SPOTIFY

Currently, the largest music streaming platform, Spotify started in the year 2006. Daniel Ek and Martin Lorentzon founded this platform. Spotify went official in the year 2008 with the vision of a legal platform that can prevent music piracy for music artists. They came up with a platform for artists to share their authentic music and listeners to stream free online music. This platform grew at a large scale in 2011 as more listeners started using the platform. Right after 3 years of its official launch, Spotify received a huge boost that changed the music industry forever. In the beginning, it made a huge impact on the U.S. music industry and various record labels took the initiative to get associated with the platform. Later Spotify introduced various other features like playlists, personal recommendations, social sharing, and ad-free streaming. The profound features have made the streaming platform proficient in every way for both musicians and listeners.

Camila Cabello Sings Along With 'Wicked' Hit 'Defying Gravity'

Camila Cabello is loving the new Wicked movie. On Saturday, November 30th, the 27-year-old pop star took to social media to share her excitement about the live-action adaptation of the beloved Broadway musical, starring Cynthia Erivo as Elphaba and Ariana Grande as Glinda.

In a black and white video of herself belting the hit track 'Defying Gravity' which she posted as an Instagram story, Camila captioned 'You were brilliant' and tagged Erivo and Grande.

She also added, 'Can't stop listening and singing'. The post also featured a pink and green heart emoji, symbolizing Grande's fairytale-like pink dress and Erivo's iconic green-skinned character. The track 'Defying Gravity' appears on the film's soundtrack which debuted at no.2 on the Billboard 200 albums chart.

Everyone is feeling Wicked these days. The film starring Cynthia Erivo as Elphaba and Ariana Grande as Glinda has inspired memes, plenty of social media discourse, a surprise piano performance from Jeff Goldblum who plays the Wizard of Oz, and Christmas Day singalong screenings. Cabello, the 'Havana' hitmaker is no stranger to musical movies. In June, previously she showcased her own musical film chops when she starred in Cinderella, 2021.

Meanwhile, Wicked dominated the pre-Thanksgiving weekend box office, debuting at No. 1 with a global total of $164.2 million. Since its release on Nov. 22, the Jon M. Chu-directed film has earned widespread praise, especially for the performances of its lead actresses in these iconic roles.

Wicked: Part 1 became the highest grossing movie based on a Broadway musical ever at the domestic box office, drawing an estimated $420 million in its second weekend since it opened.

The final tally is expected on Monday. According to a report on Saturday before Sunday's estimation, the film had already grossed $358 million worldwide, making it the fourth highest grossing Broadway musical. The second part of the Wicked adaptation is set to hit theaters in November 2025. For fans eager to sing along like Cabello, a special sing-along version of Wicked will be hitting theaters on Christmas Day. The screenings are expected to play at approximately 1,000 theaters across North America, according to Variety. The exact locations and showtimes are still to be confirmed.

Cabello, who released C, XOXO in June previously will join Kane Brown, GloRilla, and Lil Wayne in January to perform during College Football Playoff weekend in Atlanta; she is set to headline the city's State Farm Arena on January, 19th.

TOP 7 OLD AND NEW CHRISTMAS TRACKS FOR 2024

Listening to songs about decking the halls and jingling bells put an extra pep in our step.

Whether you're someone who listens to Christmas music the minute Halloween ends or likes to wait until Thanksgiving has passed, there's no denying that the best way to enjoy these festive tunes is by playing a mix of old-school classics with modern Christmas songs to create the perfect playlist. Re-recordings of Michael Bublé singing 'Have Yourself a Merry Little Christmas' and Carrie Underwood belting out 'The Little Drummer Boy' are just as magical as Judy Garland and Bing Crosby's versions. But modern Christmas tunes also offer completely new lyrics and sounds, like any of the original songs written by artists like John Legend, Taylor Swift and Ariana Grande, lady Gaga.

Whether you're trying to set up a holly jolly playlist for your annual Christmas party or simply want some background noise while you deck the halls, this blog promises you won't be able to resist rocking around your Christmas tree while listening to these fun songs.

1. Santa Claus Is Comin' to Town by Lady Gaga : The superstar's version also appeared on the surprise episode of A Carpool Karaoke Christmas on Apple TV+. Lady Gaga has a surprise early Christmas present for her Little Monsters. Without any prior announcement, a cover of 'Santa Claus Is Coming to Town' by the superstar appeared overnight on streaming services Monday (Dec. 16), featuring a soulful rock twist on a timeless classic.

Opening with bright electric guitars and some rock n' roll scatting from Gaga, the A Star Is Born actress' energetic cover is pushed forward by pounding drums and tumbling organ riffs. 'You better watch out/ You better not cry/ Better not pout/ I'm telling you why,' she belts. 'Santa Claus is comin' to town.'

The month prior, the 13-time Grammy winner subverted expectations by releasing Harlequin, a companion album to Joker: Folie à Deux, in which she starred opposite Joaquin Phoenix. The LP reached No. 20 on the Billboard 200 in October. A couple of months before that came 'Die With a Smile,' Gaga's duet with Bruno Mars that spent eight weeks at No. 1 on the Billboard Global 200.

2. Under the Tree by Ed Sheeran :Netflix's latest animated movie, 'That Christmas,' featured Ed Sheeran's song 'Under the Tree'. Days after its official release, the singer shared its unofficial 'Behind The Scenes' video of the song. Several netizens showered their love upon the video and adored how Ed Sheeran's song amplified the emotions projected in the song. The British singer shared the song's video on Instagram and received an overwhelming response from netizens.

The caption said that the movie 'That Christmas' is out on Netflix now. And his song 'Under The Tree' which he wrote is out now too. He encourages the audience to give this movie a try and expresses how brilliant Richard Curtis is.

3. A Nonsense Christmas by Sabrina Carpenter: Sabrina Carpenter is spreading some holiday cheer with her new show, A Nonsense Christmas, which is a fun mix of laughs, heartwarming moments, and festive vibes. After doing great as both an actress and a musician, Carpenter shines in this charming holiday series that's sure to bring both giggles and some holiday magic. A Nonsense Christmas, which hit Netflix on Friday, December 6, was packed with celebrity cameos, fun musical performances, and some cool outfit changes. Putting together a musical holiday show at the end of such a huge year for music is a big deal, and Sabrina nailed it!

Imagine a holiday party thrown by Carpenter, and that's the feel of the show—joyful, a bit cheeky, and overflowing with star power. Sabrina takes the lead, singing a mix of holiday classics and her tracks, blending her vocal skills with her fun-loving personality. Her charm comes through when she engages with her special guests, each bringing their unique vibe to the performance! The guests are just as one-of-a-kind as the show itself. This holiday, Sabrina is spending time with Chappell Roan, Kali Uchis, Quinta Brunson, Shania Twain, Tyla, Nico Hiraga, Megan Stalter, Kyle Mooney, Cara Delevingne, Sean Astin, Jillian Bell, and Owen Phiele.

4. I'll Be Home For Christmas by Camila Cabello: The singer gives the Bing Crosby track an update through the use of a big band and romantic, acoustic guitar. The Halloween decorations have come down and the costumes have all been laid to rest Christmas is right around the corner, and Camila Cabello wants to bring in the holiday cheer early. On Friday (Nov. 4), the singer shared her rendition of 'I'll Be Home For Christmas' a whole 51 days before Christmas' arrival. In The Voice coach's version of the classic track which was originally performed and released by Bing Crosby in 1943 to honor soldiers stationed overseas during World War II — she gives it an update with a Latin flare through the use of a big band and romantic, acoustic guitar to flesh out the instrumental.

'I'll be home for Christmas/ You can plan on me/ Please have some snow and mistletoe/ And presents by the tree/ Christmas eve will find me/ Where the love light gleams/ I'll be home for Christmas,' Cabello effortlessly sings the song's defining chorus.

5. Santa Tell Me by Ariana Grande: This catchy single from Ariana Grande in which she asks Santa not to have her fall in love if the guy won't be in her life the next Christmas is perhaps one of the most popular holiday tracks released in recent years. American pop superstar Ariana Grande celebrated the 10th year of her popular Christmas song by releasing a live version of it. Ariana posted on her YouTube channel a video of herself performing the song in a studio, part of her 'eternal sunshine' sessions where she has been doing live versions of her tracks from her album of the same name.

'Santa Tell Me' was released in 2014 as a standalone single but was included in the Japanese exclusive reissue of her first extended play 'Christmas Kisses' and while a 'naughty version' appeared on her second one 'Christmas & Chill' the following year. Since its release it has been a staple in Christmas playlists, even peaking at No. 16 in Philippine music charts. Ariana had a stellar 2024 which began with the release of her seventh album 'Eternal Sunshine' and ended with a Golden Globe nomination for her role in 'Wicked' as Glinda.

6. Christmas Tree Farm by Taylor Swift: The homesickness and hidden loneliness that encroaches on the happiness that accompanies the holiday season is what Taylor Swift's new single 'Christmas Tree Farm' highlights at its beginning. Swift sings of imagining herself back at her childhood house in Pennsylvania that featured a Christmas tree farm on its property. Swift's song is a beautiful homage to her childhood experiences in Pennsylvania.

She provides an upbeat melody behind her smooth voice that encourages listeners to join her in her journey back to Pennsylvania. When Swift describes bundled-up people coming to her family's farm to shop, drink cider, and dance, I envision a picture-perfect Hallmark movie scene of slow, thick snow steadily falling onto a variety of families as they search up and down organized rows of evergreen trees for the perfect one.

7. All I Want for Christmas Is You by Mariah Carey: Mariah Carey's 'All I Want for Christmas Is You' topped the Billboard Hot 100 for the 17th total week. The song solely gives Carey her longest career command on the chart, surpassing the 16-week No. 1 run of her 'One Sweet Day,' with Boyz II Men, in 1995-96.

