RIHANNA

Rihanna, the youngest self-made billionaire is expanding her beauty kingdom. She is taking her beauty empire further in the world and opening in China! On March 20, Wednesday, the singer and beauty mogul announced that her Fenty Beauty is debuting in China. Starting 1st April, customers can shop Fenty Beauty products in nearby Sephora stores throughout the country's Middle Kingdom. The company's official account shared the announcement on social media through a 30-second clip. The short commercial featured several women of diverse colors modeling for the beauty line for the 'China Fenty Fam.' In the announcement video, the singer-turned-businesswoman looked stunning as usual. Rocking clean-aesthetic makeup, she was wearing a black leather jacket. Keeping her honey-brown hair loose, she seemed beyond excited for this new expansion. The mother of two - RZA and Riot opted for a natural makeup look but looked absolutely lethal as she appeared in her signature red lip.

Blink Alert! Did You Know These 8 Facts About Blackpink?

BLACKPINK, the sensational K-pop group has quickly become one of the favorites around the world.

Thousands if not millions of people from all over the world consider themselves to be fans of this four-girls group and have dedicated themselves to these beloved "unnies". Recently, there has been news of the group being disbanded, but the members - Jisoo, Jennie, Rosé, and Lisa did not let go.

Well, here are 8 unknown facts about BLACKPINK!

1. Rosé and Hawaiian Pizza: Pineapple as a topping on pizza has been a withstanding discussion on social media for years now. People who go against it, their main argument is that it is not real Italian food. However, some view it as their custom to the food which is allowed to be consumed in any way they like. Well, Rosé, the second youngest member of the group, seems to be siding with people who are in absolute love with Hawaiian pizza. She once said, "I really like Hawaiian pizza with pineapples". When another fan asked Jisoo, another member of the group about her choice of pineapple as a topping, she replied, "It would be better if it was not warm pineapple" on Weverse. So it seems like both Rosé and Jisoo side with Hawaiian pizza when it comes to preference.

2. The real meaning of BLACKPINK: Have you ever wondered why the name of the group is BLACKPINK? Especially when the colors go the absolute opposite of each other? To any average Joe, the name BLACKPINK means the combination of two very different colors that if worn together would look cute. Well, is it the only reason the band chose this name to be their stage name? There is however a deeper meaning to why this YG Entertainment group chose these two colors. According to a 2017 radio interview, the group's tentative name was initially "Pink Punk."

This name was given to the group by YG Entertainment founder Yang Hyun-suk which was later changed to BLACKPINK. In 2016, it was revealed that the reason why this particular name stuck with the group was because the group wanted to dismantle the idea of pink being connected to being pretty.

The group disclosed that pink previously was only used to display politeness and beauty. So they took the color and added it with black to display that pink does not only mean pretty, but it also shows incredible hard work and talent. In an interview with Jimmy Kimmel in 2020, Rosé explained, "It kind of felt like those two colors represented us the most 'cause we're very girly but at the same time we're very savage too."

3. Rosé is the only one with a stage name: Among these four, Rosé is the only one who adopted a stage name. Jennie's full name is Jennie Kim she was born on January 16, 1996, in Seoul, South Korea.

The second member is Jisoo whose real name is Kim Ji-soo and was born on Jan. 3, 1995, in Gunpo, South Korea. The third member is Lisa whose real name is LalisaManobal (also spelled Manoban).

Lisa is also the one who was not born in South Korea, but in Buriram, Thailand on March 27, 1997. Now for the fourth and last member of the group, Rosé, her real name is Roseanne Park, and her Korean name is Park Chae-young. She is also another member who was originally born outside of South Korea, in Auckland, New Zealand on February 11, 1997. Among the four, Jisoo is the youngest one.

4. Lisa the main character: If we ask the fans about their favorites in BLACKPINK, some of them will slightly turn towards Lisa. So, there is little doubt about why Lisa is one of the main and most popular girls out of the four. She has a distinctive style that makes her hardcore raps even more captivating. But was she always this good?

Turns out, yes, she absolutely was. In Thailand, in 2010, YG Entertainment took its audition where the 13-year-old Lisa came, and conquered. She was so good in the audition that she ended up being the winner that day.

At the same time, this Thai singer and actress also became the only candidate selected by YG Entertainment at that time, being the first non-Korean artist to work at YG. We can only say one thing about this, Lisa ate and left no crumbs!

5. BLACKPINK's reality show: Usually, you would spot them in variety shows, doping silly things with the hosts and promoting their upcoming music. Sometimes, when a group gets really popular they get their one television show, focused on the members and their activities.

Given how popular BLACKPINK is around the globe, it is not shocking that this group has also got its own television show. BLACKPINK House, the show of the group focuses on the daily lives of the idols with a little bit of spice thrown by YG. The show aired in 2018 and only has one season but none would be surprised if it got renewed for a second season.

6. Secret members? Well, when the idea of the group was initially formed, there were supposed to be nine members of BLACKPINK. This was finalized as the group consisting of nine members started preparing for their debut in 2016, but soon the plan was canceled. YG Entertainment's Yang Hyun-Suk decided to cut the members back to just four of them whom we know today and love admirably.

Quite interestingly, one of the core nine members was (G)I-DLE's Miyeon who was just a trainee back then.

None really knows why she was cut back then, but fans guess it might be because she broke the "no dating rule" during a trip to Japan. We might never know the reason for sure, nor understand it, but we are just thankful that Miyeon had her successful debut as part of (G)I-DLE.

7. Celebrity family member: Our girls are not the only famous people in their families, especially Lisa Unnie. She is not the single one who gets covered by the media daily. Lisa's stepfather is none other than Marco Bruschiweiler, a famous chef.

Marco is not just a regular chef, but he is a Master Chef and also a prominent member of The World Association of Chefs' Societies.

If you still can't understand what it means, it means he can cook some really good food! Currently, he runs a culinary school in Bangkok and at the same time, organizes Thai and Swiss food festivals around the globe. He also seems to be very supportive of Lisa and also made a special appearance on BLACKPINK House which moved our beloved singer to tears.

8. Bilingual members: BLACKPINK is a Korean pop group. However, the members are bilingual, meaning they are fluent in both Korean and English. This is why you would find English words in their tracks. This has helped the group reach a wider audience, making their music more mainstream, and helping K-pop spread all over the world.

This has also made the girls more relatable to mainstream audiences, cementing their status as a global phenomenon.

Gaining thousands of BLINKs in every corner of the world, the group was also the first Korean female group to perform at the Coachella festival. People think a lot of their global charm is related to the fact that they can also speak English.

Kelly Clarkson & Brandon Blackstock: Find The Inside Story Of Their Relationship Timeline

Although Kelly Clarkson and her ex-husband Brandon Blackstock finally got divorced in 2022. Singer-songwriter Kelly Clarkson is one of the pop sensations who became massively popular with her musical contributions.

Despite having a successful career and a beautiful marriage, the singer had to part ways with her husband Brandon Blackstock, the son of Narvel Blackstock. Before their split, the power couple had spent 7 years together as married and before that, they had been dating each other for a long time. Let's find out how it all started and finally ended as Kelly Clarkson is officially single now.

May 2006: The First Meet

Clarkson and Blackstock first met each other at the Academy of Country Music Awards. Talking about Brandon, Kelly once said in an interview, "This guy walks by, making everybody laugh. I said, 'I'm gonna end up with him. I know it.'" Blackstock was married to his then-wife Melissa back then but they got separated in 2012, right after which he could engage with Kelly legally.

February 5, 2012: The Couple at Super Bowl

Until Blackstock's separation from his wife, Clarkson and he did not date officially but it sparked a moment when they met each other at Super Bowl 2012, after many years. Kelly put some extra effort to win

Blackstock's heart as she said, "I was so nervous because it wasn't that I didn't want to suck for the millions of people watching, I didn't want to suck because I was trying to impress a guy." She was also the first who confess liking him as the singer said to him 'I really dig you,' and that was the beginning of their sweet relationship.

February 11, 2012: The First Date

The first date with Blackstock was quite an unusual experience for Clarkson as they went on the date on February 11, 2012; on the same day when Whitney Houston died and Kelly used to consider her idol, the source of her inspiration.

She said in an interview, "This is the funniest/worst thing ever: One of my superhero idols is Whitney Houston, and the day she died was our first date." The singer further added, "I was like, 'This is a bad omen.'"

December 14, 2012: "I'M ENGAGED!!!!!"

Engaging with Blackstock was the best thing that happened to Clarkson and her immense could be seen through her social media posts as well. On December 14, 2012; the couple got engaged and the singer was found posting on Twitter, "I'M ENGAGED!!!!!"

She further added, "I wanted y'all to know!! Happiest night of my life last night! I am so lucky and am with the greatest man ever." As soon as Kelly shared her appreciation for the man, Blackstock quickly proposed to her while giving "Not a damn clue!"

October 20, 2013: The Marriage

The couple soon got married on October 20, 2013, and it made the singer very happy just like her fans. She tweeted, "I'm officially Mrs. Blackstock :) We got married yesterday at Blackberry Farms in TN, the most beautiful place ever!"

June 12, 2014: Their First Baby

With a happy marriage and growing romance, the couple soon revealed that they were expecting their first baby. In November 2013, the singer shared, "I'm totally gonna have a girl, you're gonna be like, 'That chick knew it!'" Soon enough, in June next year, the couple welcomed their first baby daughter, River Rose. The couple was extremely happy as Clarkson tweeted, "Thank you, everyone, for all of your well wishes! Brandon and I are on cloud 9!!"

April 12, 2016: Welcoming Second Baby

The singer also declared her pregnancy with the second baby on stage while performing in Los Angeles. Soon enough, the couple welcomed their baby boy on April 12, 2016, who was named, Remington Alexander. The singer posted a bunch of family photos with the baby and tweeted "Meet Remy, our newest to the family!"

