NOT LIKE US

The infamous rap battle between Kendrick Lamar and Drake is finally settled where K. Dot emerged as the winner with his 'Not Like Us'. Although the track 'Not Like Us' is a diss track that the rapper released as a result of his ongoing feud with Toronto native Drake - it is so much more than that. In song, Kendrick explores various dense themes such as cultural identity, expectations from society, and his rise to fame. So, let's move ahead and have a breakdown of the lyrics and the song's themes. What the title means - The title "Not Like Us" makes a bold statement, indicating that the speaker sees themselves as significantly different from others. For Kendrick, this might mean feeling distant from his background, community, or self-awareness. At the same time, feeling "not like us" reflects the struggle of being part of a culture while feeling increasingly disconnected from it.

Cardi B and Pardison Fontaine Confirms 'Toot It' Collab

Pardison Fontaine revealed on Tuesday (Feb. 4) that his highly anticipated 'Toot It' collab with Cardi B is arriving on Friday, Feb. 7 via Hitmaker Music Group.

Cardi B fans have been eagerly waiting, and now the moment has finally arrived! The hip-hop star has dropped her first single in almost a year—Toot It Up, featuring Pardison Fontaine.

This collaboration is a highly anticipated release that could indicate big things to come for the rapper, especially with the speculation surrounding her sophomore album. 'You guys keep asking for 'Toot It.' Where's 'Toot It'? Where's 'Toot It' at? Can we get 'Toot It'? Here go the song, here go 'Toot It.' Take it, play it, do whatever y'all gon' do with it, shake ass. Here go the song, don't ask for that sh—no more,' Pardison said in an Instagram video with the caption 'it's BEEN 8 YEARS @iamcardib GET THIS SONG OFF MY HARD DRIVE!!! N THEY KEEP ASKING FOR THIS !!! IM DROPPIN IT 2/7!!!!'. To this post, Cardi B commented 'FCK IT LETS GOOO!!!'

After nearly a year without new solo music, Cardi B's Toot It Up hit the airwaves with a bang. Fans were ecstatic and highly energized when the rapper announced the collaboration with Pardison Fontaine on 4th February. Cardi B has a track record for releasing chart-topping hits, so this new single was bound to cause a stir. The excitement surrounding this new release can be attributed to more than just the track itself. For the past year, Cardi B has kept her fans on their toes with speculation about her music. Well, Toot It Up answers the question, giving fans a taste of what might be to come.

The track shows off Cardi B's signature style—bold, confident, and unapologetic. Featuring Pardison Fontaine, the two artists bring an infectious energy to the song.

It's a blend of catchy beats, clever lyrics, and the kind of chemistry that only a duo like Cardi B and Pardison Fontaine can bring. One of the most exciting things about Toot It Up is the speculation surrounding Cardi B's sophomore album. Fans have been eagerly awaiting news about her next full-length project, especially since her debut album, Invasion of Privacy, was released back in April 2018. That album was a major success, topping the Billboard 200 chart and even earning Cardi B a Grammy for Best Rap Album. With her debut album's massive success, expectations for Cardi B's sophomore project are understandably high. Fans are eager to see how she'll evolve as an artist and what kind of new music she'll bring to the table.

The pressure is on for Cardi B, but she's never been one to shy away from a challenge. If Toot It Up is any indication, her next album will be filled with bold, catchy tracks that showcase her unique style.

Celebrities Showing Off Style At Super Bowl 2025

Super Bowl LIX is officially underway on Sunday, with the Kansas City Chiefs and the Philadelphia Eagles battling it out for the championship title. As the action unfolds on the field, Hollywood's biggest names are watching intently from the stands and exclusive VIP suites in New Orleans. With a star-studded audience and a high-stakes match on the field, Super Bowl LIX is proving to be a must-watch event both for football fans and fashion enthusiasts alike. Here's a look at what the stars were wearing at Super Bowl 2025.

Taylor Swift: Taylor Swift was, unsurprisingly, in attendance to cheer on her boyfriend, Travis Kelce. The singer kept her game day ensemble sleek, opting for a cream power suit jacket, which she accessorized with a red Givenchy Voyou handbag.

Ice Spice: The rapper joined Swift in her box once again this year, continuing their Super Bowl tradition. She wore the Victoria's Secret Dream Angels Twinkle Strap Lace Classic-Coverage Demi Bra in Bright Vermillion, styled with coordinating pieces for a bold look.

Kevin Costner: The legendary actor and Hollywood heartthrob looked cool as a cucumber in his loosely buttoned white shirt and pants. He completed the look with a statement black sunglasses.

Lady Gaga and Doechii: This might be a collaboration everyone wants, at the Super Bowl, these two ended up twining. Lady Gaga looked like a glamorous Emo queen in her complete black ensemble, whereas, Doechii looked quite in her grey and black jacket paired with gym shorts and sheer leggings. A picture of them posing side by side is taking over the internet.

Bradley Cooper: Who knew that blue goes so great with green? The mesmerizing blue eyes of Bradley paired with the iconic green jacket of the Eagles made him a head-turner at the Super Bowl. He was seen with his seven-year-old daughter Lea De Seine. Also, he got to announce the team's entrance onto the field.

Paul Rudd: Known for his acting skills and humor, Paul Rudd was also seen at the field of Super Bowl. He is also known to be famously a Kansas City Chiefs superfan, who was seen to be hanging around the team on the field during the endgame.

Miles Teller: Forget the cute, innocent look of Miles Teller because, at the Super Bowl, he was seen rocking a beard along with bold sunglasses, a white tee shirt, and an Eagles green jacket.

Cardi B: When it comes to Cardi B, everyone knows that she will not disappoint her fans when the topic is fashion. From her curve-hugging Mowalola dress to her spiked Louboutins, she was dressed to kill at the Super Bowl this year.

Blue Ivy Carter, Rumi Carter, and Jay-Z: The Carters — sans Beyoncé — were spotted posing on the field ahead of the big game. Blue Ivy and Rumi twinned in black jackets and relaxed-fit denim, while Jay-Z opted for a monochromatic black ensemble, pairing a tee with matching pants.

Ivanka Trump: Ivanka Trump wore a white sleeveless Akris pantsuit accessorized with a brown belt and a Hunting Season handbag at Super Bowl LIX in New Orleans. She attended with President Donald Trump, viewing the game between the Kansas City Chiefs and the Philadelphia Eagles.

Adam Sandler: Although he is known for his hilarious movies and exceptional acting, he is also known for not dressing to impress the crowd. Super Bowl witnessed the same thing when Adam Sandler was seen sitting with his phone in a layered outfit of a tee shirt, a printed shirt and a light blue jacket waiting for his sitting partner Paul Rudd.

Pete Davidson: Showing his allegiance to the Philadelphia Eagles, Pete Davidson was seen on the field posing with the Eagles' cheerleading squad. The comedian embraced team spirit, donning an Eagles tee and other memorabilia.

Brittany Mahomes: Brittany Mahomes, wife of Patrick Mahomes was seen to be sharing a cute moment before the game with their two oldest kids, Sterling who is three, and Bronze who is two. She had on an all-cream outfit a cream cropped-top, with a pair of cream pants and a cream cropped-jacket.

Tom Brady: Tom Brady was seen suited up and looking ravishing with a charming smile on his face. He had the gig as lead color commentator for the big game.

Louis Tomlinson: The owner of the dreamy eyes and exceptional vocals, Louis Tomlinson was also present at the Super Bowl this year. He was seen wearing a plaid jacket on the Tubi red carpet before the big game.

Paul McCartney: The heartthrob looked simple yet wholesome in a white tee shirt and a black pullover. The Fox cameras caught Paul McCartney chatting with Adam Sandler.

Martha Stewart: Martha Stewart was also seen at the Super Bowl where she did double duty of attending in a box and starring in a popular advertisement. She was all glammed up in a golden glittering top which was accompanied by very minimal makeup.

Harry Connick Jr.: This New Orleans native was seen to be getting the crowd into the mood during the pregame performance.

Jon Hamm: The ravishing star of 'Mad Men', mainly known for his role as Don Draper, Jon Hamm announced the entrance of the two-time defending Super Bowl champion Kansans City Chiefs.

La La Anthony & Ciara: The reality television star and actress was dressed up in corset top and skin-tight capri pants that featured knotted details at the side leaving long strips of fabric dangling at the leg. She added shiny gold touches to her velvet-forward ensemble with two thin chains draped at the waist, a chain necklace featuring circular pendants and a small sparkling black and gold clutch. She posted a selfie showing her friend Ciara and her son Future.

Lauren Daigle and Trombone Shorty: Lauren Daigle and Trombone Shorty performed 'America the Beautiful' before the game in the Caesars Superdome. Shorty put together the arrangement and played alongside Daigle, who crooned the song alongside Shorty and his band.

Jon Batiste: The multi-Grammy winner opened the game with a lively rendition of 'The Star Spangled Banner.' He told Entertainment Tonight last month that he hopes his performance 'lasts the test of time.' Multi-talented performer Jon Batiste sang the national anthem before the Kansas City Chiefs and Philadelphia Eagles face off in the 2025 Super Bowl.