The carol, topping the Hot 100 for a third consecutive week this holiday season, now boasts the third-longest reign in the chart's 66-year history, trailing only the 19-week rules of Shaboozey's "A Bar Song (Tipsy)" and Lil Nas X's "Old Town Road." It also leads the Streaming Songs chart for a record-breaking 21st week, surpassing "Old Town Road." Originally released on Mariah Carey's Merry Christmas album in 1994, the song gained renewed prominence as streaming boosted holiday music, hitting the Hot 100's top 10 in 2017 and claiming the No. 1 spot in multiple years since 2019. This festive anthem accompanies Carey's performance of "Santa Claus Is Coming to Town" on Apple TV+'s A Carpool Karaoke Christmas. Add this timeless track and more to your playlist for an unforgettable Christmas season filled with joy and cheer!

Two of the most important things a man can need apart from the basic necessities are music and the internet. The human world has evolved to such a state where the internet is the source of everything that you can think of. From the work load and uncertainty at your workplace to the relaxing moments of sitting back and enjoying a bit of your favorite music.

Everything you do or want to do or even need to do is more or less connected to the internet. One of the most common things all of the people use their internet for is to scroll through their social media profiles. The human kind spends hours and hours scrolling through their phones to find any kind of stimulus.

And the most common thing which happens while When this love for music and the addiction of the internet comes together, the world got the precious gift of 1 minute reels with trendy tracks as their background music.

The best part is, you can create your own reels in your own ways using the trendy tracks to gain popularity.

This blog will explore some of the trendiest songs which have made a great buzz over the internet.

Dancing In The Flames by The Weeknd

The Weeknd released the single 'Dancing In the Flames' alongside a new music video on Friday, the first track from his upcoming sixth album Hurry Up Tomorrow. 'Dancing In the Flame' arrives days after the Weeknd first debuted the song earlier this week during a special live-streamed concert in São Paulo, Brazil.

That concert is still available to stream in full until Saturday. During the show, the Weeknd also shared the unreleased tracks 'Wake Me Up,' 'Regular,' and 'Runaway.' The singer, whose real name is Abel Tesfaye, first announced Hurry Up Tomorrow earlier in September, the final album in the trilogy that's included 2020's After Hours and 2022's Dawn FM.

Tesfaye previously said that this album would be his final under the moniker, the Weeknd. He'd been teasing new music for months, sharing a teaser back in July. When announcing the upcoming LP's title, Tesfaye shared a cryptic message on social media regarding the trilogy's conclusion. He's yet to share an official release date for the rest of the album.

Mantra by Jennie (BLACKPINK)

'Mantra' received positive reviews from critics for its empowering lyrics and infectious production. It was a commercial success and peaked at number three on the Billboard Global 200 and number two on the Global Excl. US, becoming Jennie's third and fourth top-ten hit on the charts respectively. In South Korea, the song peaked at number three on the Circle Digital Chart, while it topped the charts in Hong Kong and Taiwan and entered the top ten in Malaysia and Singapore.

It also became Jennie's first solo entry on the US Billboard Hot 100 at number 98 and highest-charting song by a Korean female solo artist on the UK Singles Chart at number 37. 'Mantra' is a song by South Korean singer and rapper Jennie. It was released through Odd Atelier and Columbia Records on October 11, 2024, as the lead single from her upcoming debut studio album.

It is Jennie's first release under her own label and her first solo single since departing YG Entertainment and Interscope Records as a solo artist in 2023. The song was written and composed by various contributors, including Jennie, Claudia Valentina, and Zikai, and was produced by El Guincho, Jelli Dorman, Jumpa, and Serban Cazan. It has been described as a dance-pop and Miami bass song that incorporates a heavy dose of R&B, with lyrics that celebrate girl power.

‘I Am Not Okay’ by Jelly Roll & Kelly Clarkson

It looks like Kelly Clarkson is about to add another memorable performance to her ‘Kellyoke’ catalog. The pop icon joined forces with fellow Grammy winner Jelly Roll to perform his hit ‘I Am Not Okay’ during the signature segment of ‘The Kelly Clarkson Show,’ and a first look of the performance aired exclusively on TODAY Oct. 16. In the preview clip, the duo sing together on the song’s chorus, while Clarkson shows off her golden vocals when she belts out that she knows that she cannot be the only one who’s holding on for dear life.

They then take turns singing a few lines solo before Clarkson coolly wraps up the duet. The audience gives a round of thunderous applause for Clarkson and Jelly Roll as they share a hug and smile. The full performance is expected to air on the Oct. 16 episode of ‘The Kelly Clarkson Show.’ ‘I Am Not Okay,’ from Jelly Roll’s 2024 album ‘Beautifully Broken,’ soared to No. 2 on Billboard’s Country Airplay chart, while also moving to No. 17 on the Billboard Hot 100.

Espresso by Sabrina Carpenter

When Carpenter announced Espresso’s release in April, she said she just wanted to put out a little song before Coachella. It duly dropped on the 11th of that month, a day before her first set at the California music festival. But crucially, the single’s mid-spring debut gave it time to build towards summer ubiquity as it permeated the public’s consciousness.

Espresso reached its peak position of number three on the Billboard Hot 100 on 22 June; in the UK, it spent five non-consecutive weeks at number one between 5 May and 21 July. At a concert in Las Vegas on 19 May, pop superstar Adele told the audience that Espresso was her jam because she could relate to the lyric: ‘I’m working late because I’m a singer’.

It’s a song precision-tooled to sound ‘summery’. Music journalist and songwriter-producer Charlie Harding, who co-hosts a podcast about the making and meaning of pop music, Switched on Pop, says Carpenter’s vocals are mixed to emphasize the breathiness that feels like a refreshing summer breeze’.

Dr Joe Bennett, a musicologist at Berklee College of Music, notes that Carpenter’s ‘breathy delivery’ is offset with stacked [vocal] harmonies on every chorus, including some that highlight particular phrases such as ‘this one boy’. He says this combines with the handclap doubling the snare drum to turn Espresso into a song that invites the listener to join in, which makes it even more infectious.

APT. By Rosé’s and Bruno Mars

The song was written and composed by various contributors, including Rosé and Mars. It is an uptempo pop rock and pop-punk track, featuring indie rock and electropop influences. Inspired by a South Korean drinking game, the song’s chorus is built around the game’s rhythmic chant of ‘apateu’. Critics lauded ‘Apt.’ for its catchy production, broad cross-cultural appeal, and its role in promoting Korean culture worldwide. Rosé and Mars performed the song at the 2024 MAMA Awards, where they received the Global Sensation award.

‘Apt.’ was an immediate commercial success worldwide, spending seven weeks atop the Billboard Global 200 and Global Excl. US charts and earning Rosé and Mars their second number-one single on both charts. In South Korea, it became both artists’ first track to attain a ‘perfect all-kill’ and peak at number one on the Circle Digital Chart. The song also topped the charts in New Zealand, Australia, Hong Kong, India, Indonesia, Japan, Luxembourg, Malaysia, and the MENA region, the Philippines, Singapore, and Taiwan. It entered the top ten on the US Billboard Hot 100 and the UK Singles Chart, becoming the first song by a K-pop female soloist to do so on either.

Music can help create a deeper connection between the viewer and the content by evoking emotions and memories. Using trending audio can help keep your brand relevant and boost your audience engagement and it can help turn a dense topic into a more engaging piece of content. So if you had used some of these mentioned tracks in your reel then good job but if not, keep your eyes and ears peeled for the upcoming most viral and trendiest tracks to put in your new reels.

British Musician Elton John Reveals He Has Lost His Eyesight Due To Infection

British singer and composer Elton John revealed to a theatre audience on Sunday that he had lost his vision. The 77-year-old musician is one of the best-selling artists of all time.

He previously suffered months-long eye infections. On Sunday, he attended the launch of the 'The Devil Wears Prada' musical in London's West End. However, he said that he was unable to watch the performance because of his lost vision.

The 'Tiny Dancer' artist told the audience at a charity gala performance of 'The Devil Wears Prada' musical, "As some of you may know, I have had issues and now I have lost my sight. I haven't been able to see the performance, but I have enjoyed it," Daily Mail reports. Notably, Sir John wrote the score for the musical. "So it's hard for me to see it, but I love to hear it, and, boy, it sounded good tonight," he further said. The 'Rocket Man' singer thanked his husband David Furnish, saying he "has been my rock."

In September, the musician posted on Instagram that an infection had "left me with only limited vision in one eye". In an interview with Good Morning America on November 25, the musician admitted "I unfortunately lost eyesight in my right eye in July." "It's been four months now since I've been able to see." Although John did not reveal which kind of eye infection caused him his eyesight, he revealed that he had been struggling. "I'm kind of stuck at the moment," John told GMA. "Going into the studio and recording, I don't know, because I can't see a lyric for starters."

In another interview with ABC News in the US, John said that the infection had left him unable to see out of his right eye and that his left was "not the greatest." This meant that he could no longer watch or even read anything.

This definitely put the possibility of recording any music in the future at risk. "I am healing, but it's an extremely slow process, and it will take some time before sight returns to the impacted eye," he added. Being one of the best-selling artists of all time, Sir Elton John's career started to peak in the early 1970s. His piano-led rock songs and ballads such as 'Candle in the Wind' have helped him maintain his worth and relevance in the global music industry.

In his career spanning over a six-decade, he has sold more than 300 million records. He finally said goodbye to his career with a global farewell tour in 2022 and 2023. He played his final show in his native UK at the Glastonbury Festival. His last ever performance was in Sweden and since then he has focused on his family and health.

