'TEXAS HOLD 'EM'

A singer-songwriter a versatile performer who can do music and activism for decades is not supposed to be afraid to make a little shift in the musical genre. And that is what pop queen Beyoncé is proving again with her latest song 'TEXAS HOLD 'EM'. She has made a bold shift to the country genre for this song and the flavors could be found in the other track '16 Carriages' as well. Both of these tracks are part of her latest album, the 'Act II' of Renaissance. There is something about 'TEXAS HOLD 'EM' that makes it fresh and strangely familiar at the same time. It is a tribute by the singer to her culture, the Black roots of country music that can quickly channel and resonate with the masses. And by mass, it is referred to the hard-working professionals with a tough life just like the good old country artists themselves. There is a fair amount of earthy elements in the song which makes it even more engaging for all. Whether the surprise teaser at the Super Bowl LVIII commercial or the drastic change in the musical genre; Beyoncé has generated a major buzz among all kinds of listeners along with her fans.

Taylor Swift Treats His Fans, Drops Track List For The Latest Album 'The Tortured Poets Department'

It is going to be a good week for all the Swifties. The Global pop sensation Taylor Swift treated her fans on Tuesday as she released the full track list of her much anticipated 11th studio album, 'The Tortured Poets Department'. The 'Lover' singer said, "My brand-new album comes out April 19. It's called 'The Tortured Poets Department.' I'm going to go and post the cover right now backstage,"

On the singer's Instagram post, Taylor Swift shared a black and white photograph of her leaning on the pillows. The top half of her face and the lower half of her legs are not visible in the low-contrast photo.

"All's fair in love and poetry..." her caption says.

The 'You Belong With Me' singer said on Sunday while she was holding her Grammy for pop vocal album "I want to say thank you to the fans," added, "by telling you a secret that I've been keeping from you for the past two years, which is that my brand-new album comes out April 19."

By that timeframe, the relationship with Alwyn may have been in a lot of trouble for a while before Taylor declared its end in the spring of 2023. As a poetic hat tip to the end of the relationship, Swift changed her opening "Folklore" song during the Eras Tour from "Invisible String" to "The 1."

Swift also stated she wrote "You're Losing Me," an additional track on her "Midnights" album, two years ago. The track tells about a relationship on life support, with the artist pleading with a lover to "do something, babe, say something" and bring the romance back to life.

The 'Cruel Summer' singer shared, "I want to say thank you to the fans by telling you a secret that I've been keeping from you for the last 2 years, which is that my brand-new album comes out April 19," while accepting the award for the best pop album.

Additionally, Travis Kelce, the musician's lover commented on the forthcoming album while having a conversation with the reporters ahead of the Super Bowl, he said on Monday in Las Vegas, "I have heard some of it, yes. And it is unbelievable" moreover added, "I can't wait for her to shake up the world when it finally drops."

The pro sportsman also said, "She's unbelievable. She's re-writing the history books herself," continued adding, "I told her I'll have to hold up my end of the bargain and come home with hardware, too." He also added, "I can't give you anything. I leave that up to her,"

Gwen Stefani And Blake Shelton Releases Their New Duet 'Purple Irises'

Apart from being madly in love, Gwen Stefani and Blake Shelton are continuing their journey to release some of the most beautiful numbers. They both jointly announced this release via an Instagram post. The title of their latest number is 'Purple Irises', on 5th February.

They posted a photo of them together while Shelton is sitting by an upright piano holding his guitar and smiling and Stefani is lounging on a couch with a retro look. She is wearing a denim jumpsuit and Shelton is wearing a Canadian tuxedo with blue denims.

At about the same time, Stefani also teased about this release on TikTok with a snippet of the tune of their latest release.

In the TikTok clip audience can hear the voices of her and Shelton singing together, "But if someone comes along and tries to love you like I love you / Don't know what I'd do / Don't want to lose you / If someone comes along and tries to take you, tries to make you / Don't let 'em change your mind / Wonder why you took a risk / On a broken heart you cannot fix / No I never knew a love like this / Now we're pickin' purple irises."

Stefani also shared a still of their recording sessions, in which she and Shelton were recording the release 'Purple Irises' in the recording studio. On that note, fans were flooded with comments, and to those appreciative reactions she wrote, "We love u guys so excited to share w u," in the comments sections, along with five purple hearts.

This announcement came a few days after Shelton dropped his six-track EP, 'Love Language'. The EP also features their previous collabs 'Nobody But You', 'Happy Anywhere', 'God Gave Me You', 'Sangria', 'Honey Bee', and 'A Guy With a Girl'. The duo also released a festive track in 2017 called, 'You Make It Feel Like Christmas'.

They first met on the sets of the popular reality TV show 'The Voice' and they both were the singing coaches for that competition series. After spending a long time dating, they tied the knot in 2021. And since the beginning, they have been going strong and charmingly growing together. Stream 'Purple Irises' now.

Get Ready To Watch Blackpink Member Lisa On HBO's The White Lotus

Blackpink's Lisa or Lalisa Manobal is making her acting debut with HBO. You will be able to see Lisa in the third season of HBO's popular comedy-drama series, The White Lotus, she will be joining their ensemble cast with highly acclaimed actors like Parker Posey, Natasha Rothwell, Leslie Bibb, Michelle Monaghan, and Jason Isaacs. He is going to be the second member of this band to work with the entertainment giant HBO.

