'GREEDY'

The talented Canadian singer and dancer Tate McRae has showcased her brilliant talent with the latest soundtrack 'greedy'. The profound artist has given an example of self-love and an immense amount of confidence at the same. Her breathtaking way of presentation has made it even more attractive and charming. In addition to that, the hypnotic beats and fascinating tunes have churned out more flavors to the sound design. McRae sang with the chorus 'I would want myself / Baby, please believe me / I'll put you through hell / Just to know me / So sure of yourself / Baby, don't get greedy / That sh*t won't end well'. Her innovative way of presentation has made the soundtrack even more appealing to all the listeners. While talking about the track, the artist has said 'I'm beyond excited to drop 'greedy' and share this new chapter of my music with the world'. She has also said 'I wrote 'greedy' about having the confidence to know what you want. I feel like this is the first time where people are seeing a feistier and more playful side of me. This song is so unexpected, and I cannot wait for everyone to hear it'.

Olivia Rodrigo Is Dating 'Enola Holmes' Actor Louis Partridge

Olivia Rodrigo is reportedly dating actor Louis and it is sparking a buzz among the fans. The 'Good 4 U' singer who is well revered for offering charming pop tracks about exes, has finally 'fallen for' British actor Louis Partridge who performed in the web series, 'Enola Holmes'. Both of them are 20 years old currently.

According to a source, Olivia was visiting England to meet her dear friend Conan Gray, but it was perhaps Louis who she really came to see. They met through their mutual friends earlier this year and the bonding seems to be developing with every passing day. Olivia spent a few days in the capital with them but she could be seen with Louis most of the time. They had dinner together and even hit the club on a fine Friday night just like most couples do.

Louis Partridge is best known for starring as Lord Tewkesbury in Netflix's hit 'Enola Holmes' franchise. He acted there alongside Milly Bobby Brown 19, from 'Stranger Things'. Not just acting, but Louis has also recently found a job as the front model for a campaign for Prada.

Previously, Rodrigo was dating actor and singer Joshua Bassett, 22, but it did not work out. However, their break up inspired the hit tracks by Rodrigo such as 'Drivers License', and the hit album 'Sour'.

Not only Joshua but the singer also had a relationship with producer Adam Faze, 24, and 27-year-old DJ Zack Bia, with whom she broke up last summer.

All the failed romances of Rodrigo have only channelized more musical creation. After the breakup, Olivia came up with a chart-topping album, titled 'Guts'. The album was released back in September and offered a single titled 'Vampire' in reference to a man who left Olivia sing "bleeding me dry".

Despite of her confrontation of the breakups through her tracks, the singer never seems to clearly talk about it. In July, Olivia Told Vogue, "I don't know! I don't kiss and tell" when she was asked whether she is single or not.

The singer further added, "It's an interesting thing to think about. I understand it. I could sit here and be like, 'I don't get why people do that,' but I do it so often." Let's see if the chemistry with Louis comes with something different!

BLACKPINK's Singer Lisa's Account On Weibo Has Been Banned

BLACKPINK'S Lisa faced a problem recently when accessing her personal account on Weibo. It is a Chinese microblogging application similar to Twitter, Facebook, and Instagram. Her profile mysteriously disappeared from the platform and everyone was quite shocked after that. All of her fans received a notification that said the account could not be viewed as it violated the laws and regulations of Weibo.

The sudden disappearance has surprised everyone to the core. Currently, there is a controversy happening in the K-pop music industry. Many assume that Lisa's participation in the Crazy Horse show can be the cause of it. The artist also did a cabaret performance on the show, which has become a huge issue. Other than her, many other Chinese celebrities who are also facing some problems. This whole scenario is quite surprising for everyone. There are rumors that all those artists will be blacklisted from the platform. This kind of action can make a huge impact on the entertainment industry.

Lisa is the very first K-pop artist who has gotten the chance to perform in the Crazy Horse show. This is a cabaret art theatre, which is in Paris, France. On this show, all the BLACKPINK groupmates were also present. But they didn't face any kind of problem like Lisa, because they weren't a part of the dance performance.

I just noticed news on Weibo. I wonder if any of my fans know a K-pop female celebrity named Lisa. She participated in the Crazy Horse show in France a few months ago and has now been banned on Weibo in China.

This incident is more shocking because the event was not in China, and there was a strict no-recording policy.

So she didn't expect this kind of consequence where she would be banned in that particular country. From this, it can be understood that it would be quite difficult for her to sell her music in that specific country. A single performance is making a huge impact on her music career.

Many fans have also seen various Chinese actresses present on the show. Eventually, all of their profile got deleted from that platform. It is becoming a huge problem for the artists.

They don't have any kind of freedom to perform. Therefore, it can be a bigger issue for their career. The band BLACKPINK has a solid fanbase in China, which is a matter of concern right now. All the other group members can have problems releasing their music in China.

Joe Lington Brings a Brand New R&B Musical Appetizer, Titled 'WTPA'

Some music artists are able to channel a smooth flow of energy to listeners through their creations and Joe is perhaps one of the top of them. This talented musical persona is well revered as Joe Lington who has made some significant progress in the music industry with nothing but his sheer skills, talent, and individuality. The artist has come up with a brand new music EP, titled 'WTPA'. It offers a total of 3 chart-busting tracks and each of them is deftly produced to churn out the authentic essence of R&B music. Building a bridge between the past and the present; listeners can find retro tinges along with modern inputs.

For this latest project, Joe has joined forces with Isabel Izzy and the collaboration sounds quite groovy and captivating. They have paired for the title track 'WTPA' where both of them offered an enthralling musical experience. WTPA is perhaps the short form of 'where the party at' which is heavily used in the chorus. But, Joe only made it sound better without making it overwhelming. The next track, 'Pinkeen' carries a metaphoric expression where the artist talks about the woman and her struggling relationships. She tends to follow the same pattern even though it breaks her as well as her partners. The storytelling in the tracks is mesmerizing and highly relatable which makes it even more engaging. Along with Joe's slumberous tone and delivery, the song hits hard and stirs the listeners from the inside.

Last but not least, there is 'Hypocrisy' that offers an essence of French R&B. Charming and soothing; this song deserves to stay in every listener's playlist. Evidently, Joe Lington has done an incredible job in crafting this EP, but is it only the beginning? The latest EP 'WTPA' offers a preview of his upcoming projects as the artist is all set to drop another LP in 2024. He has already started working on the project and the recording is going at full throttle.

Joe said that the upcoming album's name will be 'Pinkeen' as this track means a lot to him. This LP will be housing the three tracks offered in the EP; like a seamless groove of R&B and soul. Evidently, Joe is progressing on his musical journey with rocket fuel and there is no stopping now.

Follow Joe on Spotify, YouTube, Apple Music, and SoundCloud to have a taste of his music. He is also available on Facebook, Instagram and Twitter.

SZA Makes a Big Win at the Soul Train Awards 2023

Soul Train Awards 2023 is perhaps one of the best events for SZA after winning multiple awards for her hit creation 'Snooze'. This 34-year-old talented singer has won the award for Song of the Year and The Ashford and Simpson Songwriter's Award for super-hit 'Snooze' along with Best R'n'B/Soul Female Artist and the Album of the Year for 'SOS'.

It was a tough competition for the singer since she had to beat Burna Boy, Ari Lennox, Coco Jones, and all the nominated artists in the category. Janelle Monáe was nominated for the album 'The Age of Pleasure' and Ari Lennox for 'Age/Sex/Location'. Similarly, Summer Walker was competing with 'Clear 2: Soft Life' EP, Babyface with 'Girls Night Out' (Extended), Victoria Monét with 'Jaguar II' and lastly, Coco Jones with 'What I Didn't Tell You (Deluxe)'.

SZA is leading the nomination for the upcoming event of 2024 as well and there's no doubt that she is about to climb more ladders. However, some X (formerly known as Twitter) users called her out for not commenting on the news. To which the artist explained that she felt "anxiety" kicking in when she tried to think of a way to express her gratitude to everyone.

This is not the first time for SZA to break some record at an award ceremony as previously, she left "very shook" and "overwhelmed" after getting nine Grammy nods. Soul Train Awards 2023 took place in Los Angeles on Sunday that celebrates the best in soul, R'n'B, and Hip-Hop music of the year. The event was hosted by Keke Palmer. Previously, she won a Grammy in 2022 for the hit collaboration project with Doja Cat, 'Kiss Me More'. However, this chart-topper artist said that she is not motivated by the accolades.