Spotify Wrapped 2024: Bad Bunny Is Spotify's Top Latin Artist

Spotify wrapped 2024 is finally out and the stats are crazy! Bad Bunny once again solidified his status as this year's most-streamed Latin artist on Spotify Worldwide data.

However, 2024 was also a big year for Mexican music which is rapidly making a strong comeback as the world is witnessing it crossing over mainstream worldwide music. Música Mexicana or Mexican music is currently the most streamed Latin music genre in the U.S., dominating a total of 26 states.

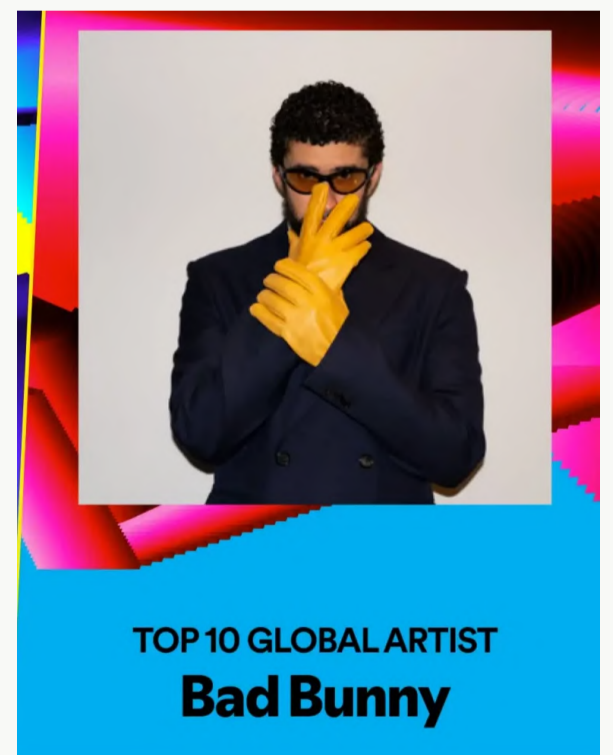

On global Spotify, it is also the third most-listened-to Latin music genre. One of the primary figures in Mexican music is Mexican singer Peso Pluma. He is currently following Bad Bunny as the second most-streamed Latin artist on Spotify. He is best known for corridostumbados, a Mexican music genre combining traditional Mexican music with reggaeton, trap, and hip-hop. He is also behind several other regional Mexican music genres, which helped launch young Mexican musicians to stardom. In the third and fourth spots, Colombian reggaeton singers Feid and Karol G sit comfortably.

This has happened for a fifth consecutive year where Karol G has reigned as the most-listened-to-female Latin artist on Spotify.

Karol G's album 'MañanaSerá Bonito' was the No. 1 most-streamed Latin album on Spotify. It was also the No. 4 most-listened-to album globally. The three other male Latin singers also had big years and are among the top 10 most-streamed artists globally on Spotify. Bad Bunny is at No. 3, Peso Pluma is at No. 7, and Feid is at No. 10 on the Spotify global chart. These male singers stand strong among heavy hit makers like Taylor Swift, Ariana Grande, and Billie Eilish.

The data showcases that consumer demand for Latin music has been steadily increasing over the past decade. Study shows that this surge in Latin music demand was mainly driven by the growing mainstream popularity of Latin urban genres like reggaeton. Previously, the industry was more relied on pop, rock en español, and Mexican music to make Spanish-language songs popular worldwide. However, this seems to shifting in recent times. Four of the top 10 most-streamed Latin artists globally on Spotify focus on música mexicana: Peso Pluma, Junior H, Natanael Cano, and the American regional Mexican band FuerzaRegida. On the other hand, the remaining six artists on the list, Bad Bunny, Feid, Karol G, Rauw Alejandro, Myke Towers, and Anuel AA make reggaeton music. Spotify's top Latin song this year was the reggaeton hit 'Gata Only' by Chilean singers FloyyMenor and CrisMj. The song was also the fourth most-streamed song globally.

MAROON 5 HITS MUMBAI WITH EMOTIONS AND MIND-BLOWING PERFORMANCE

Maroon 5, the internationally acclaimed rock band, has touched down in India, igniting excitement among music enthusiasts.

The band's arrival was captured by paparazzi at Kalina airport, with band members warmly greeting photographers and fans, dressed in casual attire. Maroon 5's musical journey is nothing short of extraordinary. With over 98 million albums and 750 million singles sold, the band has earned RIAA certifications across 35 countries. They've charted 32 records on the Billboard Hot 100 and hold the Pop Airplay record for 'most #1 hits among pop duos or groups' with 11 remarkable achievements.

The band's debut album, 'Songs About Jane,' reveals a deeply personal narrative. In a candid Rolling Stone interview, frontman Adam Levine shared the album's genesis, 'I saw this girl at a gas station and I fell in love with her. I wrote a song about her and played it in the store where she worked. It was an awful song, but she found out about this relatively psychotic boy.

She was my muse for years.' Maroon 5 concerts have become legendary for unexpected romantic moments. The band has a history of facilitating surprise proposals during performances, particularly during their hit 'She Will Be Loved.' Their music video for 'Sugar' famously featured the band crashing real-life weddings, adding an element of spontaneous joy to their musical legacy.

The band is known for tailoring setlists to resonate with local audiences. Fans can anticipate potential Mumbai-specific references and song selections that celebrate the city's unique cultural essence. Attendees can expect more than just a concert. Maroon 5's performances often feature dynamic on-stage interactions, including dance-offs between band members and even audience participation. Hits like 'Sugar', 'One More Night,' and 'Moves Like Jagger' promise to transform the venue into an electrifying dance floor.

With their global success, deeply personal musical storytelling, and reputation for creating unforgettable live experiences, Maroon 5's Mumbai debut is set to be a landmark event in the city's musical calendar and it was especially for a particular fan. This was one of the most memorable moments of the evening. The frontman of the band, Adam Levine invited an emotional fan, Suman, on stage. The visibly overwhelmed fan hugged Levine and thanked him for being a part of her life's journey. She said, 'I love all your songs. You've been the journey of my life. Thank you so much' as Adam Levine hugged her back and thanked her for her kind words. In a behind-the-scenes video posted by the concert organizers, BookMyShow, the band members expressed their love for Mumbai and India. 'We love India; we have been here once before, quickly, this is our first real show with the band. So we are stoked to be here,' they said. When asked what took them so long to perform in India, they replied, 'It's exciting when people see us for the first time, because most people who know us from the records and the live shows is a little bit different. It's a little more high energy, more rock and roll.'

'Summertime Sunshine' by Denny Blair Is a Classic Reminiscence of Rock and Roll

In the music industry, various talented come and go every day. The only talents that stay long enough to make an impression are the ones who are versatile.

In today's global music industry, versatility is something that makes an artist stand out amid the competition, and Denny Blair is one of those artists. Known for his ability to craft music that brings out the authentic essence of the genre or style, another thing that the artist is often seen doing is experimenting.

What do you get if you mix different styles of a musical genre? You get a dynamic composition like 'Summertime Sunshine', the latest musical project of Blair.

Blair is a singer-songwriter from the small town of Nichols in upstate New York. Growing up, he has always been passionate about making music. It has always interested the musician from his childhood and music has always been a constant source of comfort and inspiration.

Just like every other person in the world, Blair had also faced some struggles and toughest battles in his life. However, he never gave up and music has been inspiring throughout. This is the feeling and spirit that the artist also brings to his music, especially with his newest musical creation.

As mentioned before, music has always been an inspiring and intriguing art form for the artist. He started composing and writing lyrics at a young age. After years of writing lyrics, Denny has now leaped to bring his words to life through music. The journey from penning down lyrics to actually giving them music and releasing them has been tough yet colorful. The unbeatable zeal has been constant in the musician's work and is something that makes him unparalleled in the industry.

With a passion for crafting relatable, heartfelt songs, Denny's music is an authentic reflection of his experiences and emotions.

Drawing from his roots in upstate New York, Denny Blair's sound is shaped by a blend of rock, pop, and Alternative influences. Now in his new song, listeners can clearly hear the influences and figure out the innovations brought by Blair.

'Summertime Sunshine' is the latest project of the artist that is a smooth combination of classic rock 'n' roll, and alternative rock. The composition gives listeners an upbeat and catchy melody.

Combined with the dynamic and energetic rhythms, the song is truly a rock and roll anthem.

The artist wanted to create a song that captured the carefree spirit of summer, while also drawing from his own musical influences and tastes, and with this newest track, he did just that.

Listening to the track feels like a warm hug, which is trying to make you feel energized at the same time.

Listen to the track on Spotify, along with some of his previous releases such as 'Darkness In The Morning Light', 'Livin' Life', 'Yellow', etc.

Best Moments From Taylor Swift's Last Weekend Of Eras Tour In Vancouver

The Eras Tour is finally to its end and the last weekend show took place in Vancouver with a lot of unexpected moments that fans didn't expect of.

Let's find out more! Taylor Swift's epic and never-ending Eras Tour is perhaps to its climax now. The last weekend of the sold-out tour makes sure that the concert stands out with a bang. The set for Vancouver night offered many memorable moments for the Swifties who had been early waiting for the day.

It took place on Dec. 6, 2024, and the Friday night in Vancouver offered the perfect mood to start the weekend in this festive season.

It is a part of the final three Eras shows and more than about 60,000 souls were present to witness the Eras Aura. For those who are still counting the number of shows, this is marking the final act from 150 to 152. The set for final act was set in a way that offers a chronological musical adventure of the artist's discography. Slaying in the blue-and-gold 'Lover' bodysuit, Swift said, "You and I, we're about to go on a little adventure," and further continues, "That adventure is gonna span 18 years of music, and we're gonna be doing this one era at a time. How does that sound to you, Vancouver?"