November 2017: Revealing Intimacy

When it comes to Blackstock, it is evident that Clarkson was very much into her husband. The singer was found saying, "I never felt like, honestly, sexually attracted to anybody before him." The singer also shared bits and pieces of her sex life. In 2017, the singer was found saying,

"To keep it family-appropriate, let's say we're just a lot more active than other couples." She also shared, "I'm a person who loves change. He loves spontaneity. Having a set time or place would be boring to us."

June 4, 2020: Clarkson Files a Divorce Against Blackstock

After nearly seven years of loving married life, Kelly Clarkson filed a divorce against her husband on June 4, 2020, and said that there were irreconcilable differences. However, she did not want to lose her children; 's custody in the case. She was found saying, "I care 100 percent more about my children than I do anything else on this planet." In November, the singer was awarded the custody of children but both of them had to spend a lump-sum amount in spousal support and child care.

August 2021: Kelly Clarkson is Legally Single

During their divorce, Clarkson also requested the court to declare her legally single. For this reason, she said that she and Blackstock "both deserve the opportunity to build a new life." By August 2021, the judge executed the dissolution and declared the singer single. Later on, the singer also agreed to give 5.12% of their Montana ranch to Blackstock, which was valued at $908,800 back then.

March 2022: Finalized Their Divorce

After around two years of filing the divorce, the court finalized their divorce and ordered Clarkson to pay $1.3 million as well as monthly spousal support and child support as well. After her divorce, Kelly made an epic comeback in the music industry with a powerful breakup album. The new album 'Chemistry' shares the "arc of an entire relationship" and captivates fans with a rejuvenating essence. Their happy relationship might have ended, but Clarkson is quite happy now and both of the individuals are proceeding in their respective lives.

Mariah Carey Throws A Boat Party On Her 55th "Anniversary"

Superstar singer Mariah Carey is again found on the boat, celebrating spring, her success, her upcoming event based on Mimi, her 55th Birthday, or just her Anniversary!

Iconic singer Mariah Carey has just celebrated her 55th Birthday or 'Anniversary' on a boat and it was a gala.

The singer offered some glimpses of her 55th Birthday celebration on Instagram. The pictures posted on March 27 show Carey lounging on a luxury boat.

She could be seen rocking in an embellished blue gown along with heavy blonde locks that were tied up in a ponytail.

The caption reads, "Anniversary adventures commence." It seems like the singer has a knack for super yachts as she is spotted having a boat vacation from long ago. Perhaps everyone's loving Mariah is a water baby only.

On her birthday in 2023, the singer was also found diving off a yacht in a pink swimsuit.

She shared the photos on social media with a caption, "Celebratory splash at 3:27 on 3.27!" In the earlier years like 2014 to 2017, the singer has always shared pictures of her boat vacations including her family and friends.

Last year, Carey used a tweet from her fan to shed light on the resurfaced interview where she could be found explaining her views on birthdays. The singer said, "I don't have birthdays. No, well, I just have anniversaries. I decided to do that. And I've noticed that people who decide not to have birthdays, they just don't have them."

It seems like the superstar has an exciting spring coming on the way as the singer is planning to go back to Las Vegas for the third time. It is for the celebration of the Mimi residency which is taking place from April 12 to April 27 at the Dolby Live in Park MGM. It is a series of shows that is going to tribute to her fan-favorite album "The Emancipation of Mimi" on its 19th Anniversary. It album was originally released back on April 12, 2005.

A recently shared statement about the show reads, "The Las Vegas shows will feature fan favorites from that album as well as other hits from her unparalleled illustrious career." The album "The Emancipation of Mimi" consists of some hit tracks from Mariah's career such as 'Shake It Off', 'We Belong Together', and many others. It is one of the best-selling albums from the singer's huge musical arsenal. It is also considered her "comeback album," featured in the catalog.

Stay tuned for Mimi!

Cardi B Is Back With The Teaser Of Her Latest Single 'Enough Is Enough'

Get ready Cardi B is returning to the billboards with her upcoming single, the teaser has created huge anticipation amongst music lovers across the world, read more.

Cardi B fans are drooling over the teaser of her latest single, in the teaser she is seen rapping 'Enough is Enough', which may or may not be the title of this single. She didn't disclose a lot about this single but, she captioned the video as "15".

This might suggest that the song is going to be released on the 15th of March 2024, on Friday.

Based on the non-existing Easter Egg she dropped the name of the single following her previous release 'Like What (Freestyle)'.

Last week she released this track along with its music video. In the clip she is seen rapping, "I see my apps linking up, I'm like 'What in the fuck?' / If you scared then just say that, hoe / Enough is enough." This clip is not the first time she hinted about a fresh release.

Last week she posted an Instagram story where she talked about her long-awaited sophomore album which might be released in 2024.

In last week's story, she mentioned that she is "not letting my anxiety, I'm not letting what haters say, I'm not letting what fans say" prevent her from releasing new songs, further stating that "I've got no choice because I'm dropping my album this year, so stay tuned for the announcement."

Cardi's upcoming album will follow 'Invasion of Privacy'. This 2017 album has gone four times platinum and spawned several hit tracks.

Smashing hits like "I Like It," "Bodak

Yellow" and "Bickenhead" were the parts of this album, making this album an incredibly fascinating release of that year.

And when she is on the verge of releasing her second album her fans are excited to watch what next she cooked up for them is.

For her 'Invasion of Privacy she received a Grammy for Best Rap Album in 2019. And with this win, she became the first female rapper to win in this category ever.

Since 2017, she hasn't released a single album by far but she has been offering some of the most impressive single and collaborative ventures, though.

After 7 years she is going to drop her highly anticipated album in 2024, her fans are truly fascinated to see it.

Sheryl Crow Shared How AI In Music 'Terrified' Her

Find out what legendary rock n roll singer Sheryl Crow shared about her thoughts on the modern industry, music artists, and the increasing use of artificial intelligence in music.

Versatile music artist Sheryl Crow is well aware of the fact that her 2019 album was her last music project.

It is not like she wants to quit recording and songwriting but the artist feels like the traditional album format is not really great for captivating the modern listeners who like to cherry-pick songs for playlists.

Crow is one of the most successful music artists in the industry who boasts of selling more than 50 million albums since 1993.

Her first breakthrough was “Tuesday Night Music Club,” and soon this singer started reigning in the industry with hit tracks like “If It Makes You Happy,” “All I Wanna Do,” “Strong Enough,” and the list goes on.

WWW.DAILYMUSICROLL.COM | APRIL 2024 | 14

She has won a total of 9 Grammy Awards and 19 songs from her musical collection made it to the top of Billboard Hot 100.

The concerns regarding the music industry coming from an artist like Crow surely mean a lot and questions about the future.

However, the singer is ready to take more risks as she is all set to drop her 12th studio album named ‘Evolution’.

The singer has already teased this music project with the release of the leading track “Alarm Clock,” offering an enticing blend of pop-funk.

In a recent video, the singer could be seen expressing her concerns regarding AI and the crucial reasons why artificial intelligence in music terrifies her.

She also shared how age is just a number as this 62-year-old legendary music artist is always ready to drop music projects in the coming days.

The rockstar also shared her experience of performing with Stevie Nicks as well as new-age pop stars such as Olivia Rodrigo. However, the artist was more keen to perform with Willie Nelson.

She said, “My whole night revolved around getting to sing with Willie, who is probably one of my favorite people I’ve ever known.”

When it comes to the latest technology and its influence, Crow is quite astonished and afraid of the modern AIs and their use in music.

She expressed how a young songwriter used John Mayer’s voice with AI and it ‘terrified’ her.

She explained, “This is what songwriters are growing up with, even writing lyrics and using ChatGPT. I’m an older artist and I’m concerned about the evolution of humanity.”

When the singer was asked whether she has reached that point where “to be free means learning not to care”, she gracefully answered, “If caring is feeling and we won’t allow ourselves to feel, then how do we care?”

Truly, Sheryl Crow is a living legend and the modern gen needs to learn a lot from her.

Berths Family's Newest Release 'Kwa Kwa' Brings the Best of Afrobeat Music

Bringing refreshment and joy in true Afrobeat music, the Berths Family releases a brand new song 'Kwa Kwa' comprising dynamic beats, available on Spotify.

Afrobeats has a long history of being a music genre that brings joy and happiness along with its beats. Now bringing the freshness of the music style, the Berths Family has released a brand new song that puts their musical journey on a higher pedestal.

The track named 'Kwa Kwa' is available on all major music platforms and has already been gaining praise from all over the world. The couple, known for their family vlogs and humorous content, has a huge fan base on social media.

But with this song's release, they have built a pretty strong fan base in the music industry as well. People had been anticipating this release for a long time and upon the official release, they accepted with open hearts and ears!

If you are a fan of Afrobeat music, then this new track by Berths Family will be the latest addition to your all-time playlist. Elements of Afrobeats, big bands, and instrumental solos can also be found in 'Kwa Kwa'. However, the composition of the track is extremely refreshing and brings out the authenticity of the genre taking the song to a whole new level.

Written by Kwame Gee, and Alangajoa, the lyrics are emotive and fun, which stays with the listeners after a long time. On the other hand, the vocals are also euphonious and blend well with the composition and beats, being the perfect match.

However, the star of the show is most definitely the jazzy rhythms and complex musical beats that add an extra layer of hipness and originality to the whole track.

Listening to the track almost feels like being on a light and breezy journey, as the rhythms take the audience to the dance floor.

Some tracks are pretty hard to ignore which end up moving not just your body, but soul, and this track by the artists is one of them.

Miley Cyrus And Pharrell Williams Teamed Up For 'Doctor (Work It Out)'

It is time to get into the groove with Miley Cyrus as the singer-songwriter has brought a brand new project with Pharrell Williams, called 'Doctor (Work It Out)' on Feb 28.

It the time to recover as Miley Cyrus is bringing 'Doctor (Work It Out)' with Pharrell Williams which is currently live on streaming services, starting from March 1st, Friday. This is the first single release by Cyrus since her last single in 2023, "Used to Be Young"

This energetic and groovy music project consists of a fair amount of Pharrell's signature works. Cyrus on the other hand takes things on her hand being the lover doctor.