Serena Williams: Serena Williams brought the tennis star energy to the Super Bowl 2025 in a stunning mini skirt. The former professional tennis player took the stage during Kendrick Lamar's highly anticipated Super Bowl LIX Halftime Show at Caesars Superdome in New Orleans. She also embraced tennis fashion for the gig and paired a blue miniskirt with a jacket and a tee shirt.

Apart from the above-mentioned one, there were other celebrities like Amy Schumer, David Boreanaz, Jessica alba, and her daughter an many more were seen to be having fun at the games.

Valentine's Day Special: Top 10 Bollywood Songs to Celebrate Love

It is not often that the whole world gets together to celebrate a day, especially for love. Today is Valentine's Day and love is officially in the air! Whether you have a romantic partner or not, 14th February is the day for celebrating love, and everything that this emotion gives us. This day is a reminder to celebrate people who make us feel love every day, whether they are with you today or not. Here is your chance to impress your partner with this special list celebrating love and bonding.

10. 'Ek Ladki Ko Dekha To Aisa Laga' – Ek Ladki Ko Dekha To Aisa Laga - The title of the song describes the exact feelings you feel when you fall in love at first sight. This is one of the remake compositions that is actually good and you savor it in your playlist for a long time. The composition is based on love and the feeling of discovery. Darshan Raval, the singer of the track has proved that he is one of the most admirable talents of this generation with this romantic number!

9. 'Pehla Pehla Pyar Hai' - Hum Aapke Hain Koun There is no better feeling than falling in love for the first time and this song celebrates those intense feelings with utmost innocence! 'Pehla Pehla Pyar Hai' from the 1994 film Hum Aapke Hain Koun set the temperature high amid this season of love. Raamlaxman is the music director of this song which reached new heights with the voice of S.P. Balasubrahmanyam. Everything in this song is a sweet reminder of your younger age when you used to feel everything so vehemently.

8. 'Do Dil Mil Rahe Hain' - Pardes - If you think that this list is filled with SRK films and songs, you are not wrong - there is nobody who does love better than the King of Romance himself! Moving to the song itself, 'Do Dil Mil Rahe Hain' captures the essence of two people stealing glances and falling in love without the other people knowing so magically! Listening to this track will give you the butterflies again.

7. 'Humein Tumse Pyar Kitna' - Kudrat - This is another old classic that will never go out of trend. Kishore Kumar, the melody king of Bollywood has created an alluring ambiance with his voice in this song that wraps all the lovers around the world. The song perfectly describes how hard it is to live without the person you love and there cannot be a better track to dedicate to your significant other than this one. Filmed on Hema Malini and Rajesh Khanna, you will always come back to this one!

6. 'Tujhme Rab Dikhta Hai' - RabNe Bana Di Jodi - Another romantic song and another SRK film - it is like they were made for each other. Salim-Sulaiman are two of the Bollywood composers who have given us great love songs and this is one of their finest. 'Tujhme Rab Dikhta Hai' describes the other side of love - devotion.

This song makes you understand that it is not just passion and possessiveness that you feel when you are in love, it is also the feeling of surrendering yourself to the other person and finding God in your partner. Roop Kumar Rathod's voice gave the track enchantment that takes over you.

5. 'Zara Zara' - Rehnaa Hai Tere Dil Mein - When we talk about old-school love there is one 2000s movie that comes to mind is - Rehnaa Hai Tere Dil Mein. The movie starring young Madhavan and stunning Diya Mirza is a reminder of the sweet, innocent love and it gave us one of the best romantic Bollywood numbers ever. 'Zara Zara' describes the passion behind it so well and the sultry voice of Bombay Jayashri sets the mood that you and your partner would swoon over. The lyrics were penned down by Sameer and found life in the composition by Harris Jayaraj.

4. 'Mere NaamTu' - Zero - Imagine a whole orchestra behind you while you confess your love to your partner! This is what listening to the song 'Mere NaamTu' feels like. Serenade your love this Valentine's Day with the King of Romance, SRK. It is actually a crime to overlook all the romantic numbers SRK's movies have given us throughout the years when it comes to romantic Bollywood numbers and listening to this playlist will make you understand why. 'Mere NaamTu' from the film Zero is composed by Ajay-Atul and AbhayJodhpurkar's voice takes the composition to a whole new level!

3. 'PehlaNasha' - Jo Jeeta Wohi Sikandar - We all remember the feeling of falling in love for the first time, so intensely, so deeply. This song, 'PehlaNasha' is the truest memory of that first love where you not only love the person but also lose yourself in that feeling. Amir Khan's Lover Boy era has served us this mesmerizing composition that still makes you feel like a little kid, falling for someone for the first time. One of the composers of the song, Lalit, who composed this track with Jatin said this was made for his wife as a gift for Valentine's Day. So, what could be more special than celebrating this day of love with this romantic number!

2. 'Tere Liye' - Veer Zaara - It is said that Madan Mohan is one of the greatest music composers of India and this film proves it, even after his death. 'TereLiye' is a Madan Mohan composed song that his song made from the unused old recordings of his father and to this day, it is one of the most enchanting tales of love.

The film itself is a celebration of love that breaks down audiences every time they watch it. The chemistry between Shahrukh Khan and Preity Zinta is all summed up in this one song, that is bound to move your soul. Roop Kumar Rathod and Lata Mangeshkar beautifully sing the song and this touching romantic number is exactly what you need to remember your special love.

1. 'Lag Ja Gale' - Woh Kaun Thi - The combination of Bollywood romance and old Hindi songs is to die for and the first one on the list is everything you want to say to your partner in the form of a song. 'Lag Ja Gale' is an absolutely breathtaking composition from the 1964 film 'Woh Kaun Thi?' and it is still as popular as it was during that era, and for all good reasons.

Composed by Madan Mohan, the song finds its charm in its lyrics, which have been penned down by Raja Mehdi Ali Khan. However, what makes this song feel alive, even today, is the enchanting voice of Lata Mangeshkar. If you want to hear the aura of love, this song is the perfect choice for you! The video was picturized on Manoj Kumar and Sadhana, exchanging the look and emotions of pure love amid the woods; it is something that you would want to come back to again and again.

Now that your playlist is ready for the day, celebrate your love extra special this year!

Top 8 K-pop Grounds that Are Ruling the Music Industry in 2025

K-pop, short for Korean pop, is taking the world by storm and it's revolutionizing the music industry in ways no one expected. With its catchy beats, stunning visuals, and perfectly choreographed dance moves, K-pop isn't just music - it is a global movement. Groups like BTS and BLACKPINK have become household names now, breaking records and topping charts across the globe. So, let's see which bands have made it to this list of top K-pop groups of 2025!

1. BTS: BTS continues to dominate the K-pop world and it is no surprise. Since they first debuted in 2013, this seven-member boy band has won over fans everywhere with their incredible performances and heartfelt lyrics. Songs like 'Dynamite' and 'Butter' have helped BTS become one of the most popular groups in music today. Their success is no accident - it comes from their hard work, passion for music, and the strong bond they share with their fans, also known as ARMY. BTS has recently achieved even more milestones, like becoming the first K-pop group to perform at the Grammy Awards and topping the Billboard Hot 100 multiple times. Their album 'BE' also hit number one on the Billboard 200 chart, reflecting their worldwide influence. What really sets BTS apart is their dedication not only to their music but also to important social causes such as spreading messages of self-love and mental health awareness. They have shown that their impact goes far beyond music, reaching fans from all walks of life. With their global influence growing every year, BTS is not just a K-pop group - they are a cultural phenomenon that's changing the music industry for good.

In mid-2022, the band paused their group activities so the members could complete South Korea's required military service. During this break, they worked on solo projects. However, they might return to the music scene as a band in 2025. Jin and J-Hope have already finished their military service, and the rest of the members - Suga, RM, Jimin, Jungkook, and V are set to complete theirs by mid-2025. When BTS reunites, there will be a huge celebration of their music and personal growth. This reunion feels like bringing the family back together for ARMY and fans are excited to feel that connection again after such a long wait.

2. BLACKPINK: BLACKPINK is one of the biggest K-pop groups in the world and their success keeps growing. With four incredibly talented members, they have become global superstars, dominating the charts with hits like 'How You Like That' and 'Lovesick Girls'. Their unique mix of pop, hip-hop, and EDM has made them stand out, gaining them a massive following both in Korea and internationally. Known for their powerful performances, BLACKPINK also makes waves with their fashion and often sets trends with their bold and stylish looks.

Recently, BLACKPINK has reached even more impressive milestones. They became the first K-pop girl group to perform at Coachella in 2019, making history with their powerful stage presence. In 2022, they released their album 'Born Pink' which quickly topped global charts and proved their continued dominance. Their music video for 'Pink Venom' broke records, becoming one of the most-viewed K-pop videos ever. With their strong global fanbase - BLACKPINK is a true force in the industry, inspiring millions worldwide and showing no signs of slowing down.