Dua Lipa Shared A Cryptic Teaser For Her Upcoming Song 'Houdini'

The pop star Dua Lipa is giving a hint of her latest music by sharing a teaser on the social media platform. All of her fans were eagerly waiting for her new music release. Recently, the artist dropped the teaser where she was seen in bright red dyed hair and she is closing her mouth with a key-shaped gold pendant. Along with that, in the video, there were a few flashes of some Polaroids. At the end, some numbers are also shown on the screen that says 4, 8, 9, 9, 14, 15, and 21.

This short teaser has created a buzz among everyone. People are assuming that a new era of her singing is going to come. In the video, a piece of background music also came to hear that says 'Tell me all the ways you need me'. From this, it can be said that it is her upcoming soundtrack, which everyone will get to listen to very soon.

Dua Lipa is coming up with a new musical project after a long time. She dropped her last album 'Future Nostalgia' three years ago. That is why, all of her fans were waiting for a long time. This album was her last solo project, but she contributed a few pieces in the meantime. After her record-breaking creation 'Levitating', she took part in various projects like 'Cold Heart' with Elton John, 'Sweetest Pie' with Megan Thee Stallion, and the Barbie movie soundtrack 'Dance The Night'.

From the teaser and the digits shown in the video, everyone has concluded to the code 'Houdini'. Harry Houdini is a famous magician who passed away on the same date as the teaser release. Along with that, the gold key is another reference to Houdini, because during the magic shows, his wife Bess used to pass the key of the handcuff. That is why, it is being considered another hint for the soundtrack.

Previously, Dua has also commented about her third album and said 'The album is different – it's still pop but it's different sonically, and there's more of a lyrical theme. If I told you the title, everything would make sense – but I think we'll just have to wait'. Therefore, everyone is waiting for the album to drop and bring a wave to the pop music industry.

SELENA GOMEZ STATED ABOUT DELETION OF HER INSTAGRAM ACCOUNT DUE TO EXCESSIVE TROLLING

On Thursday, Selena Gomez announced that she is going to delete her Instagram handle as she is receiving many trolls. But just a few times later, the singer and actor deleted the post and kept her Instagram account. She is being trolled after her comment on the Israel-Palestine conflict. The artist shared a story regarding account deletion that says 'I am taking a break and deleting my Instagram. I'm done. I do not support any of what's going on'.

For two days, she experienced a huge amount of trolling. She posted 'Because my heart breaks to see all the horror, hate, violence and terror that's going on in the world'. Selena also added 'People being tortured and killed or any act of hate towards any one group is horrific'. In this post, she said 'All people' need protection 'especially children' and 'violence needs to be stopped for good'.

In addition to that, she also said 'I'm sorry if my words will never be enough for everyone or a hashtag... I just can't stand by innocent people getting hurt. That's what makes me sick. I wish I could change the world. But a post won't'. With this post, she tried to support all the people who were suffering in the conflict.

She also wrote 'Having a sister everyday has made me tragically sick...I would do anything for children and innocent'.

This specific part where she talked about her sister that people trolled her for. Everyone has assumed that she making her sister the victim in this scenario. That is why, people are a little confused about her comment on the recent conflict. A person has commented that 'Using her sister to play victim. I've been telling y'all Selena is the most self-centred evil psychopath. She's always taking break from social media until it's time to comment on hailey bieber related posts'.

Along with that, one person has said 'Selena gomez has officially lost it how you make genocide about yourself and now your sister like what? you're a rich woman sleeping in a mansion. She's such a manipulative and narcissistic person. She's doing all this while watching the lakers games btw.' These kinds of comments have triggered the artist and that is why she took the decision of deleting her Instagram profile, which she didn't do till now.

Dolly Parton Finally Reveals Why She Declined Super Bowl Halftime Shows After Being Offered Multiple Times

The American singer-songwriter and musician Dolly Parton finally reveals the reason behind her refusing many requests to play the Super Bowl halftime show. The musician said, 'Oh, sure. I've been offered that many times,' continued saying, 'I couldn't do it because of other things, or I just didn't think I was big enough to do it - to do that big of a production. When you think about those shows, those are big, big productions. I've never done anything with that big of a production. I don't know if I could have. I think at the time that's what I was thinking.' The 77, country star shared that she never felt the right moment to perform at the big NFL show, continued adding that she did not consider herself to play such a huge performance. However, the halftime show has been highlighted by the support and admiration of Madonna, Lady Gaga, Paul McCartney, Beyonce, Michael Jackson, and Coldplay, considered one of the biggest live music shows of the year, and over 100 million people around the world watch the show.

The phenomenal musician revealed that she was overwhelmed when her name was tagged in with such a huge production label. Continued sharing, 'I couldn't do it because of other things, or I just didn't think I was big enough to do it - to do that big of a production.' Moreover said, 'When you think about those shows, those are big, big productions. I've never done anything with that big of a production,' The 'Jolene' singer said, 'I don't know if I could have. I think at the time that's what I was thinking.' However, the legendary musician said that now she is considering performing on big shows after the debut of her rock album 'Rockstar' recently. She said, 'It would make more sense. I might be able to do a production show,'

Dolly shared in a public statement that she was refusing the award but also it reminded her that she wished to 'put out a hopefully great rock 'n' roll album in the future'. She said, 'Even though I am extremely flattered and grateful to be nominated for the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame, I don't feel that I have earned that right,' continued, 'This has, however, inspired me to put out a hopefully great rock 'n' roll album at some point in the future, which I have always wanted to do!' further added, 'My husband is a total rock'n'roll freak, and has always encouraged me to do one. I wish all of the nominees good luck and thank you again for the compliment. Good luck!'

TIMBALAND BEGS MERCY FOR COMMENTING JUSTIN TIMBERLAKE SHOULD'VE 'PUT A MUZZLE' ON BRITNEY SPEARS

'Give It to Me' artist Timbaland started receiving backlash for sharing his thought that Justin Timberlake should put a 'muzzle' on 'Gimme More' singer Britney Spears, he seemed to have offered an apology. The music producer shared on a Tik Tok video, 'I apologize to the Britney fans,' moreover added, 'And her. Yeah, so you know, about respecting women? Hell yeah.'

Timbaland commented on his appearance in Austin, Texas at the Afrotech Conference and instantly took the internet by storm. He also has collaborated with Timberlake earlier including songs like 'Cry Me A River,' an audience from the crowd wanted to know about his views on the highlights about Spear's latest memoir, The Woman in Me. He replied saying, 'She (is) going crazy, right? I wanted to call JT (Justin Timberlake), 'Man, you should have put a muzzle on that girl.'

In addition to that, 'You have a voice. You speak what you wanna to speak. Who am I to tell you what not to speak?' continued adding, 'I was wrong for saying that,'

However, netizens of the internet quickly started slamming him for his misogynist comment. The crowd called out his prior fiery history with the late Aaliyah, they also mentioned the fact that the 'Gimme More' singer did not want to collaborate with him a few years ago.

The 51-year-old musician claimed that the 'Toxic Pony' singer somehow attempted to 'do something to get people's attention.' Moreover added, 'You know what? We live in the age of social media and ... everybody wants to go viral,' he said. "I get it because that's the way you make money [is to] go viral.'

Well, some of the audience found his comments funny while the rest of the crowd showed that they were disgusted and offended by his controversial remarks. One commented, 'In light of her life's events, this screams misogyny and is so malicious and nasty,' Whereas another one wrote, 'I assume the crowd has only straight men,'

Spears, the forty-one-year-old artist wrote in detail about her past relationship with the 'Sexy Back' singer, in her bestselling book. She dated her ex-flame from 1999 to 2002 and later claimed that her boyfriend was cheating on her back multiple times. The pop star also unveiled the reason why she had to abort her pregnancy at the age of nineteen as her then-boyfriend was not ready for fatherhood.

Moreover, she wrote that Timberlake 'definitely wasn't happy about the pregnancy' and he claimed to be 'too young' to have kids. She wrote, 'If it had been left up to me alone, I never would have done it,' continued writing, 'And yet Justin was so sure that he didn't want to be a father.'

K-Band ATEEZ Has Announced the Track List of Their Second Album, 'THE WORLD EP.FIN: WILL'

Extremely popular K-pop band ATEEZ is coming this December with their sophomore full-length album, 'THE WORLD EP.FIN: WILL'. The album is set to release on the 1st of December 2023. This has been considered as their comeback and this also concludes their extremely popular franchise of The World Trilogy.

The World Trilogy kicked off in 2022 July, with the first release of this franchise, called, "The World EP.1: Movement". This consisted of 7 powerful tracks with Guerilla as the lead track of this EP. Next, they released the second installment of this trilogy earlier this year on 16th June 2023. This installment has 6 tracks.

The trilogy was initiated as a stealthy movement to cause a crack in the controlled framework of society. Consequently, the songs of these installments are based on themes of oppression, freedom, and the desire to break free from this failing system. And now, that they have revealed their track list for this final installment people are going over it.

