennifer Lopez, the award-winning singer and actress announced her first studio recorded album ‘This Is Me...Now’ with BMG nearly a year ago and it was said that the project would be released in 2023, even though the date of release was not revealed back then.

BMG’s CEO, Thomas Coesfeld called Jennifer Lopez a ‘global superstar artist, entertainer... a phenomenon.’ And shared, ‘We are thrilled to have the opportunity to work with her and her team to release her first album in nearly a decade,’

BMG’s president, Thomas Scherer said, ‘We are both excited and proud to partner with Jennifer Lopez on this long-awaited sequel to ‘This is Me... Then.’ Written with love and through experience, ‘This Is Me...Now’ is uplifting and inspiring. ‘Jenny From The Block’ is back at a point in her career when her message is bigger than ever.’The forthcoming set ‘is an exciting musical trilogy showcasing the triple-threat’s extraordinary talents.’ as stated by the press statement. The entire tracklist of the long-awaited album ‘This Is Me...Now’ has been revealed, they are:

“This Is Me...Now”
 “To Be Yours”
 “Mad in Love”
 “Can’t Get Enough”
 “Rebound”
 “not.going.anywhere.”
 “Dear Ben, Pt. II”
 “Hummingbird”
 “Hearts and Flowers”
 “Broken Like Me”
 “This Time Around”
 “Midnight Trip to Vegas”
 “Greatest Love Story Never Told”

This will be noted as Lopez’s first solo recorded studio album in nine years after the release of A.K.A. on Capital Records in 2014, which was produced by RedOne, marked its position at No. 8 on the Billboard 200 list.

The entire set of 13 songs was produced by Lopez, Roget Chahayed, Jeff Gitelman, and Angel Lopez. Songwriter-producers like Ray Keith, Hitboy, Carter Lang, Ink, Kim, and Yeti were credited for their brilliant contribution. Brandon Riester acted as the A&R of the album. The album was recorded between the years 2022 and 2023. It is shared that J. Lo took time out from her busy schedule to record the album at her home studio in Los Angeles when she was not working for ‘Shotgun Wedding’, ‘Marry Me’, and ‘The Mother and managed to record the whole album. Jennifer consistently put in effort to produce the album. Although the album has not unveiled its release date yet it will be available soon as per the reports. The multi-hyphenate diva has created a buzz in the industry after announcing her upcoming release nine years after inking a partnership with BMG.

PRIYANKA CHOPRA AND NICK JONAS BOTH WERE MISSED AT THE 2023 MTV VMAS

The power couple has left their fans disappointed as they did not show up at the VMAs this year. The Jonas Brothers earned multiple nominations this year at the MTV VMAs. But one of the prime members of the band was not found as Nick could not make it to the award function with his beautiful wife and global star Priyanka, unfortunately. Fans missed seeing the power couple together at the award function.

Well, the phenomenal actress tied the knot with the Pop singer Nick Jonas in December of 2018 and has been on the highlighted news ever since. However, the happy couple is not to be blamed as they now started a new chapter of their lives as parents, They welcomed their daughter Malti in 2022 via surrogacy.

Back in 2019 when the Jonas Brothers managed to claim the MTV Video Music Award for their outstanding performance in the music video 'Sucker' starring the J-Sisters, however, one of the crucial people, Priyanka Chopra was not seen in the crowd while the boys were receiving the award.

The 41-year-old star later explained the reason why she was not present to support his man, 'I was sick that day, which is why I couldn't g o to the VMAs,' continued adding, 'It was supposed to be this fun night where all six of us got together because we never really get to do it that often.'

The global actor and singer shared her feelings as she was really upset, saying, 'I think Nick felt bad that he was there and I was unwell, I was watching it from my couch at home and when they won, just seeing his face I felt like, 'Ugh.' I should have been there, but I was so sick, and I saw it on his face.'

The cameras captured the moment when two of the Jonas Brothers went for a kiss to their beautiful wives and Nick was seen standing awkwardly as his beloved wife was not able to attend the award. Later, she posted a picture on her Instagram, where she edited herself in the viral picture to look like she was hugging her husband, and captioned it saying that she is always with her man. The crowd of the internet found it hilarious and made memes out of it but the legendary star did not shy away to join in the fun. She later shared that she enjoyed embarrassing her husband Nick as she posted the hilarious photo, also said, 'That's the reason why I love technology. It doesn't matter if I was there or not. The picture makes it look like I was and the internet would believe it,'

Olivia Rodrigo Is Going On Tour! The 'Guts World Tour' Has 57 Dates In 2024

The Grammy-winning, multi-platinum young artist Olivia Rodrigo has surprised fans with an exciting announcement. The musician has announced a total of 57 dates for her upcoming 2024 Guts World Tour. The tour dates will take place in major cities and states of North America and Europe which will include places like New York City, Palm Springs, Toronto, California, London, Berlin, Dublin, Los Angeles, etc.

On the 2024 'Guts World Tour' she is also bringing PinkPantheress, Chappell Roan, Remi Wolf, and The Breeders as parts of her supporting acts. For the North American tickets, she asked her fans to register at Ticketmaster to get early access to tickets along with American Express Early Access. Her fans were asked to register before the tickets went on sale to mainly block bots and reduce resale. This initiative will also help people get access to the tickets who actually are her fans and want to go on the tour to see her perform.

The registration ends at 7 p.m. PT/10 p.m. ET/ 10 p.m. BST on Sunday, Sept. 17. After the registration ends, the registered fans will be randomly selected to get a code which will include access to the actual sales for the tour tickets on Wednesday, September 20, and Thursday, September 21.

American Express is going to be the official card for this Olivia Rodrigo album which will bring extra advantages for the card holders. After the registration, American Express cardholders will get early access to the tour dates of the North American wing of the 'Guts World Tour'. They will have the opportunity to enter the American Express Early Access for the North American tour dates.

The card holders can also register until 10 p.m. Sunday, September 13, to get a chance to unlock access to tour tickets along with using their American Express card completely to complete the ticket purchasing process.

The American Express Early Access begins on Wednesday, September 20 at 3 p.m.

The Guts World Tour will have VIP experiences and packages. These VIP ticket experiences will include unlimited access to a VIP bar throughout the entire night along with officially VIP laminate and lanyard and specially designed gift items. The packages come with early entry to the venue, an opportunity to click photos in front of the VIP backdrop, pre-show merch shopping before the general crowd, on-site VIP event staff, and designated check-in.

The average ticket for Olivia's Guts World Tour will cost $49.50-$199.50 in addition to taxes and fees in America. There will also be access to VIP packages along with a limited number of Charity Platinum packages. A portion of the ticket sales will contribute to Fund 4 Good, Olivia Rodrigo's charity. There will also be Silver Star tickets that Olivia will make available at a later date. These Silver Star tickets will be worth $20 tickets (plus taxes and fees) and will be limited in numbers.

LIZZO IS SUED ONCE AGAIN! NOW BY ANOTHER EX-EMPLOYEE OVER HARASSMENT AND BULLYING

Lizzo is sued for the second time in the same year by a former employee. The lawsuit has been filed against the 'Truth Hurts' singer over harassment and bullying allegations. The ex-employee claims that she oversaw an "unsafe, sexually charged workplace culture". The former employee is fashion designer Asha Daniels who has now accused the singer's wardrobe manager of being extremely unprofessional and making fatphobic and racist comments towards black women in the workplace, subjecting them to mockery. Lizzo's name came as a defendant in the lawsuit, however, she was not directly accused of workplace harassment.