As the lyrics go, "I could be a doctor and I could be a nurse," and "I think I see the problem, it's only gonna get worse ... Just show me where it hurts/ I need to rock you baby, before your body burns/ Can we work it out?"; it has an emotive approach in it.

This collaboration project is highly anticipated and reportedly has been working in progress for more than a decade. The track "Doctor (Work It Out)" was originally intended to be released earlier but somehow it did not happen, and now, it is being scrapped from her 2013 album 'Bangerz'.

In January this year, Pharrell Williams teased the single project in Paris, at the Louis Vuitton Men's Fall-Winter 2024 Collection presentation. The official release date for the track was scheduled for Wednesday (Feb. 28) and it is already generating a major buzz among the fans.

Miley dancing in a sparkly fringe dress with a teasing hairstyle churns out the groovy energy in the track which makes it even more captivating. Fans are still wondering whether "Doctor" identifies as the start of a new musical journey or not

Her last album was released in 2023 which was titled 'Endless Summer Vacation' which arrived in March. The music project reached No. 3 on the Billboard 200.

It goes without saying that 'Flowers' is one of the most hit songs by Miley last year which became the second-ever No. 1 hit on the Billboard Hot 100.

The song brought her the and the second Grammy of her music career, for best pop vocal performance as well as record of the year.

The song reigned on the top place for a whopping eight weeks.

Currently 'Doctor (Work It Out)' is buzzing through all major music platforms. Check out the official music video on YouTube to watch Miley's iconic performance.

Adobe

Adobe Is Coming Up With A Generative AI For Music Making

Adobe, the Photoshop and graphics developing company is all set to present an AI tool that is dedicated to music. This new tool would be helpful for crafting music in an easier manner. With the help of this particular tool, one would be able to generate music and edit it in a hassle-free manner. Currently, Adobe is putting every effort into developing this tool, which will be immensely helpful for all artists.

As of now, it is coming to know that, with the assistance of Adobe, one will enhance their creativity. Therefore, this would be really helpful in saving time. Now anyone can create music by putting a text in the description. Adobe is constantly putting efforts to infuse more creativity in every field. Previous to this, last year, this company launched FireFly which would be helpful in creating and editing various images.

Now the company is trying to make an impact on the world of music. They are introducing Music GenAI, which will help one to generate music. There are many tools that can be used for editing a track. But by using GenAI, people would get the chance to make the song from scratch. This would make a huge change in the music industry.

On this matter, the Senior Research Scientist at Adobe, Nicholas Bryan has said 'Project Music GenAI Control is your AI co-creator'. In addition to that, another creator of the technology has said 'It helps anyone, from broadcasters and podcasters to individual content creators, craft music that perfectly matches the mood, tone, and length of their projects'.

If one wants to use this AI tool, then one can simply put some prompts. They have also given examples like, 'upbeat dance', 'powerful rock', or 'melancholic piano'. Just this much effort can solve many problems in a trouble-free manner. Along with this, one can control the intensity of a track, adjust the various patterns, extend length clips, remix music, and much more. All these different things can be really helpful in making music.

With the help of an AI tool, all these works will be much easier and less time-consuming.

Therefore, implementing the use of it can be really helpful for all the music artists.

"Supportive Boyfriend" Lee Jong Suk Was Spotted At IU's Concert

Fans are surprised at Lee Jong Suk attending IU's concert in Seoul, marking the start of the H.E.R World Tour of 2024. "Both are lucky to have each other", fans say.

Looks like the hottest couple of 2023 is still going strong! Actor Lee Jong Suk was recently spotted at his girlfriend IU's concert in Seoul.

As the singer kicked off her ninth concert world tour "H.E.R" on March 2nd, 2024, the actor's boyfriend was spotted extending his support.

IU gave exciting development news to her fans and during the inaugural show in the country's capital, her boyfriend, Lee Jong Suk was spotted in attendance.

Fans of both celebrities were thrilled to spot the 'Big Mouth' actor among the audience at the KSPO DOME venue.

The exciting romance between actor Lee Jong Suk and actor/singer IU appears to be standing the test of time as the hottest couple from 2023 continues to make headlines for their sizzling love.

Pictures captured the actor's appearance at the show and without any delay flooded the social media platform where netizens could not contain themselves from making remarks and gushing over the couple.

Several concert attendees shared snapshots of the 'W' actor seated beside his close friend actor Shin Jae Ha.

Fans of both artists were quick to call Lee Jong the most "supportive boyfriend" for gracing the opening night of the "H.E.R" World Tour with his presence.

The ninth world tour of IU will have shows in South Korea while extending its leg to international seas, including the United States of America.

As the concert came to an end, the actor was seen making a quick departure from the venue.

However, this is not the first time Lee Jong Suk has made headlines for his romantic and heartwarming gestures toward his girlfriend.

From social media gestures to public appearances, the actor has always made sweet gestures and supportive statements for IU.

This recent appearance has made social media users crazy as the comments did not stop coming!

"Lee Jong Suk along with Shin Jae Ha came to IU's concert in Seoul. A supportive boyfriend indeed. ??", one X (formerly Twitter) user wrote on the platform.

"He is her fanboy and supportive boyfriend", another one remarked. "Jongsuk setting the bar high as a supportive and proud boyfriend," another X user commented.

The affection for the celebrity couple was evident. Comments like "IU AND LEE JONG SUK I LOVE THEM" and "A supportive boyfriend indeed" made sure that the couple is still getting love and affection from their fans.

One of the admirers of the couple declared, "Oh, we love a supportive boyfriend in this household".

'Moulin Rouge' Spoof On 'SNL': Ariana Grande Previews 'Wicked' Riff

Ariana Grande was the musical guest on SNL this week and the star previews her upcoming musical movie 'Wicked' on a 'Moulin Rouge' spoof with costar Bowen Yang.

Being a musical guest on Saturday Night Live on March 9, she was present with her 'Wicked' co-star Bowen Yang in a spoof of Moulin Rouge. The five-minute hilarious sketch began as a PBS Special that is based on the 2001 movie musical.

Hosted by Mikey Day, this spoof examines what "Elephant Love Medley", the movie musical would look like if the director Baz Luhrmann had been able to secure rights to the popular songs.

In the spoof, the 'Yes, And?' singer portrayed Nicole Kidman's Satine, and her 'Wicked' costar Yang portrayed Ewan McGregor's Christian. Together, they mashed Carrie Underwood's "Jesus Take the Wheel" with the nursery rhyme "Wheels on the Bus". They also comically performed snippets from classic hits including Jennifer Lopez's "Waiting for Tonight", TLC's "Creep," and Shania Twain's "Man! I Feel Like a Woman!". SNL episode's host Josh Brodin also briefly joined the two to deliver spoken lines from the track "Lady Marmalade," the film's soundtrack by Christina Aguilera, Lil' Kim, Mya, and P!nk.

The skit ended with Grande and her Wicked costar Bowen belting out the "Defying Gravity" end riff from the upcoming musical. Ariana Grande is set to appear in the upcoming live-action adaptations of the Broadway musical, 'Wicked' where she will play the role of the good witch Glinda beside the bad witch Elphabal, played by Cynthia Erivo.

Yang will be seen in the role of Pfannee. In this Jon M. Chu-directed musical movie, Jonathan Bailey will play the character of FiyeroTigelaar, Ethan Slater will appear in the role ofBoq, and Michelle Yeoh in the character of Madame Morrible in the live-action movie.

As a musical guest, Ariana debuted live performances of two of her songs from the newest album 'Eternal Sunshine'. This is Grande's seventh studio album from where she performed "We Can't Be Friends (Wait for Your Love)" and closed the live performance with "Imperfect for You." Apart from this, the 'Thank U, Next' singer also appeared in another SNL sketch, which is about a support group for people pleasers.

The musician has appeared on SNL twice before, once as a musical guest in 2014 September and another time, pulling double duty as both host and musical guest in 2016 March.

On Saturday evening, the songstress also announced the "slightly deluxe" version of Eternal Sunshine. This version features four additional soundtracks, "Supernatural (featuring Troye Sivan), "Imperfect for You" (acoustic), "True Story" (a capella), and "Yes, And?" (featuring Carey).

The remix featuring Mariah Carey was out before, but the three others are brand-new gifts for Arianators.

Taylor Swift To Tease Surprise Acoustic Songs In Good Morning America!

Taylor Swift, arguably the biggest pop star in the world right now, previously confirmed that 'Maroon' will be featured in the streaming version of 'Eras Tour' movie.

Taylor Swift, otherwise known as the current music industry will be waking up fans this week in the best way possible. The pop star revealed on Monday, March 11, that she is doing a partnership with Good Morning America.

The 'Shake It Off' singer also revealed that she plans to give her fans a sneak peek of acoustic songs that will be featured in the streaming version of 'Eras Tour' movie.

She said that she would reveal the names of the songs that are going to be featured in the Disney+ version of the concert movie one day at a time on the ABC talk show. She personally shared this message with her fans through a clip posted on GMA's socials.

It seemed like the 'Anti Hero' singer shot the clip just before stepping out onstage at one of her ongoing Eras Tour concerts. "Good Morning, America," the global pop star said to the camera while she was dressed in a sparkly, bedazzled, and multicolored leotard that she typically wears during the opening of the Eras Tour, the three-hour-long show consisting of all the musical eras of Taylor Swift.

The pop star also just wrapped up three shows in Singapore which marks the last leg of her Eras Tour before the official release of her next album. Swift's 11th studio album 'The Tortured Poets Department' will be released on April 19th and the 'Blank Space' singer resumes her tour on May 9th in Paris.

"Tune in every day this week to get an exclusive look into the acoustic songs from the Eras Tour, my version," Swift continued, smiling. "Don't miss the film when it drops on Disney+ this Thursday [March 14] at 6 p.m. Pacific," she concluded.

According to GMA, Swift will tease the first out of four acoustic surprise songs on Tuesday, March 12th. "It's TAYLOR WEEK," the show captioned the singer's clip. "@taylorswift13 is giving a sneak peek at 4 acoustic songs that will be on the @disneyplus version of 'Taylor Swift | The Era's Tour (Taylor's Version)' throughout the week" it continued.