The City was Ready!

Vancouver's iconic Gastown steam clock was also a part of Swift's set as it changed its chime in order to play the track 'Shake It Off' every 15 minutes which never ever happened in history before. There were a total of 13 Swift tracks which were displayed all around in Vancouver. The songs included, "Down Bad," "Style," "Anti-Hero," "Willow" and many others.

The Stadium was ready Too!

The organizers did an amazing job in utilizing each section of the stadium in a way that offers a well-rounded view of her performance from every corner. Swift swiftly glides around the whole stage including the main stage, the diamond, the catwalk, the end stage, and everything. Both the lower and upper levels of the stadium offered a satisfying view of the performance. The immersive visual experience along with the giant screen was a perfect combo that made concertgoers happy.

A Sense of Farewell on a Friday Night While the performance was a blast, there were ample emotional moments as the singer shared her feelings regarding this long tour. She said, "This night is bound to be filled with so many different emotions, just for me, my band, my crew, my fellow performers on stage, the dancers, and for anyone that's been with us and cared about this tour," but she also added, "But right now, honestly, I'm just feeling so overjoyed that we decided to spend our last shows in Vancouver. I love you so much. My face hurts from grinning." She also shared, "This has been the greatest last Friday night of the tour that I could've imagined with you." Somewhere between the blend of happiness and sadness, the climax of the Eras Tour is truly memorable for the fans and Taylor Swift herself.

AP Dhillon's Delhi Concert Was Joined By Jazzy B And Honey Singh

Punjabi music artist from Canada with Indian Blood, AP Dhillon, is back to the roots for Brownprint India Tour, and the Delhi concert offered some highly memorable moments.

Brownprint India Tour by AP Dhillon presented by White Fox India became a super hit and what enticed the audiences even more was the presence of Jazzy B and Honey Singh. Delhi's IG Stadium was all prepared on December 14th to welcome the concert hoppers this was one of the biggest shows at the end of the year.

With a highly successful Mumbai launch, 'Brownprint' made sure to captivate the crowd. It also featured guests like Malaika Arora for the Delhi leg, making it more memorable. The community of music lovers and the community of performers worked together to create this amazing moment.

This is only the second show of the tour and it is already showing a warm response from the crowd.

Dhillon's Delhi Concert

The second show in Delhi started with an atmospheric music soundscape which was created by viral sensation Josh Brar and his dynamic opening set.

Warming up the audience on a cold Delhi night, the Punjabi hitmaker set fire on stage with an eccentric two-hour performance in front of a sea of 20,000 attendees.

The set list for the performance included 25 tracks from his musical arsenal which provides for, 'Desires', 'Insane', 'Dil Nu' as well as recent hits like 'Bora Bora', 'Sweet Flower', 'Old Money', 'After Midnight', etc.

Dhillon's unwavering vocal skills and energetic presence in live performances kept the crowd energized and at their happiest moment of life. Showing his deep affection for the fans, the artist also brought the fans on stage when he was performing the track 'Brown Munde'.

'Dil Luteya': Jazzy B and Honey Singh and AP Dhillon

The stage for the performance was equipped with what was required to create the special moments such as pyrotechnics, sparklers, confetti, streamers, ball drop, Xylo bands, flames, and whatnot. It created an immersive experience for each track. However, what created more memories than ever was when the trio sang 'Dil Luteya'. Punjabi pop music legends Jazzy B and Honey Singh joined Dhillon on stage and also performed 'This Party Getting Hot', 'Millionaire' and '315'.

Dhillon's Response

The artist said, "Coming back to India after three years felt surreal. To see so many people singing along to my songs, was truly humbling and a moment I'll never forget. Thank you to everyone who made this night possible." The final venue for the Brownprint India Tour is set at Chandigarh which is going to be another blast.

Katy Perry Holds a Show of Lifetime at Capital's Jingle Bell Ball

Every December, Capital's Jingle Bell Ball brings together the most exciting names in music to take part in the UK's biggest Christmas party. On 8th December, the Capital's Jingle Bell Ball had exciting big names like Perrie, Ella Henderson, and Teddy Swim who all took the stage with none other than Coldplay headlining. As for Sunday, another pack of huge acts including Becky Hills, KSI and Tom Grennan all were set to perform. It cannot be missed to mention that the iconic and incredibly talented, gorgeous Katy Perry was their headliner with a hit-packed setlist. The setlist consisted of Tom Grennan's 'All These Nights', 'Remind Me', 'Little Bit of Love', 'It Can't Be Christmas' and ending with 'Higher' which set the mood of the whole experience. Next, there was Clean Bandit performing mega-hits like 'Rockabye', 'Solo', and 'Tick Tock' ending the set with 'Real Love' along with Ella Henderson with 'Crazy What Love Can Do' to set the mood to a different height and following up with tracks like 'Lighter', '0800 Heaven', 'React' and 'Filthy Rich' and much more. The much-awaited performance of the setlist was the legendary band Coldplay who played some of their most loved and famous tracks like 'Higher Power', 'Adventure of a Lifetime' and the most beloved song, especially for the ones from the 90s, 'Paradise' and topped it off with 'A Sky Full of stars'.

While on Sunday, the day was set to be filled with the presence of eminent musicians once again. The stunning and extremely talented singer Katy Perry graced the audience with her stellar performance and cute outfits. Teddy Swims was one of the performers set to entice the audience with their incredible voice and the singer did just that. With tracks like 'The Door', 'Bad Dream', and 'Lose Control' he definitely took the audience on a rollercoaster ride of emotion and melodies. On the other hand, Katy Perry portrayed a melodious cinema of her evolution throughout her musical career. The tracks like 'TGIF', 'Hot N' Cold', 'Teenage Dreams', 'Dark Horse', and 'Women's World' shows a transition in her style of singing, the gravity of her experience, and her understanding of the art form.

Along with the superstar, there were KSI who captivated the audience with tracks like 'Not Over Yet', 'Holiday', 'Patience', and 'Thick of It', Sonny Fodera with tracks like 'Never Be Alone', 'Still Sleepless', 'Asking' and ending it with 'Somedays feat. Jazzy'.

Billie Eilish Compares Her Addiction To Social Media With 'Cigarettes'

Most individuals these days are spending a significant amount of time on social media platforms and pop idol Billie Eilish also agrees to that. The singer has recently revealed that her addiction to social media is more like having 'Cigarettes'.

In a recent interview, the "Birds of a Feather" singer talked about her complicated relationship with social media apps which is a bad habit, and to her it is similar to smoking. When she was asked about spending time on X (Formerly known as Twitter), the 22-year-old singer said, "And I went off Instagram and Tiktok a couple of months ago, which was awesome," more like a detoxification. However, Eilish also said, "I really love to interact with the fans when I'm on tour," which is easier when the artist is active on social media.

She further explained, "I love seeing all the videos and all the angles. I love seeing how people are feeling and thinking about the show. If I think something looks different, I want to change it." The feed of social media works like a wormhole where one can get lost and Eilish explained, "So I go on the internet to see the videos that I want to see, but then I get sucked in." And that's when the "problem" starts.

"Then I get all fed up, and I'm stuck. So I've been back on it, but I am trying to get off. It's my cigarettes." She further added, "It's really a problem." When the 'Chihiro' singer was asked about her interactions with the fans and Q&A sessions, she said, "Some of it's awesome and I love it and I cherish it. But again, people make that kind of thing really hard. It's sad to me. Some people ruin it for the rest of them." Previously in an interview with British artist Stormzy, the artist said, "I feel conflicted about it," and continued, "I don't always want to tell the world intimate details about my life, I don't really want people to know everything about me, but at the same time, I want people to be able to feel seen and heard if they've experienced the same things I have." Clearly, her relationship with social media is complicated in a way.

Negative Instagram comments have been ruining her mental health earlier. In an interview with the BBC, the 'Bad Guy' singer said, "It's weird: the cooler the things you get to do are the more people hate you. It's crazy."

'A Jaguar II Christmas: The Orchestral Arrangements' By Victoria Monét Has Been Released

Victoria Monét adds a Christmas touch this holiday season with her latest album 'A Jaguar II Christmas:

The Orchestral Arrangements'. The artist dropped the album on the 11th of December via the label Lovett Music and RCA Records. Previously in 2023, she gave the album 'Jaguar II', and this time she has transformed the album for Christmas.

She has reworked the songs and offered the songs in a whole different way. Her new approach toward the soundtracks is helping her to attain more recognition. The singer has changed the song 'Cadillac (A Pimp's Anthem)' into 'Cadillac Christmas' and 'Stop (Askin' Me 4Shyt)' into 'Stop (Askin' Me 4Gifts)'. The new soundscapes have garnered many audiences in a brief time.

The latest version of the new album is now available on every major music streaming platform for all. It is an eight-track project creating a huge buzz among all.

For this album, Monét has reimagined her most appreciating songs 'How Does It Make You Feel' and 'On My Mama' from the album 'Jaguar II'.

While sharing the news of the latest album, the artist made a post of X that says 'A gift from me to you (and family-friendly for the kids, I promise)!!! I hope this fills you and your family with much-needed holiday cheer and the Christmas spirit!' Victoria Monét released the album 'A Jaguar Christmas:

The Orchestral Arrangements' in 2020. After four years, the artist came up with another Christmas special album, which generated much sensation among all the listeners.

She has gotten recognition after her 2023 release. The 11-song project 'Jaguar II' ranked at 22 on the Top R&B/Hip-Hop Albums. In addition to that, it also ranked 60 on the Billboard 200. Monét is a brilliant artist who has bagged two Grammys in 2024 for Best Engineered Album and Best R&B Album.