In the lawsuit that was filed on Thursday in LA, Asha Daniels said that she was hired by the singer and her company to work on her tour in February 2023 but she immediately found the work environment to be "abusive" and "hostile". The 35-year-old plaintiff also mentioned that the dancers were also "forced to change in and out of their clothes" frequently, that too in the full view of male crew members on the stage. The lawsuit also claims that the male crew members would "lewdly gawk, sneer, and giggle" at the dancers.

In the lawsuit, Daniels accused Amanda Nomura, the wardrobe manager of Lizzo of performing "an offensive stereotypical impression of a black woman" as well as mocking the dancers by referring to them as "fat," "useless" and "dumb". According to the accusations, Nomura also forced Daniels to work 20-hour shifts straight without any breaks. In her lawsuit, Daniels mentions physical abuse as well as he claims Nomura once shoved her into a rack of clothes that caused her to injure her ankle. Along with it, the lawsuit also mentions how a male backstage member once sent a photo of "graphically depicting male genitalia" to a group chat that included more than 30 crew members.

"No one from Lizzo's management team addressed this graphic sexual imagery in the workplace appropriately," the lawsuit claimed. "Instead, Lizzo's management found the image to be comical", it continued. When Lizzo's tour stopped at Amsterdam, Daniels claims in her lawsuit that she saw Nomura along with other supervisors "discussing hiring sex workers for lewd acts, attending sex shows, and buying hard drugs". She also stated that she was persuaded to join them. It did not stop there, when feeling uncomfortable Daniels complained about Nomura, and she was "abruptly fired", even though she was asked afterward to provide further design works.

This lawsuit is similar to another lawsuit that was filed against the singer in August of this year. Later denying these allegations, the singer commented "These sensationalised stories are coming from former employees who have already publicly admitted that they were told their behaviour on tour was inappropriate and unprofessional." Responding to this latest lawsuit, Stefan Friedman, a spokesperson for Lizzo stated that Daniels never had any contact with the singer during her month on the tour, while claiming the accusations were deliberately timed to occur simultaneously with the singer being presented with a "humanitarian award".

Joe Jonas Gave Shoutout To All The Parents In His Show While He Is Divorcing His Partner

Joe Jonas and Sophie Turner have recently filed for divorce as the couple no longer wants to stay together. Later, Sophie filed a lawsuit addressing ‘wrongfully retained’ as Joe is not letting their daughters return to England. On the day, Sophie filed the lawsuit, on the same date Joe had a concert with his brothers Kevin and Nick at Wells Fargo Center in Philadelphia. In this show, Joe Jonas took the time and give a shoutout to all the parents who were present in their show. The singer said ‘This next one is all about being a parent’ as he introduced the song ‘Little Bird’. Currently, Joe is going through a hard time as he is going through the divorce procedures and also fighting for the daughters. After giving the shoutout, he also asked ‘any parents in the house’ and said ‘If you’re trying to have kids, best of luck. We’re rooting for you’.

The couple filed the divorce on the 5th of September and he publicly said that he was having a ‘tough week’. The artist has also added while talking to a fan in the stadium ‘I just want to say, look, if you don’t hear it from these lips, don’t believe it’.

Both Joe and Sophie have said that are amicably ending their relationship as their marriage is ‘irretrievably broken’. To the media, they have confirmed they ‘mutually decided to amicably end’ their marriage of ‘four wonderful years of marriage’. Currently, Sophie has accused his former husband Joe of refusing to give their daughters’ passports. Joe and Sophie are from two different countries and that is why both their daughters have citizenship in both countries.

Previously Joe agreed on their daughters to live in England with their mother. But now, the artist is not willing to give their passports and let them go to the United Kingdom. This has created a huge problem and made their divorce procedure even more complicated.

Previously both parents agreed that the children would live in England and would visit the United States when their father will be performing. This was a ‘temporary arrangement’ but now the whole scenario has changed as Joe has taken a step back from giving the passports. Now Joe has said he would like to have an ‘amicable co-parenting setup’ and he is ‘seeking shared parenting with the kids so that they are raised by both their mother and father, and is of course also OK with the kids being raised both in the U.S. and the U.K’.

Delta Goodrem Shares The Joyous News Of Her Life To The World

Australian singer, 38 could not stop smiling and chose social media to share the major news about her personal life as she got engaged to her 'best friend' Matthew Copley. Fans are creating a buzz over the fantastic news and showering their love and blessings to the happy couple. They have been dating for about six years now. They have kept their relationship private, the singer shared that it was their, 'conscious decision'. The phenomenal singer said in 2018, 'I made a (choice) that I'm not even going to comment 'yes' or 'no' ... I've said nothing for three or four years,'

However, Delta had posted a picture of her holding a glass of wine and kissing her partner in Malta, at a gorgeous sunset. Posted a video as well where she is showing off her sparkling ring, saying, 'My best friend asked me to marry him' with an emoticon of a diamond ring. Celebrity friends and fans including Rebecca Judd, Jess Gomes, and Samantha Jade hurried to congratulate the couple as soon as they dropped the picture. The fans are going wild and leaving joyous comments such as, 'Exciting times! Congratulations guys, wishing you all the happiness,' another one wrote, 'Wishing you both the best for all the following years together,' Goodrem recently lovingly wished her boyfriend on his birthday, called him her 'favourite human' further added, 'Another year around the sun!! On tour, on your birthday! Happy birthday to my best friend and favourite human in the whole wide world.' Tagged her fiancé (former boyfriend) on the post calling him her world, and added, 'I love you!' Copley responds to that post very sweetly as he wrote. 'You're the 🍏 in my 👁️💕💕💕💕'. He is also a major part of his girlfriend's new record label named ATLED Records.

He wrote on his Instagram, 'Getting to play music anywhere is special for me, playing music anywhere with my love is even better, playing music with my love with my family in Malta was so incredible!' Moreover added, 'But yesterday's performance was important for more reasons than one. With an incredible team around us that we could not do any of this without, Delta and I started ATLED records and premiered the first song live on stage!' Expressed his excitement, wrote, 'What a day.'

Canadian Artist Drake is Publicly Attacking Megan Thee Stallion with His Comments

Drake, the Canadian rapper and singer is making an unpleasant scenario by making statements addressing Megan Thee Stallion. Just a week ago, he made some really upsetting comments on Halle Berry. His strange behavior has left everyone quite surprised. The artist is continuing his bizarre behavior to different personas of the industry and that is creating complications among everyone.

Currently, the artist is on his It's All a Blur Tour. In Houston, the artist had a performance and gave a shoutout to a woman in the audience whose name it Meg. And from this, he started making comments on the Grammy-winning artist Megan Thee Stallion.

In a video, it is seen that Drake is stating 'I got to give a shoutout to somebody here who's been with me since the beginning of my career... Her name is Megan... Real H-town love. Shoutout to Meg one time for real—not that Meg, this Meg'. This video went viral on the internet and now making a huge buzz among everyone. Audiences were quite confused as they couldn't understand why the artist said such a thing. No one from the audience was pleased with his statement.