The 'Cruel Summer' singer's blockbuster tour film first appeared in AMC theaters in October. Upon release, it instantly became the top-grossing concert film in history, collecting more than $92.8 million in just a weekend. Then in December, the singer made an extended cut of the movie available to rent to celebrate her 34th birthday.

This extended cut featured surprise performances of "Wildest Dreams," "The Archer" and "Long Live."

Now the streaming version will include even more surprising, previously unseen footage of the concert movie.

Taylor is adding four new acoustic songs from the tour, one of which is said to be 'Maroon' according to the trailer along with the footage capturing Taylor singing her Folklore single "Cardigan" for the first time.

Newjeans' Hanni Danced To Ariana's Latest Song 'The Boy Is Mine'

Ariana Grande has recently dropped her latest album 'Eternal Sunshine'. NewJeans' Hanni was seen dancing to 'The Boy Is Mine', a song from this new album of Ariana.

Ariana Grande is an artist who is not only praised by the listeners but by fellow artists too. Her magnificent work has always attracted audiences from all around the world. And now there is a new addition to her followers list.

The NewJeans artist Hanni is showing love on Ariana's latest 'Eternal Sunshine'. Her new album was released on 8th March and since then it has been getting recognition from all.

In a recent video, Hanni has been seen doing her dance routine on the track 'The Boy Is Mine'. She made brilliant moves when Ariana sang 'The boy is mine, I can't wait to try him/ Let's get intertwined/ The stars, they aligned'. Along with that, in a recent NewJeans TikTok video, the caption was 'the boy is #NewJeans'.

This new album of Ariana has created a sensation among all music enthusiasts. The brilliant deliverance has attracted all the listeners instantly and it is not leaving the NewJeans' artist too.

Right after the release of the album, it debuted at the No.1 position on the Billboard 200 chart. Apart from Hanni, Olivia Rodrigo was also seen dancing to the same song on the backstage of her 'Guts' World Tour.

Ariana is getting much appreciation from everyone. In this album, she has offered a total of thirteen different kinds of songs. And all of them are quite different, which is why it is garnering more listeners.

However, among all these tracks, 'The Boy Is Mine' is gaining more popularity.

Recently, To Xtina, the globally renowned model also used this song as background music for one of her posts. And captioned it by saying 'love you' with four teary-eyed emojis.

Many have also said that is the 'bad girl anthem' right now. On every social media platform, 'The Boy Is Mine' is creating a buzz.

After a few times, this song has also ranked at No.3 on the Billboard's Hot 100. In a brief time span, this album and the particular song have reached out to many listeners.

The outstanding presentation has garnered a huge number of audiences from all around the world.

Thus it won't be wrong to say that the album will grow even further with each passing days.

Rihanna

Announces Fenty Beauty's Expansion in China!

Rihanna, the billionaire beauty mogul and singer announced on Wednesday that her makeup line 'Fenty Beauty' will be available in China, from April 1st.

Rihanna, the youngest self-made billionaire is expanding her beauty kingdom. She is taking her beauty empire further in the world and opening in China! On March 20, Wednesday, the singer and beauty mogul announced that her Fenty Beauty is debuting in China. Starting 1st April, customers can shop Fenty Beauty products in nearby Sephora stores throughout the country's Middle Kingdom. The company's official account shared the announcement on social media through a 30-second clip. The short commercial featured several women of diverse colors modeling for the beauty line for the "China Fenty Fam"

In the announcement video, the singer-turned-businesswoman looked stunning as usual. Rocking clean-aesthetic makeup, she was wearing a black leather jacket. Keeping her honey-brown hair loose, she seemed beyond excited for this new expansion. The mother of two - RZA and Riot opted for a natural makeup look but looked absolutely lethal as she appeared in her signature red lip.

"China - I am thrilled to share the great news... on April 1, Fenty Beauty will officially land. China has such a rich culture that has always inspired me and I cannot wait to share Fenty Beauty with all of you, celebrating your unique beauty" the Beauty Guru said.

"Thank you guys so much for making my dream come true and I can't wait to see you soon" the 'Diamond' songstress finished.

This was a separate announcement featuring Riri herself, as part of the company's rollout.

This is a big move for the 'Work'singer who already won the title of America's youngest self-made billionaire and has a net worth estimated at $1.4 billion. Much of this massive worth is said to come from her dominating the cosmetic sphere. Now, with China being the second largest beauty market in the world, only behind the US, this would add a lot to the growth and sales of the company. The announcement of Fenty Beauty China came just ahead of the "Fenty Fam" sale starting this Friday. This sale, starting on March 22 will bring 25 percent off all products for its shoppers. The official site will also give an additional 30 percent discount with a code that can be used ahead of Friday's sale launch. In the meantime, Rihanna's fans keep waiting on new music from the iconic pop singer, especially as she hasn't released a single album since 2016's 'Anti'

Rihanna's last dropped single was 'Lift Me Up' part of the 'Black Panther: Wakanda Forever' soundtrack in 2022.

Her melodious voice and captivating singing qualities transcends industries as she sang in Bollywood, Bengali, and Tamil industries. Asha has recorded songs for films and albums in several Indian languages and received numerous awards in her career spanning over eight decades.

TOP 10 HINDI RAP SONGS THAT SPEAK ABOUT CURRENT SOCIAL ISSUES

In the last few years, the Bollywood as well as Hindi music industry has witnessed rapid progress in hip-hop and rapping. Western street culture has already taken over many rising hip-hop artists and rappers who are currently embracing it with some of the best musical creations. Whether it is the rising popularity of movies like Gully Boy or the acceptance of rap and hip-hop elements in the commercial structure; it is evident that hip-hop in India is growing rapidly with its popularity among the common mass.

Within the last few years, not only the number of rappers have increased in India but also its demand in the common mass. Starting from Raftaar, and DIVINE to Emiway; every rapper is gaining a huge amount of attention and streams on the major music platforms which shows a massive number of music lovers are also inclined towards hip-hop and Hindi rap.

One of the best features of hip-hop and rapping is that the artist gets to reflect on a wider range of topics through their powerful bars and it seems like the Indian rappers are well aware of that. With their intriguing hip-hop creations, the rappers always provided something thought-provoking and captivating with the depiction of the truth. Music has always been a powerful medium for artists to express themselves while resonating with the masses. When it comes to hip-hop, resilience and protest become a prime element and Indian rappers have utilized that well to raise their voices against the wrong. Let's take a better look at the top 10 Hindi rap songs that spread more awareness about the current social issues in India, without any fear.

1. Mantoiyat by Raftaar

Until this track was released, Raftaar was already famous for his both mainstream and underground works which helped him create a huge fan base. But this song was totally on a whole new level where he rapped about what he truly desired and how society is becoming corrupted day by day. This song is a tribute to Manto, the movie where Nawazuddin Siddiqui played the main character or writer Saadat Hasan Manto. This banger is full of power, energy, and a zeal that can stand strong against anything that is wrong.

2. Vaishnava Jana To by Brodha V

Brodha V has gathered much attention with each of his successful hip-hop releases. This rapper has been working in the hip-hop industry for more than a decade and now, he has become one of the legends. 'Vaishnava Jana To' is arguably the best rap song by V that deals with a sociopolitical scenario with a bhajan as the chorus. The song speaks about the inequalities and discrimination that widely prevail in the country. It also shows the biases of the mainstream media while encouraging people to step beyond racial discrimination.

3. Kaisa Mera Desh by KR$NA

KR$NA is one of the most versatile rappers in India who started his musical journey more than a decade ago. Back then, he used to make music under the name of Prozpekt. 'Kaisa Mera Desh' is an anti-corruption track that shows the naked truth of India where poverty is stimulated and ignored by the officials.

4. #NORAPE by EMIWAY

This is one of the most controversial and powerful rap tracks by Emiway that can stir the emotions of the listeners. This song was released at the time when the Asifa rape case was at the peak of the media. The song elaborated on how India has slowly become an unsafe place for women and a patriarchal society that never appreciates their freedom. Just like the name suggests, the song is apt and powerful.

5. Naari by Iqlipse Nova : A lot of fans might know Iqlipse Nova for his peppy and melodic tracks but when it comes to 'Naari', the artist flipped the whole mood with a powerful rap track that speaks about women's rights and the harassment they face on a daily basis. It strongly opposes the abuse of women while showing gratitude for being considerate and always taking care. This is a women's day special track featured by Shlok.

6. Mandir Wahin Banega by Dheeru Khola : Sarcasm can be a strong voice for protest and this satiric rap track is the best example of that. Rapper Dheeru has poured down a hefty dose of anger against the superficial politicians of India who only promise to do for the welfare of mankind and after getting into power, they only exploit the innocent citizens of the country. The song is brilliantly made and Dheeru's flawless deliverance does not fail to captivate everyone.

7. Kattarwaad by Rap ID : There is no doubt that the Indian Government and their decision regarding CAA and NRC have created a greater conflict among the brothers, and the citizens of India. Even though Hindus, Muslims, and people from every other religion lived amicably in India; the Govet. Agenda turned them against each other. Accumulating all the issues together, Rap ID dropped this banger 'Kattarwaad'.

8. Naarivaad by Starnick : And that's it! While every other new-age woman in India is ready to fight against the men, Starnick decided to pave a logical path of feminism with empowerment and equality without making a drama out of it. This female rapper supported all those men who were wrongfully exploited by women. Her sensational rap track made those women angry who always play the victim card and now this track has become an anthem.

9. Fod Dena by Fotty Seven : Fotty Seven is one of the most dynamic rappers in the country and is best known for its powerful bars. In this track, the rapper has spoken about the cruelty and rising issues of rape in India and asked the listeners to unite in order to stand against this widely spread crime.

10. Ekla Cholo Re by EPR : EPR is no doubt one of the best rappers in India who is known for his bars that can enthrall audiences. While all the rappers are talking about women's rights, corruption, racial discrimination, etc many other topics; EPR took a moment to speak about the Indian farmers and the struggles they go through. It is time to see, what kind of new rap tracks the Indian rappers bring this year!