BLACKPINK's upcoming comeback will be their first group release since the 'Born Pink' era in 2022. After their record-breaking world tour, each member took time to focus on their solo projects. Jennie tried her hand at acting, while Lisa broke records with her solo singles. Rosé followed her passion for music - continuing to shine as a soulful singer-songwriter, and Jisoo took steps to grow her acting career.

3. TWICE: TWICE is a popular nine-member girl group famous for their catchy songs and lovable personalities. Since debuting in 2015, they have released hit songs like 'Cheer Up' and 'Fancy', making a strong mark as one of the top girl groups in K-pop. Their energetic performances and relatable lyrics have won them fans of all ages. This makes them household names in the music industry. Recently, TWICE has continued to make waves. Their album 'Ready to Be' topped the charts and they have performed in major cities worldwide. This helped the band draw huge crowds with their vibrant stage presence. TWICE also made history by becoming the first K-pop girl group to perform at a major music festival in the U.S. Their music videos consistently break records and they continue to gain millions of fans around the globe.

4. EXO: EXO is a nine-member boy band that has been a big name in the K-pop world since it debuted in 2012. Known for their impressive vocals and amazing dance moves, EXO has dropped hits like 'Monster' and 'Love Shot' which earned them a loyal fanbase around the world. Their powerful performances and unique sound have made them stand out in the industry. Recently, EXO has continued to shine with their album 'Exist' which topped the charts and showed that their popularity is still going strong. They have also been winning awards and breaking records, proving their lasting influence in K-pop. The group's upcoming album is set to celebrate their incredible legacy while highlighting how much they have grown over the years.

5. Red Velvet: Red Velvet is a five-member girl group that has won over fans with unique music and creative concepts. Known for their ability to explore different styles, Red Velvet has released popular songs like 'Psycho' and 'Peek-A-Boo' that showed off their talent and originality. Their strong vocals and captivating performances have helped them become one of the top girl groups in K-pop. Recently, Red Velvet continued to impress with their album 'The ReVe Festival 2022 - Feel My Rhythm', which received great reviews and topped charts worldwide. They have been performing at major events, and their music videos continue to break records. Red Velvet's mix of catchy songs and powerful stage presence has made it a standout group in the K-pop scene. In 2025, they continue to gain fans across the globe. With their creativity and charm, Red Velvet proves they are a force to be reckoned with in the industry.

6. NCT: With members rotating between different units,

NCT offers a fresh and ever-evolving experience for fans. They have dropped hits like 'Kick Back' and 'Hot Sauce', showing off their versatility and musical talent. Their unique approach to music and energetic performances have helped them gain a dedicated fanbase around the world.

Recently, NCT has continued to shine with their album 'Glitch Mode' which topped the charts and gained praise for its experimental sound. Their dynamic performances have wowed audiences at major events and their music videos continue to break records on streaming platforms. NCT's constant innovation has earned them a spot among the top K-pop groups of 2025.

7. SEVENTEEN: SEVENTEEN is a thirteen-member boy group famous for their self-produced music and impressive choreography. With hits like 'Fear' and 'Left & Right', they have shown off their creativity and musical talent. Their dedication to their craft, hard work, and strong connection with their fans have made them one of the top groups in K-pop.

Recently, SEVENTEEN has continued to rise in popularity with their album 'FML' which topped charts worldwide and received great reviews for its mix of styles. They have also wowed fans with their stunning live performances and proved they are as talented on stage as they are in the studio. SEVENTEEN's bond with their fans, known as CARAT, is one of the strongest in K-pop and their teamwork and effort are evident in everything they do.

8. ITZY: ITZY is a five-member girl group known for its bold concepts and empowering messages. Since debuting in 2019, they have released popular songs like 'WANNABE' and 'ICY' that have connected with fans of all ages. Their confident stage presence and high-energy performances have helped them quickly rise to the top of the K-pop scene. Recently, ITZY has continued to make waves with their album 'Checkmate' which received praise for its catchy tunes and strong messages of self-confidence.

Their music videos continue to break records and they have performed at major events, showing their strong global presence. ITZY's fearless attitude and catchy music have made them a favorite among fans, earning them a spot among the top K-pop groups of 2025. With their unstoppable energy and empowering lyrics, ITZY is proving they are here to stay and continue to influence the K-pop industry.

LISA is creating Her Universe with Lalisa Comics after the Release of 'Alter Ego'

BLACKPINK'S LISA is spreading her wings with some exciting projects. The artist is already creating a buzz among all of her listeners with her upcoming album 'Alter Ego'.

Recently, she has also made her acting debut with the HBO series, named 'The White Lotus'. Now the profound music artist has grabbed everyone's attention with her announcement regarding the comic book 'Alter-Ego: The Official Comic'. As of now, it is coming to know that it is a 56-page graphic novel.

It is quite a unique initiative taken by the artist, which is generating much excitement among her fans. This comic novel is authored by the artist herself and illustrated by MINOMIYABI.

By reading this upcoming comic, readers will be able to get a deeper understanding of the five different personas of the K-pop star. In the book, she has given the story of five characters, which are known as Roxi, Vixi, Kiki, Speedi, and Sunni. In addition to that, the artist is also offering a unique comic-style story that is making the novel even more interesting for everyone.

In the description of the comic novel, the artist has written 'When three ruthless bullies trap Vixi in a virtual reality nightmare, her friends dive headfirst into the digital battleground.'

Proving that while Vixi may work alone, she never has to fight alone'. From this, everyone gets to understand that LISA is about to drop a charming story with this comic novel.

LISA will launch her own comic book titled 'ALTER-EGO: THE OFFICIAL COMIC.'

She has also launched her own comics company, 'Lalisa Comics,' in partnership with Zero Zero Entertainment.

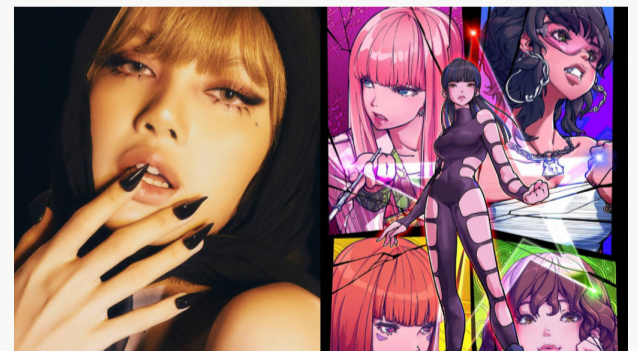

The book is now available for pre-order and the shipping of the book will start from 24th March. Right after the release, her fans will get to learn about the story, which leads everyone to anticipate more. It can be said that LISA is coming up with bangers. On 28th February, her album, named 'Alter Ego' will be released.

Previously, she has given a trailer of the album and that has gained huge recognition from the audiences. Through the trailer, LISA has given a hint of the five personas.

While talking about the album, she also said 'I was trying so many different kinds of music styles while I was recording'.

She also added 'I was like, 'Oh, well I've never done this kind of stuff before, but it sounds great. Why not just kind of like put all the different styles into the album and call it Alter Ego?' the unique perception is making the release more exciting for all.

'SNL 50: The Homecoming Concert', Find Out What You Missed Of The 50th Anniversary

Saturday Night Live has successfully reached its 50th year and the anniversary was celebrated with a complete blast. Find out the best moments from SNL 50. Saturday Night Live or SNL is the biggest TV show ever that has been winning the hearts of the audiences for a long time now.

With years of entertainment and celebrity interviews, the show has finally reached its 50th anniversary and offered a gala celebration with this milestone. 'SNL 50: The Homecoming Concert' was one of the most star-studded concerts ever that almost appeared like an award ceremony.

The concert was arranged at the Radio City Music Hall on Friday and it offered a genre-bending musical experience for all. It took place before its anniversary special Sunday episode, lasting up to three hours.

It was definitely one of the best concerts ever with artists from the past and the present blended in to offer a fair dose of nostalgia and 50 years of development in the music and entertainment industry. Starting from Miley Cyrus, Bad Bunny, and Lady Gaga to Cher, Backstreet Boys, Snoop Dog, and Lauryn Hill; everybody offered a captivating performance. Guess what? There was also Nirvana and Post Malone decided to offer the vocals for the band. Similarly, legends like Eddie Vedder, St. Vincent, Devo, The White Stripes, Wyclef, David Byrne, Arcade Fire, and many others have participated in the grand event. While the concert has been broadcast, there are still many moments that you might have missed of the concert.

Jimmy Fallon did the honor of hosting just like the other Saturdays but this time he also performed with the honor of the Blues Brothers. The late-night sketch started amazingly and before Fallon joined the stage, Michael Che made sure to offer the best MC performance by readying the crowd for the big night. It was live broadcast through Peacock and here are the moments you missed.

The Performance at the Lobby
One of the most iconic collaborations of the night was the powerful performance by St. Vincent, David Byrne, Arcade Fire, and the Preservation Hall Jazz Band.