Drake shouts out friend and photographer The Megan during his latest concert:

Even on the social media platform Twitter or X, people have said Drake has been attacking Megan with his disturbing comments and it is quite an assault for Megan. He has also involved Tory Lanez who has been sentenced to 10 years in prison for attempting to shoot Megan.

On social media, many users have made their statements showing support for Meghan Thee Stallion and said 'I hope Megan eat Drake the fk up in a track. Not that Megan, Megan Thee Stallion'. Few have also stated 'megan let's get that drake diss rolling, i have a few ideas' and 'drake is obsessed with megan and it's so embarrassing'. No one was quite sure why Drake is saying such things again and again attacking the singer like this.

Previously, Drake also said in a song addressing Megan getting a shot 'This bh lie 'bout getting shots, but she still a stallion'. Against this statement, Megan also answered on Twitter. Now Drake is about to drop his latest album 'For All The Dogs'. And maybe the artist is doing this intently to grab attention.

TOP 5 SONGS OF SUMMER 2023: A MUSICAL SUMMER SPLASH!

It is time to know the best summer tracks that can embrace your pool party this year. Just like every other year, the pop and hip-hop industry is overwhelmed with multiple new hit projects this summer as well. While the number of artists is increasing, the number of successful female music artists is getting high as well. A better look at the latest summer releases shows that the music projects that created the most buzz among global listeners are crafted by female singers and rappers who have already proved their proficiency in the music industry.

Here are the top 5 summer tracks in 2023, breaking all the top global pop charts.

1. 'get him back!' - Olivia Rodrigo

Keeping her signature essence of young love and heartbreak stories intact, Olivia Rodrigo has come up with a brand new song named 'get him back!'. The single appears in her second studio album 'Guts' which was released this year. Masterfully designed and deftly produced, this song shows how far the singer has come through her musical journey. Her vocal clarity and musical skills seem to have evolved with successful musical releases.

Not only singing but the 'Drivers License' singer has also co-written the track along with Dan Nigro, the reflects her prolific songwriting skills.

Though the song churns out a new-age pop essence, there is a subtle layer of rap rock which makes it sound more enticing and high octane. Based on the subject matter of going back ex for sweet revenge, the song is pretty exciting indeed. Somewhere between cussing and showing love; the banger sets the perfect mood for some chaos after a heart-wrenching summer break up. Produced by Alexander 23 and Ian Kirkpatrick, this masterpiece has already made its place on the top charts.

2. 'Last Time I Saw You' - Nicki Minaj

'Last Time I Saw You' is not just one of the most iconic songs of this summer but also one of the most unique attempts by Nicky Minaj. While this female rapper is well revered for her high-octane energy and boujee persona, this song offers an emotional take on love and relationships. Even the musical arrangement is toned down than her usual track and incorporates indie-inspired instrumentals. After the release of the song, it created much among listeners as well as other artists for Nicky's musical evolution that ranges from high to low and power dynamics to love.

The song appears in the upcoming fifth studio album named 'Pink Friday 2' by this Trinidadian-born rapper. Considering this emotionally charged track as one of the most vulnerable music projects by the artist; fans have showered love through the comments, calling it sad and soothing. Talking about the track Nicky posted on X, "POW! Even tho reliving the memories did feel "sad"...After I wrote recorded & lived w/it, it actually made me pay more attention to the ppl I still DO have & how important it is to cherish them & have fun NOW in the moment; telling them how much u adore them, etc. made me so happy." Well, the fans are happy as well!

3. 'Demons' – Doja Cat

Bring out your inner demon with Doja Cat's

latest musical work 'Demons'. Though it is a summer track, the essence in it offers the ambiance of Halloween. Accompanied by an exciting and spooky music video featuring actress Christina Ricci. Unleashing her demons in this summer, this song is freaking good and it is not required to say that the official music video took it on a whole new level. Directed by Christian Breslauer and Doja herself; it is more of a short horror film. Offering a blend of smart, sinister, and off-key moves; the singer-rapper makes sure her flow is flawless and can meander through the hearts of her fans. In the music video, Doja could be seen performing in a black latex-like suit with a tail and horns; as if came straight out of hell. Ricci's amazing performance and Doja's quirky presence offered an additional layer of creativity.

4. 'Used To Be Young' – Miley Cyrus

Those days are gone when Miley Cyrus used to be a teenage performer; Hanna Montana is now one of the biggest pop stars in the music industry and is in her 30s now. Growing is truly hard and what is harder is to accept all the memories of growing even though how bad they were. Offering an ode to the childhood, the yourself, and the adult self; Miley Cyrus has come up with this latest song 'Used To Be Young'. That shows her progress while offering a reflection of life. In the official music video, the singer-songwriter could be seen singing with an emotional face and moist eyes that make the listeners extend their sob hours.

5. 'Single Soon' – Selena Gomez

'Single Soon' is a stand-alone single by Selena Gomez where the artist could be seen embracing her soon-to-be singlehood. While the subject matter is based on offering closure to a partner, the song is also about celebrating being single rather than crying over it. In the official music video, the singer could be seen enjoying a girls' night out with new dresses, shoes, karaoke, food, pool, and lastly, a good night's sleep. Though, it sounds more like a weekend plan; Selena assures such girls' night will come again; by asking 'Who's Next?'

Is Bad Bunny's New single 'Un Preview' about a rumored romance with Kendall Jenner?

Bad Bunny, the Puerto Rican rapper and singer-songwriter has released a brand new single 'Un Preview' which fans think might be about supermodel Kendall Jenner.

Is Bad Bunny's newest song 'Un Preview' about rumored girlfriend and horse girl Kendall Jenner? Well, several fans think so. Anyone familiar with pop culture and is keeping up with the Kardashians knows that Kendall Jenner is rumored to be dating the Puerto Rican rapper and singer-songwriter, Bad Bunny. Now with his new song released, the fans are relating the lyrics and saying it is about his girlfriend, who is also a conveniently certified horse girl, basically cementing their romance.

On Monday, the reggaetón sensation released his newest single 'Un Preview' and the internet detectives spared no time in breaking down the lyrics and finding the connection with his lady lover. Social media is blasted with the breakdown of Bad Bunny's lovestruck and sexy lyrics and fans have come up with the theory that this is an ode to Miss Jenner.

According to the theories of Bad Bunny fans, this sexy romantic song is for his current partner, supermodel Kendall Jenner who first was linked with the singer in this year's February.

The lyric database Genius has translated the lyrics from Spanish to English and all the hints are pointed towards Jenner. “Baby, I’m not scared / Of trying you and falling in love again” sings the “Un Verano Sin Ti” artist in his newest single. The lyrics tell how the singer is not scared of finding love again and is ready to try a different stage in his life, romantically. This indicates the blooming romance between Kendall and Benito, who are both reportedly dating after recently being single.

The ‘WHERE SHE GOES’ singer then proceeds to sing, “F— it, mami, I’ll follow your lead, ayy / Really crazy in the club, I’ll get close dancing and kiss your neck, ayy / With you I’m on fire, ayy.” in the current track. Later in the song, Bad Bunny refers to the person, his love interest whom he is singing about as his “cowgirl” which fans have yet again linked to Kendall who is known for being a horse-lover.