Top 10 Songs From Coke Studio That Can Stir Your Soul

Starting from mind-bending fusions to exquisite renditions and collaborative projects, this studio has offered some of the best songs and compositions over the years. Let's take a better look at the top 10 Coke Studio songs that are considered to be soul-stirring.

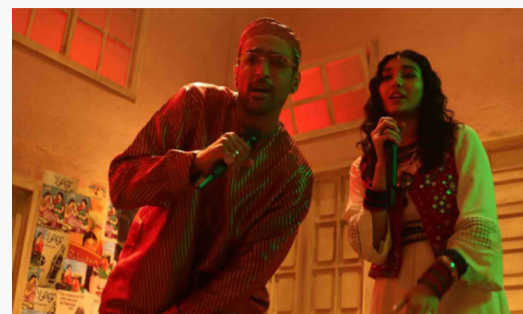

1. "Laadki" - Sachin-Jigar, Taniskha S, Kirtidan G, Rekha B

Sachin-Jigar crafted a wonderful track named 'Laadki' which received more attention after its Coke Studio version. With the vocals of Taniskha S, Kirtidan Gadhvi, and Rekha Bhardwaj; the song reached a whole new level of expertise which captivated the listeners. This song speaks about love and appreciation for daughters while embracing the beautiful relationship between a father and a daughter. The blend of poignancy in lyrics and melody in music will soothe your soul. The track has garnered over 125 million views on YouTube.

2. "Pasoori" – Ali Sethi and Shae Gill

Buzzing through all Indian and Pakistani occasions as well as playlists of millions, 'Pasoori' is currently the most hit track from Coke Studio Pakistan season 14 which has garnered over 708 million views on YouTube. This track has a catchy groove and highly captivating as well as colorful music video which perfectly captures the mood of celebration.

There is no doubt that the song is masterfully crafted which is further complemented by Ali Sethi and Shae Gill's magical duet. Offering a blend of Punjabi and Urdu lyrics, this song offers an ethereal musical experience.

3. "Aaj Jane Ki Zid Na Karo" – Farida Khanum

Everyone is an ustaad until Farida Khanum comes to the stage with her timeless vocal skills and creative energy. Her one of most celebrated songs is 'Aaj Jane Ki Zid Na Karo' which has won the hearts of the millions. The tranquility of classical ghazal along with a majestic musical arrangement; made this track one of the gems in the collection. Farida Khanum, the Ghazal Queen has established her name again with the magical rendition of this timeless single.

4. "Zariya"- AR Rahman, Ani Choying, Farah Siraj

It is not unknown to anyone that any song composed by A.R Rahman has the potential to captivate global audiences. The maestro proves that again with this enticing composition for Coke Studio. Nepalese Buddhist nun Ani Choying Drolma has also participated in this collaboration, adding more spiritual charm to the track.

On the other hand, there was Jordanian soprano Farah Siraj, who combined flamenco, jazz, and Middle Eastern elements with her unique aura and style. This track is one of the best creations in Coke Studio till now. Its dreamy melody offers a musical transcendence to all.

5. “Husna” – Hitesh Sonik feat Piyush Mishra

‘Husna’ is another creative project by Coke Studio that is poignant and highly thought-provoking. Piyush Mishra has proved that he is not only good at acting but also one of the best singers in the industry. Hitesh on the other hand did a wonderful job with his amazing sense of original music. The song is highly poetic and speaks about longing and lost love that creates a void in every individual. The immersive moments of emotional elements make this track very dear to many listeners.

6. “Nindiya re” – Kaavish

Coke Studio and its sufi tracks have set a new parameter for cultural songs and Gharanas which are further established by the new-age singers. ‘Nindiya Re’ was initially written and performed by a band named Kaavish and later on, the studio created another version with the help of the original artists.

This song is beautifully crafted and its lyrical approach celebrates the beauty of sleep with tranquility. It is more like a lullaby that soothes the soul and the mind as well. The slow melody and calming vocal skills of the artist help to churn out the slumberous essence of the song.

7. “Kattey” - Ram Sampath, Bhanvari Devi, and Hard Kaur

It is not like Coke Studio has only focused on Sufi music and Gharanas as the studio also created many soulful folk creations with ample fusion-like elements. ‘Kattey’ is one of the greatest examples of that where composer Ram Sampath went beyond the parameters of conventional folk music. Traditional folk vocalist Bhanvari Devi and rapper Hard Kaur took this track to a whole new level with their dynamic performance and skills.

While this song comprises the Rajasthani folk components; there is also an upbeat essence of modern-day powerful rock sound designs.

8. Tajdar-e-Haram – Atif Aslam

Atif Aslam paid tribute to the famous Sabri Brothers, the famous Qawwals with this track on the first episode of the 8th season of Coke Studio. This is one of the greatest creations by Coke Studio that gained attention from over 180 countries due to its ethereal composition and the magical voice of Atif Aslam.

The original creation was by Sabri Brother and the song was written by Hakim Mirza Madni. This timeless creation is still enjoyed by listeners of all ages and currently, it has more than 493 million views on YouTube.

9. Bewajah – Nabeel Shaukat Ali

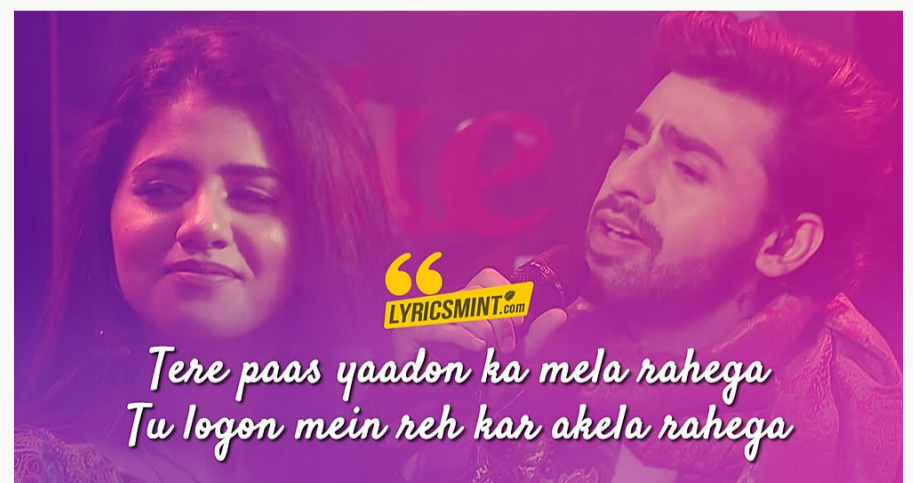

‘Bewajah’ is an emotive and poignant creation sung by Nabeel Shaukat Ali. This song has beautifully captured the essence of heartbreak where pain has received a poetic angle. It offers an enticing blend of modern pop-rock sounds with traditional Eastern melodies which offers an enveloping soundscape for all kinds of listeners.

Nabeel's exceptional vocal range and skills allow him to meander through the whole composition and make this track relatable to everyone.

10. Latthay Di Chaadar – Farhan

This is one of the most memorable tracks from the Coke Studio music collection which offers a burst of happiness.

With laughing, hues, and joyful festivities; the song creates an energetic atmosphere; which is perfect for any celebration. The dandiya beat present in the song creates a major hook that lasts long with a positive impact.

There are many other beautiful tracks by Coke Studio which has become personal favorites for many. Check all the seasons by this studio and find your favorite.

OLIVIA RODRIGO TEASES PAGEANT-THEMED VIDEO FOR 'OBSESSED'

Olivia Rodrigo is set to release a deluxe version of 'Guts' and part of that is the new song 'Obsessed'. The singer teases a music video coming at midnight ET on Friday.

We are 'Obsessed' with Olivia Rodrigo's 'Guts' and now she is blessing us with the deluxe version! She is releasing a music video for the track 'Obsessed' for her fans, coming out at midnight this Friday, March 22. The 21-year-old pop star took to Instagram to post a little teaser for the video on March 20. The fan-favorite track, "Obsessed" is set to appear on the deluxe version of her sophomore studio album, Guts. In the preview clip, it prevails that the music video is going to be pageant-themed, where Olivia and other girls are seen wearing sashes. "Miss Right Now" reads the sash across Olivia Rodrigo's chest in the official teaser trailer.

The video shows Rodrigo entering a room full of women, all wearing beauty pageant sashes. The fans are quick to denote that they represent all misled exes of the singer's ex. These sashes read "Miss Thought She Was the One," "Miss Also Thought She Was the One," "Miss 2 Summers Ago" and more.

The theme of the music video sits perfectly well with the jealousy-fueled lyrics of the track. In 'Obsessed', Olivia sings "I'm so obsessed with your ex/ I know she's been asleep on my side of your bed/ And I can feel it." The video captures Olivia in a black gown as smoke blows in her face while entering the hall filled with women representing the exes.

The video also showcases all women seemingly dressed in white gowns where Olivia is the only one wearing a black gown.

Nearly two dozen women were seen sitting around the tables, all with their own superlatives in the sashes in the crowded banquet hall. The energy in the room seemed cheerful at first but shifted to hostile. However, the shots of confetti poppers blasting silver strips, and Rodrigo shredding on guitar suggest that the most-awaited chaos is coming.

The singer has been performing the track during the Guts world tour and now will be finally handling the official recording to her fans. On March 20, Olivia announced that she will be releasing five new tracks on Friday, March 22. "5 new tunes for ya!!!!" she captioned the post on Instagram while posing a picture of herself.

Rodrigo also held a sign that read "Guts Deluxe out Friday," while performing and the crew held up the signs of the song titles. The tracks that will be featured on the deluxe version are "Obsessed," "Girl I've Always Been," "Scared of My Guitar," "Stranger," and "So American." The first four tracks were secretly featured on Guts' different vinyl records, but 'So American' is a brand new track that has not been released yet.