In the credits of The White Lotus, you will be able to see her full name Lalisa Manobal. And she is happy to join forces with these highly talented actors. Apart from featuring Lisa in the series, Emmy will be returning to the show in her role as hotel masseuse Belinda in season one. But, in which role Manobal is going to feature hasn't been disclosed yet but the entire series is based on a conspiracy at exotic resorts.

From this February, the third season of The White Lotus will begin its production in Koh Samui, Phuket, Bangkok, and Thailand. The plot details will be similar but we can expect something intriguing for this season from the creators of this extremely popular comedy-drama series' third franchise. Mike White, the creator, writer, and director of the show teased avid 'The White Tiger' audience by saying that the third season might be "a satirical and funny look at death and eastern religion and spirituality". Since the first season of this show, it has earned several accolades including 15 Emmys for their last two seasons.

On the other hand, based on a report released last December each member of this extremely popular girl band has renewed their contracts with South Korea's YG Entertainment Inc. Previously, Lisa's group member Jennie also featured in HBO's drama 'The Idol' last year. She also used her complete name, Jennie Ruby Jane, to begin her acting debut.

The girl band holds a Guinness book record for being the most viewed channel on YouTube. They have reached over 90 million subscribers on YouTube. They acquired this Guinness book record in 2023 and as they all have renewed their contract with your production team we might be able to see something more appealing in 2024 as well from them.

The American rapper Megan Thee Stallion took her social media to share a few enticing photos in the celebration of the day of love, Valentine's Day. The rapper's photo shoot was performed as a sneak to her upcoming 29th birthday. Fans and followers showered their praise and love for the gorgeous images, flooding the comment section with admiration and blessings.

On Valentine's Day, the 'Sweetest Pie' star treated her fans to a string of images that marked her birthday countdown. The musician is known for her empowering and bold personality, engaging the audience with enticing visuals that reflect confidence.

Last month, the proficient singer showed off her hot-girl side on the red carpet at the 'Mean Girls' premiere in New York City. She was seen wearing a non-pink, skin-baring, mermaid halter-neck gown designed by Natalia Barzilai and a belly button ring.

The 'HISS' star posed in her alluring appearance with her collaborator Renee Rapp, the 'Means Girls' star. The duo collaborated on the movie's rock-pop soundtrack 'Not My Fault' which is a gritty nod to Megan raps, "I mean, who wouldn't wanna be in love with me?" moreover added, "But I have been told y'all, I'm the Black Regina George / Bikini top, booty shorts, Megan-core / You was hatin' back then, now you finna hate more / I got influence, they do anything I endorse / I run s---, to be a bad bitch is a sport."

Many expressed their excitement for the brilliant effort, and said, "We Ready." One of them wrote in the comment section, "PLS I CANT HANDLE", and another one wrote, "Sooo happy for your collab! Hopefully, some sweatsuits/outfits?? A lot of us not for the bodysuits things, but would love to represent.", moreover a third one wrote, "Thee hottie reign just won't let up with a fire emoticon"

One of the fans admired Megan and remarked, "One thing about Megan is never let anybody take her shine away." Several fans showed their excitement for the collaborative sneakers, one internet user said, "We need something for the Hot Boys too meg along with a crying emoticon"

However, previous rumors started to circulate on the internet about Megan Thee Stallion's forthcoming collaborative collection with Nike. The musician was also spotted wearing a gorgeous Nike Air Max 97 sneaker colorway last month that was supposed to be part of this rumored collection.

As revealed by the musician's post, the collaborative collection is all ready to make its debut on February 15, 2024, through megantheestallion.com. Following this initial release, the collection will become available via Nike and several of its linked retail partners. This collection will include a long-sleeve body suit, bomber jacket, cropped t-shirt, mid-rise biker shorts, non-padded sports bra, and more. The pricing for the apparel items in this collection will differ from $40 to $200. This full range uses a black and red color palette and will be offered in plus size as well, showcasing their dedication to size inclusivity.

USHER IS ALL SET TO CREATE A TV DRAMA SERIES ABOUT BASED ON HIS MUSIC

When Usher said he was just getting ready after his 2024 Super Bowl Halftime Show performance, he really meant it. Just a few days after he took the stage at Allegiant Stadium in Las Vegas Sunday, the superstar has now declared plans to build a television drama series centered around his music.

As per the Hollywood reporter, the show will be created in collaboration with Universal Studio Group's UCP and will roam around "Black love in Atlanta and individuals looking to find a place to call home," as per its logline, as reported by the media outlet. Moreover added, "The series will explore music, style, sex, romance, and secrets that threaten to tear relationships apart."

The 45-year-old star furthermore stated, "My 30-year catalog has resonated with so many people no matter where they were in their lives," continued saying, "I'm happy to be working with UCP to bring the music to life. I hope the series resonates with you the way my music continues to."

Furthermore, American singer Usher's long-time lover, Jennifer Goicoevhea tied the knot with the singer in Las Vegas on February 11, where the musician performed at Super Bowl LVIII, media house reported. The couple exchanged vows at Vegas Wedding's Terrace Gazebo, a representative said, "We can confirm that Usher and Jennifer Goicoechea took the next step in their relationship and did get married on Sunday night in Las Vegas surrounded by close friends and family," moreover added, "They both look forward to continuing to raise their children together surrounded by love and thank everyone for the well wishes."