The couple was also seen at the Hidden Hills Equestrian Center in Bonsall, riding on horseback together.

There are also several hints on the music video of ‘Un Preview’ which features a woman who has posed on a horseback while Bad Bunny was seen riding a pony. According to fans, it refers to Jenner who was last seen lounging on horseback in the images of Stella McCartney’s recent fashion campaign. The Grammy winner also revealed himself as a new “boyfriend” so yes, it might be an official confirmation of the young lovers.

Red Velvet Is All Set To Drop Their Latest Album Later The Year

The K-pop band Red Velvet has finally confirmed their upcoming album release. Their agency SM Entertainment has said the album will be released in November. and in 2011 she worked in ‘Magnetic’. She dropped her debut play under Bionic Ballroom ‘One Piece of Tape’.

Kim Petras has worked with Nicki Minaj in a musical video called ‘Alone’ which got immense success and assembled nineteen million views on YouTube. Her other music tracks are ‘Dirty Things’, ‘Confession’, ‘Deeper’ and ‘All she want is’ etc which managed to attract thousands of plays on YouTube. She was also featured on two singles ‘Flight to Paris’ and ‘Heartbeat’ by DJ Klaas back in 2013, then worked with mul tiple popular producers like The Stereotypes, C.J Abraham, Stephen Dresser Aaron Joseph, and several others.

The radiant pop star has captivated the love and appreciation of music enthusiasts across the globe for her uniquely bold styling and charming presentation. Her latest drop ‘Problématique’ has taken the internet by storm. The song is led by the loaded soundscape of twists and electrifying layers blended with a fiercely passionate and recognizable vocal. A fearlessly diverse approach to music introduced a new path to pop music to the world. The song is about three minutes and three seconds but lasts for a little bit more with the listener. The looping hook has already gathered over twenty-three thousand plays on YouTube. The music track is a superb combination of all subtleties and traits of pop music – quirky lines with an essence of imagery and ideas, and the groovy music composition walking hand in hand. The track is a true example of another sound and lyrical wonder.

SHAKE A LEG WITH THE STORMY MUSIC FUERZA REGIDA-EL JEFE' BY THE SUPER-TALENTED ARTIST SHAKIRA

(‘The Crystal Rose’) and kept her writing going since then. These poems eventually Global star Shakira treats her fans with the sensational music video ‘Fuerza Regida-El Jefe’. Fans can’t hold their excitement and showering their love.

If the question is about setting the stage on fire then none other than the phenomenal singer and songwriter Shakira can take full responsibility for it. Her latest drop ‘Fuerza Regida-El Jefe’ is making a buzz on the internet for its dance-floor-ready beats and radiant lyricism. Born in Barranquilla, she is called the ‘Queen of Latin Music’. The Colombian artist has always been praised and loved for her outstanding performances over the years for her versatile and unique performances. The legendary artist has sold over ninety-five million records and got her the title of best-selling music artist of all time. She has bragged home a handful of awards such as Grammy Awards, five MTV Video Music Awards, twelve Latin Grammy Awards, thirty-nine Billboard Latin Music Awards, seven Billboard Music Awards, and many more. She gained the title of Top Female Latin Artist of the Decade twice.

The magnificent performer was fascinated by music while growing up as she used to see her father writing stories, wrote her first ever poem when she was only four and named it ‘La rose de cristal’ turned into songs over time and wrote her first song ‘Tus gafas oscuras’ (‘Your dark glasses’). The success of the legendary musician was solidified after releasing Spanish albums like ‘Sale el Sol’, ‘El Dorado’ etc. Her fearless attitude to music has impressed her fans over the years.

Numerous popular music albums and singles including ‘Waka Waka (This Time for Africa)’, ‘Hips Don’t Lie’, ‘Whenever, Wherever’, and many more have attracted the attention and appreciation of music enthusiasts around the globe. The electrifying layers of the fiery music video ‘Fuerza Regida-El Jefe’ instantly grabbed the attention of the audience on the internet. The groovy hook has managed to gather near about three million views on YouTube. Fans are leaving their love and appreciation in the comments below. Her immense talent has paved the way to the peak of success over the years with her unique approach and versatile presentation of music. The three-minute music video will force the listener to re-play again and again. The musical wonder is uniquely bold and effortlessly charming. The music video features the gorgeous and talented musician Shakira herself, who is seen performing in the video and spreading her boundless charm, making the music video more engaging.

TIME TO GROOVE WITH THE BEATS OF 'BONGOS' WITH CARDI B AND MEGAN THE STALLION'S DISPLAY OF SLAY

Cardi B and Megan The Stallion's joint venture 'Bongos' sets another example in the music industry while creating some wild buzz. Is it "WAP 2"? Let's find out!

It has been long since 'WAP' created a wild buzz in the music industry and the fans around the world. Since then, the listeners have been wanting another collaboration between the rap queens, Cardi B and Megan Thee Stallion. Fulfilling the dreams of the fans, these two rappers have joined forces for their latest release, 'Bongos'. Carrying the same boujee energy at a higher magnitude along with the Caribbean flavors is truly something that resonates with the masses. However, what requires more attention here is the official music video where both rappers slayed with their presence, or rather performance.

The high-octane energy with dembow-like beats surely sounds right and makes it perfecting its finesse display of twerking. It makes sense now why Cardi B earlier said in a statement, "We worked so hard on the music video. You're gonna see... that's thought put into that." The Production did a great job with a theme that offers a colorful display of Cardi B and Megan performing along with co-dancers. Not sure if the track needs a comparison with the 'WAP' as its own flavors are distinctively wild and sarcastic like they need to be. It is not required to say that there are plenty of bold and unapologetic bars that make you say 'Holy S!'. As the lyrics go "Better chew it up like it's gum / Then wipe your mouth when you're done," you know you ought to listen to them.

There is no strong chorus in the track but the hook of "Bong Bong Bong" definitely offers an impact. Megan and Cardi both match each other's energy and complement each other with their unwavering presence. The lyrics of Megan's verses also offer enjoyable moments like Eat whoever in my way, Ms. Pacman", "Purse so big, had to treat it like a person", and last but not least "My back shots sound like bongos". Somewhere between the sultry representation and the brutally honest bars, the rappers made sure to offer a complete dose of entertainment for all.

'Bongos' might be just another chart-topper banger by the dynamic duo that is fun, bold, and entertaining perhaps in an NSFW way. Evidentially, Cardi B and Megan Thee Stallion are going to offer some tough competition for their fellow rappers. The track premiered on September 8 and already garnered more than 10 million views and numbers are still going up. However, October is Cardi's Birthday month, and the rapper said, "I don't want nothing coming out in the month of October. October is my month."

Travis Kelce Given A Hint On His Rumored Relationship With Taylor Swift

Recently, Taylor Swift has been seen in the football stadium where the artist was cheering for the Kansas City Chiefs. Suddenly showing up in the stadium was quite surprising for everyone. But now there is also a rumor that Travis Kelce and Taylor are dating each other. Now the rumor is becoming true as the footballer Travis has given a hint that he is now the man of Taylor's life. In recent days, Travis came on a podcast named 'New Heights' along with his brother Jason Kelce.