From this, it is evident that her audiences have loved the LP. For that reason, the prolific R&B singer has come up with a new Christmas edition.

It can be said that the latest album is going to be a massive hit as it is already accumulating a large number of audiences from all around the world.

Miley Cyrus Thanked Pamela Anderson At The Golden Globe Awards

Miley Cyrus celebrates her 2025 Golden Globe nomination, giving credit to Pamela Anderson for sharing her latest project. On Thursday, December 12, the 'Flower' hitmaker took to Instagram to express her gratitude for her new single 'Beautiful That Way', which earned a nomination in the Best Original Song category. On the other hand, Pamela Anderson certainly didn't expect to find herself in the thick of awards season. But thanks to her acclaimed performance in Gia Coppola's 'The Last Showgirl', Anderson landed among this year's Golden Globe nominees in the Drama Actress category. The actress expressed her disbelief and gratitude by saying, 'What's wonderful is that this movie was shot in 18 days, and it was less than a couple million dollars. It was really a labor of love. So I'm so excited for the film,' Anderson tells Gold Derby after her first-ever nomination. "It's very satisfying and really exciting. It shows you that hard work matters. No matter if it's a tiny little film or a tiny budget or fewer hours, you can really pour your heart into something, and it shows. So I'm just really excited I got the opportunity. And I never thought it would go like this.'

For Miley Cyrus, it was an honor to be nominated according to her speech, in which she says, 'It's an honor to be nominated for Best Original Song alongside my friends and collaborators Andrew Wyatt and Lykke Li at the Golden Globes & Critics Choice Awards'. Following her nomination, Cyrus, 32, thanked Anderson, 57, and Coppola, 37, for inviting her to collaborate on the production. 'Pamela is graciously sharing her moment with us. I am continuing to root for her, it's so fun to watch her shine,' she continued. 'Thank you, Gia Coppola, for inviting me to be a part of your gem The Last Showgirl.' The former Disney star wrote and recorded Beautiful That Way for Coppola's The Last Showgirl. Directed by Coppola (granddaughter of Francis Ford Coppola) and written by Kate Gersten, 'The Last Showgirl' focuses on Shelley (Anderson), a Las Vegas dancer whose life is thrown in disarray when the long-running show that has dominated her life abruptly closes. Shelley must figure out what comes next while also trying to reconnect with her daughter (Billie Lourd).

'I never had a project like this, so when I saw myself for the first time the film's premiere in Toronto with the entire audience, I was just happy to not see me,' Anderson says of her performance. 'For me, I feel like this is just the beginning of my career. I worked really hard on this project. I have an acting teacher I've worked with for a long time, Ivana Chubbuck. I've worked with her on everything from Broadway till now, and a long time ago, but we lost touch. My life kind of took a sideways turn. But here I am back again. It just took me a couple of decades to get back on track. But that's what is just so fun. You never know and it's never too late.' Anderson has been famous for decades, thanks to her modeling appearances and role on 'Baywatch.' But despite years of hard work, she was rarely considered for her craft as an actor.

Lainey Wilson Reveals Her Humble Side After A Successful 'Whirlwind' Year

Music artist Lainey Wilson is making Country 'Cool' again with her captivating songs and the release of 'Whirlwind' has made the journey even more successful. The album was released in August and received much attention from the country lovers. The tour for 'Country's Cool Again' has ended with 35 amazing shows and each show was a houseful hit.

While reviving her musical career with success, Wilson also lives for the little things that keep her humble and grounded. The artist said, "Making sure that I feel like Lainey: the sister, the friend, daughter, aunt, and dog mom and all of those things," and also added, "As long as I can do that, I can be the best version of the artist that I try to be." Country music is making an epic comeback in the music industry with a lot of buzz and the 32-year-old artist said, "Country's having its moment, and I'm proud to be a part of the movement." Lainey Wilson also cohosted the 2024 CMA Awards along with Luke Bryan and Peyton Manning. She also appeared for the Thanksgiving NFL halftime performance and made millions of viewers happy in Dallas.

Lainey also revealed, "I get nervous before everything, whether I'm singing for 20 people, 200 or 40 million households tuned in for the Dallas Cowboys game," and added, "If I stop getting nervous, I got something to worry about."

2024 is not over for Lainey yet, as she is gaining at full throttle. Her Wildflowers and Wild Horses Tour ended on Dec 14 at the MGM Grand in Las Vegas. It was a huge hit as the organizers offered exclusive tickets even in a fully sold-out show which shows the demand among the music lovers.

The Bell Bottom Country musician showed her gratitude to her mentor and said, "We are bringing out Mae Estes and Tracy Lawrence, which is really cool to think that Tracy Lawrence is going to be on my show bill," and further added, "He took me out on the road with him about three years ago and I remember he stood side stage and watched every single one of my performances."

Lainey Wilson won the 2024 CMA Award for Female Vocalist of the Year. However, the artist is not influenced by recognition. She said, "When I got invited to be a member of the Grand Ole Opry this past year, that is better than any award I could ever get." Embracing her family and music, the artist is ready for a long and successful journey ahead.

Spotify is a music streaming platform that has grown and transformed as more audiences started using it. This music streaming platform has become a global sensation among music enthusiasts. It can be said that Spotify has influenced the music industry a lot. Right after the introduction of this online streaming platform, many artists got the opportunity to showcase their talent. It can be definitely said that in the music business prospect too, Spotify has played a significant role. Let's find out its origin and impact on the music industry to learn more about it-

The start of Spotify:

Currently, the largest music streaming platform, Spotify started in the year 2006. Daniel Ek and Martin Lorentzon founded this platform. Spotify went official in the year 2008 with the vision of a legal platform that can prevent music piracy for music artists. They came up with a platform for artists to share their authentic music and listeners to stream free online music. This platform grew at a large scale in 2011 as more listeners started using the platform. Right after 3 years of its official launch, Spotify received a huge boost that changed the music industry forever. In the beginning, it made a huge impact on the U.S. music industry and various record labels took the initiative to get associated with the platform. Later Spotify introduced various other features like playlists, personal recommendations, social sharing, and ad-free streaming. The profound features have made the streaming platform proficient in every way for both musicians and listeners.

Impact on the music industry:

Spotify is a platform that offers a special freemium ture for its listeners. To listen to ad-free music on Spotify, one needs to get a subscription. However, the feature of the platform helps listeners get access of listening to 70 million songs and 2.9 million podcasts. While listening to songs with Spotify freemium, listeners cannot experience ad-free music. And it is the only disadvantage that one needs to go through. Other than that, audiences can listen to every kind of soundtrack. One of the best parts of Spotify is its royalties and licensing feature. By getting the license for the recording label, artists will be able to earn money from Spotify royalties. Therefore, using Spotify will not only help them gain recognition but earn money as well, which is quite helpful in many ways.

Benefits for artists:

Spotify offers many benefits to its music makers. Plenty of artists are there who don't have any media to showcase their creative talent. Spotify is a platform where individual artists will get the opportunity to upload their music and reach out to the target audiences. A lot of artists have had the chance to attain fame on this platform and get established in the industry. They also got a chance to work on bigger projects that have given a boost to their music-making career. Therefore with the help of Spotify, artists got an avenue to cater their tracks to more people seamlessly. Spotify has made a drastic change in the music industry for both artists and listeners. The brilliant features have made the whole scenario quite different, which is assisting in many ways.

Diljit Dosanjh Brings Iconic ‘Korbo Lorbo Jeetbo’ to Life While Performing

The ‘Amar Singh Chamkila’ actor was set to perform in Kolkata as part of his ‘Dil-Luminati’ tour which was made memorable not just by the fans but by a speech given by the actor and singer Diljit.

On his Instagram account, he posted an adorable video sharing a glimpse with his fans showcasing the fun-filled moments on stage.

Speaking to the audience, Diljit shared a motivational message inspired by Kolkata’s love for cricket and the famous ‘tagline’ of the Kolkata Knight Riders (KKR) team, ‘Korbo Lorbo Jeetbo Re.’ He said, ‘This is a very good slogan. This slogan is from the Kolkata Knight Riders, right? It’s such a lovely slogan, and especially since it’s Shahrukh Khan Sir’s team, it’s bound to be great. I am a huge fan of him. This slogan also carries a wonderful message—work hard and fight alongside your team. And no matter where you are, it’s our duty to give 100 percent. So, if you give 199 percent effort, victory will have no other option but to come to you.’

The singer and actor also took a moment to talk about Kolkata’s rich history and culture. The city, known as the ‘City of Joy,’ is home to some of the most legendary figures, and Diljit shared how proud the people of Kolkata must feel to be connected to such great minds.

He also praised the city’s spiritual leaders and paid a special tribute to the legendary poet Rabindranath Tagore.

He said, ‘It is also called the City of Joy, right? It’s a matter of great pride for you all to have such great people—whether they are spiritual leaders or Rabindranath Tagore ji. I was reading about him, and I liked something he said.

Someone told him that since he wrote the national anthem, he should write a world anthem too. His reply was beautiful. He said, ‘Guru Nanak Dev Ji already wrote it in the 15th century.’

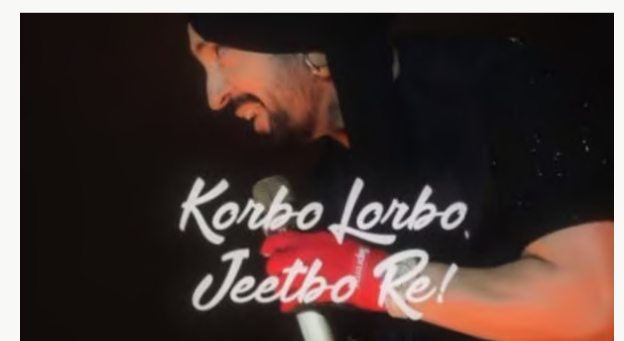

The singer took time out before his show to visit some of the city’s iconic landmarks. Taking to its official Instagram account on Saturday, Diljit’s team shared a couple of pictures and videos from his visit.