He furthermore stated, "Listen, when you find someone that you know is a great partner, of course, it is an honor and a pleasure to be able to share life with someone who wants to share it with you and loves you, who you are," continued saying, "We've obviously made a commitment to live for life together because of our children," Usher moreover added, "It wouldn't be odd for us to get married. We already did here. You know what I'm saying?" added, "And we're going to be in each other's lives until we die, obviously, because we have something to share. That's beautiful. Our children. But not because of of that. I really do feel like I have an amazing partner that I respect."

The musician also explained how he built the connection with Goicoechea during a time of personal growth, saying, "I started this journey, I found and met an amazing partner who happened to be my best friend and was there all the time, and I was like, wow, this could be great,"

Additionally, Goicoechea said, "I'm very happy, very fortunate to have an incredible friend, not just a partner. She's my best friend and I love her."

Madonna Fell From A Chair In Her Seattle Concert

The Queen of Pop, Madonna fell on stage while performing at her concert at Climate Pledge Arena in Seattle. As per the records, it is coming to know that she fell from a chair as one of her backup dancers tripped. At the moment, she was performing her hit song 'Open Your Heart'.

The video of her falling on the stage has gone viral on social media platforms. In the video, it is coming to see that a dancer lost control, which is why Madonna fell on the stage. Right after falling, she recovered quickly. Madonna rolled on her front and laughed off the incident. Then she continued singing and completed her performance. This 65-year-old artist never fails to mesmerize her audiences. Her innovative way of handling any situation amazes the onlookers.

After the incident, she got a little confused and said 'S---, I forgot the words'. And later that, she remembered the words and started singing again. Not only that, but she also completed the choreography and cheered the crowd. Later in the show, many of her fans made posts to address the incident and said 'She is a freaking pro. All her efforts to entertain us. You gotta love her. She's Incredible'.

Another person has said 'And no one will dare say anything bad about her fall because she owned it and saved it with that cheeky laugh of hers!'

Currently, Madonna is doing her 'Celebration Tour'. This tour has been postponed as she suffered due to various bacterial infections. The tour was entirely postponed because of her health issues. At that time, she was also hospitalized as her condition got worse. She started the concerts after she recovered completely.

It is not the first time where Madonna has fallen on stage. Before this, at the 2015 Brit Awards, she fell on the stairs during her performance. That time the incident occurred due to her wardrobe malfunction. But every time the artist does a brilliant comeback, which makes her performance even better. And from this, it can be said that she is not called a queen just for her music, but it is spontaneity that makes her different and superior to other music artists.

Birthday Girl Olivia Rodrigo Made a Statement with a Bold Outfit for the Celebrations

Currently, one of the leading pop singers in the industry; Olivia Rodrigo has just shared the pictures of her exciting b'day bash that took place on February 20th. The singer could be seen celebrating in a beautiful halter-neck black dress which set a bold statement in fashion.

The dress was elegantly designed which comes with a blend of creativity and minimalism. It featured side tie-ups along with a sleek black belt and a plunging neckline. Wearing silver rings and hoop earrings, the singer has perfectly complimented her daring look which is sublime and chic. Rodrigo also wore a vibrant shade of crimson lipstick and nail paint to embrace the party look.

To add a little dose of drama, she added a little wingtip of eyeliners along with a neat bun tied. However, she also let her hair loose when dancing and posing with others.

The 'vampire' hitmaker posted a series of pictures on Instagram and put up the caption, "Today is my last day of being able to underage drink (hypothetically) !!!!". She is currently 21 years old. When the clock hit midnight, she cut a cake that was inspired by the Y2K design of her first album. 'SOUL' was one of the hit music projects of Rodrigo's career even though it was a debut album. Two of the most hit songs of this album are "driver's license" and "good 4 u."

She carried the hit streak forward with more hit songs like "vampire," "bad idea right?" and "get him back!"; the songs which appeared in her sophomore album "GUTS."

The singer made sure to invite her BFFs in the Birthday Bash, Iris Apatow, and Madison Hu who are well revered as the actresses of 'Unstable' and 'The Brothers Sun', respectively. Both of them have also appeared in the music videos for Bad Idea Right as well as SOUR Prom.

SWIFT TAKEOVER! SWIFT FANS SING-ALONG ON AIRPLANE SPARKS OUTRAGE

A seemingly joyful and exciting sing-along of Taylor Swift songs on an airplane has turned into a viral storm in social media. The video of girls uniting and singing Taylor Swift hits together on an airplane has divided the internet and sparked a heated debate about airplane etiquette and shared space. While some passengers joined and belted out 'Love Story' with the girls, others have called the impromptu concert "torture". In a TikTok video, multiple women were seen singing Swift's 2008 hit track, and since the video has been viral on other social media platforms, sparking debates.

The TikTok video was shared by @maddisonolsen11 and has stirred the internet it captures a group of women, passengers on the plane singing along to 'Love Story', Taylor Swift's 2008 hit. However, this seemingly cheerful video wasn't the end of it. The camera also captures the airline crew joining the group and singing over the speakers. Two flight attendants also proudly declared their love for the global pop star.

One of them even took the aisle for a spontaneous "Shake It Off" dance routine. After uploading, while some of the social media users found it heartwarming, others criticized the behavior as disruptive and disrespectful to personal space on the airplane.