This K-pop band has eight members, namely, Seonghwa, Hongjoong, Yunho, Yeosang, San, Mingi, Wooyoung, and Jongho. And their final installment of The World Trilogy will have songs like, 'WE KNOW', 'Emergency', 'Crazy Form (Title)', 'ARRIBA', 'Silver Light', 'Crescent Part.2', 'Dreamy Day', 'MATZ', 'IT's You', 'Youth', 'Everything', and 'FIN: WILL'.

On the 10th of November, they dropped the official trailer of the album on KQ Entertainment's YouTube channel.

The trailer has gained over 1.5 million views within the last 3 days. The monochromatic rebellion alongside highly intriguing music has gripped a lot of people, instantly. The tension that built in the trailer which ended with an evil smile resonated with a lot of people and fans are completely wooed by this trailer, and sharing their rigorous thoughts on this trailer of social media.

A fan wrote on X, formerly known as Twitter, "MATZ??? SEONGHWA AND HONGJOONG WROTE A SONG???" While another fan added, "We will get a "MATZ" song, and the song is written by Hongjoong and Seonghwa MY MATZ HEAR," with two crying emojis. Another fan added emotion and alongside an emotional GIF wrote, "I'm so proud of Ateez, we have sub unit songs, LYRICS ARE BY THE MEMBERS. PRODUCE AND COMPOSED BY THEM."

Britney Spears Said Taylor Swift is "The Most Iconic Pop Woman of our Generation"

On this weekend, Britney Spears shared two photos of her with Taylor Swift one from the year 2003 and another from 2008. And along with these two photos, she leaves an elaborative note on how she feels about their first meeting and her artistry.

The first photo is of 20 years old from the backstage of a tour. It was the first time Spears introduced the young Taylor. The next photo was 15 years old, it was taken at In the post there are two photos of these pop stars alongside each other one from 2003 and another from the 2008 MTV Video Music Awards. It was right after Swift became a household name.

In the caption, Spears narrated their first meeting during her "Oops Tour" in 2003, she wrote, "This is way back when but kinda cool ... During my Oops Tour, I got a knock at my door. My good friend at the time was the assistant to my manager who was trying to become a manager himself." This happened on her Onyx Hotel Tour.

She continued, "There was a knock, and then he said, "I have a girl named Taylor who wants to come in and sing for you." I was like of course !!! He walks in, and she sings a beautiful song with her guitar ? I was like wow wow she's unbelievable !!!"

Then she added, "We took a picture, and she then became the most iconic pop woman of our generation. Kinda cool she plays stadiums, and I prefer her videos over movies any day. She's stunning !!! Girl crush Ps mom I love you so so much, but there were 3 dolls in the cabinets when I went home 2 years ago ... kinda really weird you would take them out and then put them back in ... so messed up."

Finally, she concludes with, "Nope, I don't want them. Keep it all. I honestly don't care anymore ... honestly though." This is extremely vibrant of Spears to acknowledge that Swift is her "Girl Crush". Starting from their first meet to how Taylor has continued her musical journey was truly inspiring, it feels like the "Princess of Pop" is passing her crown to her.

Billie Eilish Showed No Disagreement as Lil Yachty Rapped about Her Breasts and said 'I think it's fun!'

The globally renowned singer and rapper Billie Eilish talked about what she faced about her body as a teenager. This young artist has always gotten a lot of appreciation for her outstanding music. But she has also received many weird comments about her body. Being a young artist she is still struggling to understand herself and her body. And at the meantime, people are making comments on her appearance, which is quite disgusting.

The artist has stated 'I have big b**bs. I've had big b**bs since I was nine years old, and that's just the way I am. That's how I look'. She has also said she never even tried to 'have people not s**ualize me'. In this phase, while she is discovering herself in her teenage years, she tries out different kinds of clothing. She had always seen in her baggy clothes, but a couple of times as she tried his hands on a slightly different outfit, people started making comments on that too.

That is why, after that, she showed her disappointment and said 'You wear something that's at all revealing, and everyone's like, 'Oh, but you didn't want people to s**ualize you?'' In addition to that she also said 'You can suck my a-! I'm literally a being that is s**ual sometimes. F-k you!'

Now Billie has also shared her opinion for the latest Drake song 'Another Late Night' where Lil Yachty has rapped 'She had big t-s like Billie Eilish, but she couldn't sing'. On this incident, she has commented 'I think it's fun! I'm flattered! Yachty is my friend. Drake is my friend. It's a joke. I do have big t-s. I love it'. On the other hand, Eilish has also said 'Nobody ever says a thing about men's bodies.

If you're muscular, cool. If you're not, cool. If you're rail thin, cool. If you have a dad bod, cool. If you're pudgy, love it!' She also added 'Everybody's happy with it. You know why? Because girls are nice. They don't give a f-k because we see people for who they are!'

Keke Palmer is Set to Host the Upcoming 2023 Soul Train Awards!

The Emmy-winning actress and world-famous singer-musician Keke Palmer is the name that was announced as the host of the upcoming Soul Train Awards. The award ceremony of 2023 was tagged as the "house party of the year" and will premier on Nov. 26 on BET and BET HER (8 p.m. ET/PT). Connie Orlando, the BET executive VP specials, music programming & music strategy published a press release regarding the upcoming awards where Keke was named as the host for the evening. Orlando stated, "Keke Palmer is a globally recognized multi-hyphenate talent who embodies confidence and positivity, and is one of the most engaging and lovable personalities working in entertainment today."

The press release further stated, "We can't wait to have her host the Soul Train Awards house party. BET gave Keke her first talk show, where she made history as the youngest talk show host on television, and today we are honored to have her back on the Soul Train Awards stage. As always, expect our star-studded slate of soulful artists and can't-miss moments to illuminate your screens for a night dedicated to soul music."

According to reports, Keke will also be performing on the evening of the Soul Train Awards ceremony along with several other talents from the music industry, including, Coco Jones, BJ The Chicago Kid, Danté Bowe, Muni Long, Fridayy, and SWV. Palmer's last hosting event was in 2020 when in that year's August she hosted MTV Video Music Awards. Since it has been 3 years since her last appearance as a host at an award ceremony, social media users seemed pretty pumped up about this upcoming event. Fans expressed how they were excited about Keke hosting the Soul Train Awards, especially after the recent controversies regarding her personal life and domestic violence accusations against her baby daddy Darius Jackson.

Soul Train Awards 2023 will be taped at an undisclosed location in Los Angeles. This year's nominations included SZA, Usher, and Summer Walker, who are all tied with each other, receiving nine nominations each. It is exciting to see who will win the most anticipated categories this evening. Orlando will oversee this annual show and will executive produce for the BET along with Jamal Noisette, VP specials & music programming. As an executive producer, Jesse Collins, CEO of Jesse Collins Entertainment, will be there alongside Jesse Collins Entertainment's Jeannae Rouzan-Clay and Dionne Harmon.

Girls Aloud Confirmed the 2024 Reunion Tour as Their Tickets Go Live

The renowned girls group Girls Aloud created a buzz as they released a reunion tour. They last performed on stage together a decade ago for their 10th anniversary

Girls Aloud has created a sensation on the internet after revealing a 2024 reunion tour. The fans were eagerly waiting for the tickets and the band announced when the tickets were going to be on the sale.

The popular group split up back in 2013 after they became the biggest-selling girl band of the UK the century. The members of the phenomenal girl group Nicola Roberts, Cheryl Tweedy, Nadine Coyle, and Kimberly Walsh shared that they had earlier planned to tour for the 20th-anniversary celebration of their beginning on 'Popstars: The Rivals' but the sudden accident put on hold those plans as Sarah Harding passed away, leaving everyone in shock.

Cheryl explained the reason behind postponing their anniversary celebration, and said, "We all started talking about the possibility of doing something to celebrate Girls Aloud's 20th anniversary a few years ago. The anniversary seemed like an obvious thing that we would celebrate." added, "But when Sarah fell ill all priorities changed. She passed away a year before the anniversary and it just didn't feel right, it felt too soon." Also shared, "But now, I think there is an energy that does make it feel right. It's the right time to celebrate Sarah, it's the right time to celebrate the band, and the right time to celebrate the fact we can still do this 21 years later. That's a big honour in lots of ways."

Cheryl said, "Making new music without Sarah would be odd," continued adding, "But celebrating what we made together? Fabulous."

Nadine stated that Sarah's original voice will be on the show, and said, "There's so many things that are just iconically Sarah, that have to remain Sarah." moreover added, "We're not going to mess with that. I'm not going to start taking over Sarah's big bits. Girls Aloud wouldn't be what it was without Sarah and everything she added to it."