Every Bits And Pieces Of Beyoncé's New Album 'Cowboy Carter'

The second installment of Beyoncé's album trilogy has officially a name now, 'Cowboy Carter'. This sophomore part of her Renaissance trilogy will be out in March. Beyoncé is paying tribute to her country heritage with this extensive three-part album, 'Renaissance'.

She already dropped the first installment of her seventh studio album was released in July 2022, and now she is ready to drop the sophomore act of her first-ever country venture. She recently teased about the album on social media and publicized the name 'Cowboy Carter' for her audience.

The first two releases of this installment, 'Texas Hold 'Em' and '16 Carriages' have been released already and people love this side of her musical artistry. It is anticipated that the project will be out on the 29th of March. This part of her 2022 album has been one of the most highly anticipated releases this year. While she was releasing her 2022 release, she wrote a one-liner note along with the album.

In the note, she mentioned, "This three-act project was recorded over three years during the pandemic. A time to be still, but also a time I found to be the most creative." Limited edition CD covers for Beyoncé's new album 'COWBOY CARTER.' Her 'Renaissance' era ended with the release of the supporting tour of that album in December 2023.

By the end of the tour, she released another surprise single, 'My House' as well. The track was also featured in the film based on that tour. The 'Formation' star confirmed the second album at the Super Bowl on Feb 11, in her Verizon commercial with Tony Hale. She said, "Okay, drop the new music".

Shortly after that announcement, she released the lead single from her second installment on several social media channels. Country legend Dolly Parton shared her thoughts after Beyoncé re-recorded a rendition of her renowned number 'Jolene'. Parton said, "I think it's probably gonna be on her country album, which I'm very excited about," she also added, "I love her! She's a beautiful girl and a great singer."

Parton also mentioned that she has been in a contract with Beyoncé for a few years. In a song from her upcoming release, 'Cowboy Carter', she says, "It's been 38 summers, and I'm not in my bed," which suggests that she recorded this number, '16 Carriages' when she was 38 years old, and now she is 42. The pandemic might have been the reason for this long delay.

Lady Gaga Has Teased About Her New Soundtrack

Lady Gaga has recently given a hint regarding her upcoming creation. The artist shared a few pictures on Instagram from which everyone is expecting a new track.

Lady Gaga is getting ready to drop her latest track. The artist has shared a teaser recently, which is spreading excitement among all of her listeners.

On March 21, the artist shared an Instagram story that showed audio waves on the computer screen.

From this, everyone got to understand that she was working on new music. Right after that, she posted another photo where she had been sitting with a guitar and a typewriter.

Along with that, there are many pages that were blurred out. After seeing this, a huge sensation was spread among the listeners.

Her fans are waiting for her to drop more information regarding the release. Apart from this, Lady Gaga didn't give any information regarding the release. The audiences still don't have any solid information about the new release. Previously, the artist teased about new music but didn't release any songs. That is why, her fans are thinking that now she will release a new soundtrack or not.

Lady Gaga posted a new story on Instagram. At the beginning of this year, she shared two photographs in the studio.

After watching that, everyone got very excited but Gaga didn't come up with any music.

The last creation of this artist was the collaborative project, named 'Love For Sale' with the artist Late Tony Bennett.

For this LP, she received reviews like 'These subtle touches liven up what might otherwise be a fairly wholesome covers record.'

Though they're vastly different icons, from entirely different generations, it's testament to their power that both artists find their own voices in such timeless classics'.

Back in June, the highly-acclaimed sensational voice dropped a tantalizing hint about her busy schedule, revealing that she is currently involved in the creation of a number of exciting artistic ventures.

Among these, she mentioned that she is working hard on editing a movie that will be based on her highly-anticipated headlining concert tour slated for 2022.

The superstar also added that, "I prepared for months developing my character for Joker, I filmed [Joker: Folie à Deux] for many months (a very introspective time),"

Moreover, she mentioned, "I have been running my start-up Haus Labs, doing philanthropic work, and additionally have been working on The Chromatica Ball film edit."

The very last song of her as a solo artist was 'Chromatica', which was released in 2020. At that time she got the review 'Gaga has fully embraced creating a pure pop album.'

The record is littered with catchy choruses and glossy production— but it goes deeper than that'.

This year, the artist is all ready to come up with her songs. She is also going to be in the 'Jazz & Piano' 2024 summer residency in Las Vegas.

This musical event is going to take place this coming June. It is going to start on 19th June and continue till 6th July.

Everyone is eagerly waiting for her performance and to see her live.

Shakira Is All Set To Collaborate With Cardi B For Her Upcoming Album 'Las Mujeres Ya No Lloran'

Good news for the fans as Shakira has just announced the release date of her upcoming album titled 'Las Mujeres Ya No Lloran', featuring Cardi B and many others.

Shakira has just announced the tracklist for her upcoming highly anticipated album 'Las Mujeres Ya No Lloran' and the fans are going gaga over it. The tracklist shows that the artist will be collaborating with Cardi B and many other Latin artists for this music project.

This 12th studio album by the iconic singer-songwriter is going to be released on March 22nd under the label Sony Music Latin. It is marking her first album release in the last seven years after his last project 'El Dorado', which was released in 2017.

Cardi B will be offering the kick start to the album by featuring in the first song 'Puntería,' which has already created a huge buzz among fans of these hitmakers. This same track will also appear in the vinyl version as a bonus track along with Spanish lyrics. The anticipation was building among the fans as these artists were seen together in Paris last summer.

Cardi B also shared a post on social media that talks about their encounter. She wrote, "She's just amazing. She's just amazing. Life is so crazy, I would have never thought as a young kid that I would be meeting Shakira. It was incredible to meet her. That was just a great moment."

On the other hand, there will be The Tejano act Grupo Frontera who are joining forces for the fifth track. The song is called "(Entre Paréntesis)". Another hit Latin collaboration is about to take place with Rauw Alejandro teaming up for the unreleased track "Cohete." They have previously worked together on the hit song 'Te Felicito.'

There will be also an intoxicating remix of remix of Shakira and Bizarrap's 'Music Sessions Vol. 53' by none other than the famous DJ Tiësto. This project previously won a Latin Grammy. The upcoming album will be offering a total of 16 tracks among which eight of them are brand new.

Other tracks are previously released collaboration projects like 'TOG' with Karol G, 'Monotonía' with Ozuna, 'Copa Vacía' with Manuel Turizo, 'El Jefe' with Fuerza Regida, etc to name some.

Talking about this album, Shakira said that it has been a transformative experience for her.