The TikTok video was captioned "POV your whole flight are Swifties." the user further wrote, "If this isn't how you commute to the Eras Tour, then I don't want it." But this met some raging views online as well. One TikTok user commented, "This would be torture." Other users soon joined in, sharing the same disruption and irritation. One wrote, "My anger issues could never." Displaying the disturbance and irate feelings, one commented,

"What about the people who aren't Swifties and are just tryna enjoy their flight." Someone took the issue even further, and talked about passengers who are already in discomfort, saying, "I feel bad for other passengers, especially those with sensory issues, claustrophobia or anxiety disorders." While some people enjoyed this impromptu concert on air, some were disappointed calling it a torture they never want to face.

The Grammy-winning and record-breaking superstar resumed her 'Eras Tour' in Australia over the weekend. In the country, Swift performed three back-to-back concerts in Melbourne from 16 February to 18 February. In Olsen's video, it seemed like a majority of passengers were on their way to the Eras Tour concert, which justifies the excitement and sing-along.

On the other hand, some shared their collective sympathy for those passengers who were on the flight for other businesses and did not want to be a part of the Swift takeover and sing-along.

Selena Gomez Looked Stunning In Her Picture From Paris

In her whirlwind trip to Paris, she is seen in the shoes of 'Emily in Paris'. The The Only Murders in the Building star posted on social media about this brief yet insanely fashionable trip to Paris. During this stay, there have been two photo dumps and a tease to her upcoming single. First, she teased about the upcoming song she wrote on Instagram, "Wait 'til I turn my love on. Presave my new song 'Love On' out 2.22," teasing about her upcoming release on 22nd February along with a pre-save option.

In the next photo dump, she was seen enjoying her time in Paris with some excellent fashionable outfits and enjoying croissants with coffee. In this post she again nudged her audience about her upcoming song 'Love on', she wrote, "40 hours. Paris. LOVE ON 2/22" with one white heart and a lock emoji.

She posted five photos in the first photo in the first picture she is seen in an all-black mini dress standing at a side lane near the Eiffel Tower with a sheer jacket and sunglasses. And her iconic red lip stain made the picture look immensely fashionable.

In the next picture we see her in the same black dress but in a more sensuous pose sitting in front of an orange background. In the next picture, she is seen taking a bubble bath and still enjoying her time during this brief stay. The last two pictures show a love story between Selena, a croissant, and coffee. She looked spectacular sitting outside of a Parisian café with this iconic food combination.

On her third and final photo dump, she posts two photos, less candid ones. She captioned this photo "Qu'est-ce que je vais te nommer? Je vais te nommer. L'amour L'amour tendre.

Even though she has shared that this is going to be her last album her fans are eagerly waiting for this release.

LIONEL MESSI'S WARM-UP PLAYLIST INCLUDES BAD BUNNY, KAROL G AND MANY OTHERS

Music is a part of everyone's life and perhaps in the toughest times too. Sharing their own feelings and playlist, Lionel Messi has curated a special collection of songs which is his warm-up playlist. It is available on Apple Music and now everybody can have access to it.

In the description of the Apple Music playlist, Messi said, "Music has always played a significant role in my life, especially on match days. Music calms my mind, helping me maintain composure and relaxation." Coming from the greatest football player ever, it shows how music helps athletes perform their best.

This special playlist spans for around 3 hours and 30 minutes and consists of a total of 60 tracks; perfect for a warm-up routine. It includes some of the best hits both English and Latin pop tracks such as Bad Bunny's 'Otra Noche en Miami', Karol G and Peso Pluma's 'QLONA', Rauw Alejandro's 'Todo De Ti', Maluma's 'Hawái' and the list goes on.

There is also Coldplay's 'Viva La Vida', Rihanna's 'Don't Stop The Music', Pitbull's 'I Know You Want Me (Calle Ocho)', Gorillaz's 'Feel Good Inc.' as well as U2's 'Vertigo'. The list also includes many other artists such as J Balvin, Drake, AC/DC, Rick Ross, and so on. This powerful playlist is now buzzing among the fans of Messi as well as the music lovers who are greatly amused with this curation.

This playlist shows the football magician's taste for Mexican music with tracks like "Ella Baila Sola", "Tiki Taka Toco", "Según Quién" and many others. The playlist also shows that Messi kind of likes Grupo Frontera as the playlist includes several tracks by this band like "No Se Va," "un x100to", "TULUM", "Bebe Dame", and so on. Celia Cruz's "La Vida es un Carnaval", and Selena's "Bidi Bidi Bom Bom," etc add a special touch to this playlist. There is a wide diversity of Argentinian Music as well which shows his love for native music from home.

Bad Bunny is not only a part of this special playlist but numerous other top charts as the artist has secured the second spot for most streamed artist globally, according to Spotify's Global Data. His exquisite music project, the album 'Un Verano Sin Ti' is the most streamed album globally which makes him just behind Taylor Swift.

Rihanna Gotten Billion Views On Her Song 'Umbrella' Featuring Jay-Z

Rihanna's song 'Umbrella' hit a billion views on YouTube. This soundtrack was uploaded 15 years ago and recently, this video has gotten more than 1 billion views. It is quite a massive moment for the artist and all of her fans. This late 2000s track is definitely one of the greatest works of Rihanna. Jay-Z started the track with a rap and a group of models were shown in hoodies and a pair of sunglasses.

Later, Rihanna took over the video and showed her brilliant dance moves. At the young age of 21 years, she set the stage on fire with this outstanding presentation. In the video, she used an umbrella as a prop and gracefully performed. Along with that, she also splashed water during the performance which made it even more sensual.