His older brother Jason has said in the podcast that 'We've been avoiding this subject out of respect for your personal life – now we've got to talk about it'. And in response, Travis jokingly said 'My personal life that is not so personal...I did this to myself Jason, I know this'. The conversation didn't end there and Jason said 'Well Trav, how does it feel that Taylor Swift has finally put you on the map?', which made the rumor clearer for all of their fans.

But still now, neither Travis nor Taylor has made anything official or said anything in front of the media. Therefore, their fans are expecting that they are together but it is not confirmed. Their dating rumors are going even more viral as Taylor Swift came for the Sunday match. Along with this, after the match, they were also seen driving off the stadium together. That is why, both of their fans are eagerly waiting for the news to be confirmed. But both of them are not taking any kind of initiative to make it official.

Travis's elder brother Jason has also made a humorous comment by saying 'Travis Kelce has had a lot of big catches in his career – this would be the biggest'. Last weekend the match was held in Arrowhead Stadium. And recently Travis has said that in July he went to the same stadium to attend Swift's Eras Tour.

So, all these incidents are making the rumor true to its core. And that is why, Jason has stated that their rumors were 'one hundred percent true'. Therefore, currently, every fan of these celebrities is very much eager and excited to get the news.

As both of them are now being seen in each other performances then it can be expected that they will make their relationship public very soon. This new 'power couple' is already making a buzz among everyone.

Pop Singer Shakira Accused Of Tax Fraud For The Second Time

The Columbian singer has again been alleged for not paying taxes by the Spanish government. The Barcelona Economic Crimes Prosecutor lodged a complaint against the pop singer and as a result, The court situated in Esplugues de Llobregat opened a second case. New allegations appeared after the Spanish court stated that it began examining the singer's wealth tax and personal income tax in 2018.

A spokesperson of the global star Shakira shared in a statement given to a well-known media, 'defends having always acted in accordance with the law and under the advice of the best tax experts. She is now focused on her life as an artist in Miami and is confident that there will be a favorable resolution of her tax issues.' Continued adding, 'Shakira has always cooperated and abided by the law, demonstrating impeccable conduct as an individual and a taxpayer, and faithfully following the counsel of Price Waterhouse Coopers, a prestigious and globally recognized tax firm.'

RTVE, the Spanish network stated that the singer is conscious of the charges, but her legal team was, 'focused on preparing for the trial for the 2012-14 fiscal years, which will begin on Nov 20,' In the meantime, the 'Hips Don't Lie' hitmaker is going to stand trial in a 13.9 million tax fraud case for not paying them from 2012 to 2014. The prosecutors of Spain also stated that the pop star was living in Spain with a former Spanish soccer player and their two children, therefore she is required to pay the taxes by law. There is an argument on how she diverted her wealth to 'companies domiciled in countries with low taxation and high opacity'.

Although, Shakira stated that she was living in the Bahamas mostly and didn't accept her guilt in the case till now. She also shared in an interview with a famous magazine, 'I am confident that I have enough proof to support my case and that justice will prevail in my favor

The public relations firm said that the Grammy-winner, 'always acted in concordance with the law and on the advice of her financial advisers.' Moreover, the tax authorities of Spain have crushed down football stars including Cristiano Ronaldo and Lionel Messi for not paying the required taxes. Though they were found guilty but somehow managed to avoid staying in prison.

Canadian singer-songwriter and rapper Drake left the audience surprised when he brought out SZA as a feature in his track 'Slime You Out'. This track is the newest single from his eighth studio album, 'For All the Dogs'. The ex-lovers reunited again but this time over just music, giving the audience one of the most popular songs of the year. The song's catchy melody, the rapper's quirky verses, and SZA's beautiful voice quickly grabbed the attention worldwide and became the no. 1 track on the Billboard Hot 100. The song includes samples from "Just Ask Me" by the Soul Superbs and is categorized as an R&B written by SZA, and Drake with the help of other writers.

Sunburn Goa 2023: The Biggest EDM Festival is Returning in December

Sunburn Music Festival is one of the most popular music festivals in Asia. Over the years it has grown and become famous even more. That is why, every year in December, thousands of people visit Goa just to attend the larger-than-life music festival. It is considered the biggest electronic dance music festival. Due to Covid-19, this festival was on hold for some time. But last year, it made a comeback and became bigger than ever. Now the organizers have announced the Sunburn Goa 2023, which is making a huge buzz among all. It is the 19th year of this music festival that is creating excitement among everyone. This year, the music festival will take place on 28th-31st of December. As of now, it is coming to know that the music festival will take place at Vagator beach. In the lineup of the show, there will be various international artists along with Indian artists. In this music festival, many young and emerging artists get opportunities to showcase their talent in front of millions of audiences. If you want to experience this music festival then you have to know a few things before going to the Sunburn Goa 2023. Here are a few things that you need to know-

1.What is the time of the festival? - Each day the festival will start at 2:00 pm. So the audience needs to arrive before 2:00 pm at the venue. If you can't reach within this time then you can miss many activities that you surely don't want to.

2.What is the ticket price of the festival? - The organizers have also announced the ticket price of the festival. For this year, the ticket price of the fanpit will be $45.56, which is INR 3750. But this year, there will be VIP tickets available too. With the VIP tickets, you will get to see the performances from an elevated platform. Not only that but you will also get access to special entry lanes, food, bars, and toilets.

3.What are the methods to book tickets? - According to the report of the organizers, the tickets are now currently live. Thus everyone can book their tickets. All the tickets are available on the BookMyShow application. Anyone can easily book their tickets on this platform and get a ticket for themselves. They have also announced that the early birds will get a 30% discount on the tickets. Along with that, one can also pay 50% ticket price at the time of booking and pay the rest of the amount later.

This year, the organizers are offering the pay later facility for everyone, which would be quite helpful. After booking the tickets for the show, the tickets/ wristbands will be sent directly to your home within 17th-24th December. In addition to that, they are also offering the facility to collect the ticket from the counter at the event venue. But it is also coming to know that the home delivery of the tickets is mandatory this time.

4.What is the lineup of the festival? - The lineup of the artists has still not been announced by the organizers. As of now, it is coming to know that there will be various Indian artists along with international musicians. But they have confirmed that the Australian DJ and producer, Timmy Trumpet will take the stage. Apart from this, they haven't disclosed any other names for the music festival. Each year, this music festival has arranged some amazing lineups, so this year everyone's expectation has gone even higher. Now everyone is eagerly waiting for the announcement which will happen very soon.

5.What is the theme of the festival? - For this year, the theme of the music festival is Enchanted Forest. That is why, all the audiences are getting ready to experience some wild electronic dance music in this Sunburn Goa 2023. Sunburn is a music festival that has never disappointed its audiences. So it can be said that the audiences will get to have a surreal experience this time too.

6.What is the Sunburn merchandise this year? - For the Sunburn Goa 2023, there are merchandise kits too. You can purchase the music festival kit and enjoy the performances even more. In the merchandise kit, there will be a tote bag, Sunburn posters, a flag, three badges, two coasters, and a deck of playing cards. You can purchase this merchandise kit if you want.

Apart from all these, there are a few safety measures that you need to follow while going for the Sunburn Goa 2023.