However, their high-octane grooves did not stop on the stage. Arcade Fire and the Preservation Hall Jazz Band decided to continue with their creative essence through the lobby. After performing on stage, Arcade Fire and the Preservation Hall Jazz band continued playing into the lobby to more applause (and dancing from Jon Hamm).

The orchestra kept walking and performing and the crowd really appreciated it by joining the steps. Jon Hamm could be seen dancing as he walked by them and the onlookers offered the same energy as the bands. Attendees could watch the past musical performances in SNL during the commercial break and many others took that moment to have a little chat such as Jim Gaffigan and Pete Davidson.

Start-Studded Seating Arrangement
The night of SNL 50 was enhanced by the presence of the stars of Hollywood as well as the music industry. The seating included A-list names such as Steven Spielberg, Tom Hanks, Kevin Costner, Kevin Bacon, Pedro Pascal, Rita Wilson, Kyra Sedgwick, Meryl Streep, Martin Short, Billy Crystal and the list goes on.

It goes without saying that SNL 50 was one of the most diversified concert programs ever happened and it truly seemed like a celebration for the 50th anniversary.

Grammy 2025: Highlights, Winners And Best Moments

Whether it is the Red Carpet outfits, fiery performances, or new artists taking nods; Grammy 2025 offered a wonderful experience for all kinds of music lovers with a great sonic and visual appeal to it. Let's take a better look.

Beyoncé Once Again: Beyoncé winning the Grammys has become more like a ritual now. Every year the Pop Queen wins in at least one or more categories and it feels like she has been holding up a streak. But this year, even she didn't expect to win because many other country artists have done a really great job than 'Cowboy Carter', Beyoncé's first and trendy attempt to shift to the country from like Post Malone. And of course, the album received 11 nominations and won under the category Album of the Year as well as Best Country Album and Best Country Duo/Group Performance. What was noticeable was that this time, Blue Ivy joined the stage along with her mother and graced the stage.

Charlie XCX Performing in Undies: Wearing undies at the Grammy is not a big deal but bringing all women on stage for a rave with flying lingerie in the air is something only XCX can do. The return of the pop idol in the industry is well celebrated with the flavors of 'BRAT'. Before the program started, she said, "I'm going to perform the least Grammy-appropriate songs," and well, she knows how to get the party started. She performed "Von Dutch", and "Guess" and the feminine energy on the stage was immaculate. XCX also offered a shoutout by saying "Happy birthday, Julia Fox."

Lamar with Four Grammys: Kendrick Lamar has already proved the fact that he is not a rapper to mess with his diss on Drake became a huge and global hit. With his consistency and purely organic skills, Lamar won a total of four Grammy Award under the categories of Record of the Year, Best Rap Performance, Best Rap Song, Best Music Video, and Song of the Year. He also hailed Diana Ross, the presenter for the Grammy. Now, that's how you stay 'Humble'.

LA Firefighters at The Grammys: The devastating impact of wildfire in Los Angeles has destroyed many homes and got people injured. However, the lives could be saved with the help of the brave firefighters. At the 67th Annual Grammy Awards, Members of the Los Angeles County Fire Department joined the stage to give the award for album of the year which was the last announcement. They received an arena-wide standing ovation for their contributions and Fire Chief Anthony Marrone said that it is "a tremendous honor and privilege to be in the company of such talented music industry professionals."

Alicia Keys Promoted DEI on stage: Alicia Keys received the Dr. Dre Global Impact Award and she took this opportunity to address some crucial concerns. DEI stands for diversity, equity, and inclusion and the artist said, "DEI is not a threat it's a gift, and the more voices the more powerful the sound." Firstly, she gave a shoutout to the female producers and others and then focused on a broader area by saying, "This is not the time to shut down the diversity of voices." Keys is truly a fantastic personality who thinks about all the other artists.

Shakira, Aging Like Wine: Shakira has turned 48 this February and there is no way you can distinguish that. She also received the Grammy for Best Latin Pop Album for Las Mujeres Ya No Lloran and it marks her epic comeback. It is not only Alicia Keys but Donald Trump's immigration policies have enraged many artists and Shakira also took this opportunity to address the situation. While receiving the award, the singer said, "To all my immigrant brothers and sisters in this country," and further added, "You are loved. You are worth it and I will always fight with you."

Bruno and Gaga, The Best Duo: It goes without saying that Lady Gaga and Bruno Mars made the best duo performance of 2024 and they received the award for best group/duo performance with the track "Die With a Smile". They appreciated each other and the mutual admiration was wholesome. While Mars said to Gaga, "I'm so honored to have a small part in your giant musical legacy and I really truly believe that God gave us this song to sing together," Gaga also responded "I'm so honored to have a small part in your giant musical legacy and I really truly believe that God gave us this song to sing together."

Elton John Shares Candid Footage Of His Struggling With Music-Making

Elton John showcases his vulnerable side on social media post and tells the world that it is okay to go through tough periods at times.

The legendary singer and songwriter recently shared a candid behind-the-scenes video footage of him having a breakdown as he struggled to create a musical piece.

In the clip posted on social media, the 'Don't Go Breaking My Heart' singer was seen slamming his headphones down and saying "I'm going home."

The video came in correspondent with the announcement of his new studio album 'Who Believes in Angels?' with Brandi Charlie.

The album is scheduled to release on April 4th and was devised by "close friends and regular collaborators" John, Grammy-winning artist Carlile, and Grammy-winning songwriter and producer Andrew Watt.

Bernie Taupin, John's collaborator for a long time also contributed to the album's lyrics. The songs were recorded in October 2023, at Sunset Sound Studios in Los Angeles.

John has also permitted a short film to be made about his process of making the album in his recording and writing sessions for the first time. "I wanted this album to be special, but you can't guarantee when you go in the studio that something's gonna be special," the singer says in a voiceover clip. "Reality is, I was exhausted. I had a lot of doubt. I was a nightmare."

In one scene from the clip, Andrew Watt can be heard telling the singer, "Dude, I'm just trying to make the song as best it can be, you're so impatient!"

A visibly grouchy John was seen in another clip where the legendary singer snaps at Watt after he asks if he's ready to record: "Why do you think I'm sitting here?"

"Angry, I was tired, I was irritable," the "I'm Still Standing" singer confesses. "Elton was prone to moments of insecurity, especially when the stakes were high," Carlile says. "There were times I thought, 'Why does he want to do this? Why? Why has he gone from Glastonbury to making an album with me.'"

At the Glastonbury Festival, the EGOT-winning star performed the final show of his farewell tour at the Pyramid Stage. The Independent reviewed the performance with a perfect score saying it was "the glitziest, most high-energy retirement party the world has ever seen".

However, the musician was still exhausted from the two-hour show and his entire tour and he admitted there was "tension in the studio" when he and his creative partners got to work on this new album.

"I'm going home," he announces to Watt in the film. Things soon turned around when he realized, "There's other people involved. I can't abandon it. And the fog started to lift. Once we got going, Jesus."

He added: "I wanted to play better, sing better, write better, and challenge myself at the age I am. Brandi really pushed me. For me it's immaculate. This came out the way I wanted it to come out."

In another emotional moment, John was seen sobbing at the keyboard as Carlile hugged him.

"This never happened to me in my whole career," he says, wiping the tears away. "Is that OK?" he asks, which makes Carlile and Watt laugh.

Kendrick Lamar 'ends' Drake on Stage at Super Bowl 2025

Before performing the record of the year, Lamar said, 'I want to play their favorite song, but you know they love to sue,' likely referring to Drake's lawsuit against his record label UMG, which was filed in January, alleging that it was defamation for accusing the 'Hotline Bling' rapper of 'being a pedophile' in 'Not Like Us.'

During Lamar's halftime performance, however, he noticeably did not say the word 'pedophile' where it appears in the song's original lyrics. Moreover, Lamar brought out fellow Compton native Serena Williams, who briefly dated Drake around 2011, to dance during the performance. Bringing the house down at the Caesars Superdome in New Orleans on Sunday, Lamar's setlist looked like this: 'GNX', 'Squabble Up', 'Humble', 'DNA', 'Euphoria', 'Man at the Garden', 'Peakaboo', 'Luther', 'All the Stars', 'Not Like Us', and 'TV Off'. The Pulitzer-winning rapper brought surprise guests SZA, DJ Mustard, tennis legend Serena Williams, and Hollywood icon Samuel L Jackson.

Although the jury is out on whether Kendrick Lamar's halftime show was the best musical display at the biggest sports event of the year, there's no doubt that a considerable faction of fans believe that he 'ended' his rival Drake on stage.

On his part, the 'Hotline Bling' rapper's legal team released a new statement about the ensuing legal battle regarding the song.