Rihanna has shown her charm by offering an excellent soundtrack. But along with that, it is the choreography that also deserves the appreciation. In the song 'Umbrella', the artist has sung

'When the sun shines, we'll shine together/ Told you I'll be here forever / Said I'll always be your friend/ Took an oath, I'mma stick it out to the end'.

In the music industry, Rihanna is one of the artists who never disappoints her listeners. Each time, she comes up with a new kind of song. And that is what helps her reach out to the maximum number of audiences. It is her innovative presentations, that have assisted her to stand out among all the other musicians. This track 'Umbrella' has received huge recognition, which has led her to achieve this huge milestone. At the time of release, she also topped the Billboard Hot 100 list.

So, it can be said, that this track is one of the biggest creations of Rih's. In this song, she has worked with Jay-Z. Apart from that, she has worked with him on many soundscapes.

Some of their creations are 'Talk That Talk', 'Stranded (Haiti Mon Amour) featuring Bono and The Edge', and 'Run This Town', which features Kanye West. All of their creations have gotten a huge response from the audience.

Therefore, this can be said, that their innovative creations have the potential to create a buzz among all.

India Mourns The Death Of Ghazal Singer Pankaj Udhas

Pankaj Udhas, the legendary Ghazal singer passed away at the age of 72 after a battle with a prolonged illness on 26th February. His death was confirmed by his family on the very same day. His immediate family released a statement on social media, confirming the death of the veteran ghazal maestro. Udhas with his immensely charming and emotive singing has captivated the hearts of music lovers not only from India but from all over the world for decades.

Taking it to Instagram, Pankaj Udhas' daughter Nayaab shared a statement confirming the legendary singer's death on Monday. The statement read, "With a heavy heart, we are saddened to inform you of the sad demise of Padmashri Pankaj Udhas on 26th February 2024 due to a prolonged illness." The singer passed away at Breach Candy Hospital in Mumbai, at 11 AM today. According to the reports, the late singer was diagnosed with cancer a few months back and since then he stopped meeting anyone. His last rites will be performed on Tuesday, February 27th.

Udhas made a mark in the Bollywood industry with his captivating playback singing in famous Hindi films including "Naam", "Saajan", "Mohra", etc. Some of his evergreen Gazals include 'Chandani Raat Mein', 'Na Kajre Ki Dhaar', 'Aur Ahista Kijiye Baatein', 'Ek Taraf Uska Ghar', and 'Thodi Thodi Piya Karo'. The singer in his lifetime performed at many concerts all over the world and had several albums to his name. He also started a talent hunt TV show called 'AadabAarz Hai'.

Soon after Nayaab, Udhas' daughter shared the news of the singer's demise, tributes poured in and his fans swamped the comment section, posting their condolences. Prime Minister Narendra Modi said Pankaj Udhas' "ghazals spoke directly to the soul". "We mourn the loss of Pankaj Udhas Ji, whose singing conveyed a range of emotions and whose Ghazals spoke directly to the soul. He was a beacon of Indian music, whose melodies transcended generations. I recall my various interactions with him over the years," said the Indian Prime Minister. "His departure leaves a void in the music world that can never be filled. Condolences to his family and admirers. Om Shanti," he added.

Bollywood singer Sonu Nigam also posted a picture of the legendary singer on his Instagram and wrote, "One of the most important part of my childhood, is lost today. Shri Pankaj Udhasji, I will miss you forever. My heart cries knowing that you are no more. Thank you for being there. Om Shanti." Another renowned musician AnupJalota shared several pictures with the late veteran singer on X (formerly Twitter) and captioned, "Shocking.... Music legend & my Friend #PankajUdhas passes away. We extend our heartfelt condolences to his Family and loved ones during this difficult time."

Born in Jetpur in Gujarat on May 17, 1951, Pankaj Udhas was the youngest of three brothers. In his initial days, he started by learning the instrument tabla but studied Hindustani vocal classical music under Ghulam Qadir Khan Sahab later.

Country Grooves with 'TEXAS HOLD 'EM'

Invites You to The Dance floor

The Beyhive is buzzing at its peak with the latest release of 'TEXAS HOLD 'EM', a country attempt by pop queen Beyoncé. Let's find out more about the 'Act II' of the Renaissance.

A singer-songwriter a versatile performer who can do music and activism for decades is not supposed to be afraid to make a little shift in the musical genre. And that is what pop queen Beyoncé is proving again with her latest song 'TEXAS HOLD EM'. She has made a bold shift to the country genre for this song and the flavors could be found in the other track '16 Carriages' as well. Both of these tracks are part of her latest album, the 'Act II' of Renaissance. There is something about 'TEXAS HOLD EM' that makes it fresh and strangely familiar at the same time. It is a tribute by the singer to her culture, the Black roots of country music that can quickly channel and resonate with the masses. And by mass, it is referred to the hard-working professionals with a tough life just like the good old country artists themselves. There is a fair amount of earthy elements in the song which makes it even more engaging for all.

Whether the surprise teaser at the Super Bowl LVIII commercial or the drastic change in the musical genre; Beyoncé has generated a major buzz among all kinds of listeners along with her fans. Not only the anticipation, but the song is already performing well on the top charts such as the Billboard U.K. top 10. The rapid-plucked; banjo by Rhiannon Giddens along with the stomping beats are the main elements of the song that make it powerful and more energetic. Giddens also played viola for the song and added more folk elements. There is no doubt that Beyoncé's magical vocal skills can adapt to any kind of soundscape and when it comes to paying to homage to her Southern Routes, she did a great job.