The Girls Aloud shares, "This year marks 21 years since Cheryl, Kimberley, Nadine, Nicola, and Sarah were voted the winners of Popstars: The Rivals and formed the all-conquering legendary pop band Girls Aloud." kept on sharing, "To celebrate this milestone with all of their fans, Girls Aloud today announce that they will be coming together for a huge arena tour of the UK and Ireland in May and June of 2024."

Further added, "The hugely anticipated shows will feature all of the band's historic pop hits including No.1 songs 'Sound Of The Underground', 'The Promise' and 'I'll Stand By You', alongside cast-iron classics such as 'Love Machine', 'Call The Shots', 'Biology', 'Something New' and 'The Show'."

Riyadh Has Been Selected To Host The Music Cities Awards 2024

The event focuses on developing the music sector to produce a chance for the people of Saudi to showcase their exceptional talent to the audience worldwide.

Riyadh, the Saudi capital has won the bid to host the Music Cities Convention and Awards next year, marking it the first to hold the award in the Middle East, according to the Kingdom's Music Commission. The event focuses on elevating the kingdom's music sector and enabling local talents to showcase to regional and global audiences, the authorities continued adding.

Well, the commission moreover shared that the conference has been scheduled from November 14 to November 16 of 2024 at the world's biggest series of conferences in the music industry, it will be featuring a vast range of topics related to music and the music industry, involving over hundred experts from across the world. The conference will also include a collective display of the music of Saudi culture, a platform that engages global contestants, and a mentorship program that targets music performers and entrepreneurs.

Additionally, an international trade exhibition of the stakeholders and the regional companies will be organized to showcase the efforts and work in the music industry. The commission added that the Music Cities Convention and Awards will include a series of music-enriching activities. Moreover, in recent years, Saudi Arabia has taken steps to enhance its entertainment sector by hosting concerts, theatrical shows, competitions, and cinema, engaging large audiences both internationally and regionally as well.

The Ministry of Culture is organizing awards to embrace cultural exchanges internationally, pairing with 2030's economic development of Saudi. The conference will feature an educational program organized by the Saudi Music Hub in Riyadh from 3rd October to 14th November along with the other segments. The authorities also mentioned that the conference will provide a special musical experience for its participants and audience as well. Saudi Center for Music is all prepared to host a six-week-long rigorous music education program. The Music Cities Awards are an international competition that is held annually and recognizes 'outstanding applications of music for economic, social, environmental, and cultural development.' This time Saudi Arabia has been selected to organize the award function in 2024.

The authorities shared that the hosting of the awards reflects the Ministry of Culture's take on advancing interactions and engagements of global culture in support of the Kingdom's development economy as drawn in the Saudi Vision 2030 plan. Furthermore, various entertainment events were held all over Saudi Arabia and managed to engage around 135 million people till mid-2023, General Entertainment Authority (GEA) shared that the country is seeking other options than its oil-reliant economy.

Sabrina Carpenter Reveals that Performing on Taylor Swift's 'The Eras Tour' was Her dream-come-true Moment

Disney actress and musician Sabrina Carpenter still can't process that she has played the opening act on the pop star Taylor Swift's 'The Eras Tour'.

The twenty-year-old singer Sabrina Carpenter has opened up on performing her childhood dream show Taylor Swift, winner of eleven Grammy's 'The Eras Tour'. The Disney star turned into a pop star as she recently joined Swift's South American tour. The rising and charming performer reflected her shock and surprise when she was asked to play the opening by Taylor's team in her interviews.

Carpenter shared her 'dream-come-true' moment with her fans, saying, 'I'm not gonna say I peed my pants because that sounds really graphic and maybe not sanitary, but I think it just caught me off guard,' added, 'It was very much a childhood dream come true.' She goes on to add further, 'I still probably have not processed it if I'm being completely honest with you.'

Pop singer Sabrina went on to share a video of her at the age of nine, performing Taylor's track 'Picture to Burn' to show her overwhelmed excitement. Her latest album 'emails I can't send' has gathered the attention and support of fans across the music industry. 'Nonsense' and 'Feather' have assembled a widespread love from fans and topped on TikTok trends.

The American singer and actress also shared the story of her meeting the 'Lover' singer for the very first time when she was just seventeen at the backstage, she added, 'She had her cats with her,' continued, 'I have older sisters, so if anything, it felt like that type of a relationship.'

However, the 'Clouds' star will be again joining the 'Love Story' singer to open a show series in Singapore and Australia in February and March. 'Horns' star earlier shared, 'That is one of my main inspirations ever since I was a little girl, and now to just be able to watch that show every night is going to be so special,' further continued, 'Watching her in and of itself is how you learn. I admire her work ethic and her talent and she's just so amazing.'

The Disney star covered the 'Shake it Off' singer's 'I Knew You Were Trouble'. Taylor complimented Carpenter by writing, 'Well she nailed it,' Well, Serbina has already opened for Swift in Argentina and Mexico and she is all set to join the Eras Tour, despite that the 'Nonsense' artist still could not process that she is living her dream.

Carpenter moreover shared about her dream collaborator-performer, 'To work with someone [who] cares about you as a person as well as an artist ... that's been the biggest gift for sure,' Nonetheless, to face a stadium full of around 80,000 people who have not arrived to see you can make one excited as well as nervous. Sabrina shared her approach to doing the opening for 'Style' artist by saying, 'I go into it with a little bit more excitement, being playful and just really singing and interacting with the crowd as much as I possibly can. There's so many of them—I can't see them all.'

Listeners are Becoming More Greedy for Good Music after Listening to Tate McRae's 'greedy'

Tate McRae has set the stage on fire with her latest piece of music named 'greedy'. The enthralling work has gathered many global listeners instantly.

The talented Canadian singer and dancer Tate McRae has showcased her brilliant talent with the latest soundtrack 'greedy'. The profound artist has given an example of self-love and an immense amount of confidence at the same. Her breathtaking way of presentation has made it even more attractive and charming. In addition to that, the hypnotic beats and fascinating tunes have churned out more flavors to the sound design. McRae sang with the chorus 'I would want myself / Baby, please believe me / I'll put you through hell/ Just to know me / So sure of yourself / Baby, don't greedy / That sh*t won't end well'.

Her innovative way of presentation has made the soundtrack even more appealing to all the listeners. While talking about the track, the artist has said 'I'm beyond excited to drop 'greedy' and share this new chapter of my music with the world'. She has also said 'I wrote 'greedy' about having the confidence to know what you want. I feel like this is the first time where people are seeing a feistier and more playful side of me. This song is so unexpected, and I cannot wait for everyone to hear it'.

As the artist was excited to drop her song and so were her listeners. Right after the release, her song 'greedy' received a lot of appreciation from all the global listeners. The artist has not only put her effort into making the song but she has done the same with the video too. The music video for the song was directed by Aerin Moreno. The enigmatic captures have enhanced the charm of the song a lot more. In addition to that, the artist didn't leave any room to showcase her dancing skills. The captivating moves have garnered many audiences from all around the world.

This song by Tate McRae has also gained much fame on social media platforms like TikTok and Instagram Reels. It has received a lot of appreciation from listeners of various platforms. The song even went viral way before its release and also earned the position in the top 20 trending videos on YouTube in a short time span. Currently, it is also coming to know that, McRae is also coming up with her 'Us Are We Flying Tour' very soon. So, follow this prolific artist to get all the updates on her future musical projects.

TOP 10 AI MUSIC GENERATORS IN 2023

Artificial Intelligence has already passed the phase of being introduced to people only for its capability to assist one and deliver information. It now generates and services beyond AI-powered music creators, image generators, chatbots, voice generators, and podcast editing tools. It is now transforming several industries and music fast is no new to the users, it can produce authentic music in various genres, a vast range from pop to classical and many more. The apps are also used to modify crafted music as well.

Well, the generators of AI music are still in the early stages of development but somehow managed to create an immense impact on the industry already.

SOUNDRAW

The music generation tool offers a free service partially that lets the user create desired songs. However, you need to have a subscription to download the royalty-free use of music in your musical ventures. SOUNDRAW garners the crowd by offering a huge stock of genres, themes, and moods for your music tracks. In addition to that, one can set the tempo to desire, specification of the duration of the song, and select the instruments to be played in the music. The generators take the consumer through the steps one by one step where one can apply a blend of moods, genres, and themes to create numerous soundtracks to be chosen. The consumer can further edit the music track by selecting advanced and beginner parameters, depending on the skill of your own.