'UMG is masquerading as a champion of artistic freedom by calling its actions merely 'entertainment', but there is nothing entertaining about pedophilia or child abuse in the real world. We are confident that the evidence we will ultimately present at trial, including information we've already learned and continue to receive since filing the lawsuit, will expose UMG's gross prioritization of its own corporate profits and executive bonuses over its exclusively signed artists' well-being and the truth,' the legal team said ahead of the halftime show, per NYT.

Drake previously sued the label Universal Music Group (also reps K.Dot) over the 'Not Like Us' release, citing its promotion as defamatory.

The case, though not naming Lamar as a defendant, claimed that UMG pushed for the song's promotion despite it spreading a 'malicious narrative' that Drake is a pedophile. Netizens instantly swung to X/Twitter, dropping their two cents on the matter.

'Oh don't end Drake like that on the Super Bowl stage,' a user commented online.

More reactions poured in, hitting back at the Canadian rapper as comments like 'Drake getting destroyed on live National TV,' 'OH DRAKE YOU ARE OVER,' and 'Kendrick owns Drake' took precedence on the micro-blogging platform.

BLACKPINK's Rosé Celebrates Her 28th Birthday In A Stunning Golden Dress

The gorgeous Rosé of BLACKPINK is continuing to thrive and strive in her musical career. On 11th Feb, this diva was captured having a lavish and private birthday bash as she rings into 28 years of life.

She recently signed with THE BLACK LABEL, a music agency founded by renowned producer Teddy, and has also joined Atlantic Records, home to artists like Ed Sheeran and Charli XCX. These collaborations hint at an exciting new phase in her career, with fans eagerly anticipating her future projects.

BLACKPINK Rosé recently rang in her 28th birthday with a private gathering in Los Angeles, surrounded by close friends. The K-pop star, known for her elegant fashion sense, stole the show in a stunning metallic gold mini-dress. Several clips from the celebration quickly made waves on social media, showcasing Rosé's radiant energy as she cut her birthday cake and shared joyful moments with her loved ones.

Exploring the Themes in

“Not Like Us”

by Kendrick Lamar

The infamous rap battle between Kendrick Lamar and Drake is finally settled where K. Dot emerged as the winner with his 'Not Like Us'.

Although the track 'Not Like Us' is a diss track that the rapper released as a result of his ongoing feud with Toronto native Drake - it is so much more than that. In song, Kendrick explores various dense themes such as cultural identity, expectations from society, and his rise to fame. So, let's move ahead and have a breakdown of the lyrics and the song's themes.

What the title means -

The title "Not Like Us" makes a bold statement, indicating that the speaker sees themselves as significantly different from others. For Kendrick, this might mean feeling distant from his background, community, or self-awareness. At the same time, feeling "not like us" reflects the struggle of being part of a culture while feeling increasingly disconnected from it.

The lyrics breakdown -

Opening verse:

The opening verse of 'Not Like Us' powerfully explores the contrast between success and the feeling of isolation. K Dot shares his journey to fame, revealing the immense pressure that comes with it. The song begins by illustrating how our personal identities can be profoundly shaped by the perceptions of others and highlights the struggle between authenticity and public image.

Theme - Alienation

As the song goes on - Kendrick talks about feeling distant, especially because of his fame. Even though he is successful, he doesn't always feel connected to those around him. This might be because of the stress that comes with being in the public eye, losing his privacy, and struggling to relate to people who have not had the same experiences.

Theme - 'American Dream' and confronting materialism

Kendrick critiques materialism and the "American Dream" in his song. He showcases that wealth and fame do not always bring happiness. He questions what it means to be authentic in a world where people often act in ways that are not genuine to succeed. His lyric about staying real highlights the struggle between being true to oneself and conforming to societal expectations of success.

Theme - leaving a legacy

A significant portion of 'Not Like Us' focuses on Kendrick's struggle to maintain his identity while navigating fame. While his public image is shaped by the expectations of his audience, he is determined to stay true to his roots and the values that shaped him. This theme touches on the responsibility Kendrick feels to represent his community while simultaneously trying to carve out his own path.

Example lyric:

"I'm not like them, but I'm still part of them"

This lyric encapsulates the core tension of the song — Kendrick feels both distinct from and connected to the people around him. While fame has set him apart, his roots and legacy still shape who he is.

Fans Are Infuriated As Grammys 2025 Excluded Zakir Hussain From The In Memoriam Category

Indian music fans are shocked that the Grammy Awards authority has excluded table maestro Ustad Zakir Hussain from the 'In Memoriam' section.

On the 2nd of February, the Grammy 2025 took place at the Crypto.com Arena in Los Angeles, California. In the Grammys, a particular section is there where they pay tribute to the music legends who have passed away in the previous year.

Ustad Zakir Hussain was known as the tabla maestro who has stunned global listeners with his work. Unfortunately, the tabla player died on the 15th of December.

As the Grammys have excluded him, everyone became quite shocked. This year, the lead singer of Coldplay, Chris Martin came onto the stage to pay tribute to the music artists from the 'In Memoriam' category.

While he performed it, he gave tribute to artists like Cissy Houston, Liam Payne, Joe Chambers, Kris Kristofferson, Tito Jackson, Ella Jenkins, Jack Jones, Marianne Faithfull, Mary Martin, and Seiji Ozawa. But the artists didn't mention the name of Zakir Hussain.

Right after that, all the Indian fans expressed their opinion on the social media platforms, which has created a huge buzz recently.

One of the Indian music fans wrote on X that says 'How come there was no mention of Zakir Hussain in the Grammy obituary? #Grammys2025 He was a winner just last year'.

Another one said 'Dude, where the hell is Ustad Zakir Hussain???' One also added 'Mind-boggling that Zakir Hussain wasn't given a tribute tonight. He won four Grammys himself and was a huge influence even on Western culture'. A user on X added and expressed their feeling by saying 'How did you guys forget to include #GRAMMYS winner from 2024, Ustad Zakir Hussain, in your 'In Memoriam' segment? @RecordingAcad #Grammys2025 @coldplay'.

It can be said that Indian fans are distressed after knowing this and said 'Just last year, Zakir Hussain won three Grammys, and he didn't even get included in the tribute section. Idiots!' It can be said that people are furious with this decision.

This has been even more stunning for all as at the 66th Grammys, Zakir Hussain won three Grammys in a single evening.

He won the awards in the categories of Best Contemporary Instrumental Album, Best Global Music Album, and Best Global Music Performance. Everyone is quite shocked that how can anyone exclude such an artist from the list.

Ed Sheeran And Armaan Malik Enjoy A 'Fun Day Out' Before Hyderabad Concert

British singer-songwriter Ed Sheeran is making new heights with an Indian Music Tour which is called $+ - = \div \times$ 2025 India Tour and he took the stage on February 2 in Hyderabad.

Indian music artist Armaan Malik has opened the stage for him and the event took place at the iconic Ramoji Film City offering a beautiful Sunday evening for everyone.

Other than the show, the duo spent a lot of time as Malik and Sheeran went for city sightseeing. Both of them enjoyed the vibrant culture of India. Armaan Malik has recently posted a few pictures on social media with glimpses of their hangout and fans are getting crazy over it.

Twining in white, both of the music artists show true passion for music, regardless of region and language. They took a photo in front of the Charminar and the singer posted the photo with the caption, "Such a fun day out with Ed here in Hyderabad! Can't wait to see you all soon."

Sheeran is currently performing on his six city India Tour and Hyderabad was the debut for him. The audience showed enough love to prove that there are millions of Ed fans in every city.

Armaan Malik offered the perfect kickstart for the show by offering peppy renditions of 'Sau Asmaan', 'Pehla Pyaar', 'Main Ragoon Ya Na Ragoon'; a perfect start for the energetic performance.

Ed Sheeran surely knows how to keep the crowd engaged as he wore a black t-shirt which was embellished with the word 'Hyderabad'. Previously he wore 'Pune' and the next cities will be Chennai, Bengaluru, Delhi and Shillong. Indian fans also know how to show their love and each of the shows are overly booked. He said about India fans that they are the best crowd.

The setlist for the night included, 'Photograph', 'Happier', 'Love Yourself', 'Shivers', 'I'm a Mess', and last but not least 'Perfect' which is perhaps the favorite of every Indian.

The immersive musical experience is truly overwhelming for the artist as well as the audience.

Sheeran is looking forward to the coming days of his tour to gain more Indian fans while visiting the cities.

The upcoming show will be in Chennai and stay tuned to know more!

Yo Yo Honey Singh is Back and He is Taking a Dig at Badshah and Raftaar

Rapper Honey Sign has just made an epic comeback in the industry and he has made it clear that he is going to stay. The rapper won the hearts of the attendees at his Mumbai concert and he surely took the chance to address his fellow rivalries.

He started his Millionaire India Tour on Saturday night and it was a complete blast! The social media is flooded with video clips and pictures from the concert and fans are really enjoying this comeback. A massive crowd emerged at the concert.

Everything took a powerful turn when Honey Singh started taking a dig at the other fellow rappers namely Badshah and Raftaar. In a video clip, Honey Singh could be seen saying, "Kayi log kehte hain ki wo mere bhai hain. Kayi log kehte hain ki mera comeback nahi ho raha. Aur phir kehte hain wo mere gaane likhte the. Aur phir kehte hain ki wo meri takdeer likh denge."