This time, Beyoncé has decided to go beyond her personal problems and focus on the wide-reaching problem that speaks of people. Embracing "rugged whiskey" to get over problems, this song is a big hit from her upcoming eight studio album and it has successfully made listeners eager for the upcoming album. Shortly after the release of the song, numerous fans reached out to Oklahoma's KYKC to ask them to play the song. However, the General Manager said, "We do not play Beyoncé on KYKC as we are a country music station." Later on, they found out about this country project and aired it which made the Beyhive happy. Right now, Beyoncé is not making only songs, but history!

Lana Del Rey Going To Release Her Country Album 'Lasso'

Lana Del Rey gave a few hints on her upcoming album at the recent Billboard event. The artist has said, she is going to drop a country album named 'Lasso' in September 2024. According to her, she has made the album along with Jack Antonoff in the Muscle Shoals, Mississippi, and Nashville. And now the wait is going to be over as the artist is going to release the album in September.

At the Billboard event Lana said 'If you can't already tell by our award winners and our performers, the music business is going country. We're going country. It's happening...That's why [producer] Jack [Antonoff] has followed me to Muscle Shoals, Nashville, Mississippi, over the last four years'.

As Lana dropped a hint regarding her upcoming album, Jack or any of his representatives didn't make any comment. So, her fans are assuming this time Lana will drop the album as she has announced. Previously, a lot of time it is seen that she talked about her upcoming release and never really released them.

Once Lana announced that she would release 'Rock Candy Sweet' on the 1st of June 2021 after the release of 'Chemtrails Over the Country Club'. But that was never released, which upset her listeners.

Instead of that, she came up with her creation 'Blue Banister' in October 2022. That is why, her listeners don't really believe if she will release as per her announcement or not.

This kind of incident didn't happen only once. In November 2020 she said that she would release 'a digital record of American standards and classics for Christmas'. At that time, she only shared the cover of 'You'll Never Walk Alone'. In addition to that, she also talked about her country covers album and said 'I went back and listened to 'Ride' and 'Video Games' and thought, you know they're kind of country... Maybe the way 'Video Games' got remastered, they're pop—but there's something Americana about it for sure'. As of now, her listeners are expecting an album release in September. The release of 'Lasso' has created a buzz among her listeners. Before that, Lana is not going to release any songs as per her announcement. So, no one can expect any other release till then.

TOMORROW X TOGETHER'S TAEHYUN & HUENINGKAI DANCES: WATCH NOW

Tomorrow X Together marking the 2023 Video Music Awards at Prudential Center on 12th September in New Jersey, Newark. They may be K-pop celebrities, but still, that does not mean the kids of TOMORROW X, are not able to break out a nation action. Fans are creating a buzz on the internet, commenting, "taehyun is my fav cowboy." Another fan left saying, "Beyoncé collab when??"

Moreover, "I didn't believe it at first," Hueningkai, 20, shared about the group's massive slot at the iconic Chicago music festival. "It was an honor." Moreover, he added, "A few days ago we went to SoHo to shop," Yeonjun, 23, said of the group's time in New York City. "We went to Central Park and it was such a good place."

TXT fans, collectively called "MOA," which stands for "moments of alwaysness," have driven the group since their inception.

"I think they're our biggest inspiration," Taehyun, 21, said. "We are fire and they are gasoline."

"It's a once in a lifetime opportunity at a meaningful juncture of our journey," Soobin, 22, said. "I'm proud of that." Additionally, he said, "I think these days there's short-form, Reels and YouTube Shorts, that's so important to singers," He continued saying, "Making the melody 'hook-y' is very important."

However, Hueningkai said, "I enjoy (Big Hit's) music style," Furthermore stated, "They're great at getting us a lot of good opportunities. They're incredible on that front." And as long as the latest music, followers will have to wait for a while, at least, for this time. Beomgyu, the twenty-two-year-old artist said, "Our world tour is still ongoing, so for the rest of our tour we'll make lots of good memories with our 'MOA,'" continued saying, "And we're focusing on coming back with good music and a good new album."

Fans in the comments were going wild for the crossover, with one fan writing, "taehyun is my fav cowboy." Another wrote commented, wrote, "Beyoncé collab when??"

Their latest music release "The Name Chapter: Temptation" was released in January and marked debut at number one on the Billboard 200. The EP's main single was "Sugar Rush Ride," an anthemic dance pop track with an attention-grabbing melody. Using an earworm for the soundtrack was not just a coincidence. And as far as new music, fans will have to wait. At least, for now. "Our world tour is still ongoing, so for the rest of our tour we'll make lots of good memories with our 'MOA,'" shared Beomgyu. Moreover, he added, "And we're focusing on coming back with good music and a good new album."

K-Pop Star Jennie Became The Face Of Calvin Klein 2024 Campaign

Blackpink artist Jennie did the 2024 spring campaign for Calvin Klein. The brand shared the pictures on Tuesday, which is getting a huge appreciation from all.

The black-and-white photographs of Jennie for the brand have grabbed the attention of everyone. For this particular shoot, the K-Pop artist worked with Mert Alas, who is a well-known photographer.

Regarding this campaign, the brand has said 'The campaign magnifies Jennie's playful confidence and infuses Calvin Klein's emblematic Underwear and Jeans with her distinctive pop energy, elevating each style to icon status'. Along with becoming the face of the company, Jennie has also introduced two new products. This time, the brand has come up with a range of 'expressive, seductive comfort' and Jennie has been the face of it.