Boomy

It is another AI-generated tool that offers services partially free. The music-making platform allows you to produce authentic musicals with the bare minimum effort. It has been structured for both advanced and beginner musicians, allowing an immersive range of features that ease the process of creating music. To craft a track, all you need to do is first choose a style and a base track.

Once you are done with that click on 'Create Song' for the composing to start. The good thing is you can keep editing several aspects of the track further to own it completely. It lets you collaborate with other creators as well, allows you to get feedback on your creations, and helps you learn new techniques. It also offers you a paid release of your track with its paid subscription.

AIVA

Well, look no further for an AI-generated platform that offers versatility and a wide range of options, AIVA brings you one of the finest generators you will find in the market. It offers you a standard and a free version that is mildly limited while transferring the copyrights over. The pro version of the tool is there for the consumers who like the service, the pro version gives you complete copyrights, worth availing! You need to select a generation profile, and a sample-based track from the list, and add your sound file to use as a style present or an inspiration. The next step allows you to play around with more customization parameters to precise the feel of the song before finally weaving the track. It allows you to edit further even after creating a composition.

Loudly

Bringing Loudly, one of the top AI music generators among all that comes with a free plan. The number of downloads here is bounded, but it allows the consumer to use the music for social media projects for free. It also allows its users to collaborate with others like Boomy does. The site is designed to be used by a complete novice as well as the experts in the field. However, the skilled ones will be able to utilize the full potential of the platform. The simplest way to generate music with it is to choose a genre and click 'generate'. You can add more elements that can be edited to the mixing including instruments, tempo, energy levels, genre blends, duration, etc. It will serve you several tracks each time for you to have an option to select your desired one from them.

Beatoven

It is known for being one of the finest paid AI music producers and a jaw-dropping music composition tool for offering royalty-free soundtracks. Beatoven offers you a free trial that allows the consumer to test its features to think if it is worth to be subscribed. The features serve both the advanced and new users as well. To start one needs to simply enter the title of the track, you need to describe what you are looking for properly to enjoy fruitful results as the title performs as prompt. There is no need to worry if you think you have given an incorrect title then it lets you edit that later. Moreover, it allows multiple effective customizations like changing genres, instruments, tempo, and others to create a gorgeous track by tuning it finely.

BeatBot

A minimal AI music generator that composes short soundtracks based on the prompts you are sharing. It utilizes the Splash sound loops brilliantly to generate the music and vocals and ChatGPT to weave the lyrics. It is currently in the beta phase and offers stunning services completely free. For users who desire similar functionality that comes with wide advanced options, you should visit Splash Pro. The platform generates longer tracks and allows the users to enjoy some customized options as well. The tool allows you to generate random prompts to get you started. The user can change the vocals to rap or sing, change the gender of the vocalist, and specify the genre of the music you desire.

WavTool

Coming to you Wav Tool, the cloud-based AI-powered digital audio workstation that allows the consumer to create, mix, and produce in your browser. However, the arrangement of the tool is not suitable for the learners because one needs to have at least some knowledge and skill to operate it. Putting it simply, you are required to add instruments to your soundtrack, and then mix AI-generated music clips for those instruments. The platform offers customization of the clips in the 'Composer' tab by entering a prompt or playing around with the given parameters. Once you repeat the whole process for the entire instrumentation you desire to use your track will be ready to play. The tool offers a lot more to explore and the developers serve tutorials in videos in the help section for you to lead further.

Mubert

The next on our list is Mubert, a pathfinder in the AI-powered music field, its technology is used by creators and brands across the world. The free version puts considerable boundaries on the usage of the music you create, but it is enough for evaluating its abilities. The options it offers for crafting soundtracks are very familiar to the other tools we are discussing so far. The process is pretty simple, you need to enter a prompt or choose a style and assign a duration before you hit 'Generate Track' to create music. It offers a premium version for consumers who like its services and want to explore more.

Soundful

Next up is Soundful, which offers a free plan for evaluating the tool before you go for a paid subscription. The platform allows you to download in the free plan, however, the generated music can't be used for any commercial uses. For creating the soundtrack, you need to choose a template first. The ones that do have not a crown on them are for free, and others need to be paid to use. To choose a template and produce a few musicals the user is required to click on the pink circled icon that has waves in the middle of it. It shows a pop-up window where you can set the parameters and generate previews altogether. The platform lets the consumer regenerate the preview if one does not like it or save it. Once it is saved, the soundtrack will be available for downloading.

VEED

Last but not least, VEED has been known for being one of the best text-to-music generators that is supremely easy to use that too in free. You might have already heard of the name as a video editing suite that offers complete service. It has embraced and infused AI into the products quietly efficiently and effectively. Well, using the use of its music generator is simple, one needs to select a 'Vibe' for the track and write details to explain what sort of music you want to create. Then, clicking 'Create Track' will deliver some enchanting music for you.

Legal Battle and Restraining Order Couldn't Stop Daryl Hall from Playing Concert Full of Hall & Oates Classics

Amid a legal battle with his long-time collaborator John Oates which also included a restraining order, Daryl Hall played a concert filled with Hall & Oates classics.

Currently, Daryl Hall is embroiled in a legal battle with his long-time musical and business partner John Oates. And this legal battle also comprises a restraining order. And still, Daryl performed to a packed audience at Tokyo Garden Theater in Japan on the 23rd of November. Not only that he perform several from his solo setlist but also played some of the Hall & Oates classics. "Out of Touch," "I Can't Go for That (No Can Do)" and "Private Eyes" were some of the songs that he played from the duo's classics. Classic rocker Todd Rundgren also appeared for the show and matched with the iconic vibe Daryl has created.

Hall & Oates fans were completely shattered when they learned that Hall filed an undisclosed complaint against Oates. The legal battle continues to impose a temporary restraining order on the 16th of November. As per the reports, the restraining order was granted on 16th November and was set to go into effect on the 30th of November. There is very little information available on the lawsuit. All the records about this legal procedure have been sealed by the court, and everyone else in maintaining the silence on this complaint.

If you retrospect then you will learn that Hall & Oates was formed in 1970. Within 2 years they released their debut album 'Whole Oates' in 1972. The duo has seen widely successful years in their music career. They reach the peak of success with numbers like "Maneater" and "Rich Girl." The duo has reached the pinnacle six times in their career together before they set off to pursue their solo career. Yet, their popularity has not moved a bit since their initiation. Recently, the duo, Hall & Oates toured together in October 2022.

However, in 2021 in an interview with GQ, Oates downplayed any tension in the collaboration between this long-term duo. He said, "Y'know, [there have been] way more ups than downs, to be honest with you." Adding more, "It's actually a miracle, I'm actually shocked that we are able to still play together and it's great. It's something that you have to really appreciate, because like you said, it's not easy."

SEVENTEEN's Dino's Solo Mixtape 'Wait' Receives The Label of 'Yet Another Beginning'

The youngest member of the boy band SEVENTEEN, Dino has come up with his first mixtape 'Wait' which is highly anticipated in the market. This eagerly awaited music project is paving the path for his solo music venture.

On November 27, at 6 p.m. KST, Dino revealed the first solo mixtape that is titled 'Wait'. It has also premiered with an official music video that made the fans very happy. In the official MV, Dino could see offering his charismatic dance performance that reflects this charm and a hefty dose of energy. Dancing at a crossroads is perhaps a metaphor for life's decisions when everybody finds themselves at the crossroads.

Other than his enthralling dance performance, this latest project stands out due to its amazing lyrical and musical approach. Dino's contribution to songwriting and composition added an extra layer of creativity that was reflected more through his solo ventures. With an influence of jazz and glitch, the mixtape offers a unique and innovative flavor that can captivate everyone.

Dino's vocal skills and eclectic performance offer a flawless musical experience for everyone to groove with. Along with the music video, the song receives a visual story that establishes it more firmly. Other than 'Wait', he has also recently added a track named 'Icarus' to the Castaway Diva soundtrack.

The artist has dubbed his mixtape as 'yet another beginning' and showed his gratitude for the fans who encouraged him to proceed on his solo music career. In a recent statement with Pledis Entertainment, Dino shared his joy in achieving the dream of releasing his solo music project. He explained the entire process and told how it fulfilled his personal aspiration. This solo project embraces Dino's resilience and dedication to his craft.

dino serving us his first mixtape and we all got this MASTERPIECE. A SINGER, A PERFORMER, AN ARTIST, OUR LOVELY MAKNAE ? THAT'S THE FUTURE OF KPOP RIGHT THERE! DINO OF SEVENTEEN, EVERYONE. ❤️?

CARATs, yes, that is what Dino's fans are called. They have showered their love through social media and other platforms in support of this K-pop idol who has just embarked on his solo adventure.

Lee Chan, best known as Dino, is the youngest member of the South Korean boy band SEVENTEEN which consists of a total of thirteen talented members.