What he said in Hindi roughly translates to the fact that his fellow rappers did not believe in him or in his craft and doubted his skills and now, he is here to write his own destiny.

The rapper then further suggested, "To uspe ek sher sunaon? Video banao, usko tag karna." And then he uttered two lines which was enough to shatter the ego of many fellow rappers and it goes like, Pichle saal meri taqdeer ne kaiyon ke guroor hain tode. Aur tujhe comeback karna padega l**".

The Shayari means, "My destiny has broken the pride of many and now, you will have to make a comeback!".

Last year in an interview, Honey Singh said to the media, "People often ask me about my fight or controversy with Badshah.

A fight happens when both people are involved, but for 10 years, one man kept abusing me, making songs about me, mocking my illness, and I never responded." He finally broke his silence and said, "It was only this year, in 2024, that I started speaking up, and that too because of my fans."

On the other hand, Badshah has also expressed that he wants to work with Honey Singh again and said, There was a phase in my life when I held a grudge against one person, and now I want to call it quits and leave that behind – and that's Honey Singh."

Now, all that remains is to see whether these guys again work together like Mafia Mundeer or not!

Mahashivratri: Raja Kumari, Sonu Nigam, Kailash Kher, and Many Others Showed Their Devotion to Lord Shiva

It seems like Mahashivratri 2025 is going to offer an incredible music experience that can help listeners embrace their devotion to Lord Shiva.

Several renowned artists from the Indian Music Industry have released tracks based on Shiva and these tracks have gained much attention among the listeners.

Starting from Sonu Nigam, and Kailash Kher to Salim Merchant, B Praak and Raja Kumari; everyone has reflected on their personal connection with Shiva.

'Adinath Shambhu' is an amazing devotional track that is composed by Meenal Nigam and sung by Sonu Nigam, Shaan, and Kailash Kher. Sonu called this track "the most special song of my life," not just because of her sister but also his devotion to Shiva. He asked his powerful singer friends Shaan and Kailash to join after finding out that "she is more committed and hardworking."

Kailash Kher recalled his childhood days of Mahashivratri and said, "I only remember MahaShivratri from my childhood. It was always about celebrating Shiva and Parvati, but back then, there wasn't much noise about it."

However, it has become a grand event. There is a new track called 'Mahakaal' by B Praak which is also buzzing among devotees and all kinds of music lovers it was previously decided to be released on the celebration of Mahakumbh but now, it is all about Mahashivratri.

The music artist said, "This idea had been in my mind for a long time. Jaani Bhai and I had one shared thought, how big can we go in scale and make it look grand?"

Adding more tracks to the staple Mahashivratri playlist, the musical duo Salim Suleman and Anushuman Sharma have teamed for the track 'Bhole'. They have collaborated with rapper Paradox for this track and it is a perfect example of innovation.

The track is based on a Raga Bhairav that is infused with rap and mantra-like rhythm. Salim explains it as 'Shiva's chants' and also praises Paradox for doing such a versatile project.

Rapper-singer Raja Kumari has also gathered much attention with her latest music project 'Kashi to Kailash' which almost feels like a diving calling from God.

The artist has recently visited Kedarnath and said, "When I was there at the temple, I felt the God talking to me, saying, 'Why don't you sing your songs for me?'" making this album was a surreal experience for her and listeners would feel the same. Celebrate Mahashivratri 2025 with love, devotion, and a playlist that can energize all.

Lil Wayne Announces 'Tha Carter VI' Release Date

American rapper Lil Wayne is here with the sixth installment of 'Tha Carter' series, his upcoming studio album.

The last installment of this was released in 2018. Lil Wayne, the popular American rapper has finally confirmed the release date for his long-awaited album 'Tha Carter VI' in a new advertisement for Cetaphil.

The rapper may not be headlining the Super Bowl LIX Halftime Show, but his music sure knows how to make an announcement and grab the attention of netizens.

On Thursday, February 6, the rapper starred in the new advertisement for Cetaphil but it was not his skin routine that shocked the nation but the announcement of his upcoming studio album.

The New Orleans icon hinted that the long-awaited new installment of 'Tha Carter' series, 'Tha Carter VI' is arriving on June 6, this year.

"This campaign made perfect sense to me," Weezy said to Rolling Stone about starring in the advertisement for Cetaphil "The world knew I was disappointed, but what they didn't know was that it made me determined to deliver something way bigger."

The ad clip catches Weezy coming into awkward situations. One such situation shows the rapper coming to the rescue of a father who is being introduced to his daughter's boyfriend, but finding a condom in his wallet. Then the camera catches a kiss-cam sporting event.

In the clip, the rapper planted multiple easter eggs that all hint toward the 6/6 date. Viewers can spot them inscribed on scoreboards and jerseys throughout the advertisement.

Then the clip shows the rapper in a recording studio getting asked if he is going to the game, to which he replies, "Nah, this is time sensitive." A notice on the door of the studio then reveals "Do Not Disturb 'Til 06-06-25 Carter VI."

This image of the closing scene has gone viral since the advertisement dropped and fans took this as an announcement for Wayne's upcoming studio album Carter VI. It will be the final installment of the decorated series with the last being released in 2018.

"What attracted me to this project was the chance to flip the script," Weezy added. "Showing a sensitive side isn't a weakness—it's a power. There's nothing more real than turning those types of moments into a display of strength." This announcement and advertisement came right after the controversy surrounding the Super Bowl halftime show.

The rapper was overlooked for the halftime show slot as it was given to Kendrick Lamar, as this year's headliner. Shortly after the launch of this advertisement, Wayne's label Universal Music Group confirmed on media that Weezy's highly anticipated 'Tha Carter VI' will be released on June 6, 2025.

Selena Gomez Is Returning to Music with A New Surprise Album 'I Said I Love You First'

Selena Gomez is officially returning to music with an album called 'I Said I Love You First'. This is a collaboration between Gomez and her fiancée Benny Blanco.

It cannot get better for Selena Gomez! She is finally engaged to beau Benny Blanco and they are releasing an album together! As for the first Valentine's Day together as fiancés, both artists are here with a surprise album announcement for their fans.

Their joint album is releasing on March 21st and it is called 'I Said I Love You First'. The couple released the first single from the album 'Scared of Loving You' on February 13th, just in time for a little treat on Valentine's Day.

The album promises to reveal their love story from start to end. The album will be a tale of their love story, from the pair first meeting as collaborators in 2019 to finally falling in love and confessing their feelings for each other.

Gomez shared this wonderful album announcement to her Instagram on February 13th referencing how her fans thought that she had abandoned her music career now that she is more focused on her acting career. She wrote, "I always trick you guys." "My NEW album I Said I Love You First with my best friend [Benny Blanco], is out on 3/21."

This revelation comes just a day after the singer and actress revealed that it would be very hard for her to go back to music as she's planning to "focus on acting" during the film festival on February 9th.

Blanco is a music producer and Gomez is the singer in this new project, and according to the pair, this album will "celebrate the pair's love story and [give] fans a unique window into their relationship."

"It chronicles their entire story — before they met, falling in love and looking to what the future holds," the press release says. The album's title is a nod to the fact that Gomez was the first one to express her love, the couple confirmed in a previous TikTok together.

'Scared of Loving You' is an intimate song written by Gomez, Blanco, and co-written and co-produced by Finneas. It was released as the lead title along with a music video where the couple and their affection towards each other take the front row. Now for the viewers, the timeline of their relationship is essential to know since it inspired the essence of the upcoming album.

February 28, 2019: This is when Gomez and Blanco first collaborated on the producer's song 'I Can't Get Enough'.

August 25, 2023: Gomez released 'Single Soon', a song for which Blanco was the producer.

October 4, 2023: Gomez hosted Rare Impact Fund Benefit where Blanco was a guest. According to Billboard, they were already rumored to be dating then.

December 7, 2023: Gomez confirms to be dating Blanco with a series of Instagram comments. She claimed "It's been 6 months bb," confirming the fact that the two were dating since July of 2023.

December 15, 2023: Gomez shared pictures with Blanco and her friends and in one picture the two were seen kissing.

Since then the relationship has been going strong and healthy and the couple announced the engagement in December, 2024. Now taking it to the next level, the pair is releasing an entire album together.

Ahead of the album's release, Blanco and Gomez confirmed an upcoming collaboration with Gracie Abrams for the song 'Call Me When You Break Up'.

Lady Gaga Shared The Tracklist Of 'Mayhem'

The pop icon, Lady Gaga has dropped the tracklist of the upcoming album 'Mayhem' recently.

The album is going to be released on the 7th of March for all. Lady Gaga is building more excitement for her upcoming music album 'Mayhem'.

The artist has made an announcement and said that the album will be released on the 7th of March. Her album will be released on all platforms for her fans.