Now it is coming to know that all of her photos will be shared on every social media platform by the brand. All the photos will appear on the billboards all around the world. With this innovative approach, Jennie is reaching out to more audiences and making a great impact. In one of the photos from this campaign, she has been seen in a tank top, a denim mini skirt, and a pair of cowboy boots. The photograph was captioned as 'Casual is a big mood for this season @jennierubyjane takes over in Calvin Klein'.

Apart from being a singer, this K-pop artist tries out every possible thing to showcase her talent. And that is what helped her to accumulate more global audiences. Previously, in 2021, this singer collaborated with this brand as a spokes model. At that time, she only worked for the capsule collection of the company.

Through this project, she is getting the opportunity to show the bold side of her character. And it can be said that the singer amazed everyone with her work.

While talking about this campaign, Jennie has said a few words. The artist has said 'I was so excited to come back for this campaign for their iconic jeans and underwear. I love the denim zip-up jacket paired with the shorts, as it's such an effortless and sleek look that is also super comfortable. Shooting in Calvin Klein underwear always makes me feel so powerful – the bold waistband and lace details make it so easy to tap into my confident side. I hope my fans are excited to see this new campaign!'

31-Year-Old Singer Cat Janice Died Due To Cancer

‘Dance You Outta My Head’ singer Cat Janice died at the age of 31 due to cancer. The artist was battling the disease but couldn’t survive anymore. At the beginning of this year, her song went viral on TikTok and in this brief time such a huge incident took place. Right after her death, her brother made a post on Instagram and said ‘This morning, from her childhood home and surrounded by her loving family, Catherine peacefully entered the light and love of her heavenly creator’.

He also added by saying ‘We are eternally thankful for the outpouring of love that Catherine and our family have received over the past few months. Cat saw her music go places she never expected and rests in the peace of knowing that she will continue to provide for her son through her music. This would not have been possible without all of you...Per Cat’s request, there is some more art that she wants to share too. All in due time’.

From this, it can be understood that there are many songs of her, which are still not released. So, her creations will be released in the future posthumously. The artist was being treated for sarcoma, which is a rare kind of cancer. This particular cancer developed in her bones and the soft tissues. At first, she noticed a little lump on her neck. In July 2022, she had surgery, radiation, and also chemo. And later that, she shared the news that she is cancer-free.

But eventually, the cancer came back, which took her life. Through TikTok, she shared this news with all of her followers. She also said that cancer has ‘won’ and before anythin g happens, she just wanted to release one song, which is ‘Dance You Outta My Head’. Immediately after that, she transferred all her creations to her son. She has a seven-year-old son, named Loren. So, when the soundtracks will be released in the future, everything will go directly to him.

She also made a post on social media and said ‘I want my last song to bring joy and fun! It’s all I’ve ever wanted through my battle with cancer...Please please share this, I need to leave this with [Loren]. If there is anything you need to know, is that the only opinion of yourself is your opinion. Love yourself and be gentle with others. I hope to make it through this but if not, to all a good night’.

In recent times, Selena was seen in various places. She has been seen gossiping with her best friend Taylor Swift and also came to see introducing her boyfriend Benny Blanco to Steve Martin. On the other hand, she has been also preparing herself to play Alex Russo and Linda Ronstadt. Amidst all these, she has managed to release a new track, and that has astonished everyone.

In this song, Selena has gained a huge attention, as she sings 'Wait 'til I turn my love on, Why we conversing over this steak tartare when we could be somewhere other than here making out in the back of a car? Or in the back of a bar? Or we could make a memoir? Yeah, on the back wall of the last stall in the bathroom at the bazaar?'. For this particular soundtrack, she has co-written the song with Isaiah period.

The music video of the track has been shot in Paris, the city of love. The portrait of the video is quite different from all the other pieces of music. In the video, everyone could see many couples who are making out. And among all of them, Selena was seen with a French bulldog, which made her different from everyone. In this song, there is a little portion in French that sings 'Qu'est-ce que je vaistenommer? Je vaistenommer. L'amour ... L'amour tendre'. This means 'What shall I name you? I'm gonna name you the love ... the tender love'.

After the release of this single, the artist has given a hint of her upcoming album. If Selena comes up with an album, then it would be her fourth album. While talking about this album, she has said 'The theme generally is freedom — freedom from relationships, freedom from the darkness'. Apart from that, she hasn't made any other announcements. So, her listeners are eagerly expecting for the album to drop.

BEYONCÉ POURS A HEFTY DOSE OF COUNTRY MUSIC WITH HER LATEST SONG "TEXAS HOLD 'EM"

Fans are buzzing over the release of the latest two country songs by Beyoncé. Let's find out more about the song "TEXAS HOLD 'EM", released with an official visualizer.

Beyoncé is well-revered around the world as the pop icon and activist who has reigned in the music industry for the past decade and still captivating her fans with more songs. Embracing her individual musical skills and Black musical heritage, the singer-songwriter is a role model for everyone. This time artist has decided to make a different musical take through the latest release of her 'Renaissance: Act II' which is currently buzzing among the fans. Beyoncé is pouring down a hefty dose of country music through this second act and that is reflected vividly through the tracks "TEXAS HOLD 'EM" and '16 Carriages'.

carries a swift and energetic country groove. While this song does not fall into the flashy pop genre, it is also not particularly a classic as it is comprised of the artist's sheer individuality. Well-revered multi-instrumentalist and folk musician Rhiannon Giddens did an amazing job with the musical arrangement that does not start with a fiddle guitar but offers the subtlety of a banjo. Co-producer Raphael Saadiq also helped to bring the pieces together by joining the parallel flavors of country and soul music.