In the pictures, the singer was seen walking up the stairs of the historic venue, sitting by a window, and ordering a cup of hot milk coffee. In one picture, he thanked the server with a warm smile.

A video also captured him enjoying his coffee while taking in the view of the bustling city from the window.

On Friday, Diljit also visited the Dakshineswar temple after landing in Kolkata. The singer offered prayers, meditated in the serene temple premises, and shared a video of his experience.

The actor-singer also left fans in awe as he took a ride in the city’s iconic yellow taxi and sat along the scenic banks of the Hooghly River during his sightseeing trip.

'YoYo Honey Singh Famous': The Netflix Docu-Film Is About To Be Released

'YoYo Honey Singh Famous', the upcoming Netflix docu-film is about to be released. The documentary is specially made to showcase the famous rapper's journey, fall, and how he made his comeback. He is a music artist who has changed the whole dynamic of the industry. He introduced hip-hop music to the Indian music scenario and turned the world upside down. His contribution is something that created a huge buzz among all. The 'legend who changed the face of music industry' is going to be released on 20th December and all his fans are immensely excited about the release. The OTT platform, Netflix shared a few days ago about the release of 'The Roshans'. And only after a few times, it dropped the news of 'YoYo Honey Singh Famous'. The film is produced by Guneet Monga Kapoor and Achin Jain's production company, Sikhya Entertainment. Along with that, it came to know that the film is directed by Mozez Singh. now, all of his fans will get to know about his complete journey as a rapper.

Netflix shared a post on Instagram that says 'The name you know, the story you don't. Witness the rise of a legend who changed the face of Indian music forever. Watch YoYo Honey Singh: Famous on 20 December, only on Netflix'. Right after the announcement, one of Honey Singh's fans said 'Finally it's coming'. On the other hand, another stated '1st time I will take subscription of Netflix only for Honey paji'. Another one commented 'This is going to be huge'. From this, it can be understood how his fans are excited and waiting for the release.

Sikhya Entertainment stated 'With YoYo Honey Singh: Famous, we delve into his story in its rawest form—from his meteoric rise to his struggles and ultimate comeback as Hirdesh Singh. It was fascinating to discover how little we knew about the real person behind the stage name. After the success of The Elephant Whisperers, we're proud to present a documentary that captures the resilience, reinvention, and unfiltered truth of this true desikalakar—a journey we believe fans and critics alike will find deeply fascinating. We're thrilled to collaborate with Director Mozez Singh and Netflix again to bring this extraordinary story to audiences worldwide'.

In addition to this, Mozez Singh said 'Capturing Honey Singh's journey has been an incredible experience. He is a fascinating man who has already lived so many lifetimes in this one life. I feel honored and privileged to be bringing a documentary alongside the Oscar-winning Sikhya and to have been given full access to Honey Singh's world. I'm so thankful that he trusted me with his life story. We have covered everything in this film—love, pain, family, success, failure, loss, mental health, and the fight to come back. But most of all we have spoken about the price of Fame. This docu feature highlights his evolution, his lasting impact on popular culture, and a lot of stories that no one has ever heard before. Meet the legend who revolutionized Indian rap and hip-hop—a true trailblazer like no other!

Karan Aujla Shared His Surprised Reaction As Asha Bhosle Performed 'Tauba Tauba'

Asha Bhosle, the profound 91-year-old singer stunned everyone with her performance in Dubai.

Recently held in a show, the legendary singer performed Karan Aujla's soundtrack 'Tauba Tauba'. It is a newly released song from the movie 'Bad Newzz' starring Vicky Kaushal. The song became a massive hit for its hooky tune.

However, no one expected Asha Bhosle to sing something like this. By doing this phenomenal performance the singer has created a huge buzz on the internet. She has not only tried her hands on singing the track, she also did the hook step of it. Everyone is well aware of Asha Bhosle's diversity.

She is one of the few who has truly offered a wide range of soundscapes to her listeners. However, her take on this modern Bollywood pop music has made everyone completely shocked. Just like the rest of the audience, the video of Bhosle surprised the artist Karan Aujla as well. After watching the video, Karan also shared it on social media and showed his reaction to it.

The Tauba Tauba singer said 'Asha Bhosleji, the living Goddess of music, just performed Tauba Tauba... a song written by a kid who grew up in a small village, with no music background and no knowledge of music instruments. A melody made by someone who doesn't play any instrument.

This song has received a lot of love and recognition amongst not only fans but also music artists, but this moment is truly iconic and one I will never forget. I am truly blessed and thankful. This has really inspired me to keep giving you all such melodies and create more memories together.

Karan also said 'I wrote it at 27. She sang it at 91 better than me (folded hand emoji)'. There is no doubt that the performance has surprised everyone. Though she has sung many types of songs in her massive singing career, this was never the kind of track that her audiences ever got to listen to. Hence, it truly surprised everyone. One of the fans said 'Asha Bhosle not only singing Tauba Tauba but also doing the dance step at her Dubai show was not on my 2024 bingo card!!! Legendary! (party emoji)'. After that, another said 'What at 91...most elderly people I know in their early 60's can't even walk on their own and look at Asha Tai doing all of that with so much flamboyance and finesse (fire emoji) queen of everything'.

AP Dhillon Sang 'With You' For His Childhood Crush Malaika In The Mumbai Show

AP Dhillon is sending a chill down the spine as he gave a banger performance at the Mumbai concert on Saturday.

The artist has given some of his hit songs and made everyone dance throughout the show. His magnificent performance has set Mumbai ablaze. Along with Dhillon, there was his co-singer and lyricist, Shinda Kahlon, who has also amazed all with his electrifying performance.

It can be said that he has spread the Punjabi sensation among all. The artist has sung soundtracks like 'Excuses', 'Insane', 'Summer High', and 'Brown Munde'. Along with these, he has also performed his latest track, named 'Bora Bora'. Dhillon has surprised all with a wide array of songs. In addition to all these, his acoustic versions of 'Dil Nu' and 'With You' swept everyone off their feet. It was truly one of the brilliant performances of this year that music lovers have got to see. As he kept on giving back-to-back hit songs, he mockingly said 'It's too hot in Mumbai!', even when it was relatively quite cool.

One of the most shocking surprises for all was that the Bollywood celebrity, Malaika Arora went up to the stage and danced with Dhillon. Fans are going crazy that on one side Malaika cheering for Dhillon and on the other side Deepika cheering for Diljit Dosanjh in his Bengaluru concert. Everyone is saying that 2024 is the biggest year of unexpected crossovers. The scene was truly magical as Dhillon sang 'With You' for his childhood crush, Malaika.

Apart from this Bollywood celebrity, several were present in the show. Some of them are Mrunal Thakur and Nushratt Bharuccha, Nikhita Gandhi, and Wazir Patar. It can be said that the show gave an outstanding experience to all his fans. AP Dhillon, came back to India for his tour after 3 years. The Indo-Canadian artist started his Indian tour from Mumbai and he is all ready to conduct several other shows in the country.

The artist also went directly to the crowd while performing and everyone couldn't keep calm at this time. Along with his fantastic performance, it was the preparation that made everyone stunned. The 360° stage, along with flames, confetti, CO2 jets, and pyrotechnics have made the venue even more stunning. That is why, audiences got to witness a surreal performance at Dhillon's show. It is one of the phenomenal performances that everyone will remember forever.

BLACKPINK's Rosé Finally Presents "The Ex" In 'Toxic Till The End' Video Teaser

Rosé has just released a brand new teaser for her next single, 'toxic till the end' and the video has a surprise. In the video, she finally presents "the ex". The rollout for her BLACKPINK's Rosé's solo era just got more interesting! The singer's 'toxic till the end' premieres in just a few hours and ahead of this anticipated release, the K-pop artist has unveiled a new teaser.

In the teaser, the singer gave a glimpse to her chemistry with Evan Mock, signaling that he will be playing the role of her ex-boyfriend. This is the same "ex" that Rosé previously mentioned in quite a few interviews sharing her experience with her past relationship and the toxicity it brought to her life.

So, the teaser also brought a lot of excitement for her fans, who are waiting to see how their relationship unfolded. Meanwhile, the audio of the record is out on streaming platforms. Rosé shared a brand new teaser for her upcoming title track 'toxic till the end' music video on December 6th.

The clip begins with a pink-haired man trying to hitchhike when the singer spots him from her car. When she stops to figure out who the man is and what is going on, the guy, played by Evan Mock confesses that he is lost, and asking for help from her.

This scene quickly dissolves into a big garden in the next scene, where Rosé is seen running playfully from the guy as the title card enters. This is where the background audio plays and it says, "Ladies and gentlemen, I present to you the ex," in Rosé's voice.

Sharing this teaser on her Instagram, the K-pop idol wrote, "toxic till the end in just a few hours!!!!!!!!!!!!!! and my album!!!!!! someone pinch me now. it's all happening. I am so excited to share this song, video, and the whole album with you all. it's all yours in just a few more hours. I hope you all love it."

The video quickly got the attention of her millions of followers on Instagram and the fans started to share their thoughts and anticipation in the comment section.