And everyone is eagerly waiting for the day. However, recently, she has also shared the tracklist of the album and her fans cannot keep themselves calm.

The artist has already released a couple of soundtracks from this album and it has grabbed the attention of music enthusiasts.

Along with offering diverse pieces of music, this artist has come up with some interesting music videos as well.

It can be said that Gaga is enhancing the pop music genre with this particular album.

Many of her fans have also said that Gaga is bringing her original essence with the tracks of this album.

According to the recent share on social media, the tracklist of the album is:

Get ready for MAYHEM:

1. Disease
2. Abracadabra
3. Garden of Eden
4. Perfect Celebrity
5. Vanish Into You
6. Killah ft. Gesaffelstein
7. Zombieboy
8. LoveDrug
9. How Bad Do U Want Me
10. Don't Call Tonight
11. Shadow Of A Man
12. The Beast
13. Blade of Grass
14. Die With A Smile...

While sharing the tracklist, Lady Gaga also posted a short video.

And at the end of it, she disclosed two more bonus tracks of the album, which are named 'Can't Stop the High' and 'Kill For Love'.

This time, Gaga is coming up with her seventh studio album and she is trying to offer something new to her listeners.

At the very beginning, when she talked about the album, she said 'The album started as me facing my fear of returning to the pop music my earliest fans loved'.

While sharing the creative process of the album, she said it was like 'reassembling a shattered mirror: even if you can't put the pieces back together perfectly, you can create something beautiful and whole in its own new way'.

This upcoming album release is generating quite a sensation among her audiences.

For the production of this album, Lady Gaga has collaborated with Andrew Watt and Michael Polansky.

It can be said that the album holds a lot of expectation, anticipation, and excitement, which makes the release even more special for her fans.

The Mars Magic with Gaga's amazing vocal prowess did not fail to captivate the audiences and 'Die with a Smile' is currently one of the greatest collaborations ever, topping the charts.

3. TV Off - Kendrick Lamar Featuring Lefty Gunplay

'TV Off' is another banger from 'GNX' that made hip-hop lovers scream 'Mustard!'. This track is definitely one of the most powerful bangers that speaks the raw truth. released in 1984.

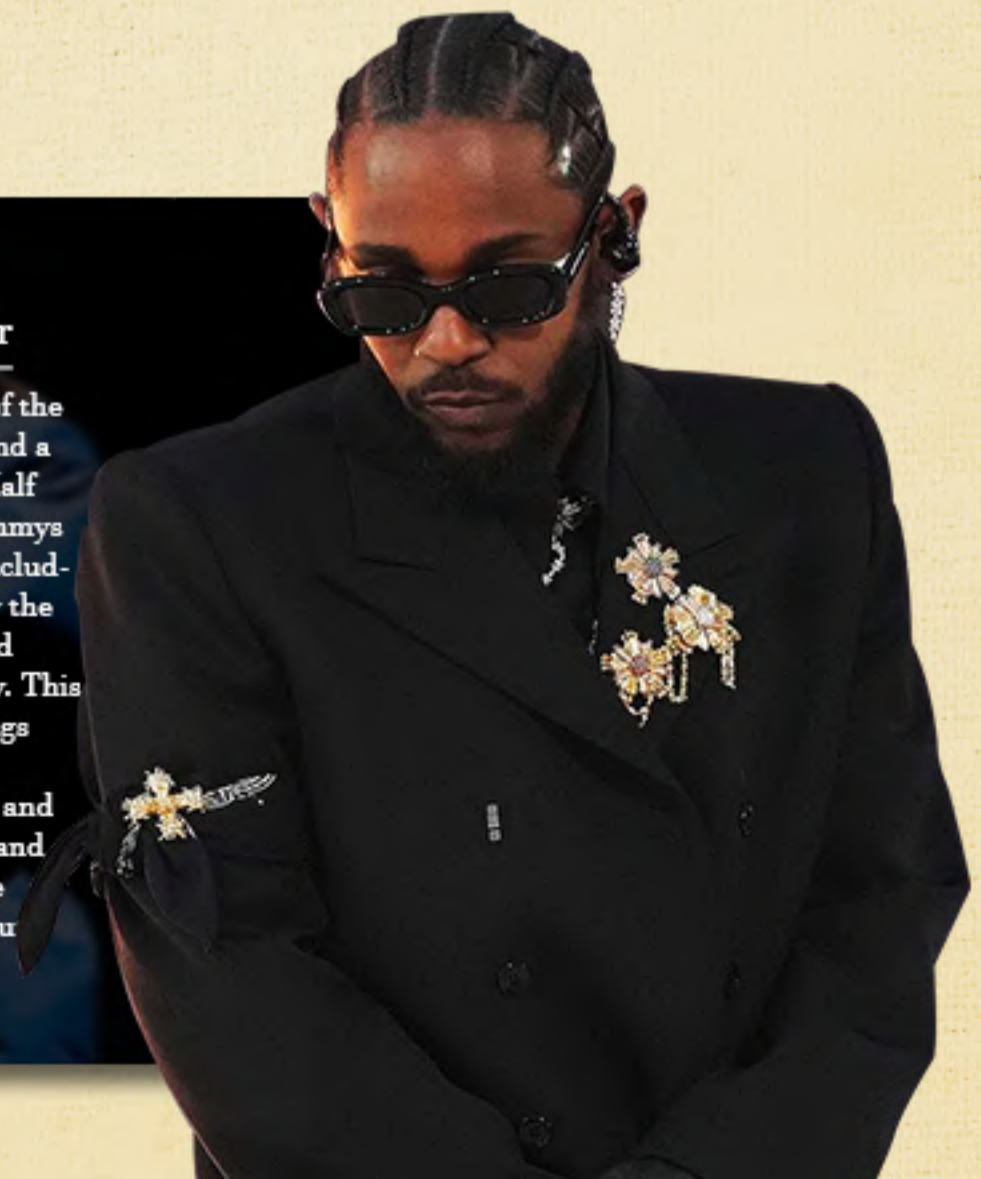

2. Luther - Kendrick Lamar & SZA

'Luther' is one of the smoothest and slickest collaboration projects between Lamar and SZA. The song appears on the sixth studio album by Lamar called 'GNX'.

1. Not Like Us -Kendrick Lamar

'Not Like Us' definitely has to be on the top of the list after Lamar's epic win at the Grammy's and a spectacular performance at the Super Bowl Half Time. Kendrick has received a total of 5 Grammys this year this song helped him get the most including record and song of the year. It is currently the longest-leading No. 1 in the chart's history and perhaps the greatest diss track in the industry. This track topped the Hot R&B/Hip-Hop Songs chart and honestly, there is no point in Drake recovering from this, Kendrick's meteoric rise and success are supported by all the other artists and rappers who want to save the minors from the predators. Lamar does not make diss tracks but he only spits facts and writes poeries.

SENSUOUS AND CONFIDENT: LISA'S NEW VIDEO 'BORN AGAIN' IS OUT NOW

Lisa teams up with Doja Cat and Raye for a sexy new single 'Born Again'. The music video is now streaming on YouTube and it is already creating waves for the artist.

Lisa from BLACKPINK is not done showcasing her Alter Ego as her new single presents her in a confident and sexy avatar. 'Born Again' is the new single from Lisa's upcoming debut solo studio album.

The Thai rapper and K-pop star teamed up with Doja Cat and Raye to present the audience with this new disco-tinged tune. The video showcases all the women in a sleek black-and-white mansion, looking nothing but stunning and intimidating.

The disco tune folds in elements of electro-pop, giving the entire song a pumping energy. Lisa and Raye join their joint forces in the first verse and give listeners a trade and an enchanting chorus.

Right after their chorus, the song lands on Doja's palm which she absolutely devours. In the second verse, Lisa seemed like a guest on her own song because of the energy, class, and allurements Doja brings with her rap verse.

However, this only shows the greatness of Lisa and the ultimate goal of her to make this song something that reflects female power. Lisa proved that she was secure in her art enough that she let Doja and Raye shine respectively!

By Daily Music Roll

The single drips in all the right places and gains great benefits every time the vocal arrangement brings up more spice. The K-pop star's portions of the track highlight her vocal prowess as she let the brief rap verses set for her collaborators curiously enough.

However, the arrangement on the song could have been traded anytime and the composition would still come out as great as it is now. This is further proof of how charismatic these three have performed on the track. When it comes to the production of the song, it is loud, something that the pop industry realized that it was missing out on.

It almost comes off as a dark club sound that we had previously lost in the y2k era, always keeping its sense of momentum. The video complements the music so heavily, loud makeup looks, pretty gowns, and absolutely gorgeous three women - it is impossible to take your eyes off the screen even for a second.

Streaming on YouTube, the music video is currently trending worldwide and viewers are not stepping away from singing praises.

"Doja's intensity, Lisa's charisma, and Raye's soulful voice in this MV is an instant cultural reset !!!" one comment read.