The band has last released a mini album titled 'Seventeenth Heaven,' marking their 11th successful release. This mini album offered listeners eight exciting K-pop songs.

A Woman Has Accused Sean 'Diddy' Combs Of Sexual Abuse: Once Again

Just after five days, Sean Combs and Cassie settled the singer's lawsuit against Combs. In this lawsuit she accused him of rape, sex trafficking, and physical abuse, and not just this one, within a week the rapper is the subject of another lawsuit.

The new lawsuit was filed on Thursday in the Supreme Court of the State of New York County of New York. In this lawsuit, he accused the rapper of drugging and sexually assaulting a former Syracuse University college student in 1991. He also filmed the entire incident and showed it to several people. This has become a "revenge porn" gesture in this lawsuit.

Details of this lawsuit were obtained by various news channels. After dinner at a Harlem restaurant in January 1991 Combs drove the woman to a recording studio. She claims that she was unable to leave the premises as she was heavily drugged by Combs, "resulting in her being in a physical state where she could not independently stand or walk."

Allegedly Combs took the accuser to where he was staying at that point and started to sexually assault her. The lawsuit described that Combs, who is also known as "P. Diddy" filmed the act. One of the friends of the accuser saw the clip a few "days later" of the incident. It reads, "A male friend revealed to her that he had viewed the 'sex tape' along with other men." The suit states, "Upon information and belief, when Combs finished with Jane Doe, he and Hall switched, and they commenced assaulting Jane Doe's friend."

Now, the accuser is seeking unspecified damages from Combs, counting those to "redress the injuries she has suffered as a result of being sexually harassed, abused, and a victim of revenge porn." The lawsuit also names his company Bad Boy Entertainment, and Combs Enterprises as defendants of this proceeding.

Combs founded Bad Boy Records in 1992; just a day after the former president of Bad Boy was sued for allegedly grooming and sexually assaulting his assistant. One of the Bad Boy spokespersons said that they are "investigating the allegations, and our top priority is the safety and well-being of our employees."

DUA LIPA MAKES HER COMEBACK WITH A NEW DANCE ANTHEM 'HOUDINI'

Globally renowned Dua Lipa released new music after her 2020 release, 'Future Nostalgia'. Catch her new single 'Houdini' on YouTube and streaming platforms.

After a hugely successful run with her sophomore album 'Future Nostalgia' in 2020, Dua Lipa is finally back, and this time, with a banging dance anthem. The 'Levitating' singer has released a brand new single 'Houdini' along with the music video and fans seem to be in absolute love with the soundscape. The music video features the singer debuting a fresh red hair color in a dance studio that notifies the viewers and listeners of an upcoming dance banger!

While announcing the track on social media, the artist said, "This track represents the most light and freeing parts of my singledom. 'Houdini' is very tongue in cheek, exploring the idea of whether someone is really worth my while or if I'll ghost them in the end. You never know where something may take you, that's the beauty of being open to whatever life throws your way." When she teased the release of this track, she posted pictures with a small key inside her mouth with the caption "catch me or I go..." indicating toward the great American escapist Harry Houdini.

Now that the song has

4.5/5

By Daily Music Roll

finally arrived, it makes her own escapism from releasing a full-length studio album is completely justified. If the fans were worried about what her new sound is going to be as she has abandoned her previous management, they can stay rest assured as it looks like the formula for a hit song of Dua Lipa remains unchanged. 'Houdini's' production is from Kevin Parker and Danny L Harle and provides the perfect amount of loony spark and the drive that has been missing from the artist's other club tracks. 'Houdini' is fuller, and harder, containing disco jeopardy and retro

-synths that pour absolute magic onto the hooky lyrics about a romance. The melodramatic chords along with "a relentless four-on-the-floor beat" give pretty much everything the fans were hoping for from the singer. Her crisp voice makes the sound even better, indicating a very retro-inspiring upcoming album. This song is a signature Parker production where fans could also notice a similarity in synths with Tame Impala's "Let It Happen", however, the presence of such a strong topline like Dua makes it different, even better.

The new release is both a progression and continuation of 'Future Nostalgia' as the song brings in the same hard beat and disco vibes that her previous album carried, but this time a lot is going around the edges.

Especially with the unexpected new hook that drops at the very end adds a little adventure to the production. The music video is now available on YouTube and the track is streaming on every major platform.

Living legend Dolly Patron brings back the rock n roll era with an all-star guest list for collaboration for her latest musical project 'Rockstar', the 49th album on her musical journey.

Dolly Patron is perhaps the most loving American music artist who has reigned in the industry for a long time now. But this living legend is not just loved for her musical creations but her advocacy and human welfare activities that reflect her caring and charismatic personality. Whether it is the disco pop masterpiece '9 to 5' or the classic duet with Kenny Rodgers 'Islands in the Stream', each of her musical releases has enriched the music industry across genres like country, pop, and many others. This time, Patron has decided to experiment with rock n roll and it is not required to say that she did a remarkable job.

In 2022, Dolly Patron was inducted into the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame which sparked her idea to make a rock cover LP that will win everyone's heart. In her 49th album 'Rockstar' she has collaborated with a star-studded guest list that consists of the rock legends of all time. To execute this project, she asked help from her longtime bandleader and producer Kent Wells and together they literally threw a karaoke party with all-star duet partners. It is the most stacked guest list in the history of rock that features Paul McCartney, Ringo Starr, Peter Frampton, Elton John, Mick Fleetwood, Lynyrd Skynyrd, and the list goes on. With the help of the legends, she covered the tracks like 'Let It Be', 'Don't Let the Sun Go Down on Me', 'Free Bird', etc many others. Her goddaughter Miley Cyrus also participated in the 'Wrecking Ball'. Lizzo, Pink, and Brandi Carlile also provided their support through collaboration.

Evidently, Patron only went for the biggest and shiniest selection of songs and music artists which puts this album on a major benefit. Performing 'Every Breath You Take' with Sting is definitely a power move that showcases her unparalleled sense of music.

Dolly Patron is currently 77 years old yet her vocal skills and musical creations prove that she is still in her prime. One of the most intriguing moments is when Patron joined forces with Emmylou Harris, and Sheryl Crow to offer a tribute to their friend Linda Ronstadt with the song 'You're No Good,' who has been suffering from severe health issues.

Well, some might say she made a poor choice in selection or some might find this reminiscence of the rock n roll era. Either way, it is clear that Dolly is still slaying at 77 years of age, and 'Rockstar' is just another proof of that.

Jennifer Lopez shares a 'Musical Experience' through her upcoming album teaser 'This Is Me...Now'

American Singer Jennifer Lopez is creating a sensation in the music industry after releasing a gorgeous snippet of her upcoming album that offers her fans a 'musical experience'.

The fifty-four-year-old musician and actress shared a short video clip loaded with plenty of cinematic brilliance to build the anticipation much higher for the forthcoming album 'This Is Me ... Now', marking her ninth album on the list, on Saturday.

The brief video clip continues for 18 seconds and opens with the words 'Hear It, See It, Live It' before offering spectacular shots of her dancing beautifully in the rain, wheeling in the factory and a motorbike racing through water, and many more.

The teaser carries a message in the end that says, 'This musical experience is a manifestation through music, film, and reality, of life's journey on the search for the truth about love,' followed by a signature that marks, 'Jennifer.' along with a link to onthejlo.com. A bigger declaration about 'This Is Me... Now' is scheduled to release today, according to the 'On The Floor' singer's social media platforms and website. On the website, the message says, 'More on Monday.'

The music album will be a follow-up to 2003's 'This Is Me...', the artist paid tribute to her partner, Ben Affleck with whom she was engaged back in 2002, however, their relationship came to an end in 2004 and again re-united and continuing to stay as partners as the couple renewed their romance in 2022 and got married soon later. The 'I'm Real' singer confirmed that her upcoming album is inspired by her husband Affleck and their relationship with each other has become unbreakable now.

Although there has been a massive change since the 2003 album was released. And now in her latest one, she is already creating a buzz by promising a stunning musical experience and taking the fans with her ace charm and earworm tunes. The teaser offers some clips of the 'Let's Get Loud' singer's close-up of her doing different dance routines, containing a message about what should fans expect from her new album.

Well, the 'If You Had My Love' singer 'This Is Me ... Now' set does not have a date to release officially, but made the fans excited as it marks Lopez's first ever solo album nearly a decade 'A.K.A' of 2014, secured its place at No. 8 on the Billboard 200 list. In the year 2022, the 'On The Floor' singer paired with Colombian singer Maluma for the music project of their film 'Marry Me'. Fans are going wild over the revealed teaser and hints of something exciting cooking, the album might release very soon.