On X (formerly Twitter), people shared their thoughts on the teaser. On one post sharing the details of her teaser announcement, a fan wrote, "Absolutely thrilled for you, Rosé! ?✨ The anticipation for 'toxic till the end' and your new album has us all on the edge of our seats. Your dedication and passion shine through, and we can't wait to dive into this new era with you. Sending all the love and support your way! ???" while another commented, "So excited! #rosiebyROSÉ #rosesarerosie #ROSÉ_rosie".

In the meantime, the physical version of Rosé's first studio album 'Rosie' is already out. The songs arrived on streaming platforms on December 6, 12 PM KST (8:30 PM IST, December 5). The BLACKPINK star's first solo studio album has a total of 12 songs with the album title track being 'toxic till the end'.

She previously released two other pre-release tracks, 'Number One Girl', and 'APT'. The B-side album has got records including '3 Am', 'Two Years', 'Dance All Night', 'Too Bad For Us', 'Call It The End', 'Not The Same', 'Stay A Little Longer', 'Gameboy', and 'Drinks Or Coffee'.

The K-pop singer previously admitted that she worked tirelessly on each of the songs until perfection, and the release shows her efforts.

Following the release of her first solo album, fans have also been praising Rosé for such a mesmerizing comeback.

Now, with this upcoming music video, her fans cannot seem to wait any longer!!

Bad Bunny Announced the Launch of His Brand New Album 'Debí Tirar Más Fotos'

Latin pop superstar Bad Bunny is ready to offer a brand new album on the New Year and he has made the announcements.

The sixth studio album will be releasing on Jan 5. The New Year is coming with a lot of surprises and Bad Bunny's upcoming album is one of them.

The Latin singer is going to launch his sixth studio album 'Debí Tirar Más Fotos' in the coming year which is creating much anticipation among the fans.

The title of the album translates to "I should've taken more pictures" which currently creating buzz with its abbreviation, "DTmF." The album project is all set to release on Sunday, Jan 5.

The launch of the album was declared through a teaser video which also includes prominent Puerto Rican film director Jacobo Morales.

Bad Bunny was found recalling his old friend "Concho". According to the press release, the singer "recalls once believing it was essential to live in the moment, but as he grows older, it has become harder to remember certain things.

Now, he wishes he had taken more photos and lived more deeply," and that is how the concept of the song was made. It is not only about the announcement as Bunny is also teasing the upcoming album with brand new single titled "Pitorro de Coco".

The title is inspired from a holiday rum beverage. The song released on December 26 and already gained much attention from the fans. "Pitorro de Coco" is the perfect example of Bad Bunny embracing his cultural roots which consists of a pure jíbara rhythm.

It offers a taste of a traditional Afro-Caribbean genre. The song is produced by Tainy, MAG, La Paciencia however, it is has been written by Benito himself.

This track by Bad Bunny offers an emotive essence as it calls for nostalgia and loneliness in the Christmas time. Remembering the good old memories in the festive season is something relatable and captivating and Bad Bunny has utilized the well.

Listeners might also find elements of Chuíto el de Bayamón and from his album 'Música Jíbara Para Las Navidades'.

Bunny brought back the reminiscence of a native singer from Bayamón, Puerto Rico who used to live in the 1900s.

Bad Bunny's usual style of high octane musical arrangement is evolving with every musical releases he makes.

Previously he dropped "EL CLÚB" that offers a blended essence of house music along with plena-styled guitar.

Fans of Bunny can now check the latest track "Pitorro de Coco" on YouTube and other major platforms.

'A Story Born From Dreams': Karol G Is About To Release Her Netflix Documentary

The Cambodian music artist Karol G is going to drop her Netflix documentary 'Story Born from Dreams' very soon, which is generating a huge sensation among all. Karol G recently announced her documentary's release on Netflix.

It will be released in 2025, and all of her fans are quite excited about it. This documentary is all about the career of the Colombian music artist. Her fans will get the opportunity to witness every twist and turn of her music career.

According to reports, Cristina Costantini, the Emmy Award-winning director and producer will direct this documentary. The upcoming Netflix documentary 'A Story Born from Dreams' is generating sensation among all music enthusiasts.

Karol G announced the documentary on Instagram. She shared a photo and wrote 'A story born from dreams that seemed impossible, fueled by unwavering faith. A relentless journey that defied all odds. My life, my work, my truth, and the powerful connection I share with you all. My dream came true.'

Netflix also made the announcement on Twitter and

SZA Drops 'Lana' Teaser Video And Announces The Deluxe Will Be Dropped On Friday

On Monday, SZA announced on social media that her long-delayed album, the deluxe album of her 2022 acclaimed album 'SOS', 'Lana' will be dropped on Friday.

SZA is finally dropping the long-delayed deluxe album. Since her Grammy-winning and acclaimed full-length album 'SOS' was released in 2022, the artist has been teasing her fans for a deluxe version of the album.

Now the artist has finally officially announced that 'Lana', the deluxe version of 'SOS' will be released on upcoming Friday. The post features a video of actor Ben Stiller singing along passionately with 'Drive', which is presumably the next single while driving a car on a rainy night.

SZA is gearing up for the forthcoming stadium tour with Kendrick Lamar, which presents a perfect opportunity for the artist to release new material. However, the deluxe album was expected ever since 'SOS' was released two years ago.

The fans are already skeptical of the deluxe arrival although 'Lana' seems to be coming for real this time. The announcement came after the latest round of teasers that began a week ago.

It started on the second anniversary of 'SOS' with a short video trailer including a snippet of one of the tracks from the album.

The video featured SZA in nature at night, pulling down her camo baggy pants by a creek to pee. She then directly looked at the camera as she took out a tissue to wipe herself up.

Then the word 'Lana' appeared across the screen. The lyrics of the track go "You know we got a real history/That's the reason I can't choose me/You know that dick been good to me/You make it hard for me to choose me."

The artist has been talking about a deluxe edition of 'SOS' since the album was released in 2022. In an interview with Variety in August of last year, SZA explained, "[Lana] is outtakes [from 'SOS'] and new stuff, too — I added a couple of songs. It's like a whole new project. It's called 'Lana' — my name but, it's the first tattoo that I ever got, when I was 13. It was 10 bucks a letter and I only had 40, so that that became my nickname for no reason. 'Lana' is really just the B-side of SOS."

Just a month later on September 8th, SZA performed at a free concert at the Brooklyn Navy Yard where the artist sang three songs from 'Lana'.

On the stage, she said, "The deluxe is a whole 'nother album, it's seven to 10 songs and it'll be out this fall." The songs were then dubbed by her fans 'Boy From South Detroit,' 'DTM' and 'Saturn'.

'Saturn' was then released as a stand-alone single in February this year. This, needless to say, prompts another wave of false alarms about the deluxe's release. However, just a few weeks later, SZA got pretty frustrated by the fans leaking her songs and posted that she would be starting 'Lana' from scratch again.

She posted "y'all leaked three songs from the deluxe." SZA continued, "At this point, y'all can keep the throwaways and leaks. I'll be starting 'Lana' from scratch. Do not ask me about it again," adding a few minutes later, "I'll round up the leaks y'all already got and u can have those. Seems like a fair deal. ENJOY."

This tweet was deleted a few minutes later and in a subsequent series of tweets, she said the deluxe edition of SOS will now feature "the leaks and outtakes" and "Lana" will be its own album.

"Lana deserves more time and music no one's ever heard before," she wrote. However, the artist now seems to have reverted to her original plan.

SIZZLING NEW TRACK 'AANKH' BY SUNIDHI CHAUHAN LIGHTS UP THE INTERNET

The new, sensual, and melodious track of the immensely talented Indian singer Sunidhi Chauhan which features the beautiful Sanya Malhotra has come out.

India is well aware of the incredible talent of Sunidhi Chauhan. She is one of the most famous female playback singers of Bollywood. But the audience was in for a surprise because nobody thought they would witness what they saw in her new song 'Aankh's music video.

The track is sung by of course the very talented Sunidhi Chauhan along with Rusha and Blizza and it features none other than the beautiful and great dancer and actress Sanya Malhotra.

On Friday, the video of the song was released. Sanya and Sunidhi can be seen setting the screen ablaze with their sultry dance moves, exuding confidence and energy. The combination of Sunidhi's powerful vocals along with Sanya's captivating on-screen presence sets the song apart.

In the video of the song, Sanya and Sunidhi are seen showing off their dance moves. On Friday, Sanya took to Instagram to share the video, saying Thank you to the fans for waiting and announcing that the full music video of 'Aankh' was released. The video direction and the choreography were done by the impeccable duo Piyush-Shazia. The track is a break-up song and the shots creating a sense of darkness due to the outstanding set designs amplifies the lyrics of the track beyond imagination.

The costumes and the art portrayed through set designs, everything seemed dreamy; out-of-this-world. When the teaser was dropped it created a huge buzz among the fans and it was anticipated that the full music video would be nothing less than a storm which is exactly what it was.

The video took the internet by storm and became one of the most sizzling tracks of this year. This is definitely a Christmas gift from the talented singer to her fans. The presence of both Sanya and Sunidhi displays a duality in the track.

Sanya is seen as a more innocent one who exuberates a sense of purity whereas Sunidhi is seen as a queen who knows everything about the game and is about to pull up her tricks from the sleeves.

The melody and the tunes of the song may seem familiar to the audience as it has a vague resemblance with the song called 'Lucky Boy' from Bachna Ae Haseeno which was also sung by Sunidhi.

From the choreography's point of view, the vibe of 'Aankh' is a bit similar to the track 'Yimmy Yimmy' by Jacqueline Fernandez may be because that track was choreographed by the duo Piyush and Shazia.

Even though the main hook step of the track may have not been appealing to a few of the people who have watched the music video but everyone agrees that it is in fact a great music video that will keep the audience engaged till the very last.