"Collab of the year! Doja Cat rap and vocal are soooo good. Loved how Raye and Lisa's vocals compliment each other." another one said, while one said, "This song is absolutely insane!! DOJA KILLED HER PART. the bridge too?? raye and lisa complement each other so well too!! PERFECTION".

'Born Again' is just a taste of what Lisa is bringing with her upcoming solo debut studio album 'Alter Ego'. The K-pop superstar announced in November that this album will showcase five different characters (Roxi, Kiki, Vixi, Sunni, and Speedi) and they will represent a unique personality together.

The album will be released on February 28th. This album will also bear a prove of the musician's perfectionism. "I'm trying to figure it out, the tracklist and everything, what I can change in there," she explained. "Everything's there. I think they're going to be shocked at how capable I am [at] doing so many things."

CHHAAVA: VICKY KAUSHAL AND RASHMIKA MANDANNA'S SONG 'JAANE TU' IS A SOULFUL CREATION

Vicky Kaushal and Rashmika Mandanna share a glimpse of Maratha king Sambhaji Maharaj and wife Maharani Yesubai's strong bond in Chhaava's first song Jaane Tu. Making a period drama is not easy and comes with its fair share of challenges.

Everything from the outfits to the dialect and dialogues have to fit the bill. So far, Vicky Kaushal and Rashmika Mandanna's upcoming film Chhaava has been doing just fine. Except for the short bump in the road that it recently faced, when there was backlash for a particular dance sequence.

However, this hurdle was crossed when director Laxman Utekar confirmed that the scene will be deleted. Well, today makers dropped the first track from Chhaava, titled 'Jaane Tu'.

The anticipation has skyrocketed! But is this the love ballad Bollywood has been waiting for?

Composed by the legendary A.R. Rahman, sung by the unparalleled Arijit Singh, and penned by the poetic genius Irshad Kamil, 'Jaane Tu' is a melody that hits you right in the feels.

The song captures the profound love between Chhatrapati Sambhaji Maharaj (Vicky Kaushal) and Maharani Yesubai (Rashmika Mandanna), setting the tone for a saga of passion, war, and longing.

By Daily Music Roll

The music video, drenched in grandeur, showcases Vicky and Rashmika's electric chemistry. From intimate glances to emotionally charged moments, the visuals tell a story that resonates deeply. The climax of the song is particularly gut-wrenching, as Maharani Yesubai prays for Sambhaji Maharaj's safe return before he rides into battle.

Some sequences in 'Jaane Tu' even gave fans goosebumps because they were so impactful. But for some reason, the vibe of the song and the video don't match, because the track is contemporary while the historical drama is set in the 17th century.

Nevertheless, Jaane Tu is a beautiful song which has successfully added to the excitement that audiences already had for Chhaava. It begins as a romantic ballad but the last few seconds are heartbreaking as Vicky takes over the battlefield.

One highlight of Jaane Tu is when Rashmika welcomes Vicky back with aarti, but gets lost just looking at him.

These tiny but warm moments will leave you feeling overwhelmed with love. Fans feel the same way!

In the comment section of the song, one social media user pointed out, 'The look of धाराऊ is same as described in Shivaji Sawant's Chhaavaa book.?', whereas another netizen gushed, 'This song is equally heartwarming and heartbreaking??.'

Apart from the leads, the film boasts a stellar cast, including Akshaye Khanna, Ashutosh Rana, Divya Dutta, Vineet Kumar Singh, Diana Penty, and Santosh Juvekar.

Directed by Laxman Utekar and produced by Dinesh Vijan under Maddock Films, Chhaava is set to hit theaters on February 14, 2025—the perfect Valentine's Day gift for Bollywood lovers!

With its soul-stirring vocals, breathtaking visuals, and a love story etched in history, Jaane Tu is an absolute must-listen!

Whether you're a fan of period dramas or just appreciate good music, this song is bound to be on repeat.

JISOO, the Blackpink singer is winning the hearts of global music listeners with the newly released track, 'Your Love' from the mini-album, named 'AMORTAGE'. Blackpink's JISOO is making a huge sensation with the soundtrack 'Your Love' from her latest mini-album 'AMORTAGE'.

The singer has amused all with her breathtaking soundtrack. It can be said that the artist has captivated all with the catchy tune.

The track starts with a groovy vibe, which catches the attention of the listeners in no time.

Along with that, JISOO has shown her excellent caliber with songwriting. The relatable and charming write-up has won the hearts of the listeners instantly.

This mini-album is a love montage and with this soundtrack, she has offered the right essence, which has made the track even more attractive.

The artist has dropped the album on the Valentine's Day. In the season of love, she has come up with this profound album and that has made the occasion even more special for everyone.

It is her debut solo album and with the very first one, she has surprised everyone. In this album, apart from 'Your Love', she has given three more tracks. Those are known as 'earthquake', 'TEARS', and 'Hugs & Kisses'.

'YOUR LOVE': JISOO AMUSED ALL WITH THE 'AMORTAGE' TRACK

For this particular album, JISOO has collaborated with Jordan Roman to co-write each of the soundtracks. Along with that, it is also coming to know that she has associated with a team of collaborators for this album. Therefore, it can be said that her initiative has been truly fruitful for the artist.

Right after the release, this album has topped several charts and claimed its No. 1 position. With this solo album, the artist got the opportunity to showcase her unique creativity. Previously, the artist has given two solo singles in 2023 that are known as 'All Eyes on Me' and 'FLOWER'. Other than her, all the band members of Blackpink have given their solo music works.

JISOO was the last one and she has fulfilled all the desires of her listeners. As of now, 'Your Love' has gotten more than 27 million views on the video on YouTube. It can be said that with each passing time, the views will increase more.

While talking about this music album, the artist said 'I'm excited about this new era and the continuation of my musical journey. I feel like I'm just getting started and I'd like to thank the BLINKs for all of their love and support. This is just the beginning and I'm thrilled to kick off this seismic moment with Warner Records.'

craft infectious, emotionally charged songs is impressive. The album has quickly gained commercial success, topping charts and garnering millions of streams worldwide.

Key Tracks That Define the Album

Several standout tracks on 'So Close to What' reflect McRae's artistic depth. From empowering breakup anthems to intimate reflections on personal struggles, these songs highlight her ability to connect with listeners on a deeply personal level. One track, which is known for its hypnotic beat and bold lyrics, showcases McRae's confidence and willingness to embrace her vulnerabilities. Another duet with a well-known artist brings a collaborative energy that enhances the album's emotional and sonic range. Each song contributes to the album's narrative, weaving together stories of love, loss, and self-empowerment.

Overcoming Challenges and Embracing Growth

Behind her rapid ascent is a story of perseverance and hard work. The music industry can be demanding, especially for young artists navigating fame and personal identity. McRae has openly discussed the challenges of maintaining mental health and balancing her career with personal life. Despite these pressures, she remains committed to her artistic vision, using her music as a platform to express and process her experiences. This authenticity is part of what makes her music so impactful. Listeners connect with the honesty in her lyrics, whether she's singing about heartbreak, self-discovery, or the complexities of relationships. Her ability to transform personal experiences into universal stories has played a significant role in her global appeal.

‘Sitar For Mental Health’: Rishab Rikhiram Sharma Announced His Multi-City Tour

Rishab Rikhiram Sharma, the youngest sitar virtuoso and an internet sensation, announced India’s biggest classical music national tour. The last disciple of legendary Pandit Ravi Shankar, who is taking Indian classical music to a whole new dimension with his work. The sitarist is now embarking on his journey to start the biggest classical music tour.

He will start the tour in April and continue till May. During the tour, the sitarist and music producer is going to perform in multiple cities in India. This sitarist has become a sensation on the internet because of his excellent fusion. He has represented the sitar in a whole different way, and that has led him to attain such huge exposure. Let’s find some interesting facts about his journey as a sitarist:

The beginning of his sitar journey:

Rishab is a sitarist, music producer, and mental health advocate whose journey as a sitarist started long ago. He was introduced to a sitar by his father, Sanjay Rikhiram Sharma, who is also the luthier and the owner of Rikhi Ram, one of the finest instrument stores. His father was his very first guru, who taught him to play a sitar at the age of 10.

After mastering his skill, he performed on the stage for the very first time in 2011 and only then caught the attention of Pandit Ravi Shankar. Since then, he has become a disciple of the legendary sitarist and enhanced his caliber. At the age of 17, he also pursued his learning by getting a dual degree in Music Production and Economics from City University New York. He has honed his skill for years and today offered classical music in a whole new avatar to all the listeners.

Journey of ‘Sitar For Mental Health’:

Being a profound sitarist, Rishab is also a firm supporter of mental health. The artist has shared his struggles with depression and anxiety quite openly. And music has been his support to heal and deal with these. For that reason, he took the initiative to raise more awareness regarding mental health among all.

Rishab is reinforcing music therapy for mental wellness for every individual. For that reason, in 2020, he also established ‘Sitar For Mental Health’. With this particular initiative, he is offering costless music therapy online to his audiences. He is also collaborating with various mental health experts to provide better resources for mental wellness.