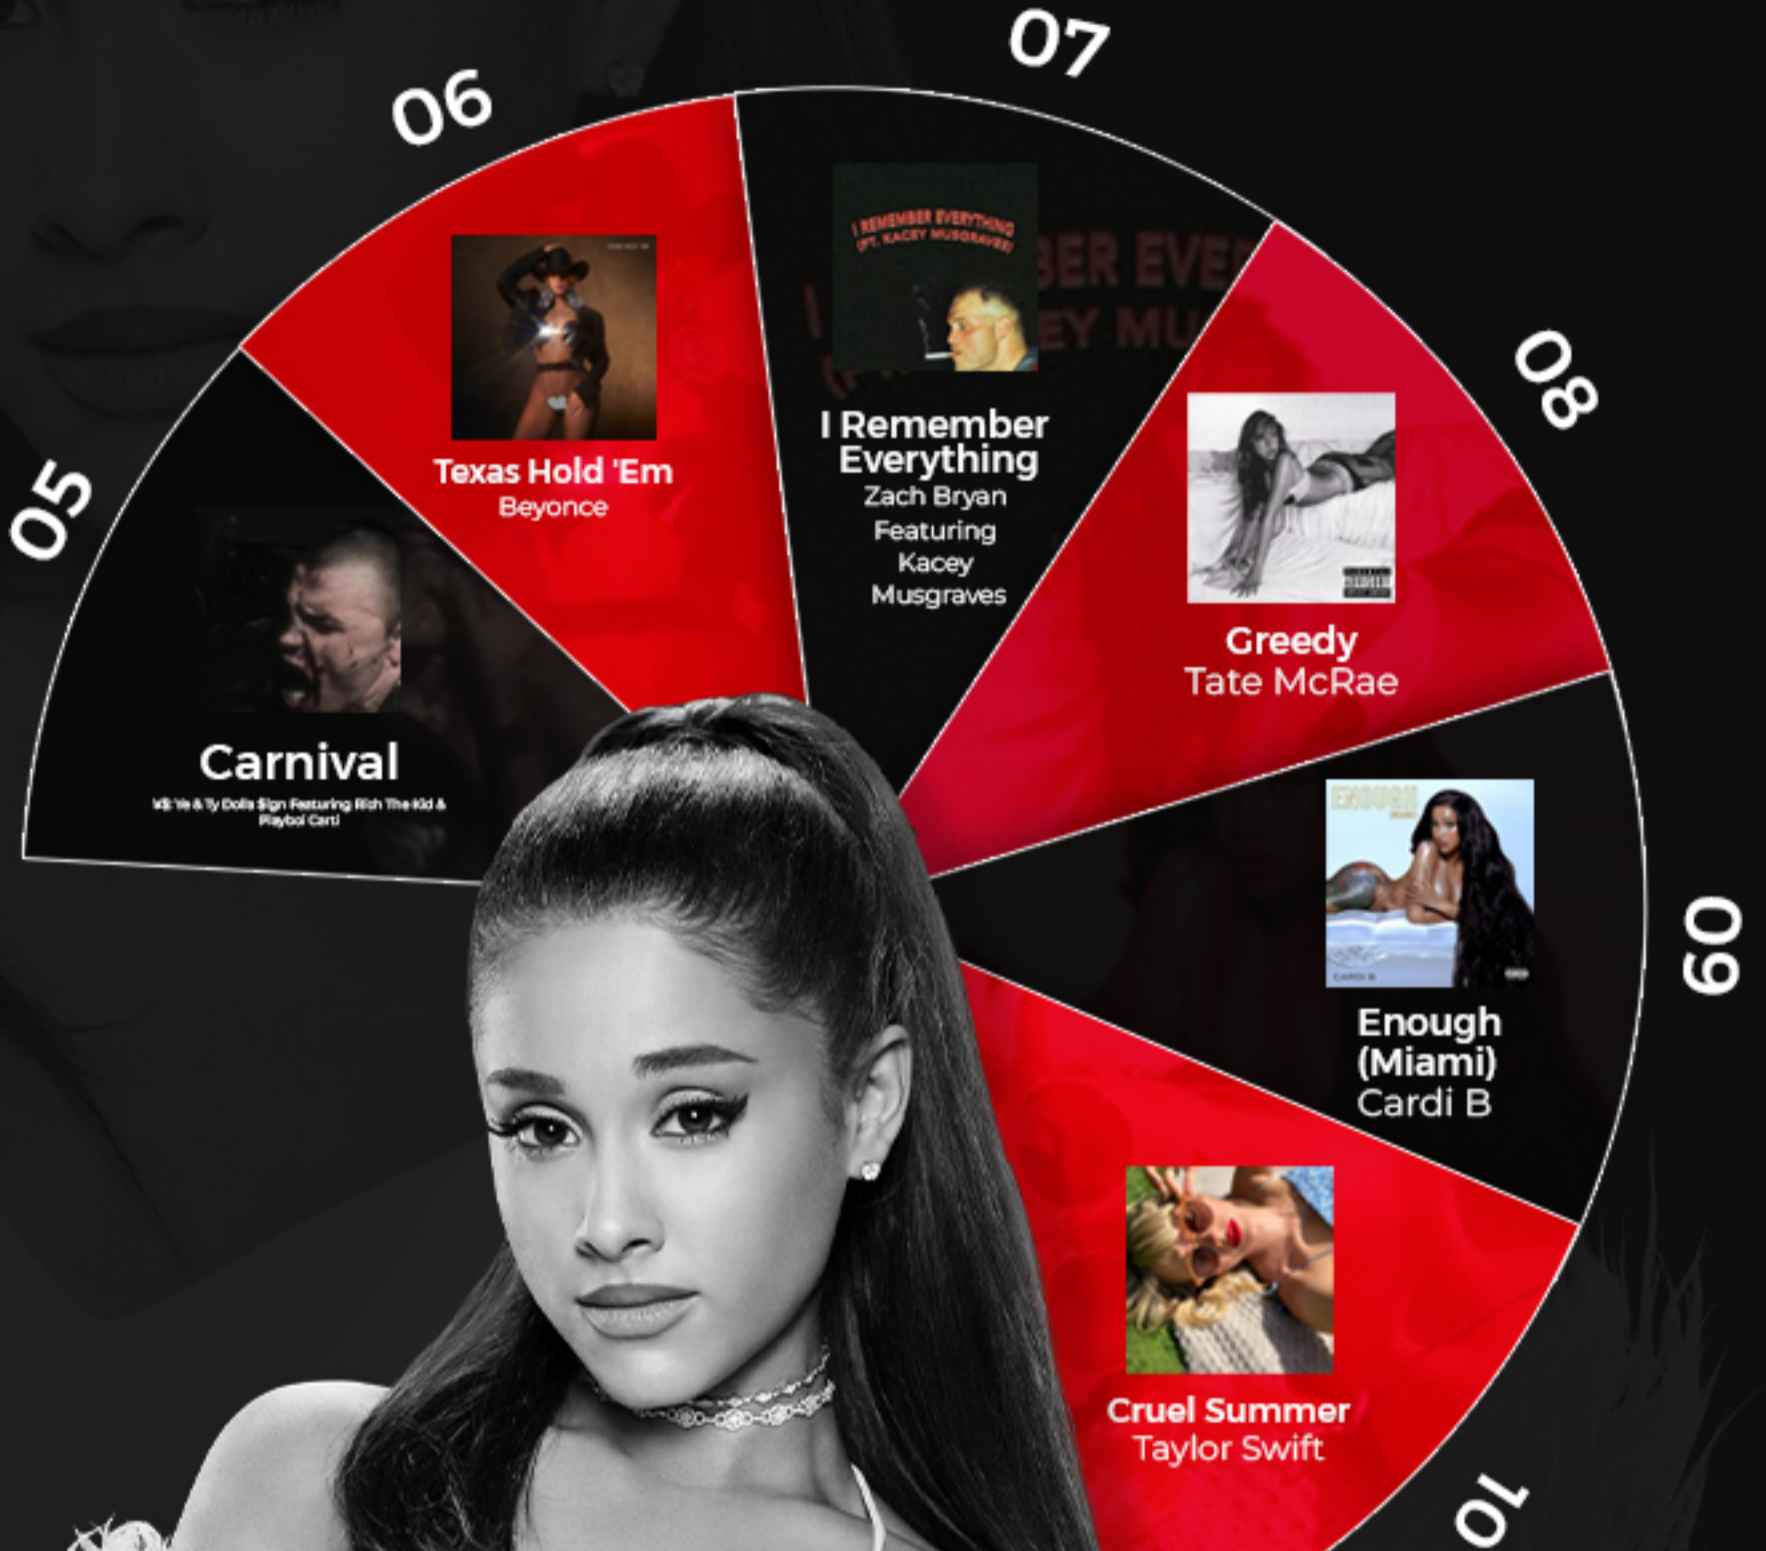

She said in a statement, "Making this body of work has been an alchemical process.

While writing each song I was rebuilding myself. While singing them, my tears transformed into diamonds, and my vulnerability into strength."

‘We Can’t Be Friends (Wait For Your Love)’ – Ariana Grande

Ariana Grande has brought ‘Eternal Sunshine’ to all of our lives. Her latest single from her seventh studio album ‘We Can’t Be Friends’ is this week’s number-one song. This emotionally penned single is probably one of Ariana’s best singles ever, showing her craft in a new, unique light. The song is also sitting at the top spot of the Billboard Hot 100, with fans from all over the world appreciating Grande’s craft left and right. This time, Ariana presents a new side of her music, a pop song with an emotive and harmonious chord progression that is so hard to find in today’s music scene. On top of that, the music video with Evan Peters that depicts the movie ‘Eternal Sunshine Of The Spotless Mind’ and its entire story gives the song the push that it needs.

ARIANA GRANDE WIPES OFF HER MEMORY OF EX IN NEW 'WE CAN'T BE FRIENDS' VIDEO

It is 'Eternal Sunshine' week as Ariana Grande releases her seventh studio album with the official music video of 'We Can't Be Friends (Wait For Your Love)'.

Ariana Grande treats the music world with her seventh studio album 'Eternal Sunshine' and tries the plot of the movie in her mind! The global pop icon just dropped the latest music video of the new single 'We Can't Be Friends (Wait For Your Love)'. The music video features Ariana Grande as Peaches who is trying to forget and wipe off every memory of her ex-boyfriend and Evan Peters as the ex-boyfriend. The pop star's new music video channels the 2004 film Eternal Sunshine of the Spotless Mind.

The singer, 30, navigates through some of the most heartwarming, honest, and heartfelt music in her career in the album.

However, the music video brings a bittersweet truth for her fans and the singer beautifully portrays the love and loss in a real relationship. In the music video, Ariana plays a character named Peaches who visits Brighter Days Inc. to erase the memory of her ex-boyfriend, played by Evan Peters. The video starts with the image of Grande waiting in a room with a consent letter in her hands. The consent letter reads "You have given extensive thought behind

'We Can't Be Friend'. Not just that, the video also channels the 2004 film after which Grande named her newest album as well. The visuals perfectly depict her deep emotions as a person who is trying to forget the memories of their ex-partner to move on peacefully in life. "I didn't think you'd understand me/ How could you ever even try," she sings in the video as the nurse takes out a stuffed bear from her box full of memories. "I don't want to tip-toe, but I don't want to hide/ But I don't want to feed this monstrous fire," Grande continues as the process of wiping off memory starts.

As the storyline moved, the singer said the final goodbye to the memories of her past boyfriend with teary eyes as finally blithely passed her ex-boyfriend and his new girlfriend with her new partner without noticing or recognizing. Fans are saying this video is her best, both production-wise and visual-wise. Surely, it has been long since we had ideally conceptualized videos and Ariana Grande seems to be filling that void! Check out the video on YouTube and stream Ariana's newest album 'Eternal Sunshine' on streaming platforms.

JENNIFER LOPEZ COLLABORATES WITH K- POP GIRL GROUP (G)I-DLE FOR THE REMIX OF 'THIS TIME AROUND'

Je-Lo fans are currently going gaga over the latest remixed version of 'This Time Around' which featured K-pop Girl Group (G)I-DLE, released on March 15th.

It is very unusual to see Western artists joining forces with the K-pop girl groups and boy bands for a collaborative musical project. However, it is also the most exclusive collaboration since K-pop artists are often found to perform solo or in groups rather than teaming up with an English pop singer. But this time, it is Jennifer Lopez who made an exception by collaborating with the famous K-pop Girl Group (G)I-DLE for the remixed project 'This Time Around'. The latest version of the track is a lot different than the original track that was released before by the artist. Lopez and (G)I-DLE worked together to create this amazing rendition that comes with a lot of energy and plenty of immersive moments.

In the new remixed track, the third verse of the original track has been replaced by new lyrics which are written and performed by the 5-piece talented girl group (G)I-DLE. This verse includes the vocal inputs of Minnie, Yuqi, Soyeon, and Miyeon, who sing and rap, both. However, the remaining member of the group, Shushua is not connected with the group since February. The talented members of the group offered ample support and creativity in crafting this project that goes beyond the lingual barriers. The bars and lyrical approach in the track are quite captivating for all. Soyeon and Minnie sang a few powerful tracks and also wrote many verses included in the group, The lyric goes like ““What is wrong? Our love-hate is bruised with false rumors / It’s not worth it, laugh it all out with heartbreak within gossip / I’m in your arms all night long / We laughed and cried when we were immature, bad love or Yeah you know, they’re sort of doing it the wrong way”. Clearly, there is power and excellence in the track which makes it more intriguing.