TWICE TEAMED UP WITH MEGAN THEE STALLION WITH A BRAND NEW "STRATEGY"

2024 is all about crazy collaborations and this time TWICE has collaborated with Megan Thee Stallion for a powerful banger called "Strategy". The OMV received more than 16 M views. The latest collaboration projects between American pop stars and K-pop artists have been a blast this year. One of the best examples would be TWICE's latest "Strategy" which is featured by Megan Thee Stallion. JYP founder Park Jinyoung was one of the first prominent figures who showed his global vision of tying up with Western Partners. And it has become a trend in the music industry now. "Strategy" has dropped with an official music video and it has garnered much global attention within a week only. The swaggering energy in the track is further enhanced by Megan Thee Stallion's over-the-top rap skills.

TWICE is best known for its K-pop bubblegum energy that comes with a lot of colors and peppy compositions. "Strategy" offers a fine twist of hip-hop which sounds crispy and powerful, offering a perfect balance to the track. It feels like Mega is trying to bring back the early-00s hip-hop as her bars are slick as ever. The song is deftly produced with an amazing musical arrangement which offers a captivating soundscape for over three minutes.

The synths during the post-chorus section are quite catchy and provide a hooky essence. It is a fast-paced track with a lot of elements to enjoy. TWICE consists of a total of nine members they are quite popular around the globe with some of the hit tracks like 'Feel Special', 'Look At Me', 'FANCY', 'MORE & MORE', and the list goes on. The group is big but their sync in performance and singing sounds like a single entity.

The production did a great job with the music video as well where each member of TWICE could be seen slaying in their distinguished aura. The vocals are clear and offer an amazing sonic experience to the audience. The official music video has its own alluring aura that creates a captivating visual appeal. The compact choreography offers zero room for error in performance. The fine balance of edginess and creativity makes this track a complete banger that can be enjoyed by all kinds of music lovers. However, more than TWICE, Megan Thee Stallion's presence made this banger even catchier. She has fun energy and powerful rapping skills which enhance any song's potentiality.

TWICE showcases musical maturity with some of their best work yet. "Strategy" by TWICE and Megan Thee Stallion earns a solid 8/10 for its impressive representation.

brings his evergreen charm to the screen.

His adorable chemistry with the child actress is the highlight of the video song where the audience gets a treat by seeing his personality as a girl dad.

The song's groovy tunes and beats, paired with Varun's energetic dance moves, are an absolute treat for the viewers. The actor's playful moves wearing a lungi on the catchy beats of 'PikleyPom' are already having the country back on its feet and grooving along.

Produced by Murad Khetani, Priya Atlee, and Jyoti Deshpande, Baby John is a family-packed entertainer, coming to the theaters this December 25th.

Promising to give the country an emotional, suspense-packed, and entertaining, this movie will have Varun Dhawan in a different role than his other films.

In this film, he is playing the character of a police officer and a single father. Going through the hardships of being a single parent and working in such a corrupt system as a police officer, the expectations from this Atlee movie are higher than ever.

Recently the film has launched its trailer where Varun's character and his motto of being not afraid to confront adversaries head-on catches the attention of netizens.

In a moving scene, the audience could hear him declare, "Mere jaisebohataayehoge, main pehalibaaraayahu" (Many like me might have come before, but I have come for the first time).

The trailer introduces Keerthy Suresh as the female lead in the film alongside veteran actor Jackie Shroff in the role of the antagonist.

WamiqaGabbi and Rajpal Yadav also seem to have impactful roles in store for the audience, contributing to the movie's spirited ensemble.

Presented by Jio Studios in association with Atlee and Cine1 Studios, Baby John is set to hit your nearest cinemas on December 25th.

DuaLipa To Host
New Year's Eve Bash
With Celebrity
Guests

Dua's New Year Bash! The pop star is all set to bring a ravishing start to 2025 as she is hosting a New Year's bash including Harry Potter and One Direction stars.

This New Year is going to be filled with radical optimism. This is not something that we are claiming but DuaLipa. She is reportedly set to host a dazzling New Year's bash in London after having one of the most incredible years of her career. The 29-year-old singer will be finally enjoying a night with her loved ones and friends after finishing the first leg of her epic Radical Optimism world tour in Asia.

DuaLipa and Callum Turner are hosting a New Year's party

She is thought to be hosting this New Year's bash with her actor boyfriend Callum Turner and a lot of celebrities are reportedly on the guest list including Emma Stone and Harry Styles. A well-connected source told the Sun, "Dua and Callum are planning what is shaping up to be the most talked about NYE party of this year." "They've found an amazing venue in London and are working with some party planners to get the ball rolling. Invites have gone out to all of their celebrity mates. It's the talk of the town and there are whispers that Bella Hadid and Harry Styles could be there on the night, along with Emma Watson." "The guest list is apparently a who's who of the celebrity world."

Dua's latest work in career

Last month, it was revealed that DuaLipa has recorded another album ahead of her debut stadium tour. The 'New Rules' singer reportedly recorded her upcoming live album in October at her Royal Albert Hall gig. This newest project is said to be released soon and features the brilliance of the 53-piece Heritage Orchestra, a 14-strong choir, and Dua's own seven-piece band. According to a source, "Dua wanted to give something back to her fans after an amazing year." "She's dabbled with live releases before, such as with her Brit Awards performance but this is the first time she will release a full live album." "It's expected to be announced in the coming weeks." During this special moment, DuaLipa was joined on stage by the music legend Elton John. The 77-year-old singing sensation joined the 'Levitating' to sing their duet 'Cold Heart' on stage.

The 'Radical Optimism Tour'

The singer's newest project is coming after she announced the new global 2025 tour for 'Radical Optimism', her latest album. The three-time Grammy winner is set to travel across the world with more than 40 new dates across Australia, New Zealand, North America, Europe, and the UK next year.

The singer has certainly reached a brand new pinnacle in her career and she shared the joy with her fans on Instagram. She announced on the social media platform that there would be many more dates to come. She announced, "RADICAL OPTIMISM TOUR 2025 !! THEY SAID THEY 'MISS 2022 DUA' WELL I'LL BE HAULING ASS FOR THE FORESEEABLE AND I CAN'T WAIT TO BRING THIS SHOW TO YOU !!" The tour started with shows in Asia including stops at Singapore, Jakarta, Tokyo, and Kuala Lumpur in November. The 2024 wrap was on Thursday, December 5 with a show in Seoul, Korea at Gocheok Sky Dome. The 2025 dates will begin on March 20 in Melbourne, Australia, at Rod Laver Arena.

Celebrating The Music Artists Who Made Holidays Better For Everyone

Holidays are the best time to enjoy your favorite music with friends, family, and loved ones.

Many music artists in the music industry have offered exquisite musical creations that are specially crafted considering the holiday season. Let's find out some of the top artists who made Christmas and other holidays even better.

Mariah Carey: The Christmas Queen

Christmas is perhaps a season for singer-songwriter Mariah Carey who is best known for her holiday album 'Merry Christmas' which was released in 1994. The leading single from the album "All I Want for Christmas Is You" has become a Christmas anthem that is played during the holiday time by people of different generations. Her dynamic vocal performance along with the catchy melody and romantic essence do not fail to captivate listeners from all around the world.

Bing Cosby: The Vocal of Christmas (Classic)

No one can compete with Bing Crosby when it comes to Christmas as he was considered to be vocals made for Christmas and holidays. His 1942 hit tracks "White Christmas" and "I'll Be Home for Christmas" are still one of the best Christmas tracks that music lovers want to enjoy in the modern days. His warm and smooth vocal skills offer a sense of comfort and nostalgia. Cosby can bring the charm of classic Christmas.

Frank Sinatra: Swinging Christmas

Frank Sinatra's charismatic personality is evergreen and he brought Christmas charm with his music that is never going to fade. His hit album "A Jolly Christmas from Frank Sinatra" is still a massive hit as listeners seem to enjoy it on every occasion. Tracks from the album like "Have Yourself a Merry Little Christmas" and "Jingle Bells" will be forever hits that consist of swinging musical arrangements along with melodically engaging vocals. His timeless musical collection is perfect for cozy winter nights.

Pentatonix: The Magic of A Cappella

Have you listened to any innovative a cappella arrangement that can blow your mind? Pentatonix is best known for such intriguing musical works where they utilized no instruments but only their vocals to create an amazing musical arrangement. Utilizing the methods of beatboxing, harmonies, and chorus, the group shared their musical prowess through tracks like "Mary, Did You Know?," "Carol of the Bells," and "Hallelujah" which set the perfect holiday for music lovers. The creativity and ability to come up with something new can still amaze the listeners of these days.

Michael Bublé: The Modern Ambassador

Michael Bublé is The Modern Ambassador of Christmas music who offered a new creative wave for holiday music with his 2011 album "Christmas". Bublé decided to cover the classic Christmas hits of all time like "It's Beginning to Look a Lot Like Christmas," "Santa Claus Is Coming to Town," and "White Christmas" through this album that quickly captivated the audiences with his smooth vocal texture. He is one who bridged the gap in music between the past and the present.

Elvis Presley: The King of Christmas

Elvis Presley is best known for his whacky styles and that kind of tantalized his fans in a way that it was hard to resist for them to ignore Presley's song. His holiday special "Elvis' Christmas Album" is one of the greatest music projects by him that includes the tracks like, "Silent Night," "Santa Bring My Baby Back (To Me)," "Blue Christmas," and many others. His powerful voice and persona along with a hefty dose of rock-and-roll flair can surely make your Christmas better.

Some of the other honorable mentions are Wham!, Kelly Clarkson, Brenda Lee, Nat King Cole, and the list goes on.

Make sure to listen to these artists and their holiday specials to embrace the festive season.