Dalton Gomez Is Moving On As Ariana Grande Starts Living With Ethan Slater

Entertainment Tonight has come up with an exclusive story that says pop star Ariana Grande is moving on from her separation from her husband Dalton Gomez and is already living together with her rumored love, Ethan Slater. As Grande is determined about the separation, her heartbroken husband from the estranged marriage is moving along with the end of their romance. This confirmation report came after one day of Daily Mail claiming that Grande and Slater are living together.

The source of Daily Mail claimed, "It seems as if Ariana is holding onto Dalton in case things with Ethan don't work. It is just so strange that she is living with Ethan and has not filed documents to end it with Dalton." A source close to the situation between the pop star and her co-star said exclusively to the publication, "Ariana is living with a married man right now while she is still married." The source of Entertainment Tonight did not put a clear statement about the divorce paper plans between Grande and her husband. The source instead shined light on how Dalton Gomez is handling the ending of his two-year marriage to the 'Thank U, Next' singer.

According to the reports, Gomez who is a Los Angeles real estate agent, is "throwing himself into work and working harder than ever since his split from Ariana. He is trying to stay distracted and keep himself busy in positive ways." ET also reports that the real estate agent is also moving on romantically as he "is dating a little bit and a lot of girls are giving Dalton attention. He is not completely over his relationship with Ariana, but he is doing his best to move forward."

Neither Grande nor Gomez confirmed their separation or commented anything on their marriage and this is the same case for Grande and Slater. The new couple of the town, both Grande and Slater are in between divorces from their respective partners. They met on the set of their upcoming movie 'Wicked', and fell in love, however, multiple sources confirmed to People magazine that the romance did not start until after they were separated from their spouses.

A common friend of both Grande and Slater confirmed to People that the relationship between these two is much different than what has been portrayed in the media. They are just trying to navigate their new relationship in private", the source continued. A close family friend also added, "People have tried to question the timeline, [but] the truth is Ariana and Ethan didn't begin seeing each other until after both parties were separated, respectfully." However, the netizens and entire social media are not happy about this blooming romance between Ariana and her co-star.

SINGER CHLÖE BAILEY WAS CAUGHT BLUSHING AFTER REVEALING HER CELEBRITY CRUSH

Chlöe Bailey has got crush on one of the biggest stars in Hollywood and the truth has been revealed at The Dotty Show. The “Have Mercy” singer joined the show this week and caught blushing when she asked about her celebrity crush. That is none but Michael B. Jordan for whom she really feels something. The 25-year-old singer said, “I’ve been saying that in interviews even, like, years ago.”

However, the singer has yet to shoot her shot. When asked whether she has revealed her feelings for Jordan, the singer said, she has not yet. The host Dotty even tried to suggest to the singer that she might be “blocking her blessings” by not reaching out to

Jordan, Chlöe responded “I’m big on blessings, but I’m like, ‘God will bring my blessings to me when they’re supposed to be here.’”

Even after declaring, “I’ll say it. Michael B. Jordan is my celebrity crush,” Chlöe never tried to reach the “Creed” star personally as she said, “I don’t shoot my shot.” However, when she was asked “What is it about Michael B. Jordan?” by the host; she simply failed to answer the question and began to giggle and blush. Whether the blessings are “blocked” or “forced”, it is evident that the Chlöe’s feelings for Jordan can ignite something.

Love without self-love can only bring more questions in mind and Chlöe is now prepared for it. Earlier this year, Bailey appeared in an interview with the Cosmopolitan where she revealed that she has been single “for almost a year”. She believes that this phase has helped her understand the concept of self-love even more, which is very important before offering love to someone else.

She said, “Your girl has just been working on herself, and I wish I was lying. I tell myself, ‘God, I know what you’re doing. You’re sifting out the BS, so I can find good lovin’.” The singer further added, “When you don’t know your worth and when you haven’t mastered the art of loving yourself, you question why others would love you.” When it comes to romantic bonding and relationships, the “Swarm” actress said that she is nothing but “a mush ball” who loves “cuddles. Bailey said, “I love showing my passion through our physical beings.” She further expressed, “I’m such a physical touch and words of affirmation type of girl, and I want someone to be just as madly in love with me as I am with them. I’m one thousand percent a hopeful romantic.”

However, some netizens have a different take on it as they doubt that Bailey is going against the Girl Code as previously, she has been dating Lori Harvey’s ex-fiance, Memphis Depay. Harvey is Jordan’s ex-girlfriend and now this story of having a crush on Jordan offers a new angle to the story. Whether this is just the story of another crush or whether they are going to land on a romantic relationship, is yet to be found out!

TOP 8 MUSIC GAMES FOR KIDS TO ENJOY AND ENGAGE IN MUSICAL ACTIVITIES

Music is considered the food for the soul and it has been proven that kids are better at learning music at their tender age. Music games are great in this case as they work like a medium to teach the young ones about music and different types of genres that prevail in the industry. Musical activities through these games are easy, fun, educational, and enjoyable at the same time. Exposing your child to such activities can help your child find a unique taste or knack for music which can help in the later years whether you consider it as a hobby or a career option.

The good effects of Music for Kids

1. Helps to improve their listening skills and attention to detail
2. Musical education enhances brain development
3. Adds more fun and frolic to the teaching process rather than regular monotonous games

So, if you want your child to learn some music while developing other skills, there are plenty of music games that can help you do that.

1. Make Your Own Music

It is a cool idea to let the young brains learn how to compose their own music. While it sounds a bit trick, the game is pretty easy and lets your children have all the fun they can get.

How to Play

Create different symbols and denote them with different sounds for easy understanding. For example, a circle can mean a clap, or a square can mean stomp with foot, etc.

Utilize the symbols and offer instructions clearly to children to let them compose

Let them display their composition through symbols and ask others to follow the 'notes', who knows you might come up with the next masterpiece

2. Musical Masterpiece - This game is more of an amalgamation of art or drawing with music that allows children to learn both in a fun and enjoyable way.

How to Play

Give the players a sheet of paper and colors Ask them to draw only when the music is playing

When the music stops, each player must stop drawing and move to the next desk

As a result, everyone gets a chance to draw on others' work; offering a cohesive mentality of teamwork and appreciating others' artwork

3. Karaoke Competition - This is a simple fun game for everyone to enjoy whether with family, friends, and students. Karaoke offers the pure joy of singing without the fear of getting judged.

How to Play

Write down the names of different songs on small pieces of paper and put them in a jar

Divide the players into teams

Each member of the team has to draw a piece of paper and sing the song that is written on the paper

4. Musical Hide & Seek - Just like Hide & Seek but with greater emphasis on music and sounds. It is mainly played with different objects and greatly improves listening skills among kids.

How to Play

Find a tool or toy that makes sound or plays a tune

Hide the object somewhere and let your children find it

Make the task more complicated each time that works like a puzzle

5. What's That Sound? - Do you remember the feeling when you first heard a guitar? You probably do not. Childhood is the best time to learn about different music and instruments and how they sound. This game can help in the process.

How to Play

Play the sounds of different instruments and ask them whether they know it

You can do the same with music by playing a song and asking them how many different kinds of musical instruments are used in it

6. Music Trivia

This is actually a great game for educating children about music and sharpening their knowledge about the music industry. It is filled with numerous genres and artists. A quiz on music is perhaps the best way to engage a larger group of children through a common activity.