This tribute to the Black roots of country music is definitely adding more dynamic to Beyoncé's musical journey and she wonderfully executed the project with her brilliant vocal skills.

Although this song is quite captivating along with banjo, the ho-hey stomp-clap, and other authentic elements of country; it simply does not add up to the billionaire pop star everybody knows. This typical style of country and grassroots is originally working-class music for folks who worked rigorously to strive and to make a living. While the flavors are present there along with the musical skills, it still feels different than usual. This song also reminds me of her country dabbling in the 2016 project 'Daddy Lessons'. The "Woo!"s and "Hey!"s of "TEXAS HOLD 'EM" can make you dance but when it comes to creating an intriguing music project, the song is not up to the mark.

DUA LIPA PERFORMED 'TRAINING SEASON' AND 'HOUDINI' AT THE 2024 GRAMMYS

And making it difficult for the onlookers not to join her. For the performance of the night, Dua showed up in a complete black outfit. And among all, her red hair made the look even more elegant.

The artist has also performed on her other track 'Dance the Night' from the movie Barbie. This particular song was nominated for two Grammys. And even before the announcement, she won the hearts of the listeners on more time. Her energetic performance has spread a charm among all.

Not only that, but no one could take their eyes off of her while she was performing.

At the very end, she sang her psychedelic-influenced song, named 'Houdini'. The outstanding performance has stunned everyone. This song has already made a huge impact on everyone. With this track, Dua Lipa has gone above the expectations of everyone. The excellent work has garnered global audiences instantly.

While talking about her latest song 'Training Season', the artist said 'I had been on a string of bad dates, and the last one was the final straw...The next morning, I arrived to the studio to [songwriters] Caroline [Ailin] and Tobias [Jesso Jr.] asking me how it all went and I immediately declared 'TRAINING SEASON IS OVER,' and like the best 'day after' debriefs with your mates, we had a lot of laughs and it all quickly came together from there'. And now this song is becoming even more popular after her breathtaking Grammy performance.

Dua Lipa has literally set the stage of Grammy on fire with mind-blowing performances on songs like 'Training Season', 'Dance the Night', and 'Houdini'.

Dua Lipa kick started the 2024 Grammy with her electrifying performance. She opened her performance with the latest soundtrack 'Training Season'. There was a cage-like set on the stage and she effortlessly showed her acrobatic moves in it. And occasionally, her dancers also tipped the cage over and Dua danced in it beautifully. Right after that, she moved to the main stage and continued her performance for the night.

The artist has sung 'You should know I need someone to hold me close / Deeper than I've ever known / Whose love feels like a rodeo / Knows how to just take control / When I'm vulnerable he straight talking to my soul, conversation overload / Got me feeling vertigo / I need somebody who can go there / Cause I don't want to have to show ya / If honey you don't let me know ya / Cause training season is over'.

Previously, she has given a teaser of the song 'Training Season'. And on the Grammy night, she made a performance on her track, which surprised everyone. Her innovative performance has grabbed the attention of the audience instantly.

Mohamed Ramadan’s collaboration with Massari and Future tops many charts. The quirky song ‘ARABI’ is making its place in the hearts of music lovers for its eccentricity.

Those who are looking for catchy beats and quirky wordplay must listen to the latest release of Mohamed Ramadan's collaborative musical venture ‘Arabi’. For this number, he has collaborated with artists like Lebanese-Canadian singer Massari and chart-topping U.S. artist Future. The song is produced by Universal Arabic Music, popularly known as the UAM. The song was released on last Thursday, 8th February 2024.

Alongside Universal Arabic Music, the productions were managed by Scott Storch, Sari “Massari” Abboud, and Martin “Adium” Sinotte.

According to the makers of this song, they have been looking forward for this collaboration to take place. The founder of Universal Arabic Music and CEO of SALXCO, Wassim “Sal” Slaiby, said, this collaborative venture “embodies our vision at UAM and the way we see Arabic music on a global level”. SALXCO has recently signed Mohamed for management.

Their ambition is to promote the song on a global level to acquire as much attention as possible. Universal Arabic Music was established in 2021 by Slaiby. Slaiby has been the guiding star for the career of renowned Canadian artist The Weeknd.

For Weeknd, there was a partnership with Republic Records and Universal Music Group.

For now, UAM is focusing on discovering and championing artists and music styles from the Middle East and North Africa. This is a rapidly growing music market with a high population of around 500 million. Yet, this population has traditionally been plagued by rampant piracy. But, in this short span of 3 years after the birth of UAM, they have worked on various aspects. Artists like Elyanna, Saint Levant, $Kinny, and others have released some of the most incredible songs in the last three years.

Dedicating their success Slaiby said in a press release during the launch of UAM, “It’s been my dream to highlight the talent and culture of Arabic music on a global level with partners that I trust and admire.”

And with successful releases like ‘Sah Sah’ by Nancy Ajram and Marshmello and ‘Tukoh Taka’, the official 2022 FIFA World Cup song featuring Nicki Minaj, and many talented artists like Maluma and Myriam Fares.

The song was released in three different languages which were Arabic, Spanish, and English. 'ARABI' has kept its UAM flag high by reaching a wide range of audience.