Megan Thee Stallion touts Paris Olympics for NBCU in new coverage

Three-time GRAMMY-winning recording artist Megan Thee Stallion joins a parade of celebrities in the second promotional spot of NBC Universal's fall campaign to promote its coverage of the upcoming Paris Olympics 2024. NBC Universal is going to cover the Games of the XXXIII Olympiad, which starts on July 26, 2024, in Paris, France. This promo debuted during NBC's annual telecast of the Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade welcoming the viewers to "Thee Paris Olympics". Megan then showed up on screen and performed at the Palace of Versailles which is the host of next summer's Olympic and Paralympic equestrian competitions.

Swinging in her 'Hot Girl' style, Megan appeared with the U.S. High-Performance dressage horses in place of her backup dancers. She is then joined by her own fire-breathing, flying, talking horse while she proclaims "And that's how we do the Olympics, Hot Girl Style."

Viewers then quickly witness a transformation from an extravagant scene at Versailles to an executive board room, where a group of skeptical marketing executives are seen to be listening to her pitching the idea as a way of reimagining the game.

"As America gathers together today on Thanksgiving, we wanted to surprise the nation with an Olympic moment as big as the holiday, and what better way to do that than with 'Thee Olympics', featuring Meghan Thee Stallion and dressage horses at Versailles," commented Jenny Storms, CMO, Sports and Entertainment, NBC Universal in a statement. "As we approach the new year, even more surprises are in store as we continue to bring to life the biggest media event of 2024 — the Paris Olympic and Paralympic Games," she continued.

This promo featuring Megan Thee Stallion is a glimpse of the larger marketing effort by this media conglomerate. According to reports, NBCU has committed to pay $7.75 billion for the exclusive U.S. broadcast rights for the Olympics between 2021 and 2032. It also has been promoting the Olympics for months while the executives betted that the Paris locale would indicate that the NBCU will have fewer time zones to navigate. It will certainly be less, especially compared to the recent efforts which have sent the company to big cities in Asia.

For this spot commercial, NBCU worked extensively with US Equestrian, the national governing body of equestrian sport in the United States. This is to provide an original approach to the training of dressage horses while highlighting that athletes compete at the highest level of international sport.

This includes previous Olympians such as Laura Graves, Ashley Holzer, and Kasey Perry-Glass, along with Paris 2024 hopefuls Katherine Bateson-Chandler, Anna Buffini, and Susie Dutta.

K-POP BAND BLACKPINK RECEIVED HONOR FROM KING CHARLES III

The K-pop band Blackpink has been honored by King Charles III for their great contribution to raise awareness regarding climate change. At the same time Prime Minister Rishi Sunak and South Korean President Yoon Suk Yeol came together to put their effort to work on technology and defense for both the countries.

As per the reports it is coming to know that on the second day of Yoon's visit to London, King Charles did the honorary program and made Jisoo Kim, Lalisa Manoban, and Jennie Kim the honorary Members of the Order of the British Empire. In addition to that, Rosé who is originally known as Roseanne Park has received an MBE. She achieved it without the honorary because this artist already has dual citizenship in New Zealand.

The girl band Blackpink is getting this recognition for their brilliant work in the COP26 summit. The summit took place in Glasgow, Scotland in 2021. It is their phenomenal work regarding spreading awareness about the climate change that has led them to receiving this honor.

At the ceremony, King Charles III has said a few words in the presence of Yoon and the first lady Kim Keon Hee 'for their role in bringing the message of environmental sustainability to a global audience... I can only admire how they can prioritize these vital issues, as well as being global superstars'.

Presently, it is coming to see that the Korean president is getting to be treated to diplomatic pomp and royal visit. Therefore, the U.K. government is assuming that it will make a positive impact on the foreign 'Indo-Pacific tilt' and the trade policy.

Right after that, both the prime minister and the president signed the agreement 'Downing Street Accord' that is made for pledging closer cooperation on defense and technology. Along with that, Artificial Intelligence also will be included to that. As of now it is coming to know that Britain will host the very first international AI Safety Summit, which will take place later this month. In addition to that, there is a rumor that South Korea will host this event next year.

Later on the U.K. president Rishi Sunak said to the Korean leader Yoon that 'Your state visit underlies the deep partnership and friendship between our two countries and the signing of the Downing Street Accord today strengthens that friendship'.

Björk and Rosalía Dropped the Song 'Oral' Focusing On the Fish Farming Industry in Iceland

European artists Björk and Rosalía has come up with their new soundtrack named 'Oral' that represents a strong motive. These artists are raising their voice to fight against the salmon fish farming industry in Iceland. They are standing against the intense salmon fish farming in Seyðisfjörður.

Björk and Rosalía has made this track and with the profit of it they will help to pay the legal fees behalf of all the people who are doing the protest in Seyðisfjörður. Various foreign companies are doing the operation of salmon farming in wrong way and that is why everyone has come up together to protest against the operation.

Recently, in a statement Björk has said 'People at the fjord Seyðisfjörður have stood up and protested against fish farming starting there'. Along with that, she has also said 'We would like to donate sales of the song to help with their legal fees and hopefully it can be an exemplary case for others'.

The artist has also stated 'This is a 25-year-old song of mine that I wrote and programmed inspired by a dancehall beat (the grandmother of reggaeton)... Rosalía's experiences with the genre and her incredible voice made her an obvious guest on the song. I feel blessed that she said yes and her team is donating their work and all proceeds to this battle'.

Björk wrote the song 'Oral' in the time between her album 'Homogenic' and 'Vespertine'. These two albums were made in 1997 and 2001. Since then she wrote this song and somehow lost it. But later she retrieved the song after seeing the word 'oral'.

Both the artist is trying to make an impact on this serious condition. They have also come up with a video to make a deep influence on the audiences. Along with the song, they have also come up with a music video.

After watching the video, press has said 'Carlota came up with the concept and executed the video, exploring the use of AI technology and embracing the glitches blurring the line between reality and virtuality whilst challenging the notions of identity. Throughout the piece, female rage is explored through Björk's and Rosalía's avatars. They are not fighting each other; they are training together to fight the real and bigger enemy'.

Other than that, Björk has also said a few words regarding the song. The artist stated 'This is an extraordinarily cruel way of making food...The fight against the open-fishing industry is part of the fight for the future of the planet'.

Cassie Filed a Lawsuit Against Sean 'Diddy' Combs for Sex Trafficking and Sexual Assault

Recently, the singer and actress Cassie filed a lawsuit against his ex-boyfriend Sean 'Diddy' Combs. The singer has filed a lawsuit against sex trafficking along with sexual assault. On Friday she settled the lawsuit in New York as per the court documents. Cassie's legal team sent an e-mail that says 'This evening, Ms. Ventura and Mr. Combs resolved the claims that she filed against him yesterday in the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York to their mutual satisfaction'. As of now, the terms of the settlement have not been disclosed.

The actress and singer said in her statement 'I have decided to resolve this matter amicably on terms that I have some level of control. I want to thank my family, fans, and lawyers for their unwavering support'. On the other hand, Combs have said 'We have decided to resolve this matter amicably. I wish Cassie and her family all the best. Love'.

Right after that, Combs' attorney Ben Brafman has given a statement where he has stated 'Just so we're clear, a decision to settle a lawsuit, especially in 2023, is in no way an admission of wrongdoing. Mr. Combs' decision to settle the lawsuit does not in any way undermine his flat-out denial of the claims. He is happy they got to a mutual settlement and wishes Ms. Ventura the best'. In addition to that, he has also said the rapper 'vehemently denies these offensive and outrageous allegations'.

Cassie was being abused by Combs from the very beginning. She said they started having a sexual relationship when she started her professional career. At that time she was only 19 and Combs was nearly 37. She has also said that after signing his label Bad Boy Records, he 'lured [her] into an ostentatious, fast-paced, and drug-fueled lifestyle, and into a romantic relationship with him -- her boss, one of the most powerful men in the entertainment industry, and a vicious, cruel, and controlling man nearly two decades her senior'. After all this, Cassie's lawyer Douglas Wigdor has stated 'I am very proud of Ms. Ventura for having the strength to go public with her lawsuit. She ought to be commended for doing so'.

Zac Brown Band, Kenny Chesney, & Alan Jackson Paid Tribute to Jimmy Buffett at the 2023 CMA Awards

Jimmy Buffett has always been one of the most loved country music artists. This artist has a special spot in everyone's heart for his track 'Margaritaville'. Recently at the 2023 CMA Awards Alan Jackson, Kenny Chesney, Zac Brown Band, and Mac McAnally gave a tribute to this phenomenal artist.