How to Play

You can play this with individual participants or in teams

Fix a set of questions based on popular music and legendary artists

You can also use this game for revising music lessons and encourage them to brush their knowledge of music

7. Spin the Mic

Just like Spin the Bottle or Truth and Dare; spin is just another variation based on microphone and music. It is a blend of Karaoke and Trivia where things can get more fun and interactive.

How to Play

Let the kids sit in a circle and put a working microphone in the center

Get anyone to spin the mic whoever the mic points at the end of spinning has to sing or participate in a musical activity offered by the spinner

You can also use elimination and addition to include more players and keep it dynamic

8. Antakshari

It is one of the most popular music games in India and the Middle East that can even captivate the elders of all ages. The games follow a set of rules and are mainly based on the movie tracks and regional tracks.

How to Play

Establish a clear set of rules and divide the players into different groups

The moderator picks a consonant and the first team has to sing a song that starts with the same letter

The loop continues as the second team has to sing a song that starts with the first's team's ending consonant of the word where they stopped singing. Each team has to sing at least 2-3 lines

Other than the aforementioned ones, you can also engage children in games like Party Island, Strictly Come Dancing, Musical Limbo, Dance Like an animal, Mood Music, and many different ones. All of these games are enjoyable to play and guess what? Not just your children but you can also enjoy the games yourself.

Lil Wayne's 'Brand New' Lyrics Had Eminem Amazed

Everything started on the night of 28th September; this was the day Lil Wayne's 'Brand New' was creating formidable results amongst the world of Hip-hop fans. One of the greatest rappers of the time, Eminem writes on X, formerly known as Twitter, to let his audience know how awestruck he is on witnessing this Lil Wayne release.

Slim Shady wrote, "Bro Wayne just said 'got a bunch of zeros like a bag of new funyuns!!'. The Detroit rap god also has confessed that he was slightly envious that he was not the one to come up with these lines, and he added, "FK why didn't I think of that????"

The line he was referring to in his post was from Wayne's latest track 'Brand New'. And the line goes like, "Yeah, brand new money, brand new hundreds/Got a bunch of zeros like a bag of new Funyuns." Another line from the song with a similar sort of vibe, was, "Brand new phone with a brand new number/On some brand new sh!t, need a brand new plumber."

On the 29th of September, Lil Wayne released more material including his new "Tha Fix Before Tha VI" mixtape. This mixtape has 10 incredible songs featuring Jon Batiste, Cool & Dre, Fousheé, and Euro. He announced an upcoming prequel of his "Tha Carter VI" album. Everyone including Lil Wayne and his team is hoping Eminem also reviews these songs as well. The release date of this album hasn't been confirmed yet.

'Brand New' is part of his Cali rappers' collab project for 'Hit Me When U Leave The Klub'. The entire playlist is available now. Eminem and Wayne have a protracted past of mutual admiration and respect. They both teamed up for 'Forever' over a decade ago, and this mutual appreciation has been continuing ever since. The duo has collaborated for ventures like 'No Love' and 'Drop the World'. And their ventures have gone 5X platinum with time.

In 2020, Marshall Mathers was featured on Wayne's "Young Money Radio". In the show, they both chatted about their individual creative process of making a song, writing rhymes, and various other aspects of this creative field. Yet, Eminem's fans have not yet recovered from the awestruck nature of his last year's album, 'Curtain Call 2'.

The Pop Star Assures Her Fans That The Knives Are Fake In The 'Dancing Video'

Britney Spears, the American singer frightened her fans unconsciously by posting a video where she is seen dancing with two kitchen knives. 'Baby One More Time' singer mentioned that she was heavily influenced by the 'Hips Don't Lie' singer's electrifying performance at the MTV VMAs where pop star Shakira has been seen performing on her biggest hits and flourishing knives. Spears spilled out the reason repeatedly, writing, 'I'm trying to imitate one of my favorite performers Shakira,' Worthy of the Ventura County Sheriff's Office, Captain Dean stated, 'Somebody close to Britney had seen the video posted on social media, where she's dancing and twirling with knives in her hands, and they were really concerned for her mental well-being.'

The cops talked to the security team of the 'Gimme More' singer through the intercom and they were assured that the singer was

'fine' and there was nothing to worry about. One policeman shared, 'They didn't want to let the officer in to see her physically.'

The 'MIND YOUR BUSINESS' singer later shared to her Instagram and requested her fans not to worry after her fans got concerned seeing the video of her dancing with knives.

She additionally wrote, 'I know I spooked everyone with the last post, but these are fake knives that my team rented from Hand Prop shop in LA.' Alongside shared, 'These are not real knives. No one needs to worry or call the police.'

I'm trying to imitate one of my favourite performers Shakira ... a performance I was inspired by !!! Cheers to us bad girls who aren't afraid to push boundaries and take risks!'

However, the police authorities visited earlier in January Spears at home for a wellness check when she deleted her account on Instagram.

Later, she stated on social media that the step was absolutely 'uncalled for', also explained the reason behind deleting her account, said, 'there were too many people saying I looked like an idiot dancing and that I looked crazy' and continued adding, 'Honestly I was doing my best but it disturbed me to see people freely talk about it on TV.'

In addition to that, Spears shared on Twitter, 'As everyone knows the police were called to my home based on some prank phone calls, I love and adore my fans but this time things went a little too far and my privacy was invaded.'

Well, the 'Circus' artist is all set to release her most-awaited memoir 'The Woman in Me' which is reportedly scheduled to arrive in October, about two years of a judge terminating her long conservatorship.

Young Rapper Ice Spice Felt The Heat When Being Called On Her 'Tragic' Cooking Skills

The 23-year-old rapper got mocked as she was showing off her cooking skills on a breezy Sunday morning of 17th September. The 'Munch' rapper is seen preparing scrambled eggs with eggs, raw onions, spinach and tomatoes. Though, while cooking she expressed her doubts, she added cheese and pepper and admitted that it could taste 'really nasty' as it was her first attempt at cooking. After making the hilarious food she sounded not so happy about her creation. She also added saying while mixing all the ingredients, 'It should look like this,' pls delete ??????

Well, the 'Princess Diana' rapper's poor culinary skills are particularly hysterical as food has been a part of her career from the very beginning of her career. She got her fame with a song named 'Munch', though it is something about eating. Moreover, her latest soundtrack is called 'Deli'. Also, fans do not forget to compare her new Ice Spice Munchkin Drink which was launched on the 13th of September. Ice Spice is one of the flaming names in the rap game currently. She worked with Nicki Minaj on a song for the Barbie movie.

The recipe went viral fast and fans are not shying away from mocking the poor culinary skills of their favorite rapper. One commented below the post, 'looks TRAGIC', others offered her some cooking tips mockingly, saying, 'Fingers crossed [that] next time, she sautés the onions before adding tomatoes.' While the other one reposted her post on Twitter and captioned, 'Well, at least she's eating her spinach.' Another critic commented, 'got my stomach beatboxing,'.

However, the rapper is taking in the trolling with not-so-heavy heart as she also joined in the fun and remained positive as she reciprocated to some of the hilarious trolls. She playfully asked one of the trolls to delete her post with some dizzy and silly emoticons.