(G)I-DLE’s leading member, Soyeon has worked as a co-composer and co-lyricist in projects and the remixed version of 'This Time Around' is just another example of her dynamic musical aura. The original track 'This Time Around' appeared in Jennifer Lopez’s last studio album, titled 'This Is Me... Now'.

This album project has gathered much attention from the world. There was also an accompanying film titled “This Is Me... Now: A Love Story” that offers a better picture of her love and personal life. Check out the latest official audio on YouTube and stay tuned to find out more!

FLO MILLI ANNOUNCES 'NEVER LOSE ME' REMIX FT SZA & CARDI B

Today, Flo Milli has released her sophomore studio album 'Fine Ho, Stay' on Friday, March 15.

And we will get to see SZA and Cardi B in 'Never Lose Me' Remix.

Yesterday, on the 14th of March Flo confirmed that SZA and Cardi B will feature in her latest hit "Never Lose Me", remix version. This was a day before she dropped her sophomore album 'Fine Ho, Stay'.

Flo and SZA have been teasing about collaboration since January 2024, and now Flo has confirmed the collaboration.

Fans were anticipating this collaboration but Cardi B hopping in this collaboration was a "surprise surprise," for all music lovers.

They both shared about it on Twitter (now known as X) as they lip-synched with one another to the intro of the song at a parking lot. Flo captioned it post with "POP UP GUESS WHO B-TCH."

Both of them are seen in a similar sort of attire while Cardi B's sticking yellow hair color added the tangy zest of the video that they shared on social media, nudging about the collaboration.

This has effectively spiked the interest amongst many music enthusiasts across the globe.

Previously the rapper has released two other "Never Lose Me" remixes.

One of them was with Lil Yachty and the other one was with Bryson Tiller. 'Never Lose Me' is the highest charting number of Flo's career; it peaked up to no. 18 on the Billboard Hot 100.

The number also gained the 7th spot on Hot R&B/Hip-Hop Songs and it also reached no. 14 on Rhythmic Airplay. In February 2024, she achieved the longest consecutive streak at No. 1 on TikTok Billboard Top 50.

The song has been there on the pinnacle of that list for four weeks straight, after its inception in September 2023.

In an interview, Flo said, "I was in the studio all night, and I wasn't really focused." Then she added, "I was working on other stuff for my project, and then right when I was about to leave, I asked the engineer to pull up this beat — that's when I started rapping.

For the 'Never Lose Me' part, I'm such a perfectionist: Until I get a line right and it sounds like how it sounds in my head, I'll do it so many times.

I just kept saying, 'You never wanna lose me.' I wasn't expecting it to blow. I was just doing it for me."

RIDE'S SEVENTH STUDIO ALBUM 'INTERPLAY' IS COMING TO YOUR WAY TO CHARM YOU FROM THE CORE

The incredible and powerful Ride is back with their 7th Studio album, 'Interplay' since they emerged back together in 2015. This album is packed with 12 finely made tracks.

Ride's latest album 'Interplay' has some of their most flavorful releases. Some of their tracks have powerful flavors of synth along with electronic beats, psychedelic folk, and noir-pop soundscapes. Their grooving vibes and their hypnotic tunes are back once again.

They have been one of the most iconic bands in the 90's and they are carrying forward this legacy even after their brief hiatus. This album is an extremely powerful album which has an incredible 12 tracks that will win your heart.

Gardener and Andy, both worked on their individual pieces which have allowed them to create some of the most dynamic and assorted releases of this age.

Ride reunited in 2015, and they released their 1st album in 2017 after their reunion. Weather Diaries was fun and people were elected to witness their charm once again now after releasing some of their incredible hits, they are back with yet another fascinating release, 'Interplay' offers a pack of 12 tracks, and each of them has a generous amount of grooving and addictive nature.

If you are familiar with their styles then you will understand that they have been making it seem easy for the audience to assimilate their flavors. In this album they have listed the songs in this order:

1. 'Peace'
2. 'Last Frontier'
3. 'Light in a Quiet Room'
4. 'Monaco'
5. 'I Came to See the Wreck'
6. 'Stay'
7. 'Last Night I Went Somewhere to Dream'
8. 'Sunrise Chaser'
9. 'Midnight'
10. 'Portland Rocks'
11. 'Essaouira'
12. 'Yesterday is Just a Song'

There are two main leads for each side, one is 'Peace' and the other one is 'Last Frontier'. The album is formed in the retrospective style of releasing a CD or rather a cassette.

They deal with topics like adversity, break-ups, and a messy legal battle with an ex-manager. Their works have ways stayed true to the core and allowed their audience to feel profoundly just as their song goes. This album in particular has been written and recorded during the 2020 pandemic. When the world stood still their creative minds have been making songs that will charm the audience of the coming.

Their timeless passion for music and their music-making styles will always be the driving factor for them. As a fan, I will always feel bound to their releases as they always have managed to charm me with their gripping oaths and hypnotic soundscapes.

This release might seem like an experimental one but, the one thing that is assured with their releases is how greatly they deal with various musical flavors and unique elements of music. They have prominently brought back the retrospective musical flavors of the 70s and also have added the spice of today's musical diction for their releases. So, get ready to have your heart stolen by this impressive release of Ride.

ED SHEERAN

Posts the Round-Up of His Indian '+-=·x Tour': Sharing Several Snippets

Ed Sheeran's Indian Tour has come to an end, but the time he has offered has been truly blissful for his audience and it was memorable for him as well, he posted on Instagram.

By the end of the Indian tour of Ed Sheeran's 'Mathy Tour', he posted a video of how he has enjoyed his time in India. Starting from performing live on stage in front of millions of Indian audiences, to collaborating with some of the most popular Indian artists of this age, his time in India has been extremely diverse and eventful. On his Instagram, he has posted an adieu post to honor and celebrate his time in India. His last show in Mumbai was star-studded with celebrities like Gauri Khan, Farah Khan, Madhuri Dixit, Priyamani, Orry, and many others.

The brief story has too many snippets from his stay in India which starts with his saying, "I love India" and "Desi" rendition of 'Shape of You' starts to play in the background as he shares small clips of his performing with the Punjab Heartthrob Diljit Dosanjh and Popular Bollywood singer Armaan Malik. In that short clip, he shared some of the well-spent moments with popular Indian influencers and his fans. He was also seen with Shah Rukh Khan recreating Khan's iconic pose along with the Badshah of Bollywood himself. His endeavors included Indian culinary adventures as well; he was seen enjoying butter chicken, which now has become synonymous with Indian cuisine. He was also been a part of the cooking show of Chef Sanjyot Keer. In that show, he was seen Maharashtrian dish missal pav, and joking Sheraan asked the chef whether he would hire him for his culinary skills or not. The punning game leveled up with he shared a snippet with renowned anchor and cricket presenter Gaurav Kapur and celebrated Indian cricketer Rohit Sharma. He was also seen having a friendly game with Shubhman Gill, another popular Indian cricketer. He ended the clip by saying, "I knew it was going to be amazing, but I didn't realize it would be this amazing." The post was captioned with, "A round-up of the India tour trip! Can't wait to come back," and his exclusive "desi" charm elevated when he was seen wearing a kurta with Mumbai written on its back. Overall, it was a fun schedule with memorable moments for him and also for his fans.

Celebrate International Women's Day With The Most Influential Women In The Music Industry

Women have always been an integral part of the music industry. Starting from Audrey Hepburn, and Janis Joplin, to Shakira, Madonna as well as modern-day music artists like Rihanna, Billie Eilish, Ariana Grande, and many others; the industry has witnessed some of the most talented women artists of all time.

On this International Women's Day, let's take a moment to celebrate these amazing artists who embraced their womanhood and music as well as helped empower other women with their creative ventures.

Beyoncé:

Beyoncé is not just one of the most well-received pop artists in the industry but she is also hailed as an international superstar who is famous for philanthropic deeds which empowered millions of other people. And what could be a better song to play on International Women's Day than Beyoncé's "Run the World (Girls)"?

Aretha Franklin:

If any singer can stir your soul with her musical creation and vocal skills, that would be Aretha Franklin. The Queen of Soul music and 18 Grammy Awards Winner will always remain timeless due to her priceless contribution.

Dolly Parton:

Since the 1980s til now, The Dollywood Foundation has been actively working for mankind. At the time of COVID-19, Parton donated more than $1 million.

Women salute her for always being supportive.

Britney Spears:

Britney is known as the 'Queen of Pop' for a good reason. The 'I Wanna Go' singer has sold more than 100 million records worldwide. After Madonna, if any music has successfully struck pop music among the masses, that would be Britney Spears. She is bold, powerful, and not afraid of revealing her sexuality.

Taylor Swift:

Taylor Swift is still breaking records on the top charts with her latest Eras Tour and re-release albums. Since her debut release in 2006, Swift has gained new heights of success and made 27 Guinness World Records. She also advocates for LGBTQ+ rights, genders and racial equality in the US.

Billie Eilish:

Breaking stereotypes of the swanky pop industry, Billie Eilish has won the hearts of millions. Starting from her debut album, 'When We All Fall Asleep, Where Do We Go?' to the recent James Bond song 'No Time To Die', she is the youngest artist to make such significant progress in a short span. And guess what? She also likes women!

Phoebe Bridgers:

Phoebe's critically acclaimed album 'Punisher' is the greatest example of her emotive musical journey. While her music reflects her struggles and mental health, she also helps to raise money for charities like Planned Parenthood or smashing a guitar on stage, a part of women's empowerment.

Christine and the Queens:

Héloïse Letissier, better known as Christine and the Queens, is a talented French singer-songwriter who has become one of Forbes' most influential and talented people under 30. She is greatly inspired by the drag scene in London and is also an integral part of modern pop culture.

FKA Twigs:

Singer, songwriter, and dancer, FKA Twigs utilizes her music as the medium of voice for the sex workers and strippers. She wants to help others get rid of such a situation. Her music is empowering and so is she!

Lizzo:

Lizzo is best known for promoting self-love, body-positivity, mental health, and equality for all. She is one of the most trailblazing artists in the modern music scene.