In 2003, Alan Jackson performed along with Jimmy Buffett in the CMA Award, where they sang 'It's Five O'Clock Somewhere'. Buffett has always showcased his talent through his exceptional pieces of music. It can be said that he was one of the most talented artists when it comes to country music. And his absence has created a huge hollow in the music industry. That is why, the rest of the artists of Buffett's Coral Reefer Band came up together to pay tribute to the artist. At the very first Chesney and McAnally started off their performance with the track 'A Pirate Looks at Forty'. While performing McAnally also said 'Jimmy made a whole world full of friends... just a few friends'. And later on, he said 'Thank you, Jimmy!'. It is quite an emotional moment for everyone.

Along with that, Zac Brown and Alan Jackson came up on the stage and started off the performance with 'adios, my friend'. Right after that they also sang the 1977s biggest hit 'Margaritaville'. While singing his hit songs, the crowd also responded by saying 'Salt! Where's the damn salt!'. With this tribute, everyone was living in the era of Buffett.

This proficient artist Jimmy

Buffett passed away on the 1st of September due to skin cancer. At that moment, the artist was at his home in Long Island, New York.

Buffett died at the age of 76 and in this time period, he gave some spectacular pieces of music. On this occasion, McAnally has said 'Everybody taking part in it loved Jimmy and he loved everybody taking part in it – and that's an easy call, because Jimmy loved everybody and he made everybody feel better every time he was in front of them for his whole life, all the way to the end'.

Along with that he also said 'The thing we're trying to convey is that he was not a fictional character. He was really the guy that you thought he was. He's gonna be smiling down on us tonight.

Because he's gonna hear some people that loved and put their hearts right up against the microphone and gave it all we got'

They are a fine blend of various talents and sounds. The soulful creations are not just famous in India but reaching out to the hearts of people internationally as well.

Sanam: And last but not least, the pop-rock band Sanam has made musical waves all over India from Mumbai. The band consists of brilliant Sanam Puri who writes tunes and sings too, Samar Puri is also a part of the band who writes and shreds on guitar, and there's Venky S on bass and Keshav Dhanraj. The band was awarded with the Best Music Content Creator (National Category) at the Social Media Summit & Awards in 2017. They have recreated many Indian soundtracks that have gathered immense love such as 'Tujhse Naraz Nahi Zindagi', 'Hai Apna Dil To Aawara', and several others.

Wrapping up,

That was a trip! Shortly, Indian music lovers still believe that there is still the charm and spark left in the new bands that are still managing to deliver creatively boundless and magical soundtracks and entertaining the crowd nonetheless.

A R Rahman Being Criticized for Making a New Version of 'Karar Oi Louho Kopat'

Global singer and songwriter A R Rahman is getting huge criticism for his new song 'Karar Oi Louho Kopat'. Originally, the track was written and composed by Kazi Nazrul Islam. Recently, Rahman came up with a new version of the song for the upcoming movie 'Pippa' starring Mrunal Thakur and Ishaan Khattar. A R Rahman has always been one of the most loved musicians of the country. Each time the artist comes up with a melodious soundtrack and captivates his listeners. But this time, he is getting some different responses from the others.

Previously, many artists have taken the initiative to create different variations of this patriotic song. but no one of them has ever changed the song, where Rahman has tried to add his charm to it. And that is what people are not liking at all. They have said, he has lost the essence of the original track. With this particular soundtrack, people have many emotions. It is one of the most popular patriotic songs in the country. Therefore, making changes in it has hurt the emotions of the netizens.

A user has said 'What is this? Is this some kind of a joke #arrahman? This is not even a deconstruction of the popular Nazrulgeeti #Kararoilouhokopaat from the film #pippa. I would request everyone to raise our voices against this eccentricity (sic)'.

On the other hand, the proficient Indian music composer Debojyoti Mishra has said 'We're all familiar with A.R. Rahman as a genius composer and a thoughtful individual. Personally, he's a good friend of mine. However, it's distressing to discover that the iconic song of the legendary rebel poet and composer, Kazi Nazrul Islam, has been brutally murdered. Like many others, I'm deeply shocked by this tragedy. It's a nightmarish scenario, and even as a standalone piece, the impact is truly'.

A YouTube user has said 'A powerful song based on strong revolutionary messages to the younger generations got randomly transformed into a light hearted romantic type melody. The lyrics seemed to be haphazardly scattered into some random pop chord progression. There is not even a central structure of the melody. Why AR Rahman? Why butcher such a wonderful phenomenal song? Why deform works of the great Kazi Nazrul Islam?' After that, another stated 'Rahman Sir, you can't play with our emotions by destroying the very soul of such an immortal creation'.

All these have created a huge mess on the internet. From this, it can be clearly said that netizens are quite pleased with this creation. another person has added more by saying 'This Nazrul Geeti is a masterpiece itself and does not need any modifications from any musician in the world for it to sound better. Being a musician yourself you shouldn't have disrespected an artist of this calibre'. Where another uttered 'Mr. Rahman, this song has a different place in every Bengali's heart. It is very disturbing to listen to my favorite musician destroying Kazi Nazrul's song which till date gives goosebumps to every Bengali youth. Probably you have not listened to the original song.'

After Over a Decade Taylor Swift Performs 'Safe & Sound' and 'Untouchable' Live in Sao Paulo

Swift continues her The Eras Tour in South America. On Friday, in Sao Paulo, Brazil, she performed some of her earliest releases. Songs that have cut deep earlier in the minds of millions of people, and once again she revived those numbers with her flawless style. This part was included in the setlist as the "Surprise Songs Segment" of the show.

She started the segment with her most recent release "1989 (Taylor's Version)". This was for the debut performance of 'Now That We Don't Talk'; this is one of the tracks from her rereleased LP. Before she started to deliver the track on her acoustic guitar she said, "I've never performed this one live before, let's see how I do with it," adding further, "Let's see how I do with it.

Just a few weeks ago this number was added to Swift's catalog, but it seemed like an entire crowd knew the lyrics by heart, and they sang along with her making it one of the most divine moments of this tour. The first song she played was 'Safe & Sound' off of The Hunger Games soundtrack, on her guitar.

The song became immensely popular as it was a part of this 2012 feature film. It was over a decade the crowd hadn't heard her singing this song. The last time she played this number was in 2013 on her Red Tour. The original recording of the song featured The Civil Wars but Swift performed the tune with perfection. Next to this number, she performed her immensely popular ballad 'Untouchable' on Piano. This was rerecorded for Fearless (Taylor's Version) but she hasn't performed this live since 2011. While she was about to perform these two she said, "This has been a tradition that I started on The Eras Tour," explaining more she continued, "Both songs I am playing tonight I have never, ever played on this tour." Both so

On the eve of 25th November, Sao Paulo was shimmering with the musical attributes of this fascinating artist, reviving her previous popular numbers, and reliving her earliest releases.

SNOOP DOGG COLLABORATED WITH A SMOKELESS FIRE PIT AND SAID 'I'M GIVING UP SMOKE'

Snoop Dogg, the American rapper and singer has recently announced he is quitting smoking. This news is quite surprising for all the netizens. He made a post on a social media platform and said 'After much consideration & conversation with my family, I've decided to give up smoke. Please respect my privacy at this time'.

Snoop Dogg is an artist who was never seen without his weed. So, a piece of news like this from this rapper has shocked everyone to the core. All of his followers have assumed that it was for a new business or money. But later he said 'I'm giving up smoke... I know what you thinkin' ... 'Snoop! Smoke is kind of your whole thing!' But I'm done with it. Done with the coughin' and the clothes smellin' all sticky icky. I'm goin' smokeless'. And now he has become the 'official smokesman' of the Solo Stove's portable fire pit.

Snoop has officially partnered with this company and going smokeless. They are a 'smokeless product innovation'. The rapper has also contributed to designing the signature line of Snoop Dogg x Solo Stove. Now in the bundle of fire pit, there is also a Snoop bucket hat and a Snoop x Solo sticker pack available. Thus, one would get all these in the fire pit bundle. This company has come up with a fire pit that would solve every problem regarding smoking. That is why, they have introduced the topic 'Going Smokeless'.

This initiative of smokeless products is quite innovative for everyone. No other company has ever thought about this kind of product. And for that reason, it has stunned the global audiences. Along with that, this product is getting more attention from everyone after collaborating with Snoop Dogg. Recently, Snoop Dogg and Martha Stewart both collaborated on the 'Best Bud Bags'. These are a weed-friendly crossbody bag company.

Snoop Dogg is promoting smoke-free and weed-friendly products at the same time. This is creating many complications. People are quite confused about what the artist is trying to promote. He hasn't made any comment on this incident, so maybe he will share his thoughts and opinions later with his audience.