Black shared his feelings while accepting the award, 'This only happens because so many people come together and get behind a guy or girl and make things happen for them.'

MAN BEHIND JAWAN'S SMASHING ALBUM: ANIRUDH RAVICHANDER AND HIS OTHER WORKS!

Currently, the biggest film in India is Jawan which is killing the box office not only in this country but overseas. A lot of South Indian stars including the female lead in the movie Nayanthara made her Bollywood debut with this project. It is also the first Hindi project of Anirudh Ravichander, the music composer of Jawan. The film's album is currently trending worldwide with 'Chaleya', the promiscuous love track, and 'Not Ramaiya Vastavaiya', the ultimate dance number with the film's background music.

If you are already impressed by Ravichander's compositions, wait till you discover that the young superstar has other works equally magnificent in the south Indian industry. So, let's move on to the records of Anirudh's career and hopefully by the end of this read, you will have an extended playlist and a new-found appreciation for this 32-year-old musician.

Jawan magic! An Anirudh musical

One of the reasons why Jawan is performing so well in the worldwide box office is definitely the captivating soundscore of the movie. Anirudh's magic clearly showed when people started dancing in the theatre on 'Zinda Banda'. The palpable energy of the track sets the stage for the incoming storm.

He then carried the album with 'Chaleya' which takes the audience on a rollercoaster ride of romance and love.

With the high and low notes shining lights of both Arijit Singh and Shilpa Rao's voices, Anirudh creates a perfect background ballad for your romantic evenings.

Anirudh's magic once again reflected through the romantic and dance items, 'Faratta' and 'Not Ramaiya Vastavaiya' which successfully amped up the audiences and the storyline. Then he finishes the album with the most soul-touching 'AararaariRaaro', a heartwarming inflexion that has minimal yet effective musical arrangements, an Anirudh signature.

Since it is impossible to ignore the fantastic music of Jawan, here are some of the other magnificent works of Anirudh Ravichander.

'Why this Kolaveri Di?' - 3

The talented artist made his debut in the south industry in 2012 with Dhanush's movie '3'. This movie starred Dhanush and was the directorial debut project of his cousin Aishwarya R. Dhanush. While he was still completing his graduation, Anirudh had given background scores for several short films made by Aishwarya which convinced her to hire him for this project. Even if you do not follow South Indian films, you must have heard the big hit 'Why this Kolaveri Di?'. Well, the track was from this movie, composed by the one and only Anirudh Ravichander and sung by Dhanush.

'Kaavaalaa' - Jailer

Another track that is currently taking social media by storm is 'Kaavaalaa' from the latest Rajinikanth hit, 'Jailer'. The catchy beats and enthusiastic composition of the track are a big hit on Facebook and Instagram reels where Tamannah dancing with the hook step is going viral. The song was sung by Shilpa Rao, Arunraja Kamaraj, and Anirudh Ravichander who composed the track as well. The song became an instant hit across multiple languages like Telugu, Malayalam, Kannada, and Hindi.

'PathalaPathala' - Vikram

Now that we are getting into it, one thing is becoming clearer than ever, there is no comparison when it comes to composing dance numbers, Anirudh is an undefeated king. 'PathalaPathala' from the latest Kamal Hasan hit movie 'Vikram' is one track that is played on every occasion in South India. The fresh track added so much to the movie and after receiving millions of views on the internet, is one of those tracks that keeps the movie still relevant.

'Vaathi Coming' - Master - When we are talking about viral tracks, Anirudh has a habit of popping up now and then. 'Vaathi Coming' is one of the most viral songs of recent times and is from the movie 'Master'. Starring Thalapathy Vijay, the track is composed by Anirudh who collaborated with Gana Balachander for the singing.

'Thenmozhi' - Thiruchitrambalam - Anirudh Ravichander does not only deliver massy, upbeat tracks but is equally capable of setting your mood with romantic love ballads. If 'Chaleya' from Jawan is not enough proof for you, 'Thenmozhi' from the Dhanush stard 'Thiruchitrambalam' will surely make you fall in love with Ravichander's composition. This track is a typical Anirudh rendition of love, which is romantic and soulful at the same time. The song also does a great job of making the audience feel swoon-worthy and completely in love with the characters.

'Needa Padhadhani' - Jersey - This is one of the most crucial tracks of the movie 'Jersey' which is composed by Ravichander and sung by Darshan Raval. Released in 2019, the song comes in a very important part of the movie which helps the audience see the actor in a difficult time of his life, reflecting on the motivation that he gets to keep going.

'Naa Ready' - Leo - In case you haven't had enough already, we have another social media favorite for you. 'Naa Ready' is a track from LEO, starring Thalapathy Vijay that presents the actor in his full glory. The composition of the track with upbeat musicality and energetic beats will surely make you want to get up and show off those moves on the dance floor.

'Marana Mass' - Petta - One thing that Anirudh Ravichander is quite capable of and probably is the master of is how to present his heroes in a heroic light with his music compositions. The same Anirudh magic displays on screen when 'Marana Mass' plays which marks the bombastic entry of Rajnikanth. The song is sung by Anirudh Ravichander, and S.P. Balasubrahmanyam, which displays the magic correctly on screen.

All of Ravichander's albums have a unique combination of tracks that contribute so much to the movie and the characters, displaying his talent and charisma. After the success of Jawan, the world cannot truly wait for another Anirudh musical!

Rejection Alert: ICC Gets Roasted For World Cup 2023 Anthem

On Wednesday the International Cricket Council (ICC) launched their official anthem of World Cup 2023. The World Cup is set to begin on the 5th of October but the anthem, 'Dil Jashn Bole', for this occasion has been completely ejected by the crowd. The song features Bollywood actor Ranveer Singh along with various other Popular YouTube faces. The music composer of this number is Pritam, one of the most popular music composers in the Hindi movie industry. The anthem also features the choreographer, Dhanashree Verma, who is also the wife of the Indian cricket team's leg-spinner Yuzvendra Chahal.

The '83' star Ranveer Singh shared about being on this video, he said, "As a part of the Star Sports family and a die-hard cricket fan, being part of this anthem launch for the ICC Men's Cricket World Cup 2023 is truly an honor. It's a celebration of the sport we all love."

Music composer Pritam shared that the motif of the song openly welcomes the world to celebrate this cricket extravaganza. He said, "Cricket is India's greatest passion, and composing 'Dil Jashn Bole' for the biggest World Cup ever, has been a tremendous honor for me. This song is not just for 1.4 billion Indian fans but for the whole world to come to India and be a part of the biggest celebration ever."

On the launch of the song, ICC said, "The music video encapsulates the emotions of the global fan community, uniting nations and fans across different cultures. The fan-centric anthem represents an epic celebration, designed to resonate with hearts and ignite spirits.

The anthem embodies the World Cup combining the unique Indian passion for cricket with the national pride of all competing nations to create an unrivalled global sporting occasion."

But all in vain, despite every effort to make this number a hit, fan has chosen to right away dismiss this number. Not just that, ICC has also been heavily criticized for not being able to offer something that can be in sync with the pulse of every cricket lover.

The previous editions of World Cup songs like the 2011 song 'De Ghumake' by Shankar Mahadevan were a massive hit.
